Modi bows to consensus 'Nation first, no power lust'

To take oath for 3rd time as PM tomorrow, will equal Nehru's record

ADITI TANDON

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, JUNE 7

Seventy-four-year old Narendra Modi will take oath as India's Prime Minister for the third time in a row on Sunday after President Droupadi Murmu on Friday appointed him the PM-designate following receipt of letters of support to the BJP from the National Democratic Alliance (NDA) partners.

The NDA has 293 MPs in the 543-member Lok Sabha, where 272 is the simple majority. The BJP with 240 parliamentarians is the single largest party of the bloc.

On the cusp of equalling Jawaharlal Nehru's record of returning to the PMO thrice, Modi today termed the NDA "an unbreakable bond of trust", "an organic alliance driven by nation-first principle rather than power lust, 'the most successful pre-poll alliance in India's coalition history' and a "synonym for good governance".

"The responsibility the NDA leaders have given me today by electing me their leader shows that the NDA's 30-year-old ties of trust are strong. This is an unbreakable bond and my greatest asset... this is an emotional moment for me... Ours is an organic alliance driven by commitment to nation first not by power lust," Modi said in his acceptance speech at the Central Hall of Parliament after the NDA allies elected him the leader of the parliamentary party in a firm show of unity.

President Droupadi Murmu offered curd to PM-designate Modi after she invited him to form a government. The President will administer the oath of office and secrecy to the PM and other members of the Union Council of Ministers at 7.15 pm on Sunday.

Earlier, as soon as he arrived in Parliament, Modi bowed to the Constitution of India in a gesture that came amid reports that opposition INDIA bloc's narrative that the BJP wanted "400-plus seats to change the Constitution" had hurt saffron party's prospects in the LS poll.

In another message, Modi stressed the "stability of the upcoming government" in his two addresses on Friday. In Parliament, he recalled late NDA founders, including Atal Behari Vajpayee, Parkash Singh Badal and Balasabeh

Thackeray, to say that the seeds they sowed had grown into a vast tree. In the evening as the PM-designate, Modi said due to the election of a stable government and a familiar leadership, the world

Cop slapped Kangana in rush of blood, says CISF

FIR lodged; farmers want actor booked too over remarks

GAURAV KANTHWAL

MOHALI, JUNE 7

CISF constable Kulwinder Kaur, the suspect in the Kangana slapping incident at the Chandigarh airport, was formally booked by the Mohali police today. A case under Sections 323 (punishment for voluntarily causing hurt) and 341 (punishment for wrongful restraint) of the IPC has been registered at the airport police station. No arrest has been made in the case. The police said both of these were bailable offences.

Some farmer outfits today threw their weight behind the constable who allegedly slapped actor and BJP MP-elect Kangana Ranaut, saying the entire sequence leading to the incident needed to be properly investigated.

Committee lent support to the constable and threatened to stage protests if any coercive action was taken against her. They demanded that an FIR be registered against the actor-turned-politician for "calling the people of Punjab separatists" and for trying to incite people. They said on June 9, an "insaaf march" would be held in Mohali to seek justice for her.

Doval term ends, may be told to continue

AJAY BANERJEE

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, JUNE 7

The tenure of National Security Adviser (NSA) Ajit Doval, as per the terms of his appointment, ended on June 5, when Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his Cabinet demitted the office, a day after the poll results were declared.

Going by available information, Doval is likely to be persuaded by the new government to continue on the post. Notably, Doval is also the country's special representative for the boundary talks with China that have been continuing for the past two decades. He enjoys the trust of Prime Minister Narendra Modi who is set to form the government for the third time. A government letter appointing Doval on June 2, 2019, said: "The Appointments Committee of the Cabinet has approved the appointment of Ajit Doval, IPS (retired), as National Security Adviser with effect from May 31, 2019. His appointment will be co-terminus with the term of the Prime Minister or until further orders, whichever is earlier." This means the term of Doval ended on June 5 when Modi demitted office.

Since Doval was assigned the rank of Cabinet minister in the warrant of precedence, he is, so far, deemed to be part of "caretaker" government.

President Droupadi Murmu had on Wednesday empowered the government to continue in the "caretaker" capacity after the PM resigned. Doval, a 1968-batch Kerala cadre IPS officer, is now 79 years old

Ex-DIG gets 7-year jail for '93 fake encounter

MOHALI, JUNE 7

A CBI court today sentenced former Punjab Police DIG Dilbagh Singh to seven-year rigorous imprisonment and ex-DSP Gurbachan Singh to life imprisonment for killing a vegetable vendor in a fake encounter in 1993, officials said.

A fine of Rs 50,000 was imposed on Dilbagh Singh and Rs 2 lakh on Gurbachan Singh. The CBI had filed a chargesheet against then Tarn Taran DSP Dilbagh Singh, then Inspector Gurbachan Singh and ASIs Arjun Singh, Davinder Singh and Balbir Singh, but the three ASIs died during the pendency of the trial.

The officials said the CBI had registered the case on the complaint of victim's father Chaman Lal. He had alleged that on June 22, 1993, he along with his sons Parveen

Curfew back in Manipur after unrest over murder

IMPHAL, JUNE 7

The Manipur Government has imposed curfew in Jiribam district for an indefinite period following protests over the killing of a 59-year-old man by suspected militants, an official said on Friday.

The prohibitory orders were clamped on Thursday night after locals set a few abandoned structures on fire after the recovery of the body of Soibam Saratkumar Singh. The situation remained tense but calm on Friday morning after locals demonstrated over the killing of the man.

"There is likelihood of widespread disturbance to peace and public tranquillity or riot or an affray... because of unlawful activities of anti-social elements," the official said, citing the orders issued

CM gives HAPPY cards to poor families

Allows free travel up to 1,000 km in govt buses, facilitates digital payments

KARNAL, JUNE 7
Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini today handed over HAPPY cards issued under the Haryana Antyodaya Parivar Parivahana Yojana of the Haryana Department of Transport to beneficiaries at a state-level function organised at Dr Mangal Sen Auditorium in Karnal city this evening. A HAPPY card — National Common Mobility Card (NCMC) — provides a facility of free travel up to 1,000 km every year to poor families in government buses.

