NEW DELHI, JUNE 3 Hours to go for the declaration of the 18th Lok Sabha election results, the ruling BJP exuded confidence of a third straight win at the hustings while the Congress-led opposition alliance clutched on to hope despite exit polls painting a gloomy Tuesday for them.

An upbeat BJP pressed the forward mode on Monday with party chief JP Nadra holding a high-level strategy meeting at his residence, where former Haryana Chief Minister ML Khattar's presence was the most talked about. A central role for the former CM — either in the government or the party — is not being ruled out.

The meeting, which was attended by top government and BJP brass, including ministers Rajnath Singh, Amit Shah, Piyush Goyal, Mansukh Mandaviya, Ashwini Vaishnaw and BJP general secretaries Tarun Chugh and Vinod Tawde, discussed the strategy for the counting

Sources said June 8 and 9 were under discussion as the tentative dates for the government's oath-taking. In 2019, the government took oath on May 30, a week after the results came. Officially, the BJP today denied having talked anything about the new government formation.

"This matter will be discussed after June 4," said Tawde. He said the party leaders decided on the counting

Exit polls drive Sensex up 3%, investors richer by ₹13.7L cr

NEW DELHI, JUNE 3

In the first reaction of the bourses to the exit polls predicting a landslide win for the BJP-led NDA, benchmark Sensex and Nifty zoomed more than 3 per cent on Monday, their biggest single-day gain in three years, making investors richer by Rs 13.78 lakh crore.

The 30-share BSE Sensex soared by 2,507.47 points to settle at a new closing peak of 76,468.78 points with 25 of its constituents ending in the green. The NSE Nifty climbed 733.20 points to finish at 23,263.90.

Among the Sensex companies, NTPC, State Bank of India and Power Grid jumped over 9 per cent each. Larsen & Toubro, Axis Bank, Reliance Industries, UltraTech Cement, Mahindra & Mahindra, IndusInd Bank, ICICI Bank and Tata Steel were the other big gainers.

The combined market capitalisation of all BSE Sensex firms crossed $5 trillion to touch Rs 424 lakh crore ($5.1 trillion). The market capitalisation of the State Bank of India crossed the Rs 8 lakh crore mark after the bank's shares surged to a record high of Rs 907. The State Bank of India is now the third-largest bank in India by market cap, very close to ICICI Bank, which is the second largest.

The shares of all Adani Group companies continued their rally, taking their combined market valuation to Rs 19.42 lakh crore. Adani Power surged nearly 16 per cent, Adani Ports by 10 per cent and flagship Adani Enterprises by over 6 per cent.

The steady exit of foreign institutional investors (FIIs) from the stock market in recent past made no difference to the bullish sentiment. The sentiment was also boosted after the Centre reporting FY23-24 GDP growth at a rapid 8.2 per cent. "Dalal Street rejoiced as exit poll results drove Nifty and Sensex to new all-time highs. This period of bullish market sentiment fosters growth opportunities and rewards patient investors," said Arvind Kothari, founder of scrip analysts Niveshaa.

The exit polls on Saturday predicted that Prime Minister Narendra Modi will retain power for the third straight term, with the BJP-led NDA expected to win a big majority in the Lok Sabha elections.

After Mother Dairy & Amul, Verka hikes milk price by ₹2

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 3

After Amul and Mother Dairy, Punjab State Cooperative Milk Producers' Federation Limited (Milkfed) that markets its product under the brand name Verka hiked milk price by Rs 2 per litre across all variants from Tuesday.

The price had been hiked in the wake of a rise in the overall cost of operation and production, Milkfed said.

"We increased the milk price by Rs 2 per litre in some Punjab markets from Monday. In the remaining markets, including Chandigarh and Mohali, the hike will be effective from Tuesday," said Kamal Kumar Garg, Managing Director, Milkfed.

Meanwhile, Left parties condemned the government for allowing the hike in milk price and highway toll immediately after the conclusion of the Lok Sabha poll. — TNS

Banking on own assessment, all Punjab parties sure of good show

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 3

On the eve of the Lok Sabha poll results, the main political parties in Punjab were busy making an assessment of their likely performance. Though chiefs of all four major parties — the Congress, AAP, BJP and SAD — claimed victory on all 13 seats, an internal assessment by each party gave a more realistic picture.

Sources in the ruling AAP say they are confident of winning between five to seven seats. The Congress too analysed the polling trend at the party's war room. Its strategists are expecting to win at least six seats. Unlike others, the strategists shared the party's likely victory in Jalandhar, Gurdaspur, Patiala, Amritsar, Ludhiana and Fatehgarh Sahib.

Only the saffron party, which faced farmers' ire during campaigning in the state, is upbeat after the exit poll results. It is hoping to win two to five seats and is looking at a steep increase in its vote share.

- Hoping to get 2-5 seats, the BJP is looking at surge in vote share
- Shiromani Akali Dal's internal assessment gives party 5-6 seats
- Congress strategists expect the party will win at least 6 seats

Though on record, SAD chief Sukhbir Badal too said they would win all 13 seats, an internal assessment by the party gives it five or six seats.

The most prestigious seat for the SAD is Bathinda, where sitting MP Harsimrat Badal is seeking a re-election. She is hoping to ride on anti-incumbency against AAP in key areas. Another important seat is Ferozepur, which has remained the Shiromani Akali Dal citadel for the last six elections.

Meanwhile, Punjab Chief Electoral Officer Sibi C said the counting of votes would commence at 8 am on Tuesday. A total of 64 counting observers would oversee the process. He said officials had been tasked with ensuring that the counting was conducted transparently, efficiently and in strict adherence to the EC guidelines.

Without naming the Opposition, the Election Commission of India today attacked it over "peddling fake narratives on the voter list and electronic voting machines (EVMs)", saying though the poll body was well prepared to combat the menace of four Ms (money, muscle power, misinformation and model code of conduct violation), it could not curb what he called "mischievous narratives" against EVMs.

Addressing a press conference on the eve of the counting of votes, Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) Rajiv Kumar, with election commissioners Gyanesh Kumar and SS Sandhu in tow, said, "Apart from the four Ms, there was a fifth M — mischievous narratives — which we could not curb as we did not know about it... SHIMLA, JUNE 3

Even as both the ruling Congress and the BJP have claimed that they will win all four Lok Sabha seats and six Assembly byelections, the silence of the voters is keeping the party leadership and candidates on tenterhooks ahead of the counting day.

Most candidates, including Union Minister for Information and Broadcasting Anurag Thakur, former minister Anand Sharma, Vikramaditya Singh and Kangana Ranaut, relaxed at their homes after taking the polling feedback yesterday. Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu today attended to urgent matters like forest fires raging across the state and the water scarcity situation in the state.

The BJP camp is upbeat with the exit polls giving it a clean sweep on all four seats, a repeat of the 2019 and 2014 parliamentary polls. Prior to the polling and exit polls, issues like the Agnipath scheme and the restoration of the old pension scheme (OPS) were causing some amount of discomfiture to

On the other hand, the Congress still hasn't lost hope and is optimistic of performing well. It has directed party workers to be vigilant during counting. Party leaders on condition of anonymity said winning even a single Lok Sabha seat would be considered an achievement, while its performance in the Assembly bypolls would be exceptional. The Congress believes that it will get sympathy due to the failed 'Operation Lotus' by the BJP which tried to topple a democratically elected government.

"In the 2022 Assembly poll, exit polls gave us 25 seats after the polling, whereas we won 40. Though there is a tough fight on all four Lok Sabha seats, the Congress has an edge on two. We will win at least five Assembly seats, while there is a tough fight on one seat," said CM Sukhu.

Leader of Opposition Jai Ram Thakur too sounded upbeat as he said the BJP would register victory in all four Lok Sabha elections and six Assembly bypolls. "The country has rejected the Congress and the lotus will bloom all across the country as people want to see Narendra Modi as PM again," Thakur said.

In Haryana, identity of regional parties at stake

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 3

The BJP and the Congress, which are locked in a direct contest in nearly all 10 LS seats in Haryana, are upbeat ahead of tomorrow's results.

While the BJP is counting on the "performance" of the state government and PM Modi's public welfare policies in the past 10 years to see it through, the Congress is banking on anti-incumbency against the BJP and the adverse impact of the saffron party's "anti-farmer policies" to swing the election in its favour.

While the exit polls give the BJP a clear edge, the Congress is hoping to make a comeback in this poll after losing all 10 seats in the 2019 LS elections, which saw a clean sweep by the BJP.

For the regional parties such as the Jannayak Janta Party and the INLD, this poll is about retaining their identity, even as the AAP is hoping to open its account in Haryana ahead of the Assembly poll, to be held in October.

Firing at MLAs' houses: DGP told to take action

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 3 Haryana Legislative Assembly Speaker Gian Chand Gupta today took cognisance of the incidents of firing at the residences of Narwana and Hodal MLAs.

In this regard, he wrote a letter to Director General of Police (DGP) Shatrueet Kapoor and directed to take action against the culprits. Earlier, he also called the DGP and sought details about these incidents.

The firing incidents took place at the residences of Narwana MLA Ramniwas Surjakheda on the night of May 22 and Hodal MLA Jagdish Nayyar on June 1.

Gupta instructed the DGP to get the incidents investi-

3-tier security, 91 counting centres in state

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 3 The counting of votes for General Election 2024 and Karnal Assembly byelection will begin on Tuesday at 8 a.m.

A total of 91 counting centres have been set up across the state.

The counting of postal ballots at the Returning Officer's counting centre will begin before the EVM counting.

Slips from five randomly selected VVPATs will be matched in the presence of counting agents.

Haryana Chief Electoral Officer Anurag Agarwal said that media centres have been set up at each counting centre for the convenience of mediapersons.

Apart from it, a separate media centre has been established at the Chief Electoral Officer (CEO)'s office in Chandigarh. He mentioned that despite the heatwave, people actively exercised their franchise.

The voter turnout in Haryana was recorded at 64.8

per cent. The CEO expressed gratitude to the voters of the state for it.

Agarwal stated that all necessary preparations have been completed to ensure the counting process is carried out efficiently and peacefully. The Election Commission of India has appointed counting observers at all the counting centres to monitor the counting process.

He informed that for any information or complaints related to the counting, one can contact toll-free number 0172-1950, the control room telephone 0172-2701362, or email at hry_elect@yahoo.com.

Agarwal emphasised that every official, clerk, agent, or other persons involved in recording or counting votes must maintain the confidentiality of voting.

Violating this is considered a crime under Section 128 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, which can result in imprisonment for up to three months, a fine, or both.

He said that no official connected with the conduct of elections shall perform any act that furthers the prospects of any candidate's election. Violations are punishable under Section 129 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, with imprisonment for up to six months, a fine, or both. Any person who, without reasonable cause, breaches official duty in connection with an election will be liable for a fine of up to Rs 500 under Section 134 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951.

Agarwal further stated that any person in the service of the State farmers split over Punjab growers' call to intensify agitation

PARVEEN ARORA/NITISH SHARMA

KARNAL/AMBALA, JUNE 3 Amid the peak season for paddy transplantation, farmers in Haryana are divided over the call from their counterparts in Punjab to march towards the Shambhu border to intensify 'Kisan Andolan 2.0'.

Several unions in Haryana have chosen not to participate in the current agitation at the interstate border of Haryana and Punjab, citing their busy schedules and harsh weather conditions. However, a few unions have pledged their support.

Abhimanyu Kohar, convener of the Bhartiya Kisan Naujawan Union, confirmed that more farmers from Haryana would join in the coming days.