Similar events were held simultaneously across the state where state ministers, MLAs, government officials, beneficiaries and senior officials of AU Small Finance Bank participated. An NCMC card enables seamless travel in public transport, making commuting more affordable and convenient for the beneficiaries. Additionally, the card can also be used for various digital payments, thus promoting financial inclusion among the Antyodaya families. “The NCMC cards have been given to the members of the families with annual income of less than Rs 1 lakh to provide the benefits of free travel up to 1,000 km in government buses. A total of 24 lakh fami-

CONG MAKES FALSE PROMISES: SAINI

The Chief Minister accused the Congress of misleading people with false promises. Saini referred to the statements of Congress leaders about giving ₹ 8,500 per month to every woman. He said that the opposition party misled people by promising them such huge amounts. However, after the Lok Sabha election results were announced on June 4, people approached the Congress leaders to fulfil the promise but realised that the leaders had lied to them. They deceived the public and secured votes through false promises, alleged Saini.

A FIRST IN THE COUNTRY: CHAUTALA

Power Minister Ranjit Singh Chautala on Friday resumed his ministerial duties after his defeat in the Haryana Lok Sabha elections. lies and 84 lakh beneficiaries across the state are eligible for the scheme,” said Saini while addressing the beneficiaries. He added, “This initiative will transform the lives of the beneficiaries by offering them the much-needed mobility support. It has been designed to improve the quality of life of Antyodaya families.”

So far, more than 1.11 lakh beneficiaries have availed of the scheme. The Chief Minister said that Narendra Modi was elected as the leader of the NDA for the third consecutive time today and under his leadership, the Haryana Government had been working to deliver the direct benefits of different schemes to the beneficiaries.

Saini said, “By implementing schemes like ‘Nal se Jal’ and ‘Ujjwala’, the Prime Minister has resolved the issues of every housewife. Through the Ayushman Bharat scheme, the government is providing free medical treatment of up to Rs 5 lakh.” He added that former Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar had increased the income limit for the Ayushman Bharat scheme from Rs 1.20 lakh to Rs 1.80 lakh and launched the Chirayu Haryana scheme. The state government was also providing the highest old-age pension of Rs 3,000 per beneficiary, he claimed.

Saini govt begins rolling out populist measures

PRADEEP SHARMA
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 7
After its below par performance in the recently-concluded Lok Sabha elections, the BJP government has turned to populist mode in a bid to woo voters and stave off anti-incumbency in the Assembly elections due in October.

The ball was set rolling with Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini handing over National Common Mobility Cards (NCMCs) to poor families in Karnal under the Haryana Antyodaya Parivar Parivahana Yojana (HAPPY) to provide free travel facility in Haryana Roadways buses. Over 84 lakh beneficiaries from 24 lakh families are to be covered under the scheme in the coming weeks.

Sources said besides the NCMCs, the Nayab Singh Saini Government was set to announce more incentives for the voters to counter anti-incumbency in the October Assembly polls.

In fact, some of these issues were discussed at the BJP Legislature Party meeting held here recently. These included tweaking the e-tendering process to mollify the elected representatives, especially sarpanches, who

WHAT IS IN THE OFFING

- 84 lakh beneficiaries to be covered under free travel scheme
- Tweaking of e-tendering process to mollify elected representatives
- Grievance redressal system for family ID, property ID schemes
- Special campaign to monitor implementation of central and state schemes
- Ongoing government recruitment drives to be speeded up in the next three months opposed the BJP in the recent parliamentary polls.

Besides, the grievance redressal system for the Parivar Pehchan Patra (PPP) or the family ID scheme and the property ID scheme are to be streamlined so that the anger among the voters against the BJP, especially rural voters, could be controlled before the Assembly polls.

Meanwhile, the ongoing recruitment process for government jobs, which was stalled due to the enforcement of the model code of conduct, would be speeded up so that maximum youths could be recruited in the coming three months. It may be recalled that the issue of rampant unemployment was exploited by the Congress to its advantage in the recent Lok Sabha polls, which resulted in the party getting five seats.

A state government functionary said a special campaign to monitor the implementation of the Central and state schemes for the targeted beneficiaries would be launched soon. “Proper monitoring of these schemes, which was not done due to the enforcement of the model code of conduct for the Lok Sabha polls, will stand the party in good stead in the forthcoming Assembly elections,” he said. While the BJP government is going whole hog to provide more sops to different sections of the society, party leaders claimed it was “routine administrative work.”

“The BJP government has worked with the motto of ‘sab ka saath, sab ka vikas’ for nearly 10 years. It is merely a coincidence that certain incentives are being provided to the underprivileged sections of society just before the elections. There is nothing populist in these new sops,” asserted Varinder Garg, joint treasurer of the Haryana BJP

HCS officer reinstated

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 7
The state government today reinstated HCS officer Braham Prakash with immediate effect “without prejudice to any proceedings pending against him”.

In a separate order, the 2019 HCS officer was given the posting of SDO, Kaithal. Braham Prakash was the Assistant Returning Officer, Kaithal, for Kurukshetra during elections. An AAP leader had applied for permission for two events of candidate Sushil Gupta but was denied. — TNS

2 JJP MLAs support BJP, upset Oppn applecart

BJP will require 44 MLAs for majority while it already has the support of 45 MLAs in case a floor test happens

GEETANJALI GAYATRI
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 7
It is an open war in the Jan-nayak Janta Party (JJP) with two of its MLAs coming out openly in support of the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and affirming their loyalty to Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini as also to his government.

The two JJP MLAs, Jogi Ram Sihag and Ram Niwas Surjakhera, who had called on Saini earlier this week, pledged their support to his government that at present has 41 MLAs. “We have offered to stand with the BJP given development work the government has carried out in my constituency. There is no question of going back on this support. We are with the BJP,” said Surjakhera. “No party whip can stop me from extending support to the BJP,” he while speaking with The Tribune.

The JJP has already complained against these two MLAs to the Haryana Vidhan Sabha Speaker, Gian Chand Gupta, about anti-party activ-

LEGAL VIEW ON SPEAKER'S AUTHORITY

■ The Speaker cannot be directed to expedite proceedings against an MLA. The role of the Speaker is integral to the legislative process, and the authority vested in this position by the Constitution includes significant discretionary power. Experts believe judicial interference in this context will violate the principle of separation of powers, which is fundamental to the Indian Constitution.

■ Several Supreme Court rulings have reinforced the autonomy of the Speaker in legislative matters. In the case of ‘Kihoto Hollohan versus Zachillhu’, the Supreme Court held that while the Speaker’s decisions under the Tenth Schedule (anti-defection law) are subject to judicial review, courts should not intervene unless the decision is mala fide or unconstitutional.

■ In Rajendra Singh Rana versus Swami Prasad Maurya, the Supreme Court acknowledged the quasi-judicial role of the Speaker in matters of disqualification under the anti-defection law. However, it maintained that the Speaker’s discretion in these proceedings should be free from judicial directives.

NO PARTY WHIP CAN STOP ME

“We have offered to stand with the BJP given the development work carried out in my constituency. No party whip can stop me from extending support to the BJP.”

ities during the elections and demanded their expulsion.

The Saini government now has the support of 45 MLAs in the 88-member House. Saini was sworn in as MLA yesterday after he won the Karnal byelection. In the House, the BJP now has 41 MLAs of its own. It also has the support of one Independent MLA, Nayan Pal Rawat, and one MLA of the Haryana Lokhit Party, Gopal Kanda, and the two JJP MLAs. The House strength will go down to 87 once the Congress MLA Varun Chaudhry, elected as Lok Sabha MP in the recently-concluded election, resigns from his Assembly seat. He has to do so within 15 days of being elected, according to the rules.

This means that the BJP will require 44 MLAs for a majority while it already has the support of 45 MLAs.

Also, the Congress which had a strength of 30 MLAs in the House will be down to 29 with Chaudhry’s exit.

With Chaudhry on his way out and two JJP MLAs offering support to the BJP, the numbers in the Opposition camp will not only be reduced but will also become less than those in the ruling party.

In addition to its 29 MLAs (after Chaudhry’s resignation), the Congress has the support of three Independent MLAs while the JJP has offered support to the Congress. Eight of the 10 JJP MLAs, some of who could ‘rebel’ against the party in case of a trust vote; one INLD MLA and one other Independent MLA, presently constitute the Opposition, along with the Congress.

This takes the number in the Opposition camp to 42 which is less than the number of MLAs with the government at this point in time.

Sources said an assured BJP is contemplating a floor test in the monsoon session of the Haryana Vidhan Sabha to prove its majority.

While it has the required numbers needed for a majority, it will take a call on whether it would take the support of the two JJP MLAs in the floor test or ask them to resign. In the case of their resignation, the number of MLAs required to prove a majority will come down to 43, a strength the BJP already has on its own. This will also avoid attracting the provisions of the anti-defection law.

However, even in case defection proceedings are initiated against the two MLAs, it is unlikely that a decision will come within the next four months since the Speaker has to decide the matter after hearing all the parties.

The Assembly elections are due in Haryana in October this year and these proceedings will end once the term of the House comes to an end. However, sources said there was more likelihood of their resigning from the House.

In the 90-member Vidhan Sabha, two members—Manohar Lal Khattar after he was replaced as CM and named the BJP’s Karnal candidate, and Independent MLA Ranjit Singh who joined the BJP and was fielded by the party from Hisar after the Lok Sabha poll was announced—resigned as MLAs. Congress MLA Varun Chaudhry is expected to step down as MLA within a fortnight of the declaration of his result. Independent MLA Rakesh Daultabad died following a heart attack. However, Saini has been inducted into the House as an MLA.

3 Lal dynasties losing sheen in strongholds

DEEPENDER DESWAL
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

HISAR, JUNE 7
The Lok Sabha poll results have given a blow to the political dynasties of three Lals of Haryana politics — Devi Lal, Bhajan Lal and Bansil Lal. Haryana had seen the dominance of the three Lals since 1960s. The rivalry of the three Lals, who had served as Chief Ministers in Haryana, started when the state was carved out of Punjab in 1966.

All four members of the Devi Lal family, who had fought the recent Lok Sabha elections from the Hisar and Kurukshetra seats from different parties, faced defeat. Former Deputy Prime Minister Devi Lal’s son Ranjit Singh, who was the BJP candidate from the Hisar Lok Sabha seat, put up the best performance among the Chautala clans. He was runner-up with 5,07,043 votes as he lost to Congress’ Jai Prakash. Two other candidates — Chautala family bahu Naina Chautala of the JJP and Sunaina Chautala of the INLD — polled just 22,303 and 22,032 votes, respectively. Another Chautala clan member — Abhay Singh Chautala of the INLD — came third from the Kurukshetra seat. He polled 78,708 votes. Except for Ranjit Chautala, all other three Chautalas lost their security deposits.

Sunaina Chautala, talking to The Tribune, claimed that the INLD was the real inheritor of Devi Lal’s legacy. She said that different issues had dominated the narratives in the Lok Sabha poll.

“During campaign, I came across people who requested me to give one chance to them to vote the BJP-led NDA government out of power and they chose the INDIA bloc as an alternative. But it will be altogether a different scenario in the Assembly poll,” she added.

On the other hand, the family of Bhajan Lal (his grandson Bhavya Bishnoi is the BJP MLA from Adampur), failed to ensure a lead to BJP candidate Ranjit Singh from the Adampur segment, which is called the ‘pocket borough’ of the Bishnoi family and is part of the Hisar Lok Sabha constituency. The BJP candidate trailed by 6,384 votes in Adampur, which was a setback to the party. Significantly, Congress candidate Jai Prakash had lost the Adampur Assembly byelection to BJP’s Bhavya Bishnoi by about 18,000 votes in 2022.

Bishnoi told The Tribune that the people of Adampur still stood by them. “Even in 2019, Bhavya, who was the Congress candidate at that time — had trailed by about 23,000 votes from Adampur. But we bounced back in the Assembly poll the same year and I won by 29,000 votes,” he argued. He added that Bhajan Lal’s supporters were intact though they voted differently due to various reasons this time.

Similarly, Congress candidate Rao Dan Singh trailed in Bansil Lal’s traditional stronghold Tosham, which is represented by his daughter-in-law Kiran Choudhary, a sitting MLA from the constituency in the Bhiwani Mahendragah Lok Sabha segment. Dan Singh was trailed by 8,063 votes to BJP’s Dharambir Singh. Kiran, however, blamed it on the Congress candidate for the poor showing in Tosham.