Hoshiar Singh Gill, president of BKU (Dhanna Bhakat), confirmed their active participation and plans to attend a crucial meeting on June 4 at the Khanori-Datasingh border.

The BKU (Shaheed Bhagat Singh) has been actively participating in the ongoing protest at the Shambhu border.

Major farm unions are avoiding participating in this agitation. Sewa Singh Arya, president of Bhartiya Kisan Union (Arya), said the farmers' demands were genuine but clarified that his union would not join the protest at this time.

Vikram Kasana, state president of BKU (Charuni), expressed conditional support for the agitation. "As of now, we have not joined the agitation, but if support is sought, we will provide it," he added.

Bahadur Singh Mehla, spokesperson for BKU (Sir Chhotu Ram), said that they had earlier joined the agitation but would decide on future participation after a meeting, considering the farmers are busy with paddy transplantation.

Bribe case: HCS officer Dahiya on the run for six days now

BHARTESH SINGH THAKUR

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 3 After her peon was caught taking bribe, HCS officer Meenakshi Dahiya has been on the run for six days now.

Booked for extortion and under the Prevention of Corruption Act by the Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB) on May 29, Dahiya allegedly demanded Rs 1 lakh on a WhatsApp call from District Fisheries Officer Rajan Khora.

Serving as Joint Secretary in the Fisheries Department, she was supposed to issue orders for dropping the chargesheet against Khora.

Khora, in his complaint, alleged that he was wrongly framed and a chargesheet was issued against him so that his junior could be promoted to the Deputy Director's post. However, the inquiry officer cleared him of all charges. He further said the Additional Chief Secretary (ACS) of the Fisheries Department then moved the file for dropping the chargesheet against him. Furthermore, the minister-in-charge also agreed with the findings and directed the ACS to drop the chargesheet.

When the file reached Dahiya again, she called Khora to her Chandigarh office on April 17 through her stenogra-

On May 19, Dahiya allegedly called Khora to inform him that she would be meeting him in a day or two, and that he should arrange the cash.

On May 22, there was a farewell party for Additional Chief Secretary (ACS) Srikanth Walgal as he was retiring. After the party, Dahiya met Khora in the parking lot of Pallavi hotel in Sector 5, Panchkula. She informed him that someone had complained about her to the Vigilance Department and now she would take the money through an intermediary.

She wrote down the number of Satyender Singh on a piece of paper along with his mobile number. She allegedly instructed Khora to contact her before delivering the money to Satyender. Satyender Singh was her peon.

Later, Joginder Singh sent Dahiya's phone number to Khora and asked him to contact her via WhatsApp call. Khora made the WhatsApp call to the mobile number XXXXXX9999. She assured him that his orders would be issued the same day.

After receiving the order, Khora went to thank Dahiya on April 19. Regarding the Rs 1 lakh payment, she allegedly told him that she knew he had been on leave for 16 months for being unwell and was not getting any pay, so he could pay her later. She allegedly instructed him that once the

ED arrests mining baron, remanded in custody till June 6

DEEPENDER DESWAL

HISAR, JUNE 3 The Enforcement Directorate (ED), Headquarters, Delhi, which arrested mining businessman from Hisar Vedpal Singh Tanwar on May 30 in connection with illegal mining in Dadam area in Bhiwani district, has taken him on remand for interrogation till June 6.

The ED — in its social media X post — disclosed that Tanwar was arrested on May 30 under the provisions of PMLA 2002 and has been produced before a district court in Saket, Delhi, which remanded him to custody for seven days (till June 6) after the arrest.

Tanwar had been summoned by the ED to Delhi to respond to a notice served upon him in connection with a raid conducted on his residence and offices on August 3, 2023. During the raid, ED had seized many incriminating documents.

On August 17, 2023, the ED also got a criminal case registered in the Bhiwani police station on charges of fraud, forgery, illegal and unscientific mining against mining firm owners including Vedpal Singh Tanwar and others.

The accused were associated with the firms Govardhan Mines Minerals (GMM), Karamjit Singh Co Limited (KJSL), Sunder Marketing Associates (SMA) and Baba Samaj which held the mining lease and had been associated with mining operations in Dadam from 2013.

The complainant in the case, Monika Sharma, Special Director of the ED, had stated they carried out searches under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 (PMLA) on August 3, 2023 at the premises of M/s Govardhan Mines Mineral and Sunder Marketing Associates and their partners connected entities/persons.

Rai factory fire: 3 more die, toll nine

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

SONEPAT, JUNE 3 With three more persons succumbing to injuries today, the death toll in the rubber factory fire at HSI-IDC, Rai, has risen to nine.

The condition of four more persons is stated to be critical. A fire broke out in a rubber belt factory — Sanwaria Export at Rai — on Tuesday (May 28) evening in which 54 persons sustained burn injuries.

Three persons died today including a member of the night patrolling team, a CIPET student and a factory worker. The ones who died today have been identified as Pawan (33) of Badshahpur Machri village; Jitender of Bihar who was a student of Central Institute of Plastic Engineering and Technology (CIPET) in Murthal; and factory labourer Amit of Etah district in Uttar Pradesh.

A total of nine persons, including the president of Rai Industrial Manufacturing Association (RIMA) have died so far in the incident.

Farmers jittery after poll predictions, to decide strategy today

MOHIT KHANNA
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

SHAMBHU (PATIALA), JUNE 3 The poll projections showing the BJP returning to power with a thumping majority has caused unease among farmers, protesting at the Shambhu border.

Farmers continue to gather here in sizeable numbers. A "Paath" was organised here today to observe the 40th anniversary of the Operation Blue Star (Ghallughara). Later, the farmers paid homage to their fellow farmers, who died during the protest.

Farmer unions, who are spearheading the protests, had convened a meeting of their leaders to decide the next course of the struggle post the government formation. This has now been postponed to Tuesday after the results for the Lok Sabha elections are declared.

The SKM (Non-Political) and the Kisan Mazdoor Morcha had given a call to farmers to march towards Shambhu from June 2.

Sarwan Singh Pandher, general secretary of the Kisan Mazdoor Sangharsh Committee, had opposed the BJP during the poll. He had accused the BJP and the RSS of creating a divide between the Hindus and Sikhs and between the Dalits and the upper class, to win the election.

A farmer leader said the BJP was not in a position to take any coercive action against farmers due to the impending Vidhan Sabha elections in Haryana, scheduled for this year.

Mahesh Choudhary, spokesperson of the Shambhu Morcha, said, "No matter which government comes into power, farmers will not return until their demand of legal guarantee on MSP is met."

1,000 present at Khanauri SANGRUR: Meanwhile, at the Khanauri border in Sangrur, nearly 1,000 agitating farmers are present, though the situation is peaceful as farmers are waiting for the decision of their leaders on the further course of action. Since yesterday, more and more farmers have started converging here. Sangrur district general secretary of the BKU (Sidhupur) Ran Singh Chatha said there would be a large gathering at the Khanauri border tomorrow.

Little response in Majha

Amritsar: The call by as the SKM (Non-Political) and Kisan Mazdoor Morcha to resume protest at the Shambhu border is not getting much response from farmers here as they are now getting busy with paddy transplantation. In Majha, except for the Kisan Mazdoor Sangharsh Committee, no other union has decided its next course of action.

Women united for the cause

Ludhiana: Dilbag Singh, president of the Bharti Kissan Mazdoor Union, said, "Not only men, but also women are also moving towards the border," he said. Sapinder Singh Bagga, district chief of the BKU Ekta (Sidhupur), said they were holding meetings with women and mobilising support. (With inputs from Sushil Goyal, Manmeet Gill and Manav Mander)

Counting of votes to take place at 117 centres today

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 3

The counting of votes for the Lok Sabha elections will commence at 8 am on June 4 at 117 centres in the state, the Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) of Punjab, Sabin C, said here today.

A total of 64 counting observers, drawn from the All-India Services and Civil Services cadre of various states, will oversee the counting process. The experienced officials have been tasked with ensuring that the counting is conducted transparently, efficiently and in strict adherence to the guidelines of the Election Commission of India.

Divulging the details about the counting centres, Sabin C said a total of 117 counting centres had been set up in the state in 48 buildings and at 27 locations. While most of these locations were situated in the district headquarters, seven locations were outside district headquarters, including Ajnala, Baba Bakala, Abohar, Malout, Dhuri, Chhokra Rahon (Nawanshahr) and Khooni Majra (Kharar), he added. AMRITSAR, JUNE 3

The Punjab Police have made extensive security arrangements in the wake of the 40th Operation Blue Star anniversary.

After the Shiromani Gurdwara Parbandhak Committee (SGPC) had put up posters of the Operation Blue Star ahead of the Lok Sabha poll, the police have been chalking out plans to thwart any untoward incident on June 6.

While Police Commissioner Gurpreet Singh Bhullar held meetings with other senior officials, Amritsar (Rural) SSP Satinder Singh visited several rural areas to supervise the security arrangements.

On June 6, the Dal Khalsa has given the Amritsar Bandh call and will also hold a march on June 5 evening.

The Damdami Taksal will also organise programmes at Chowk Mehta here to mark the occasion.

"We are keeping a close eye on the recent developments like the shift in the SGPC's stand, which had put up posters of the Operation Blue Star just before the elections and the raking up of the issue by SAD during the campaigning," said an intelligence official on condition of anonymity.

Bhullar said, "We are already on alert as the counting of votes will be held tomorrow. Elaborate arrangements are in place to thwart any untoward incident in the wake of the Operation Blue Star anniversary."

CANDIDATES YET TO FINALISE CELEBRATIONS

Ludhiana: It seems no party or candidate is hopeful of a favourable outcome in the high-stakes contest in Ludhiana. This became evident when The Tribune reached out to three key candidates, namely Ravneet Singh Bittu (BJP), Amrinder Singh Raja Warring (Congress) and Ashok Parashar Pappi (AAP). None of them shared any plan for D-Day celebrations. Interestingly, no sweetshop has received any bulk order for Tuesday.

BYELECTION CERTAIN ON 2 DOABA SEATS

Jalandhar: Even as the LS results on Tuesday will determine how many Assembly seats in Punjab will go to the bypolls, it is amply clear that two reserved seats in Doaba (Chabbewal in Hoshiarpur and Jalandhar West) will be on the list. Dr Raj Kumar Chabbewal has resigned from the Congress and the Assembly, while Jalandhar West AAP MLA Sheetal Angural's resignation from the Assembly was accepted on Monday.

JAKHAR SKIPPED HOMETOWN ABOHAR

Abohar: Three-time legislator and Gurdaspur ex-MP Sunil Jakhar, who now heads the BJP in Punjab, visited hometown Abohar only to cast his vote at a booth in Panjkosi village. He did not address any election meeting in Abohar. His nephew Sandeep Jakhar — the suspended Congress MLA from Abohar — led the BJP campaign from the Jakhar family. Except Rajasthan CM Bhajan Lal Sharma, no BJP stalwart visited Abohar to campaign.

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 3
Banking on the delivery of its pre-poll promises made in the run up to the 2022 Vidhan Sabha elections, its anti-corruption stance and the remaining two and a half years term in office, the Aam Aadmi Party expects to win the highest number of Lok Sabha seats in the recently concluded General Elections. After the declaration of the results, there is a likelihood of a reshuffle in the state Cabinet.

Though several AAP leaders and pollsters see 'mission 13-0' of the ruling party as "unrealistic", they are confident of winning between five to seven Lok Sabha seats. In a multi-cornered contest and amidst perceived Hindu and Dalit vote consolidation, a clean sweep by any party is unlikely, say party leaders.

The election being a litmus test for the ruling party in Punjab, political circles are already abuzz with the talk of an "overhauling" of the Cabinet. If the party is unable to retain 50 per cent of the 13 Lok Sabha seats, a major course correction is expected in the AAP government, which could include some new faces in the Cabinet.

Vidhan Sabha bypolls, necessitated in case any of the 12 MLAs in fray from all parties win on Tuesday. "AAP came to power with a thumping majority of 92 MLAs, just two years ago. Congress hopeful of 6 seats

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 3
Having suffered a debacle in the 2022 Assembly elections, the Congress now expects to put up a much better show in the Lok Sabha elections the results for which will be declared tomorrow.

Analysing the poll data at the party's war room, strategists express confidence that the party will win at least six seats, namely Jalandhar, Gurdaspur, Patiala, Amritsar, Ludhiana and Fatehgarh Sahib. They say the factors such as anti-incumbency against AAP, the promise of giving Rs 1 lakh to every poor woman and the division of Jat and non-Jat votes will make the party sail through.

In the 2022 Assembly poll, the party was reduced to 18 seats from 77 in the 2017 Assembly elections. In the 2019 parliamentary elections, it had won eight of 13 LS seats.

Party leaders claim that the state had always voted against the national trend. During the Modi wave in the 2019 parliamentary elections, it was only Punjab where the party, under the leadership of former CM Capt Amarinder Singh, had done well by winning eight seats.

The seats for which the party is expecting a close fight are Hoshiarpur, Anandpur Sahib,

Congress candidate Amrinder Singh Raja Warring in Ludhiana. FILE

PARTY EXPECTS CLOSE FIGHT ON 4 SEATS

- The Congress expects to win Jalandhar, Gurdaspur, Patiala, Amritsar, Ludhiana and Fatehgarh Sahib parliamentary seats
- The party also expects to put up a close fight in Hoshiarpur, Anandpur Sahib, Sangrur and Ferozepur constituencies

FACTORS IT'S BANKING ON

- Anti-incumbency against AAP
- Promise of giving ₹1 lakh to every poor woman
- Division of Jat & non-Jat votes

Sangrur and Ferozepur:

Amid the reports of expected consolidation of non-Jat votes (Hindus and Dalits) in the state, party strategists point out that the vote share of the BJP might increase, but that does not mean that their candidates would emerge victorious in various multi-cornered contests. They claim that the main contest on 10-11 seats was between the Congress and AAP.

"The division of Jat and non-Jat votes can bring down the winning margin of candidates to some extent. The 22 per cent vote share of the farming community will also give some benefit to the party," said a senior PPCC leader.

Under pressure to regain its lost glory in Punjab, the Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) has tried its best to put up a better show in these elections. The party fought the 2019 Lok Sabha poll in alliance with the BJP and both parties had won two seats each.

Going it alone into the 2024 Lok Sabha elections, the party had embarked on an aggressive campaign well before the elections by launching the Punjab Bachao Yatra.

Like leaders of other parties, SAD president Sukhbir Singh Badal has also been claiming that they will win all 13 seats, but the internal assessment puts the number at 5-6 seats.

Bathinda is the most prestigious seat for the party as sitting MP and 'Badal bahu' Harsimrat Kaur is seeking re-election from there. The party hopes to benefit from

- Bathinda is the most prestigious seat for the party as sitting MP and 'Badal bahu' Harsimrat Kaur is seeking re-election from there
- Another key seat for the party is Ferozepur, which has remained the SAD citadel for the past six elections

The party fielded Hindu candidates from Amritsar (Anil Joshi) and Patiala (NK Sharma), trying to balance out various factors. It centred its campaign around the release of "Bandi Singhs" and through the SGPC (controlled by the SAD) put up posters and banners asking voters to remember the Operation Bluestar. However, at the same time, it opposed hardliner candidate Amritpal Singh.

Any negative outcome in these elections is likely to put the leadership of party president Sukhbir Singh Badal in question.

The BJP, a party which most of the political analysts dismissed as not a serious contender in Punjab, is suddenly in the reckoning for an upset win in several constituencies.

Based on its ground reports, The Tribune in these columns had stated that the saffron party could spring a major surprise, and the exit polls' prediction that "the party can bag 2-5 seats in Punjab and see a substantial increase in its vote share" has only given credence to the assertion.

On the eve of the counting day, the mood in the BJP is upbeat. As per an internal assessment, sources said, the BJP is hoping to win 4-5 seats with a sizeable vote share. The party had tested the waters in Punjab by contesting the 2022 Assembly elections without an alliance with the Shiromani Akali Dal and later the Sangrur and Jaland-

In the Assembly elections, the BJP contested 73 seats out of 117. It won two seats and had a vote share of 6.6 per cent in the state.

The Sangrur bypoll in June 2022 saw a vote share of 9.33 for candidate Kewal Dhillon even though the candidate was fourth. In the Jalandhar bypoll in May 2023, party candidate Rinku Atwal got 15.18% but still ended fourth.

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 3
The BJP is all set to celebrate with flags bearing Lord Rama's image if the party wins considerable seats in the Punjab LS elections tomorrow.

Encouraged by the exit polls, BJP workers in Muktsar town have distributed among the public prasad from the Ayodhya temple and flags with Lord Rama's image to be installed atop houses on Tuesday to make it a grand celebration.

"We are just awaiting the election results. There will be flags of Lord Rama and chanting of 'jo Ram ko laaye hain, hum unko layenge'. The celebrations will double if the party candidate from Ferozepur also wins," said Rajesh Pathela 'Gora', BJP's former president of Muktsar district.

A number of residents said they had received a packet containing a pouch of prasad and a Lord Rama flag from a local temple, with a request to put it atop their houses after a favourable election result.

In Patiala, days before the polls, the RSS along with the BJP cadre started a campaign to distribute a replica of Lord Rama temple in Ayodhya, prasad and a flag along with a picture of Lord Hanuman in the district. While all Sangh Parivar organisations had dis-

He further added that they had distributed over 12,000 such kits in various temples and to devotees in Patiala city.

The BJP offices in Jalandhar district were bustling with activity on Monday. About 70,000 flags bearing images of Lord Ram arrived from Ayodhya, alongside 60,000 packets of prasad containing gur chickpeas for distribution among temples, BJP supporters and key localities. Over 100,000 party flags bearing the BJP's symbol have also been distributed across the district. Yogesh, a BJP worker, mentioned that most of the Lord Rama flags had already been distributed, with the final batch's delivery in the evening. Local sweet shops have increased the production in anticipation of a high demand.

However, the RSS has no plans for the celebrations tomorrow. "Celebrations or mourning is not an RSS tradition. No doubt we shall be happy from within if the BJP wins in the poll results, but it will not get reflected anywhere on the ground," said an RSS functionary.

The BJP and the Congress are banking on tomorrow's election results for the 10 Lok Sabha seats to decide the next state government in Haryana, making it a battle of prestige. With the Assembly elections due in the state in October this year, the regional parties — the JJP and the INLD — too, are hoping to stay relevant in the present political scenario by netting "substantial" votes and playing spoiler, while the Aam Aadmi Party is hoping to make its presence felt in Kurukshetra. Though the BJP is unlikely to give a repeat performance of 2019 when it won all 10 seats, the party is looking to defeat 10 years of anti-incumbency and come out on the top and retain its superiority over opposition parties. The Karnal parliamentary constituency, where former Chief Minister and BJP candidate Manohar Lal Khattar is contesting against Congress candidate Divyanshu Budhiraja, is among the "most keenly watched" poll battles. Sources say a win in this election would not only catapult Khattar to the Centre but also give him a "bigger" role in the party. is contesting to be elected to the Haryana Vidhan Sabha after he replaced Khattar as the CM. He will have to get a "convincing" win to establish himself in the state. For the Congress, the Rohtak and Sirsa seats, being contested by Deepender Hooda, son of former CM Bhupinder Singh Hooda, and Kumari Selja, the party's Dalit face, respectively are crucial. For the Hoodas, not only is the Rohtak seat important to stay in command but the results of Haryana will be critical in deciding who will lead the party into the Assembly elections since a majority of the tickets have been given on their recommendation. A win for Selja would mean the detractor camp within the Congress will emerge stronger and have a say in the ticket distribution. With INDIA bloc supported AAP candidate, Sushil Gupta, contesting from Kurukshetra against BJP candidate and industrialist Naveen Jindal, the party has made it a keen battle. The AAP which is also aiming for the Assembly elections wants a foothold in Haryana. INLD and JJP candidates are likely to play spoiler for the Congress and AAP since they share their vote banks. Whether they can really get the votes required to swing the election in at least four seats will decide the role they play in the Assembly polls. Since the Lok Sabha polls were essentially a direct contest between the BJP and the Congress, the outcome will have a direct bearing on the morale of their leaders and cadres as they gear up to contest the Assembly polls soon after this.

ASSEMBLY POLL IN SIGHT

- A strong performance by the either party will give it an edge over the other in the run up to Assembly elections due in October
- While the BJP is looking to defeat 10 years of anti-incumbency, the Congress is eyeing a strong foothold before the Assembly poll

Once again, women voters outdo men in Himachal

SHIMLA, JUNE 3
Women have defeated men yet again in terms of voting percentage in the state. Just like in the 2019 Lok Sabha poll, women voters have registered a higher voting percentage than men this time. For the four Lok Sabha seats, 72.6 per cent women cast their vote as compared to 69.3 per cent male voters. The gap between the women and the men voting percentage for the six Assembly bypolls is much bigger — compared 70.4 male voters casting their vote, 77.4 per cent women exercised their right to vote.

In the Lok Sabha poll, women outstripped men in all but the Shimla parliamentary seat, where the male voters recorded a slightly higher percentage of 72.54 as against 69.92 logged by women voters. In the Assembly byelections, women are way ahead of men in all six Assembly constituencies. The gap in the Barsar Assembly constituency is more than 10 per cent!

In the last Lok Sabha elections, 74.3 per cent women voters had cast their vote against 68.4 per cent male voters. The women voter turnout was 5.83 per cent higher than male voter turnout, which was the third highest gap in the male and female voting percentage in the entire country. Incidentally, in the Vidhan Sabha elections, women voters have consistently outstripped male voters after the 1991 elections. No wonder, both the parties went with a long list of schemes and promises to woo the women voters. According to Zainab Chandel, Himachal Pradesh Mahila Congress president, the Congress sought women votes on schemes like Rs 1,500 pension to women, MSP on milk, schemes for single women and their children on which they will be seeking women's vote. "Besides, in our manifesto, we promised an annual grant of Rs 1 lakh to one woman of a poor family, 50 per cent reservation for women in government jobs, increase in honorarium for anganwari workers and mid-day meal workers, etc. We are looking at financial and political empowerment of women," said Chandel. Meanwhile, the BJP sought women votes on schemes like Ujjawala Yojana, making woman the head of the family on ration cards, raising reservation for women to 50 per cent in Panchayati Raj institutions, drone didi, lakhpatti didi schemes. "Also, around 28 crore Jan Dhan accounts have been opened for women, around 75 per cent of the around four crore houses built under the PM Awas Yojana has been registered in the name of women and 14 crore washrooms have been built," said Vandana Yogi, president of the state BJP Mahila Morcha.