In a first, liquor vend allottees in Y'nagar told to submit I-T returns

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

YAMUNANAGAR, JUNE 7 For the first time, the Haryana Government has made it mandatory for the allottees of liquor vends to submit income tax return (ITR) documents of the past three assessment years before starting operations.

Besides, the vend allottees will have to submit the documents of their net worth of minimum Rs 60 lakh duly certified by a chartered accountant registered with the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI).

This is being considered a major amendment to the excise policy as these will ensure that the contractors will not be able to take liquor vends in the name of their employees or other persons.

The auction of liquor zones (a group of vends) is going on in Haryana these days. According to information, a hooch tragedy took place in Yamunanagar

BIG AMENDMENTS TO EXCISE POLICY

- An allottee will have to submit the documents of his net worth of minimum ₹60 lakh.
- Contractors will not be able to take liquor vends in the name of their employees or other persons.

SUBMIT DOCUMENTS TO START OPERATION

“These two amendments have been made to the excise policy for the first time. Therefore, no allottee shall be allowed to operate liquor vends in his zone, unless he submits the required documents to the Excise Department.”

Krishan Kumar, Deputy Excise and Taxation Commissioner, Yamunanagar

and Ambala districts in November 2023, claiming 18 lives in Yamunanagar district and two in Ambala district.

The victims had allegedly consumed spurious liquor which was bought from a retail liquor shop in Yamunanagar district and the said liquor shop was in the name of an employee of a liquor contractor.

Sources said contractors in the liquor business took vends in the name of other persons mainly under two circumstances.

“One, if a contractor failed to deposit installments of the licence fee. Second, when a person participated in the tender process but failed to get liquor vends. Under such circumstances, the unsuccessful bidder joins hands with the successful bidders,” said a source.

After these amendments in the excise policy, these practices being adopted for doing liquor business in the past, will now stop.

“These two amendments to the excise policy have been made for the first time. Therefore, no allottee shall be allowed to operate liquor vends in his zone unless he submits the necessary documents to the Excise Department,” said Krishan Kumar, Deputy Excise and Taxation Commissioner, Yamunanagar.

10 Karnal couples issued notices for delay in pregnancy registration

PARVEEN ARORA
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

KARNAL, JUNE 7

In a move to ensure timely registration of pregnancies, the Health Department has issued notices to 10 couples for delaying the registration of their pregnancies. According to the authorities concerned, this initiative is aimed at monitoring each pregnancy to ensure the overall well-being of both mother and unborn child.

As per the rules, it is mandatory to register every pregnancy. The expectant mothers or their family members are required to report the pregnancy to the department within the first trimester. This allows the department to monitor the health of the mother and the fetus as well as track the expectant mother.

The department has sought a reply from the couples to explain within 15 days the reasons behind the delay in the registration of pregnancies. The couples belong to various blocks — two each from the Assandh, Nilokheri and Indri blocks, one from the Karnal block and three from the Nissing block.

26 villages with low sex ratio identified

“Our team members, with the help of ASHA and anganwari workers, keep a vigil across the district to monitor each pregnancy. Our team observed that in the past four months, 10 couples have failed to register their pregnancies on time, which raises questions about their intentions,” said Dr Sheenu Chaudhary, Deputy Civil Surgeon (PNDT and Family Welfare).

She said that early registration was crucial for ensuring proper antenatal care for expectant mothers, as it contributed to reducing the maternal and neonatal mortality rates.

In addition, the department had identified 33 villages in April with a low gender ratio. Similarly, 26 villages with low gender ratio have been identified — five under the Kunjpura Community Health Centre (CHC), two under the Gharunda CHC, two under Nilokheri, seven under Assandh, one under Indri, two under Taraori and Ballah each and five under the Nissing CHC. These villages have populations of more than 2,500 and the gender ratio of less than 800. Extensive awareness campaigns are being conducted in these villages.

Kamal Civil Surgeon Dr Krishan Kumar said the district's sex ratio jumped from 908 in 2023 to 950 in the first five months of 2024. “We are hopeful that our efforts will bear fruit in the coming days and that the district will be at the top in the state for sex ratio,” he added.

2 Panipat builders found violating pollution norms

MUKESH TANDON
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

PANIPAT, JUNE 7

Following the directions of the National Green Tribunal (NGT), a joint committee headed by the Additional DC found severe violation of environmental norms by two builders, Ansal Properties and Infrastructure and TDI Infotech Limited. The Haryana State Pollution Control Board (HSPCB) imposed an Environmental Compensation (EC) of Rs 1.79 crore on Ansal Properties and Infrastructure, while proposing a fine of Rs 5.47 crore EC on TDI Infotech Limited.

A Delhi-based environmentalist Varun Gulati had filed a complaint against these two builder companies to the NGT for violation of pollution norms by them.

Gulati alleged in his complaint that the builders developed their projects but did not arrange for proper sewage treatment plants. The untreated sewage was being discharged in green belts or in drain number-2 by using tractor-tankers which is detrimental to the environment as well as to people's health, he had said.

Following the complaint, the NGT constituted a joint committee comprising the Member Secretary, HSPCB; DC, Panipat; and representative of the Member Secretary, Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) in February and sought factual reports.

ADC Pankaj Yadav along with Suneel Dave, Director CPCB; Bhupinder Singh, Regional Officer, HSPCB and Kuldeep Singh, Assistant Environment Engineer visited the sites on April 12 and April 19 and found several anomalies.

The joint team in its report to the NGT said both builders had not obtained a valid Consent To Operate (CTO) from the HSPCB so far.

Ansal has installed two Sewage Treatment Plants (STPs) of capacity 25 KLD for phase 1 and 2 which are insufficient to discharge sewage from the township. Ansal has been discharging effluents into HSVP sewer illegally for the last five years. Apart from the EC, HSPCB issued a show-cause notice to it on April 22 after finding violations. An EC of Rs 5.47 crore was also recommended on April 27.

Two die while cleaning tank

KAITHAL, JUNE 7

Two persons died of asphyxiation allegedly while cleaning a tank in an oil mill at Pundri in Kaithal district on Friday. The deceased were identified as Pawan Saini (32) of Pundri and Jaswant (42) of Barsana here.

The incident took place around 9.30 am when both entered the oil tank to clean it. Jaswant died of suffocation on the spot while Pawan was taken to a hospital, where he was declared dead, said SHO Sub-Inspector Raj Kumar.

Meanwhile, Pawan's family members alleged that experts initially called to clean the tank had refused to do so due to the presence of dangerous gas in it. Sushil, a family member of Pawan, said he and Jaswant also refused to enter the tank after the experts declined to do so. “We demand the arrest of the mill owners. We will not lift the bodies until they are arrested,” he said.

The SHO assured aggrieved family members that justice would be done to them.

He further said the had police registered a case against the mill owners, Rajnish and Sandeep, under Section 304 of the IPC.—TNS

HC quashes FIR against Elvish

SAURABH MALIK
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 7

Violent content on social media platforms may attract large audiences and appear “cool” or entertaining, but it often perpetuates harmful narratives and glorifies hero culture, leading to negative societal consequences, the Punjab and Haryana High Court has asserted while calling for sensitising “social media influencers” to exhibit socially-responsible behaviour.

Justice Anoop Chitkara of the High Court instructed “social influencer” Elvish Yadav and his accomplices to refrain from depicting or promoting violence and substance abuse in their social media posts or content.

The assertion came as Justice Chitkara quashed, on the basis of a compromise, an FIR and all subsequent proceedings against Yadav and other petitioners, while levying a stringent condition against endorsing violence.

“To ensure that similar violent acts are not repeated in the future that impressionable followers do not get influenced by the misdeed exhibited by the accused persons and that the accused are not under the mistaken belief that such instances are taken lightly by the legal system, the court proposes to quash the FIR in question but with the imposition of a condition,” Justice Chitkara stated.

The Bench also made it

Orders him to stop depicting violence

DETRIMENTAL IMPACT ON SOCIETY

- The judgment is significant as it comes as a stern reminder to the media entities and social influencers to exercise caution and responsibility in the portrayal of violence while emphasising its detrimental impact on societal perceptions and behaviour.
- The FIR in the matter was registered at the Sector 53 police station in Gurugram on March 8. It was alleged that Elvish Yadav and his accomplices met another social influencer and content creator Sagar Thakur in an inebriated condition and started beating him up and hurling abuses.

clear that the state of Haryana might seek the orders’ recalling and the FIR’s restoration if they still depicted or promoted violence and substance abuse. The judgment is significant as it comes as a stern reminder to the media entities and social influencers to exercise caution and responsibility in the portrayal of violence while emphasising its detrimental impact on societal perceptions and behaviour.

The observations aim at fostering a more conscientious approach to content creation by urging media figures to act as positive role models for their impressionable followers.

The FIR in the matter was registered at Sector 53 police station in Gurugram on March 8. It was alleged that Yadav and his accomplices met another social influencer and content creator Sagar Thakur in an inebriated condition and started beating him up and hurling abuses.

Justice Chitkara stated that Thakur made a statement before a judicial magistrate that the matter stood settled. But the court could not lose sight of ‘influence’ the social media influencers and content creators were having on the malleable minds of the youth across the country. Justice Chitkara asserted violent content often “served to further a narrative or garner viewership and associated popularity, influencing societal perceptions detrimentally, illustrating a story, and promoting hero culture”. Such “actual use of violence” in a society could not be accepted and was required to be condemned.

Media influencers with a considerable audience were required to be sensitised about the message they imparted to their susceptible followers through their actions and to exhibit socially responsible behaviour,” Justice Chitkara concluded.

Regarding Amendment in approved layout plan of Industrial Colony namely Gilco Industrial Park at Village Manakpur Kallar, Distt. SAS Nagar, Punjab, being developed by M/s Gilco Developers & Builders Pvt. Ltd. (License No. 28/2018)

Competent Authority-cum-Chief Administrator, GMADA has released the layout plan bearing drawing no. GIC/DC/LP/4.1.18 dated 04.01.2018 of Industrial Colony namely Gilco Industrial Park situated at village Manakpur Kallar, Distt. SAS Nagar, Punjab. Now the promoter company has requested the office of Competent Authority, GMADA, SAS Nagar for approval of Revised Layout Plan which was discussed and approved in the 13th meeting of Layout Plan Approval Committee under the chairmanship of Chief Administrator, GMADA held on 20.11.2023. The promoter has incorporated following amendments in the previous approved layout plan of the project:-

- Promoter Company has acquired Revenue Rasta falling in the project, due to which the area of the project has increased from 25 acres to 25.2375 acres.
 - Area measuring 220'x80' which was earlier kept as Reserved area-6 falling between SCO No. 5 and 17, has now been planned as SCOs bearing nos. 6 to 16.
 - Solid Waste Management site has been proposed above the site for Sewerage Treatment Plant (831.68 Sq.yds.) and Sewerage Treatment Plant has now been proposed as Underground Sewerage Treatment Plant.
 - Reserved area measuring 2000 Sq. Yds. falling between plot no. 40 and 42 has now been planned as industrial plots bearing nos. 41 to 46.
 - Area of Green-1 has been changed from 94'x100' to 94'x150'.
- Because the promoter has incorporated certain amendments in the earlier approved layout plan of the colony, therefore before approval of the revised layout plan, the interested persons in this colony may be informed about these amendments and asked to file their suggestions/objections, if any in this regard. In the light of above, the public notice is hereby published for inviting suggestions/objections from the persons interested in this project.
- The New Revised layout plan has been uploaded on GMADA website www.gmada.gov.in for inspection of the public. Those desirous may submit their suggestions/objections in writing within 15 days from the date of publication of this notice to the office of the undersigned, failing which Revised plan will be released to the promoter.

Darcha-Shinkula-Padum road thrown open for two-way traffic

DIPENDER MANTA
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

MANDI, JUNE 7
In a significant development for the tourism industry in the remote Lahaul valley of Himachal and Zaskar Valley of Union Territory Ladakh, the BRO has successfully restored the vital Darcha-Shinkula-Padum road for two-way traffic for movement of all kinds of vehicles. This lifeline, once again open for all kinds of vehicles, promises to rejuvenate economic activities and revive tourism in the region. This road was restored by the BRO for one-way traffic on April 4. It was blocked in February due to heavy snowfall in the area. Yesterday, Deputy Commissioner Lahaul and Spiti Rahul Kumar formally announced the reopening of this road for all kinds of vehicles for two-way traffic. The DC stated that travellers are advised to follow the advisory of the district administration strictly and traffic movement will depend on weather conditions in the region.