NEW DELHI, JUNE 3
Hours before the counting of votes, Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav has invoked Mahatma Gandhi's "do or die" call, urging the youth and party workers to be ready for a "new freedom movement". "The public, recalling Mahatma Gandhi's 'do or die' call, is now agitated and prepared to engage in a new freedom movement to secure its own and nation's future. People are willing to sacrifice their lives like freedom fighters of the past, with youths donning 'kafan' (shrouds) on their heads and chanting 'Mera Rang De Basanti Chola,'" Yadav said during a press conference on Monday. The former CM questioned the accuracy of exit polls that predicted a comfortable victory for the BJP-led NDA, claiming these were aimed at creating a favourable atmosphere for the BJP. He alleged that many agencies conducting these exit polls were previously engaged in booth management for the BJP. He criticised the BJP for "corrupt policies", asserting they were incapable of protecting the nation and

Because we knew that the BJP can be involved in any conspiracy, we have collected every information from day one," he said. "We have seen they (BJP) did not have people (at their rallies), their tents were empty, nothing was seen in their favour," Yadav said. He expressed suspicion of tampering during the counting process and instructed his party workers to remain alert. "Who knows, they might slow down the counting or even cut the power at night," he said.

JALANDHAR, JUNE 3
Having lost from both the Assembly segments (Chamkaur Sahib and Bhadaur) that he contested in the 2022 Vidhan Sabha elections as the Chief Ministerial candidate, it is a do-or-die contest for Congress candidate from Jalandhar Charanjit Singh Channi. If Channi wins the contest, he shall be able to re-establish himself as a prominent Dalit leader of Punjab. But if the result is otherwise, he shall have to face a huge wrath not just from the rivals but also from within the party. The 61-year-old leader, who earned a lot of popularity in his 111 days of CMship at the flag end of Congress tenure in 2022, has been trying hard to make a comeback in active politics once again. Knowing well about his popularity in the Dalit community of Doaba region, Channi was reportedly eager to contest from Adampur (reserved) Assembly seat of Jalandhar

From being dubbed as a womaniser via posters and social media campaign to being labelled as a corrupt leader over recovery of Rs 10 crore by the Enforcement Directorate from his wife's nephew's place, it was not easy for Channi to focus on his campaign. He even faced wrath for being anti-Valmiki and anti-Mazhabi Sikh for not supporting the community over the issue of reservation within reservation in the Supreme Court by ex-MLA of his own party Sukhwinder Danny. To counter it all, Channi had to campaign aggressively holding as many as 22 poll meetings a day. His media managers daily uploaded pictures showing a large attendance of women and Channi comfortably sitting among them. Seven former HC judges write to President, CJI, EC

NEW DELHI, JUNE 3
Apprehending trouble in smooth transition of power in case the NDA lost General Election, a group of seven former high court judges have written an open letter to the President, the Election Commission of India (ECI), the Chief Justice of India and his brother judges to be ready to defend and protect the Constitution and democracy. "There was genuine concern about the way the General Election 2024 is being conducted by the ECI and that if the present ruling dispensation loses people's mandate the transition of power may not be smooth and there could be a constitutional crisis," wrote the group of former judges. The signatories to the letter included Justice GM Akbar Ali, Justice Aruna Jagadeesan, Justice D Hariparanthaman, Justice PR Shivakumar, Justice CT Selvam and Justice S Vimala — all retired judges of the Madras High Court and former Patna High Court judge Anjana Prakash. They sought to remind each of the authorities and institutions charged with the integrity of the process of democratic government formation of their paramount duty to abide by and uphold the Constitution of India. However, they expressed hope that "our apprehensions are wrong and the elections would end smoothly with counting of votes and declaration of results done in a fair and honest manner and formation of parliament as well as transition of power taking place as per the mandate of the people without a hiccup. Nevertheless, the undersigned believe in the old adage — prevention is better than cure!" "Several events over the past weeks are making for a very grim storyline; one that may possibly end in a violent conclusion. These are genuine apprehensions in the minds of the vast majority of our people. Reputed civil and human rights organisations and activists have also echoed the same apprehension," said the former judges who claimed to have no political affiliations. They said the Election Commission's refusal to disclose the exact numbers of votes cast in each booth of every constituency and to make form 17(C) of conduct of election Rules available to the public, along with the minimal action taken against hate speech targeting minorities and opposition parties by senior leaders of the ruling party, were major concerns. "At this critical juncture, the Supreme Court of India, as the final authority vested with power by "We, the People" to defend and protect the Constitution and democracy, should be ready to take proactive action to prevent any potential catastrophe or to address any monstrous situations that may arise during counting and declaration of results of candidates who have contested in Lok Sabha 2024 elections, requiring immediate intervention by the Honorable Supreme Court," the letter read.

Mixed bag for BJP

Wins big in Arunachal, flops in Sikkim

THE BJP-led Centre's sustained infrastructure push in Arunachal Pradesh has helped the party sweep the Assembly elections and retain power in the border state. The BJP won 46 seats in the 60-member House. The Congress, with just one seat, was relegated to an abysmal fifth position. The projects launched or completed in Arunachal in recent years are part of a long-term plan to counter China's aggressive strategy to develop villages along the Line of Actual Control. In March, PM Modi had dedicated the Sela tunnel to the nation. This border infrastructure project, which connects Guwahati to the strategic Tawang sector round the year, is aimed at facilitating faster movement of troops. It was Tawang's Yangtse region where Indian and Chinese soldiers clashed in December 2022.

However, the saffron party, which has been making rapid strides in the North-East, was routed in the Sikkim Assembly polls. The BJP failed to win any seat, even though it had 12 members in the outgoing House. The party had drawn a blank in the 2019 Assembly elections as well, but it had poached 10 MLAs of the Sikkim Democratic Front and won two bypolls in alliance with the ruling Sikkim Krantikari Morcha (SKM). Its decision to part ways with the SKM and go solo cost it dear. Like in Arunachal, the Congress was unable to open its account in Sikkim. The grand old party has been helplessly seeing its fortunes plummet in northeastern states.

The BJP and its allies are expected to win the majority of the Lok Sabha seats in these states, according to exit polls. The outcome in Manipur, a BJP-ruled state that has been in the throes of ethnic violence for the past year, will be keenly watched. It remains to be seen if the 'double-engine' government's gross mishandling of the crisis will prove to be the all-important factor in the results.

South African polls

Coalition era begins as ANC loses grip

SOUTH Africa is at a pivotal juncture following the historic 2024 election results, which have ended the African National Congress' (ANC) three-decade dominance. The ANC, which liberated the country from apartheid and established its democratic foundations under Nelson Mandela, has failed to secure a majority for the first time since 1994. This shift signals a profound transformation in South African politics, with coalition talks set to shape the nation's future. Widespread voter dissatisfaction, driven by high unemployment, crime, corruption and inadequate public services, contributed to the ANC's decline. President Cyril Ramaphosa, seeking a second term, faces the daunting task of negotiating alliances with Opposition parties to form the government. His ability to address people's concerns will be crucial in determining South Africa's trajectory.

The Democratic Alliance, which garnered around 21 per cent of the votes, is a potential coalition partner, advocating for market-friendly reforms and privatisation. In stark contrast, parties like the Economic Freedom Fighters and Jacob Zuma's uMkhonto weSizwe Party are pushing for radical changes, including land redistribution and nationalisation. The ANC's choice of partners will significantly impact economic policy and investor confidence. This momentous shift offers an opportunity to reinvigorate South Africa's democracy, potentially fostering greater accountability and responsiveness to the needs of its citizens.

The election results have significant global implications, particularly as the nation assumes the presidency of the Group of 20 (G20) later this year. The composition of the ruling coalition could have a bearing on South Africa's international relations, given its stance on issues like the Gaza conflict and its historical ties with Russia. South Africa's relationship with India, a key BRICS partner, could be impacted, depending on the coalition's policies. The world will keenly observe how South Africa navigates these complexities.

Echoes of blackmail

NEW DELHI's refusal to be overawed by some foreign donor's threat to cut off aid is a measure of economic and political maturity. Development and other aid without strings has always been welcome, but Mrs Gandhi has made it clear that we will not bow to any aid-cut blackmail. Some countries which were willing to assist India when it was weak, she has said, "have become intolerant of the steps this nation is taking to become strong." Japan is stated to be reviewing its aid policy towards India, posing to policy-makers "the fundamental question" whether nuclear India is a developing nation that qualifies for aid. It has, however, ruled out a sudden switch in aid policy. The US and Canada are also reconsidering their stand. But not all donors have been swayed by prejudices assiduously fed by Pakistani propagandists. Sweden has no intention of stopping aid "at the moment". Far more significant, executive directors of the World Bank have approved a $150-million long-term loan for India despite protests by representatives of the US and Canada. They expressed doubts about the priorities being extended to India's development effort. But even they did not block the credit — the ninth advanced to this country in the current year to promote production through imports of raw material by about 800 medium and small-scale industrial enterprises. Some of the vital projects which would benefit from the new soft-term loan relate to tractors, fertilisers, electrical equipment and machine tools. Most of them might otherwise have suffered a reverse.

Trump's conviction thickens the plot

The former US President has a fanatical voter base, which has been galvanised by the verdict

MANOJ JOSHI

DISTINGUISHED FELLOW, OBSERVER RESEARCH FOUNDATION, NEW DELHI

THE United States appeared even more divided following the conviction of former President and current presidential candidate Donald Trump on 34 counts of falsifying business records. By itself, the case was a minor one, but the Trump team's decision to contest it in the manner it did — by deriding the process, attacking the prosecutors and even the judge — made it toxic.

Trump will now appeal, but this will take months, if not years, to be processed. If he loses and the case is overturned later, it will confirm the views of his supporters that the US judicial system is broken. On the other hand, if he wins despite everything, it will reveal just what a bad state that system is in.

Trump has trashed the judicial process and said "we're living in a fascist state." The trial of "a very innocent man", as Trump described himself, is being described as a sham and he is being characterised as a 'political prisoner'. His party has warned that the US is entering a phase where all its opponents could also find themselves facing indictments when the opportunity arises.

The verdict has introduced a volatile and dramatic element into what was indeed a strange race between two candidates who have not been particularly popular among the voters. In old America, a conviction of a candidate would have put paid to his or her chances. But this is

SPECTRE: If Trump is reelected, there will be enormous consequences for his country and the world. REUTERS

Trump's America and things are panning out differently. The verdict has actually strengthened the Republican Party support for him, manifested by the $52.8 million or so his campaign received immediately after the verdict.

The Democrats are celebrating the conviction of the man who is their opponent and currently the frontrunner. President Biden has been careful in commenting on the issue, but he has defended the judicial system and declared it is "reckless... dangerous and irresponsible" for anyone to question the verdict because they don't like it.

This was no sham trial, even if the issues were somewhat trivial. The evidence presented established the crimes committed and also gave us a glimpse of the sleazy world Trump lives in. Whatever his supporters may say, he was judged by a jury of his peers who unanimously and fairly quickly convicted him on all 34 counts. And this is only one of the charges he confronts; there are three more serious ones. But in the minds of the Republicans, the cases are an outcome of "weaponising of the judicial system".

India's ties with Trump were fine, but they lacked the systematic effort that has been put into building the bilateral relationship in the past three years.

Two of the cases relate to his role in subverting the 2020 elections and the third says that he deliberately withheld classified documents after he left the White House. The

New York verdict showed that while a part of the US legal system is still working, the partisanship of the other parts, including the US Supreme Court, has ensured that the other cases will not be tried before the elections. The only 'court' that matters now is the polling booth.

Trump has a fanatical voter base, which has been galvanised by the verdict, but it alone cannot win him the election. He needs the support of people who are less fervent and could be possibly put off by the conviction. Indeed, the trial itself has underlined Trump's weakness — his erratic behaviour, his scandals and vulgarity.

A YouGov poll conducted immediately after the verdict found that while 27 per cent said they were less likely to vote for Trump, 26 per cent said they were more likely to do so, while 39 per cent said the verdict would not affect the way they voted. However, the manner in which the election is shaping up, even small shifts in support could make a difference.

We will work with any US leader whom the American people trust. — Vladimir Putin

Elections through the IAF prism

AIR VICE MARSHAL MANMOHAN BAHADUR (RETD)

INDIAN Air Force (IAF) helicopters are ubiquitous in our elections. My first tryst with this exercise was in the Tripura Assembly polls in January 1983, when I was posted in Guwahati. We ferried an election party to a remote polling booth and brought it to Agartala, where counting was taking place. As luck would have it, our helicopter became unserviceable and we spent an extra day there.

We were staying in the Circuit House, where polling agents were also camping, including an ex-IAF officer who had joined a national party and was its election observer. His party was planning to unseat the communists, who were ruling Tripura. When the officer was asked to predict the poll outcome, he said: 'I think we will form the government.' When All India Radio started broadcasting the results, the first two seats were won by that officer's party, leading to jubilation all round. We left the joyous group to check on our helicopter. On return, the officer was nowhere to be found! As it happened, those first two seats were the only ones that his party won — and with the communist cadre shouting victory slogans outside the Circuit House, the officer caught the next Indian Airlines flight to Calcutta!

February 1983 witnessed the Assembly polls in Assam. The agitation there was at its peak, and the February 18 Nellie massacre was emblematic of all the bloodletting. Local officials had refused to work, so the staff were flown in by IAF transport aircraft from outside the state for polling duty. I remember an arrival distinctly. As I received one aircraft, a clearly disoriented person disembarked and asked: 'Sir, which place is this?'

The elections were pushed through, and on February 26, we got a tasking for three persons to be flown from Guwahati to Shillong and back. I recognised one as Hiteswar Saikia, the leader of the victorious Congress; the other two came from Delhi. The Chetak helicopter has one VIP seat in front and four flat decks at the back; one of the Delhiites went and sat on the VIP seat with authority. On landing at Shillong, a cavalcade of cars whisked the three away to meet the Governor at his residence, where Saikia presented his claim to form the government. On return to the helipad, a 'kissa kursi ka' routine played out over who would occupy the VIP seat. After much 'you please,' 'nahim, aap bathiye,' Saikia sat in front as he was now the CM-designate; the Delhiites' role reversal from authoritativeness to subservience was astonishing.

After take-off, we encountered bad weather and returned to Shillong. It was pouring as it does only in the North-East. The Delhiites moved to the VIP hut, but Saikia stayed in the car. For the next 45 minutes, he sat alone, a forlorn figure — perhaps thinking of what the future would be since he had won with only 16 per cent of the voters backing him amid a major boycott. All credit to him, then, for putting Assam back on track.

Take exit polls with a pinch of salt

Exit polls are just a rough estimate meant to gauge the mood of the voters during an election. These forecasts often stir controversy because many of the agencies conducting them are perceived to be biased. These surveys are influenced by the choice, phrasing and timing of the questions. Exit polls are not reliable. There is also a perception that most media houses in the country favour the ruling dispensation. The exit polls predicting an emphatic victory for the NDA must not be taken seriously, as anti-incumbency is prevalent in the country. Amid rising inflation and unemployment, the common man feels disillusioned with the ruling regime.

GAURAV BADHWAR, ROHTAK

ECI should ban exit polls

Apropos of 'Exit polls', these predictions give fresh talking points to parties and political commentators in the run-up to the counting of votes. But it is important to note that the forecasts are not always accurate. It is worth remembering that the exit polls had predicted an easy majority for the NDA in 2004, but it was the Congress and its allies that ultimately formed the government at the Centre. It is time for the Election Commission of India (ECI) to impose a ban on exit polls, which have no use, as these could be misleading. Nobody benefits from these polls other than TV channels and the pollsters.

SANJAY CHOPRA, MOHALI

The fight over exit polls

With reference to 'Exit polls', all political parties carried out no-holds-barred campaigns, with their leaders occasionally hitting their rivals below the belt. But it is heartening to know that the long-drawn-out polls were conducted mostly in a peaceful manner. The ECI deserves kudos for the smooth conduct of the General Election, which is rightly dubbed the 'festival of democracy'. From poll officials and candidates to the campaigners and voters who braved the heatwave sweeping many parts of the country, all played a key role in the success of the polls. As expected, the INDIA bloc is rejecting the exit polls — which cumulatively predict a comfortable majority for the BJP-led NDA — while the ruling regime is expressing confidence about retaining power.

KRISHAN KANT SOOD, NANGAL

Oppn bloc and its hollow rhetoric

It has become common for the Opposition in India to raise questions about the functioning of various institutions. Unable to match the blitz of the ruling dispensation, the INDI alliance has lost its moorings. The Opposition grouping, which is devoid of principles and driven by the sole goal of grabbing power at any cost, has ended up as a laughing stock. Instead of doing something for the welfare of people, all it offers is hollow rhetoric. A weak Opposition does not bode well for Indian democracy.

SACHIN KAUSHAL, PATIALA

Minimise risk of mishap

Apropos of 'Tragic negligence'; sadly, those behind the wheel often don't follow the norms. The harrowing car crash in Pune that killed two people and the bus mishap in Akhnoor were an outcome of negligence. It is high time that the authorities concerned took stringent action against those violating the traffic regulations. Further, it is imperative to make sure that no person breaking the law is shielded by the very people who are supposed to bring them to justice. Moreover, the condition of roads in Jammu and various other places across the country should be improved to minimise the risk of a mishap.

PARISHA KHATRI, CHANDIGARH

Pune crash boy's kin complicit

With reference to the news report 'Pune car crash: Minor's parents conspired to swap sample, say police'; the Juvenile Justice Board failed to take a serious view of the accident that killed two young engineers as it involved a minor. But it is inexcusable that the grandfather and parents of the 17-year-old boy who fatally knocked down the two IT professionals with his car while driving under the influence conspired to save him. The boy's grandfather coerced the family driver to take the blame for the mishap. The mother provided her blood sample so that it could be swapped with his, and he could be saved. And it was the boy's father who allowed him to drive without a valid licence. They should all be held accountable.

VIJAYA SHARMA, BY MAIL

Congress' failure to unite INDIA will cost it dear

RASHEED KIDWAI
SENIOR JOURNALIST & AUTHOR

THERE are many political lessons to be learnt by both the victor and the vanquished. It is often said, not without reason, that whatever you say or write about India, the opposite can be equally true. Going by the gist of the exit polls (the actual numbers may vary), the Narendra Modi-led NDA and a rainbow INDIA bloc will likely have reasons to respectively, celebrate and repent.

INDIA did its mathematics well, bringing in an element of chemistry too, but it failed to stitch up alliances on the eastern coast. The BJP — having barely 1 per cent of the vote share in Andhra Pradesh in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections — did well to rope in the Telugu Desam Party (TDP) and the Jana Sena Party (JSP). On the other hand, INDIA remained 'friendless', even though Jagan Mohan Reddy had belonged to the Congress parivar of yesteryear.

A quick recap of the Congress-Jagan parting is in order. Jagan's father, YS Rajasekhara Reddy, was a devout Congress leader and a Gandhi family favourite since the time of Rajiv Gandhi. When he died in an air crash, the majority of the Congress MLAs in the then undivided Andhra wanted son Jagan (a Lok Sabha MP then) to take over as the Chief Minister. This would have been a democratic move, but the Congress leadership — known to complicate simple things — crowned K Rosaiah as CM. Rahul Gandhi, who was the All India Congress Committee (AICC) general secretary then, reportedly took a stand against dynasty, pointing out how the son of an incumbent CM taking his place would set a wrong precedent.

In September 2009, the Congress was in power in over a dozen states. Earlier this year, instead of going in for conciliation or overtures, the Congress leadership propped up Jagan's sister Sharmila as the state party chief. As per exit polls, the Congress is getting 2 per cent of the vote share, just enough to down or demolish Jagan and get the TDP-JSP-BJP the bulk of the Lok Sabha seats.

In neighbouring Odisha, a similar story (no seats) is possibly in store for INDIA — with the BJP walking away with the majority of the Lok Sabha seats. The collapse of the Biju Janata

Dal (BJD) in the state may or may not happen, but the INDIA grouping's failure to bring the BJD on its side remains glaring. In fact, when Nitish Kumar was part of INDIA, he went to Bhubaneswar to initiate talks, but there was no follow-up. Even more shocking was INDIA's silence when PM Modi brought up Naveen Patnaik's illness and the need for an investigation while addressing a public meeting. Modi's comment was seen as politically incorrect.

If Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee fails to hold

The INDIA bloc's failure to work out a tripartite alliance in Bengal was baffling. Mamata had asked the Congress to share its quota of seats with the Left parties, but the move was shelved.

on to the Bengal bastion in the Lok Sabha polls, she will have reasons to blame herself. But the INDIA bloc's failure to work out a tripartite alliance in Bengal was baffling. Mamata had asked the Congress to share its quota of seats with the Left parties, but the move was shelved. In December last year, Mamata took the lead in pushing for Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge's name as INDIA's prime ministerial candidate. She was backed by Delhi CM and AAP leader Arvind Kejriwal, but the Congress downplayed the matter. Kharge said: "Let's win first, the PM face will be discussed later."

The Mamata-Congress confrontation is even more surprising in view of the Trinamool Congress (TMC) leader's emotional bond with Sonia Gandhi. It is said that when Mamata formed the TMC in 1998, protesting against then AICC chief Sitaram Kesri, Sonia was extremely upset.

Old-timers recalled how during the period between the 1997 Christmas and New Year Eve, Sonia had stayed up at night to bring about a rapprochement between a haughty Kesri and a rebellious Mamata. On one occasion, an agitated Mamata was given an audience at 10, Janpath by Sonia, even though the latter had retired for the day.

Subsequently, the ties between Mamata and Sonia showed that both may be politicians but not calculating ones. This was evident in 1999, when Sonia publicly expressed her emotions during Mamata's induction into the NDA regime headed by then PM Atal Bihari Vajpayee.

In what was obviously a spur-of-the-moment gesture, Mamata strode straight towards Sonia, seated in the front row in the forecourt of the Rashtrapati Bhavan, after being sworn in. The two hugged each other tightly as a star-led Vajpayee, LK Advani, Pramod Mahajan, Sharad Pawar and others looked on. And then Sonia did her own spontaneous bit. "Congratulations," she said, "but will you come back?"

Both realised that the invitation was only a gesture, an impulse of the moment. But a moist-eyed Mamata gently turned away. Perhaps Sonia was not expecting her to respond.

In the NDA, Mamata repaid Sonia's gesture by blocking a proposed legislation that was aimed at barring persons of foreign origin from holding high offices. The proposal was made in one of the first Cabinet meetings convened by Vajpayee after the 1999 General Election.

It is, therefore, surprising that Sonia did not take the lead in wooing Mamata and working out tripartite seat-sharing in Bengal that would have given a boost to the Opposition.

A master tactician, Modi made fewer mistakes. However, his move to bench and control regional satraps in Rajasthan and elsewhere has shown chinks in the BJP's armour. Similarly, the politics of vendetta, arrests and intimidation resulted in some parties joining INDIA, even though they owed their genesis to anti-Congressism or had revolted against the parent organisation.