The Darcha-Shinkula-Padum road holds immense strategic importance as it connects the Lahaul and Spiti district of Himachal Pradesh with the picturesque Zaskar Valley, nestled amidst the towering peaks of the Himalayas in the union territory of Ladakh. However, harsh winters, heavy snowfall and treacherous terrain often render the road inaccessible, isolating the Zaskar valley from the rest of the world for months. The efforts of the BRO, known for its expertise in constructing and maintaining roads in challenging terrains, have paid off with the successful restoration of this crucial artery. The reopening of the road to all kinds of vehicles signifies a significant milestone in the region's development and connectivity. Tourism is the lifeline of Zaskar Valley, attracting adventurers, trekkers, and nature enthusiasts from across the globe. The valley's rich cultural heritage, stunning landscapes and opportunities for trekking and mountaineering make it a much sought-after destination for intrepid travellers. However, lack of road access during winter has hindered the growth of the tourism industry in the valley. With the Darcha-Shinkula-Padum road now accessible, tourism stakeholders are optimistic about resurgence in visitor numbers. Local tour operators, guesthouses and homestays are gearing up to welcome guests and showcase the valley's pristine beauty and unique cultural experiences.

The restoration of the road also brings relief to the residents of Zaskar Valley, who depend on it for essential supplies and access to healthcare and education facilities from Lahaul side. Improved connectivity means easier access to markets and opportunities for socio-economic development in the region. Moreover, the reopening of the Darcha-Shinkula-Padum road aligns with the government's vision to promote tourism in Ladakh and harness its immense potential for sustainable development. The valley's untouched natural beauty and distinct cultural identity make it a jewel in Ladakh's tourism crown and the restored road paves the way for its exploration and appreciation by travellers from around the world.

Win in bypolls shows people firmly with Cong: Pratibha

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

SHIMLA, JUNE 7
State Congress president Pratibha Singh today said that the Congress winning four out of six Assembly by-elections show that the people of the state were standing firmly with the Congress despite the BJP winning all four Lok Sabha seats. She also said that the BJP shouldn't rejoice over winning all four seats as the people have rejected its goal of winning 400 seats. She also ridiculed Leader of Opposition Jai Ram Thakur for asking Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu to step down on account of losing all four Lok Sabha seats, saying that the BJP had also lost four by-elections when Thakur was Chief Minister. "So, why Jai Ram Thakur did not resign then? The lessons on morality do not sound good coming from the BJP," she said. Pratibha Singh called upon the party workers to not get disappointed by the defeat in the Lok Sabha elections and should start working to win the three Assembly by-polls that are due within six months now. "Workers are the backbone of the party and they have to go to the people with full enthusiasm, popular policies and decisions of public interest," she said.

Apple freight charges to be decided on kg/km basis: Negi

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

SHIMLA, JUNE 7
With apple harvesting season round the corner, Horticulture Minister Jagat Singh Negi today said freight charges for transportation of apple will be fixed on kilogram and kilometre basis. As of now, the freight is charged on per box basis. The fruit growers have been demanding fixing of the freight on kilogram and per kilometre basis, especially after the introduction of universal cartons from this year. "It's announced every year but the transporters charge freight on the basis of the boxes. Now that apple will be transported in universal cartons, which will have around 20 kg apple, the freight should be charged on the basis of weight, Horticulture Minister Jagat Singh Negi presides over a meeting regarding apple season preparedness with stakeholders in Shimla.

not the number of boxes otherwise the growers will sustain losses," said Lokender Bisht, president of the Progressive Growers Association (PGA). He further said the minister and administration should hold a meeting with transporters to ensure they charge the freight on the per kg and km basis. In the meeting to review the preparedness for the apple season, Negi also gave directions to Shimla district administration to ensure availability of trucks and pickup vehicles for the transportation of fruit boxes.

'Deeply disturbed', Kangana's family demands justice

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

MANDI, JUNE 7
Deeply disturbed over the alleged slapping of Mandi Member of Parliament-elect Kangana Ranaut by a CISF constable at Chandigarh airport on Thursday, the family of the actress has demanded justice. According to eyewitnesses, CISF constable allegedly assaulted Kangana Ranaut at the airport during security check, when she was on her way to Delhi. Talking to The Tribune, Amardeep Singh Ranaut, father of Kangana, said, "We are deeply disturbed by the incident involving Kangana at Chandigarh airport. No one, regardless of their status, should be subject to such treatment. We demand a thorough investigation and strict action against the constable responsible for this act of violence." "It was a shocking incident, in which a security officer deputed for ensuring public safety assaulted my daughter at airport. The authorities concerned should take prompt action to curb such incidents in future," he said.

Her sister Rangoli took to social media to demand justice. In a series of tweets, she condemned the action of the CISF constable and called for strict action against her. The actress's family has also raised questions about the security protocol at airports and called for measures to ensure the safety and dignity of passengers, especially public figures.

‘Will wait & watch’: Ladakh MP-elect on supporting any alliance at Centre

Hanifa says he'll talk to all stakeholders before taking decision, denies NC offer to rejoin party

ARJUN SHARMA

JAMMU, JUNE 7
Ladakh MP-elect Haji Hanifa Jan, who won with a margin of nearly 28,000 votes in the recently concluded General Election, is adopting a “wait-and-watch” approach on extending support to any alliance at the Centre.

He said he would make efforts to initiate talks regarding the Sixth Schedule status and statehood for Ladakh after the formation of government at the Centre. Jan, who is an NC rebel, had resigned from his party along with entire party unit of Kargil before elections and had contested as an independent on the issue of Sixth Schedule status and statehood for Ladakh.

He had received 65,259 of the 1.35 lakh votes polled in Ladakh. There was a resentment against the BJP in the

WILL SEEK SIXTH SCHEDULE STATUS

“We will approach the Central Government to initiate talks on the Sixth Schedule status for Ladakh. In case there is no positive response, we will restart the agitation and I will also raise the issue in Parliament.”