Troubled times ahead for the new govt on economic front

AUNINDYO CHAKRAVARTY
SENIOR ECONOMIC ANALYST

WHETHER comes to power in New Delhi is going to have to deal with a disgruntled middle class. No, I don't mean that section of the population that doesn't make it to the government's 5 kg of free rice and wheat. I am restricting myself to households that earn at least Rs 1 lakh per month in one of India's big cities. Frankly, below that, you are unlikely to be able to afford much after paying for your children's education, parents' medical bills, rent, electricity and fuel bills, and food.

Estimates suggest that those who fall between the 95th and 96th percentile of income earners make that much money. After that, incomes increase gradually, till you hit the 99.3-99.4th percentile, when your family hits the Rs 2 lakh/month threshold. This gives your family a pretty comfortable life. You can buy clothes from Zara, go to better restaurants, take a home loan and buy a house in a well-maintained, but not too fancy, condominium, buy split ACs and take your family on an occasional holiday to Southeast Asia.

Roughly 15 million households in India fall in this category — those who have a household income of Rs 1-2 lakh a month. These would mostly be salaried professionals and owners of small businesses. A large chunk of them are likely to hold some technical degree, like BTech, MTech or MBA. Their children would also have followed in their footsteps and enrolled themselves for similar professional degrees.

Such people have been in trouble for several years now. Their earnings have barely kept pace with rising prices. In many cases, corporate employers have shrunk the ranks of middle management and replaced that with automation or third-party outsourcing. Accountants, HR executives and administration staff have found tough competition from big aggregators, who provide these services to large offices through a combination of software and onsite services. That has not only reduced job opportunities, but also affected pay hikes.

Now, the children of these professionals are finding it difficult to get good jobs. The case in point is the placement record of IITs this year. The reply to an RTI application filed by IIT alumnus Dheeraj

SKY-HIGH: Even those who earn big salaries can no longer afford to keep pace with the sudden jump in the prices of premium homes. ISTOCK

Singh showed that 38 per cent of IIT graduates hadn't found jobs this year. And some of those who had been placed were being offered just Rs 50,000 a month. Companies that had turned up to offer jobs at IIT-Kharagpur were willing to pay just Rs 30,000 a month, less than what an Uber auto driver would earn in Delhi-NCR.

The IIMs — which churn out some of the highest starting pay packages — have had a tough year too. Offers are down 10-15 per cent and median salaries are much lower for even the top-ranked institutes. Anticipating this, IIMs had reached out to their alumni networks to help with placements. Smaller business schools have fared even worse. In many cases, median salaries being offered are between Rs 40,000 and Rs 50,000, and the top packages haven't crossed Rs 1,50,000.

The middle class is having to deal with a much higher rate of price rise than what the official retail inflation numbers suggest.

These are the crème de la crème of those graduating from formerly lucrative professional courses. Those who opted for liberal arts training are mostly living at home and continuing to add degrees as they wait for decent job offers. Anecdotal evidence shows that most young people are now reconciled to earning less than their parents did.

On the other side, the middle class is having to deal with a much higher rate of price rise than what the official retail inflation numbers suggest. This is because there is a wealth effect at the very top — the top 0.5 per cent of the Indian households, which have done extremely well in the past five years. These extremely affluent people have been able to buy much more than they did before the Covid-19 pandemic, and this is showing up in the increased sales of premium cars and high-end homes.

This has had a rub-off effect on the price of goods and services that the upwardly mobile, aspirational middle class wants to buy, at least occasionally. So, all items of discretionary purchase have become more expensive and have gone out of reach of the middle-class consumer.

This story doesn't end here. Even among the top 0.5 per cent of the Indians, of roughly 2 million households, half earn less than Rs 5 lakh a month. Don't get me wrong. That is a lot of money in the context of a country where an overwhelming majority is poor. But, as you climb up the income ladder over a period of two decades, your expenditure patterns change. You begin to upgrade brands — buy the more expensive shower gel and shampoo, switch to artisanal breads and coffee, spend on imported cheeses and organic salad leaves. You fly business class on holidays and stay in better hotels. In fact, your holiday destinations move from Bangkok to Barcelona.

Even those who earn this kind of big salaries are now finding it tough to keep up with the Joneses. This is partly because only those in corporate C-Suites are getting hefty bonuses and raises, while those right below them are seeing their pay hikes shrink. So, they see their bosses buy Rs 6-crore apartments in the tonier parts of the metros, while they can no longer afford to keep pace with the sudden jump in the prices of premium homes.

This is going to show up in the next couple of years as anger and frustration. Except for the top one million households and roughly three million people, there is bound to be a sense of despondency among the richest Indians.

You might ask why they would matter in a country of 1.4 billion people. That is because they control the public discourse. They chatter at parties and turn up at candle-light marches to protest against unrelated cases of injustice. The media will have to take up their issues to hold on to readers and eyeballs. And suddenly, it will snowball into public discontentment.

The UPA-2 had to deal with such a situation within two years of coming to power. The next government might face the same fate.

Manali MC fined ₹4.60 cr for contaminating Beas

NGT orders criminal prosecution of Kullu DM, other officials

PRATIBHA CHAUHAN

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

SHIMLA, JUNE 3

Enforcing the principle of 'polluters pay', the NGT has imposed a penalty of Rs 4.60 crore on Manali Municipal Council for contamination of Beas through leachate discharge of untreated waste from the waste management unit plant at Rangri in Manali.

Coming down heavily on the other government agencies also, the NGT in its order of May 29, 2024 has said that this amount be spent on rejuvenation and restoration of damaged environment. The court gave three months' time to Manali MC to deposit this amount with the HP State Pollution Control Board (HSPSCB).

The NGT has also said that action for criminal prosecution under Environment Protection Act 1986 be taken against District Magistrate, Kullu, Executive Officer, Manali MC, and Principal Secretary, Urban Development, within two months and compliance report shall be submitted in the next one month with Registrar General of the NGT.

Paldan Phunchog, pradhan, Shallen gram panchayat in Manali, had knocked the doors of the green court against the filth and unhygienic conditions prevailing in the area. He had pointed out that the locals were inconvenienced due to foul smell and scattered waste over 2 km area. There was dip in admissions in educational institutions.

cattle had died after consuming decomposed garbage thrown on open land.

The NGT decision comes on the basis of the report of the NGT-constituted Joint Committee comprising HP State Pollution Control Board (HSPSCB) and District Magistrate, Kullu, to check violation of environmental norms.

On spot visit, the committee found the plant being non-operational, empty composite pits, foul smell, mixed solid waste, heaps of organic waste mixed with plastic contents stored without any further treatment and no separate compartments for collection of e-waste and domestic hazardous waste. The Joint Committee had directed immediate stopping of the flow of leachate towards the river Beas and making the compost pits functional.

The Joint Committee found untreated leachate flowing into Beas as work for construction of leachate collection pits was in progress. To make matters worse, the installed Effluent Treatment Plant (ETP) and compactor were not functional, resulting in the legacy waste spilling over the retaining wall towards the banks of Beas. The NGT had found the report given by Joint Committee on September 14, 2023 unsatisfactory.

Untreated waste dumped at Rangri along the Beas in Manali.

Resignation of 3 Ind MLAs accepted, state to hold bypoll in 6 mths

Sukhu for early action to prevent forest fires

SHIMLA, JUNE 3

Himachal Pradesh Assembly Speaker Kuldeep Singh Pathania today accepted the resignation of three Independent legislators Hoshiyar Singh from Dehra, Ashish Sharma from Hamirpur and KL Thakur from Nalagarh.

The three MLAs had submitted their resignation to the Speaker on March 22 and joined the BJP the very next day on March 23 without waiting for the decision of the Speaker. With their resignation being accepted, the strength of the House has been reduced to 59, in which the Congress has 34 legislators, BJP 25, while the results of six Assembly bypoll are awaited.

“They cease to be MLAs of the 14th Assembly from today,” said Pathania. He also made it clear that though the MLAs ceased to be members of the Assembly, the petition on the issue of seeking their disqualification under the Ant-Defection Law, filed by Revenue Minister Jagat Singh Negi, is still pending with him.

“Their disqualification is a less harsh decision. The decision on their disqualification is pending as they had joined the BJP on March 23 before their resignation was accepted,”

Now bypolls for these three vacant Assembly segments will be held within the next six months as the ECI will be intimated about the decision. All the three MLAs had voted in favour of the BJP candidate Harsh Mahajan in the Rajya Sabha elections held on February 27, resulting in defeat of Congress candidate Abhishek Manu Singhvi.

The three MLAs had on March 30 sat on a dhama in the Vidhan Sabha to press for early acceptance of their resignation. The three were keen that bypoll in their constituencies be held along with the Lok Sabha and six Vidhan Sabha bypoll on June 1, which could not happen as the Speaker kept the decision pending. They had stated that since they had handed over their resignations in person to the Speaker and without any duress there was no justification in delaying a decision. — TNS

Chief Minister Sukhvinder Sukhu here today expressed serious concern over the forest fire incidents and directed the department to take concerted efforts to address the issue.

While presiding over a meeting of the Forest Department here today, he instructed the officials to initiate long-term measures along with immediate initiatives to curb the problem. The Chief Minister stressed on people's participation in these efforts and said that the numbers of forest fire incidents were gradually decreasing.

“As many as 1,318 fire incidents have been recorded this year so far, affecting 12,718 hectares of land, including 2,789 hectares plantation area causing the preliminary financial loss of Rs 4.61 crore,” said the Chief Minister.

“To mitigate these losses, the state government is contemplating to form a dedicated battalion of NDRF specially equipped and trained for fire-fighting to reduce the losses.”

He said that 374 forest beats were highly sensitive to forest fires and called for strengthening the fire tackling services in these areas. Sukhu emphasised on diversifying the conifer plants regions with specific plant species of the area to help retain the moisture and reduce the numbers of fire incidents. — TNS

2 women swept away in Beas

MANDI, JUNE 3

In a tragic incident, two women tourists from UP were swept away by the gushing waters of Beas river at Vashisht village near Manali today.

The victims were identified as Anchal and Meenu. During investigation, it was revealed that Pal Singh of UP had gone for a family trip to Manali. “Around 3 pm, they were clicking photographs near the river when Anchal and Meenu slipped and fell into the Beas. We were able to find the body of one of the victims, while a search operation to locate another victim is on,” a police official said. — TNS

LeT commander among 2 ultras neutralised in Pulwama gunfight

SRINAGAR, JUNE 3 In a major breakthrough, two terrorists of banned Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT), including a self-styled “commander” who had been operating for the longest period, were killed in an encounter with the security forces in Pulwama district of Jammu and Kashmir, officials said.

The anti-terror operation started at 11.45 pm on Sunday when J&K Police, the Army and paramilitary forces laid a cordon around a house in the Nihama area of Pulwama district following intelligence input about the presence of terrorists, they said.

The encounter with the two holed-up terrorists started at 7 am on Monday after the duo identified as Riyaz

Dar, alias “Sathar”, and Rayees Dar refused to surrender, they said.

During the operation, which was overseen by Deputy Inspector General of Police (South Kashmir) Altaf Khan, precaution was adopted to ensure that there was no collateral damage, they said.

The firing intensified in the afternoon following which the house in which the two terrorists were holed up caught fire. The operation was called off at 4 pm after the recovery of the bodies of two terrorists. Riyaz Dar had joined the LeT in 2014 and had closely worked with slain Pakistani terrorists Abu Dujana and Abu Ismail. He had participated in many terror-related activities.