Union Territory. Its candidate Tashi Gyalson received only 31,956 votes and stood third after Congress’ Tsering Namgyal, who bagged 37,397 votes.

Talking to The Tribune, Jan said he had so far not taken a decision to support any alliance at the Centre and would take a call after discussions with all stakeholders. “As our major issues are the Sixth Schedule status and statehood, we will first consult all leaders of Ladakh and only then take a decision on supporting any alliance,” he said. While NC vice-president Omar Abdullah had congratulated Jan on his victory, the latter denied that any offer had been made to him to rejoin the party. “No NC leader has so far approached me. We need safeguards for the region under the Sixth Schedule, which was the major issue during the poll and I will continue my struggle to get these for the people of Ladakh,” he said.

Residents of the UT had suspended their agitation ahead of the LS poll but are now waiting for the new government to be formed so that talks on the issue can be initiated.

“We will approach the Central Government to initiate talks on various issues with the people of the UT. I hope that the government will understand the aspirations of people. However, if there is no positive response, we will restart the agitation and I will also raise the issue in the Parliament,” the MP-elect said.

In a recent statement, NC vice-chief Omar Abdullah had said: “A few months ago, you (Jan) tasted defeat in the hill council elections & now you will represent Ladakh, especially the marginalised people of Kargil in the Lok Sabha. Your victory cost the NC its Kargil unit but it was well worth the price.”

NC: Decline in BJP vote share signals political shift in Jammu

OUR CORRESPONDENT

JAMMU, JUNE 7
NC’s Jammu provincial president Rattan Lal Gupta on Friday said the decline in BJP’s vote share in the recently concluded Lok Sabha elections in Jammu signalled a “major” shift in the region’s political landscape. The saffron party had not contested the election from the three seats in Kashmir valley.

In the 2019 poll, the BJP had polled 61.38 per cent votes in Udhampur, which fell down to 51.28 per cent in 2024. Similarly, in Jammu, the saffron party had bagged 58.02 per cent votes in 2019, which also reduced to 53.46 per cent votes in 2024. While BJP’s Jugal Kishore Sharma and Jitendra Singh won for the third consecutive time from Jammu and Udhampur, respectively, the winning margin and vote share saw a decline for the BJP.

Gupta claimed that the

JUDICIAL INQUIRY SOUGHT INTO ‘CUSTODIAL DEATH’

- The NC on Friday sought an “impartial” judicial inquiry into an incident involving the alleged custodial death of a Pulwama resident.
- “It must be ensured that the perpetrators are brought to justice and made to face the full force of law,” party spokesperson Ifra Jan said.
- On Tuesday, the police had said Imtiaz Ahmed Pala of Lidermund was arrested in a drug case. Later, he developed health complications and was sent to a hospital, where he was declared dead.
- Pala’s family, however, has alleged that he died because he was tortured in custody. He was not a smuggler, the family claimed.

“sharp decline” in the BJP’s vote share was a clear indicator of the changing public sentiment and dissatisfaction with the BJP’s governance. “This significant fall in vote share should serve as a wake-up call for BJP. It is evident that the people of Jammu are seeking change and are increasingly supporting the National Conference as it is the only party that can fulfil their needs and aspirations,” Gupta said.

He asked National Conference workers to exhibit the same spirit which had ensured NC’s decisive victory in Anantnag and Srinagar Lok Sabha seats.

Gupta said: “The National Conference’s legacy of service and dedication towards people will guide the party to triumph. The support we have garnered across the region reflects the trust and faith that people have in us.”

He added that the party had always stood for the rights and aspirations of people. Gupta also outlined the party’s key priorities, including job creation, healthcare, education, infrastructure development for industries and other sectors, to control inflation and ensure minimum support price (MSP) for farmers.

Modi bows to consensus was bound to court India more keenly and this would vastly benefit the state governments.

Speaking after key allies, TDP’s N Chandrababu Naidu and JD(U)’s Nitish Kumar who flagged regional aspirations at the NDA parliamentary party meeting, Modi signalled a commitment to consensus.

“Governments are run by majority (bahumat), but nations by consensus (sarvamat),” he said, adding: “Regional aspirations and national interests should be so closely interwoven that even air does not pass through them.”

Going forward, Modi promised five years of “big decisions” coming down heavily on INDIA bloc for “hatching a conspiracy to defame Indian democracy globally by sowing seeds of doubt in people’s minds about EVMs and the election process”.

“But the EVMs silenced them (opposition) on result day,” he said, adding: “We will again hear of EVMs in 2029.”

Importantly, the PM at one point in Parliament said, “In the last 10 years we bridged the gap between the people and the government. In the next 10 years, good governance, development and raising the quality of life of our people will be our priorities.”

The remark, where Modi indicated his active political presence in India for the next decade, drew a thunderous applause from the NDA MPs.

The PM further delineated his approach saying making India the leader of the upcoming ‘green era’ and the world’s third largest economy would be his top goals and “he will move fast given 10 years of experience behind him”.

Amid talks of potential hurdles he might face negotiating a coalition government, the first in 10 years where allies would be needed for a majority, Modi said the NDA alliance was cohesive and the most successful pre-poll alliance ever.

“The NDA is in power in 22 states, serves seven of India’s 10 tribal-dominated states, serves Goa and the North-East which have a Christian majority,” said Modi, adding that in 30 years, the NDA had completed three full terms and was entering upon its fourth.

Taking jibes at the Congress for failing to touch 100 seats in the Lok Sabha even after 10 years of sitting in the opposition, the PM-designate added: “The BJP has won more seats this time than what the Congress won in 2014, 2019 and 2024. First they were drowning, now they are headed down an abyss. They hatched a conspiracy to defame Indian democracy worldwide. They live in the past century, are anti-modernity, anti-progressivism and anti-technology. They gave speeches on the result eve to incite passions and chaos. But the world will now believe in the NDA’s “maha vijay (massive win) and study it,” said Modi, adding that the “INDI bloc had begun to crumble, like he had predicted because it was cemented by power lust”.