While Riyaz, designated as an A++ terrorist, carried a cash reward of above Rs 10 lakh, Rayees Dar was categorised as ‘A’ carrying a cash reward of Rs 5 lakh.

This is the second anti-terror operation in South Kashmir in less than four weeks.

On May 7, the police achieved a major success after they gunned down Basit Dar, self-styled commander of the banned The Resistance Front (TRF) terror group, a shadow group of Lashkar-e-Taiba. He and another terrorist, Momeen, were killed in an encounter in Kulgam’s Redwani village. Both were involved in 18 terror-related cases which included targeting of minorities and police personnel. — PTI

Will hold Assembly poll ‘very soon’: CEC

Sept 30 deadline set by SC | Commission ‘enthused’ by high LS election turnout

NEW DELHI, JUNE 3 The Election Commission (EC) on Monday said it would start the process of holding Assembly elections in Jammu and Kashmir “very soon”. Addressing a press conference here, Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) Rajiv Kumar said the EC was very enthused by the voter turnout in the Union Territory during the Lok Sabha elections, which showed the eagerness of people to participate in the democratic process.

“We will very soon start the process of Assembly elections in J&K. We are very enthused. It is one of the most satisfying moments,” the CEC said. The voter turnout in Jammu and Kashmir during the Lok Sabha elections was 58.58 per cent, the highest in four decades. The voter turnout in Lok Sabha seats in the Kashmir valley was 51.05 per cent, he added.

While announcing the schedule for Lok Sabha elections in March, Kumar had said that holding Assembly and Parliamentary elections simultaneously in the UT was not practical due to logistical and security reasons.

Whenever Assembly elections are held in Jammu and Kashmir, they will be the first since the August 2019 abrogation of Article 370 of the Constitution and the division of the erstwhile state into two Union Territories.

The electoral exercise in Jammu and Kashmir is usually spread over a month. Following a delimitation exercise, the number of Assembly seats in the UT has gone up from 83 to 90 excluding those allocated to Pakistan-occupied Kashmir. In December, the Supreme Court had directed the poll panel to hold Assembly elections in Jammu and Kashmir by September 30. — PTI didate from Anantnag. Omar faced stiff competition from other candidates in Baramulla, including jailed leader Engineer Rashid and PC’s Sajad Lone. On the other hand, Mian Altaf, a spiritual leader and NC candidate from Anantnag, remained a major hurdle for Mehbooba Mufti due to his popularity among the Gujjar population. The results will help know the relevance of the smaller parties that were supported by the BJP in the election. They will decide their future for the Assembly elections — to be held before the Supreme Court deadline of September 30. The DPAP, Apni Party and PC had been supported by the BJP in J&K.

While Azad did not contest the poll, he had fielded party candidates from Udhampur, Anantnag and Srinagar. The Apni Party contested from Anantnag and Srinagar and announced support to PC from Baramulla. While the NC is eyeing three seats — Srinagar, Baramulla and Anantnag — in the Valley, the BJP is hoping for hat-trick for from Jammu and Udhampur.

‘Fake narratives, there’s...

and district magistrates (DMs) were influenced to vitiate the poll process so that the panel could take action against them.

Amid reports of several poll officials dying due to extreme heatwave conditions and the Lok Sabha poll stretching to seven phases over 45 days, Rajiv Kumar said the entire exercise could have been wrapped within a month and prior to the setting in of the summer season.

On the final turnout in the seventh phase, he said, “It will be provided only after repolling is completed at some booths, where it is taking place today.” Repolling was ordered at one polling station each in the Barasat and Mathurapur Lok Sabha constituencies in West Bengal.

The EC rebutted the claims of Congress leader Ajay Maken, who had alleged on X that counting agents of candidates were not being allowed at tables of assistant returning officers.

“These are fake narratives which we had failed to gauge,” Rajiv Kumar said, adding that counting of postal ballots would start first. Opposition parties have asked their agents to monitor the vote-counting process closely on Tuesday and ensure that form 17C, which contains the number of votes recorded at each polling station, is shared with them.

Reacting to several memes on social media calling the CEC and the election commissioners “Laapataa Gentlemen”, Rajiv Kumar said, “Social media meme pages are calling us ‘Laapataa Gentlemen’. But we were never ‘laapataa’ (missing), we were always here.”

He said over 68,000 monitoring teams and 1.5 crore polling and security personnel were involved in the world’s largest electoral exercise. Rajiv Kumar said the voter turnout in Jammu and Kashmir was the highest in the past four decades in this Lok Sabha poll.

Meanwhile, the EC on Monday rejected Congress leader Jairam Ramesh’s request for a week’s time to substantiate his allegations against Union Home Minister Amit Shah that he had contacted 150 district magistrates across the country after the conclusion of the LS poll. The EC asked Ramesh to provide concrete evidence to support his claims by 7 pm on Monday.

D-Day today... Another Indian...

day strategy, besides taking stock of the BJP’s and NDA’s poll performance.

“The party has planned for the result day when counting agents will be deputed across all booths. Instructions will be issued to everyone to pay attention as the counting progresses. BJP office-bearers have especially been deputed to remain vigilant,” Tawde said about the meeting.

Sources said discussions were held on how to make the “celebrations of the BJP’s win under Prime Minister Narendra Modi’s leadership a grand event”. PM Modi, before he went into the 2024 Lok Sabha campaign, had set three goals—370 seats for the BJP; over 400 seats for the NDA and 50 per cent vote share for the ruling combine—something even the Congress, at its electoral peak in 1984, could not gamer.

Russia warns US against ‘fatal’ miscalculation in Ukraine

MOSCOW, JUNE 3 Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Sergei Ryabkov said on Monday the United States could face “fatal consequences” if it ignored Moscow’s warnings not to let Ukraine use weapons provided by Washington to strike targets inside Russia.

Ryabkov was commenting on President Joe Biden’s decision last week to approve the use of U.S.-supplied weapons to hit targets inside Russia that were involved in attacks on Ukraine’s Kharkiv region.

“I would like to warn American leaders against miscalculations that could have fatal consequences. For unknown reasons, they underestimate the seriousness of the rebuff they may receive,” state news agency RIA quoted Ryabkov as saying.

He referred to comments last week by President Vladimir Putin, who said NATO countries were playing with fire and risking a deeper global conflict- one of a series of warnings from Moscow about the risk of a serious escalation.

“I urge these figures (in the US)... to spend some of their time, which they apparently spend on some kind of video games, judging by the lightness of their approach, on studying what was said in detail by Putin,” Ryabkov said.

Putin had delivered “a very significant warning and it must be taken with the utmost seriousness”, he added.

Putin said the West would be directly involved in any use of its weapons by Ukraine to strike deep inside Russia, because such attacks would require its satellite, intelligence and military help.

NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg said last week that NATO had the right to help Ukraine uphold its own right to self-defence, and this did not make NATO a party to the conflict.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskiy said at the weekend that Kyiv was grateful to Washington for allowing it to use U.S.-supplied HIMARS rocket systems in the Kharkiv region, but this was not enough. — Reuters

Ramaphosa’s re-election in doubt after ANC loses majority in S African poll

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, JUNE 3 Political deal making began in South Africa after its Election Commission gave a detailed break up of seats which confirmed that the ruling African National Congress (ANC) fell 41 seats short of a majority for the first time since the country shrugged off apartheid with multi-race election in 1994.

The loss of majority means the re-election of South African President Cyril Ramaphosa is no more a certainty. The ANC is putting up a brave front by stating that coalition talks will not include a deal not to re-nominate Ramaphosa. The South African President is directly elected by the federal legislature which means that a successful candidate will have to secure over 200 votes.

Winning 159 seats out of 400, ANC will now be forced to consider an alliance with the largely white-led Democratic Alliance which has again come second for the fourth consecutive time with 87 seats, up from the 84 it won in 2019.

ANC’s other alternative alliance partner could be uMkhonto we Sizwe (MK) led by estranged former South African President Jacob Zuma. The MK, contesting for the first time, came in third with 58 seats.

The Economic Freedom Fighters, another black-led party like Zuma’s MK, is fourth with 39 seats against the 44 it won in 2019. But a comfortable majority will elude an ANC-led alliance which will have to look for another partner for the purpose.

As compared to the 2019 polls, the ANC lost 71 seats and 17 per cent of the vote.

NEW DELHI, JUNE 3 Claudia Sheinbaum, a scientist with a PhD in physics, has been elected by a huge margin as Mexico’s first female president.

Sheinbaum, 61, will succeed her mentor Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador, who first included her in the government in 2000 and with whom she broke away from the Party of Democratic Revolution (PRD) in 2014 to form Morena that is also headed for super majorities in both houses of the Congress.

“For the first time in the 200 years of the republic, I will become the first woman president of Mexico,” Sheinbaum told supporters, according to the Mexican media.

A successful politician in her own right, she was the Mayor of Mexico City during Obrador’s tenure as the President. The final vote in Sheinbaum’s favour is expected to be 60.7 per cent, making it the highest vote percentage by a Presidential candidate in Mexico’s democratic history.

Mexican analysts felt a glass ceiling was broken because of Mexico’s pervasive macho culture and the majority Roman Catholic population which tends to circumscribe the role of women in public life in those parts.

They noted that she was the first woman to win a general election in the entire North America — the US, Mexico or Canada.

The elections were the most violent with 38 candidates murdered amid an expansion of organised crime cartels during Obrador’s term as the President during which 1.85 lakh people suffered violent deaths.

New & improved Samson

Feels he is best version of self coming into WC | Selection was always on his mind

NEW YORK, JUNE 3
Despite being focused on leading his team in the IPL, the thought of the impending T20 World Cup selections was at the back of his mind and he has come "most prepared" for the global showpiece, said Indian wicketkeeper-batter Sanju Samson.

The Rajasthan Royals skipper had another successful IPL season where he scored 531 runs including five half-centuries and he finally got his due when he was selected in the 15-member India squad for the T20 World Cup in the US and West Indies.

India play their opening match against Ireland on Wednesday.

"This is the most prepared or experienced Sanju Samson has come into this World Cup, actually," said Samson in video posted by the BCCI today. "Ten years of lots and lots of failures, few successes here and there. Life in cricket has taught me everything I needed to know before we come to this crucial tournament."

A highly underrated wicket-keeper-batter, Samson, despite his prolific run with the bat in the IPL, has played just 16 ODIs and 25 T20Is.

"The IPL covered all my headspace, I think. There was a lot to do, there was a lot to think being the captain of the side. I think my mind was always occupied, but

Pacer Anrich Nortje got a career-best 4 for 7 as South Africa beat Sri Lanka by 6 wickets on Monday. AP/PTI somewhere at the back of the mind the World Cup was also around."

The 29-year-old added that getting the call-up to represent the country in the World Cup was like a dream come true.

"It was a huge thing, actually. It was like one of the best things which could have happened to my career and those thoughts keep on playing," he said.

Samson said that despite

Ottneil Baartman became the first South African to take a World Cup wicket with his first tournament delivery having a remarkable season, where his side led the IPL table for a good part, he knew securing a place in the India side was not a surety.

"I knew I've had a reasonable good season in the IPL where I do have my chances to get in. But, at the same time, I knew how tough it is. It can be either both sides because it depends on what the team wants, the exact combination our team management or the selectors are looking for," he said. "So the moment I got convinced that 'Sanju you are ready', I think the life and cricket gave it back to me. So, that's how I like to look at it. So, it was a great moment." — PTI

Namibia's David Wiese and Ruben Trumpelmann shared seven wickets between them to take down Oman. icc

Oh man! Namibia secure thrilling win

BRIDGETOWN, JUNE 3
Namibia's Ruben Trumpelmann became the first player to take wickets in the first two deliveries of a T20 International as his team beat Oman via the Super Over in a thrilling T20 World Cup match here.

David Wiese and skipper Gerhard Erasmus smashed 21 runs for Namibia in the one-over eliminator with Oman managing 10 from the six deliveries bowled brilliantly by the seasoned Wiese.

Asked to bat first, Oman were earlier bowled out for 109 in 19.4 overs at the Kensington Oval. In reply, Namibia were also stopped at the same score with Jan Frylinck making 45 in 48 balls and Mehran Khan taking 3 for 7 to force a Super Over.

This was after Namibia's South Africa-born left-arm fast bowler Trumpelmann

Trumpelmann set a unique record as he became the first player in the men's T20Is to pick two wickets off the first two balls of a T20I game created history.

The 26-year-old achieved the feat when he dismissed opener Kashyap Prajapati and Oman skipper Aqib Ilyas for golden ducks on the first two balls of the match.

Khalid Kail top-scored for Oman with 34 in 39 balls.

Trumpelmann took another wicket in his second over and returned with the career-best figures of 4/21.

Brief scores: Oman: 109 all out in 19.4 overs (Kail 34; Trumpelmann 4/21, Wiese 3/28); Namibia: 109/6 in 20 overs (Frylinck 45; Mehran 3/7). — PTI

NORWAY CHESS

STAVANGER, JUNE 3
The brother-sister Indian duo of R Praggnanandhaa and R Vaishali suffered defeats in their respective section while Magnus Carlsen justified his top billing with a win over an off-colour Ding Liren to surge into sole lead on 12 points in the Norway Chess here.

American Fabiano Caruana also scored a win over compatriot Hikaru Nakamura to help Carlsen emerge as the front-runner for the crown in the six-player double round-robin contest being fought for a total prize pool of $161,000.

Praggnanandhaa lost to Firozja Alireza of France in the Armageddon tiebreaker

R Vaishali's fine run was finally ended by Wenjun Ju. NORWAY CHESS

after suffering a bit in the classical game, while Vaishali went down to world women's champion Wenjun Ju of China who outplayed the Indian in the endgame.

With four rounds still to come, Carlsen is now followed by Nakamura on 11 points while Praggnanandhaa is third with 9.5 points.

Alireza is fourth with eight points and Caruana follows him with 6.5 points. Surprisingly, China's Liren seems completely out of sorts with just 2.5 points, needing a miracle in the tournament.

“He just seems to be off. You can see it both from his demeanour, but also from the way that he often makes critical decisions quickly”
Magnus Carlsen on Ding Liren

In the women's section, Wenjun snatched the lead from Vaishali along with Anna Muzychuk of Ukraine, who won the Armageddon against Tingjie Lei of China. Both Wenjun and Muzychuk have 10.5 points, half-a-point ahead of Vaishali. — PTI

Real paint Madrid white after UCL win

MADRID, JUNE 3
For the second time in three seasons, and sixth in 10 years, Real Madrid celebrated a Champions League title with their fans on the streets of the Spanish capital.

Several thousands came out Sunday to welcome the team a day after it won a record-extending 15th Champions League title by beating Borussia Dortmund 2-0 at Wembley Stadium.

There could be even more reasons to celebrate for Madrid fans in the coming days with the club reportedly close to announcing the much-anticipated signing of Kylian Mbappe.

Celebrations began with the squad leaving the team's

Santiago Bernabeu Stadium on top of an open bus that took players and the coaching staff to meet with local officials while fans lined the streets to greet the newly crowned champions.

Toni Kroos attracted most of the attention of fans and teammates after playing his final match with Madrid on Saturday. Fans repeatedly chanted for him to stay, and players later threw Kroos into the air several times at the Bernabeu.

"I want to say thank you for the last few weeks, it was an unforgettable farewell," an emotional Kroos told the Bernabeu crowd. "And thank you for these 10 unforgettable years." — AP

De Minaur Oz's pride & joy

PARIS, JUNE 3
Alex de Minaur broke a 20-year Australian hoodoo at the French Open today as the 11th seed battled from a set down to stun fifth seed Daniil Medvedev 4-6 6-2 6-1 6-3 and advance to his first Roland Garros quarterfinal.

De Minaur became the first man from his nation to reach the last-eight stage at the claycourt Grand Slam since Lleyton Hewitt in 2004, with the victory on Suzanne Lenglen coming after a mid-match blip for Medvedev following a foot blister.

"It's great. It's a great position to be in," De Minaur told reporters.

American Emma Navarro 6-2 6-3 to advance to the ninth Grand Slam quarterfinal of her career. "I was ready to fight for every point, I was ready for long rallies," Sabalenka said.

Bopanna-Ebden enter quarters

PARIS: Rohan Bopanna and Matthew Ebden erased a one-set deficit to edge past the fighting pair of N Sriram Balaji and MA Reyes-Varela Martinez in the super tiebreaker, moving to the French Open quarterfinals, here today. The second-seeded Indo-Australian pair won 6-7(2) 6-3 7-6 (10-8) winners in the men's doubles third round. PTI

Satwik-Chirag aim to defend Indonesia crown

JAKARTA, JUNE 3
Keeping the Paris Olympics in mind, star Indian shuttlers Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty will seek consistency as they gear up to defend their doubles title at the Indonesia Open Super 1000 tournament beginning here tomorrow.

The top-seeded Indian pair, who are one of the favourites to win a gold in Paris, have enjoyed a good run this season with four final appearances and two wins (French Open Super 750 and Thailand Open Super 500.)

Pressure will also be on PV Sindhu to build her confidence, while Lakshya Sen and HS Prannoy will also be in action. — PTI

Sprinter Dutee suspended till 2027

NEW DELHI, JUNE 3
Indian sprinter Dutee Chand's hopes of getting her suspension overruled has been dashed by the National Anti-Doping Agency's (NADA) appeal panel after her suspension order was uploaded on its website today.

Dutee, who is the country's fastest 100m women sprinter, was banned after traces of selective androgen receptor modulators (SARMs) were found in her urine sample. She had appealed against the ban but the panel had upheld the earlier order.

As per the order by the anti-doping disciplinary panel, her four-year suspension will run from January 3, 2023 to January 2, 2027. SARMs, which are touted as supplements, help in increasing muscle mass.

Her sample was collected in December 2022 and she had previously failed to provide satisfactory reasons for inadvertently consuming a medicine, which formed the basis of her failed dope test. She was then issued a provisional suspension under Article 2.1 and 2.2 of the anti-doping rule violations that puts the onus on athletes to ensure that no prohibited substance enters their bodies and puts the responsibility on the athletes for presence of any prohibited substance or its metabolites/markers present in their samples. — TNS

Remove '100% fruit juice' claim: FSSAI

NEW DELHI: The Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) on Monday issued a directive mandating all food business operators (FBOs) to remove any claim of "100% fruit juice" from the labels and advertisements of reconstituted fruit juices with immediate effect. All FBOs have also been instructed to exhaust all existing pre-printed packaging materials before September 1, 2025.

Give declaration for ads, agencies told

NEW DELHI: Following orders of the Supreme Court, the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting has asked all advertisers and advertising agencies to submit a "self-declaration certificate" before publishing or broadcasting any advertisement. The SC had in May issued directions on advertising while hearing a case involving advertisements by yoga guru Ramdev's Patanjali Ayurved.

Nitish meets PM, talks to Shah, sets off speculation

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, JUNE 3 A Monday meeting between Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar on the eve of the 2024 Lok Sabha poll results set off speculation around the future of the JD(U) chief.

Nitish, 73, also spoke to Union Home Minister Amit Shah on phone after meeting the Prime Minister.

The Bihar election results on Tuesday will be key to the future of the JD(U) and Nitish, who has a reputation of switching parties and rejoined the NDA fold just ahead of the Lok Sabha elections. There was talk about a possible central government role for Nitish when he met the PM though JD(U) leader KC Tyagi rejected this speculation terming the meetings between Nitish and Modi as "courtesy calls".

Except briefly in between, Nitish has helmed Bihar since 2005 and has been vacillating between the RJD-led Opposition alliance, the Mahagathabandhan and the BJP-led NDA.

EC: Several milestones reached, record 312 million women voted

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, JUNE 3 Having wrapped up the humungous exercise of voting across seven phases for the Lok Sabha elections, the Election Commission (EC) on Monday said it was all prepared for the counting of votes on Tuesday, while pointing out that several milestones were reached this time, the chief among them being a record 642 million registered voters.

SC asks all stakeholder states to hold meeting on Delhi water crisis

SATYA PRAKASH

NEW DELHI, JUNE 3 As Delhi faces an acute water crisis amid scorching heatwave conditions, the Supreme Court (SC) on Monday asked the Centre to convene an emergency meeting of the Upper Yamuna River Board on June 5 with all stakeholders to deal with the situation.

The stakeholders to be represented in the meeting of the board included the Centre and the governments of Delhi, Haryana and Himachal Pradesh. A Vacation Bench of Justice PK Mishra and Justice

KV Viswanathan asked Solicitor General Tushar Mehta to inform it of the measures suggested by the Upper Yamuna River Board and posted the matter for further hearing on June 6.

At the very outset, the Bench suggested that there should be a meeting of all stakeholders to resolve the issue and asked Mehta to organise a meeting by Tuesday.

Mehta said there was already a mechanism in the form of the Upper Yamuna River Board, where all stakeholders were represented. He, however, said it would take a couple of days to convene such a meeting.

While asking the Centre to convene the meeting of the Upper Yamuna River Board on June 5, the Bench sought to emphasise that all parties — the Centre and the governments of Delhi, Haryana and Himachal Pradesh — have agreed not to treat it as an adversarial issue.

The direction came on the Delhi Government's plea seeking a direction to the Haryana Government to release surplus water provided by Himachal Pradesh to deal with the water crisis in the national capital.

Spurned by Male, Israel asks tourists to head to India

NEW DELHI, JUNE 3 Maldives' spurning of Israeli tourists will be a gain for beaches in Goa, Kerala, Lakshadweep and Andamans, if a recent X post from Tel Aviv's mission in New Delhi is an indication.

"Since the Maldives is no longer welcoming Israelis, here are some beautiful and amazing Indian beaches where Israeli tourists are warmly welcomed and treated with utmost hospitality," posted the Israeli embassy in India. To lend credibility, it said its "recommendations were based on the places visited by our diplomats". — TNS

₹1,100 cr laundered: ED in fresh Kavitha chargesheet

NEW DELHI, JUNE 3 More than Rs 1,100 crore was laundered in the Delhi excise scam, the Enforcement Directorate has told a Special Court here.

In a supplementary prosecution complaint (chargesheet) filed against BRS leader K Kavitha before Special Judge Kaveri Baweja, the ED said out of Rs 1,100 crore, the daughter of former Telangana CM K Chandrashekar Rao was involved in proceeds of crime worth Rs 292.8 crore. On Monday, Baweja extended Kavitha's judicial custody till July 3 after she was produced before the Special Court in response to a production warrant against her on taking cognisance of a chargesheet against the BRS leader in the case on May 29. The court also granted bail to three co-accused — Prince, Damodar and Arvind Singh — chargesheeted without being arrested during investigation by the ED. "As per the investigation so far, the total proceeds of crime (PoC) identified is Rs 1,100 crore, out of which PoC of Rs 292.8 crore is being dealt with in this prosecution complaint," the ED's prosecution complaint alleged. — TNS/PTI