The PM was referring to AAP’s Thursday announcement to go solo in the Delhi Assembly poll after their pact with the Congress caused a rout in Delhi LS elections. “INDI Alliance will sit in the opposition because of their agenda of opposing one man — Narendra Modi,” a confident PM-designate said, advising his colleagues not to speculate on ministerial berths and not to trust anyone even if they got calls that they were being included in the NDA 3.0 Cabinet.

“Those who know Modi know. All my partners here will advise me well and we will make the right decisions,” he chuckled, looking at NDA friends and warning colleagues against “an army of gossip-mongers busy forming the Union Council of Ministers these days.”

Cop slapped Kangana...

Farmer leader and BKKU spokesperson Rakesh Tikait also voiced his support for Kulwinder Kaur. Tikait condemned her suspension, calling it unjust. In a video statement, Tikait expressed solidarity with Kulwinder and her family, urging the newly elected MP to refrain from making provocative statements. Meanwhile, Vinay Kajla, DIG, CISE, Airport (North Sector), reached the airport from New Delhi and reviewed the security protocols as a preventive measure. He also met security personnel and tried to boost their morale.

Talking to The Tribune, he said the suspect apparently slapped the MP in a rush of blood over a past statement of the MP regarding participation of women in the farmers’ protest. “She is apologetic now. Both she and her husband, who is posted here in the dog squad, have faced no punishment in the past 15 years. Her husband told me that she even gave a chocolate to a child a few days ago when she came to click a selfie with her in uniform,” Kajla said. The DIG said the inquiry report would be submitted to the authorities within three days.

by the Office of Jiribam District Magistrate.

The local administration also prohibited “assembly of five persons or more, which is likely to turn unlawful, carrying of firearms, sticks... and movement of any person outside their respective residences within the revenue jurisdiction of the district”.

Singh went missing after he had gone to his farm on Thursday morning and later his body was found with wounds made by a sharp object, a police officer said.

Locals had staged a protest in front of Jiribam police station, demanding that their licensed firearms taken from them in the wake of elections be returned to them after the completion of the polls. The administration appealed to the people to maintain peace in the district.

“Jiribam district is facing a difficult time in terms of law and order, public peace and tranquility”, a notice said, adding that “an appeal is made to all sections of society...to maintain peace and calm and not succumb to any false information”. — PTI in the accident belong to Jalgaon district of Maharashtra and were between 18 and 20 years old. “Indians, young students from polytechnic university, were sober. They just ran into waist-deep water and splashed, laughed and did not go deep. Now it is hot, there is a lot of water, the current is strong. At some point, they were swept away by the current closer to the bridge, right under the “Swimming prohibited” sign,” the chief of Novgorod prosecutor’s office, where the incident took place, told the Russian media.

“We, the locals, all know that

STUDENT WAS ON VIDEO CALL WITH FAMILY

One of the students was on video call with family moments before the incident occurred. In Jalgaon, a family member told media: “When they entered the river, Jishan made a video call to his family. His father were pleading with Jishan and others to come out of the river when a strong wave swept them away.” PTI it is very dangerous to swim near the bridge. There is a strong current, pits, stones and whirlpools. Apparently, they did not know. I didn’t see the moment itself, but those who saw it say that one of them (a girl) began to drown. The rest rushed to save her and everyone was carried away by the current,” she added.

Gulshan and three others were killed in a staged encounter, it said. Gulshan’s body was not handed over to the family and was cremated as “unclaimed”, the complaint said. The case was handed over to the CBI in 1995 on the Supreme Court’s order. After completing the investigation, the CBI on May 7, 1999, registered a case against the police officers.

CBI Public Prosecutor Anmol Narang said the CBI had cited 32 witnesses in the case, but only 15 deposed as many died during the pendency of the trial that was delayed on account of filing of various petitions by the accused. — TNS

Coalition dharma

Challenge for Modi to ensure unanimity

ADDRESSING a meeting of the NDA parliamentary party, which elected him as its leader on Friday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi stated that he would strive to ensure unanimity in all decisions of his government during his third term. The PM has described the NDA as an organic alliance committed to the principle of ‘nation first’, while claiming that this is the ‘strongest’ ruling coalition ever. This is the first time that Modi will be leading a genuine coalition government; the BJP had single-handedly crossed the half-way mark in the 2014 and 2019 Lok Sabha elections, but fell short of the magic figure this time. It now needs the support of allies like N Chandrababu Naidu’s Telugu Desam Party and Nitish Kumar’s Janata Dal (United) to form the government. Both regional satraps are expected to not only extract their pound of flesh but also keep the BJP-led dispensation on its toes.

The PM has said that mutual trust is at the core of the NDA. This trust will be put to the test as the government gets down to brass tacks. Over the past decade, the ruling BJP has steamrollered one Bill after another through Parliament, thanks to compliant allies and a weak Opposition. However, neither the saffron party’s partners nor rivals will be a pushover this time. Buoyed by its electoral success, the Congress-led INDIA will miss no chance to corner the government on the Agnipath scheme, the Uniform Civil Code and other pressing issues.

The all-important question is: Will the lack of a brute majority make PM Modi and the BJP more accommodative of the needs and aspirations of their allies and less dismissive of their political opponents? Atal Bihari Vajpayee, a legendary proponent of coalition dharma, believed in taking everyone along and building consensus. It remains to be seen if Modi can reinvent himself to fill those big shoes.

Child food poverty

Despite strides, nutritional inequity worrisome

A recent Unicef report highlights a grim reality: over 180 million children under five globally live in severe food poverty, an alarming crisis that affects one out of four kids in this age group. This stark statistic underscores the urgent need for concerted efforts to address malnutrition and ensure the wellbeing of future generations. Even as India marches towards rivaling the top economies of the world, the report is a sobering reminder that the country figures among the 20 that account for 65 per cent of the children living in severe food poverty. Unicef’s guidelines emphasise the need for children to consume a diverse diet from at least five out of eight food groups daily. Yet, millions of children worldwide, including 64 million in South Asia, fail to meet this standard, leading to severe nutritional deficiencies and long-term developmental impacts.

However, amidst this dismal scenario, there is a beacon of hope in India as the country has reduced the gap in severe child food poverty between poorer and wealthier households over the past decade by at least five percentage points, highlighting strides made towards nutritional equity. This progress is a testament to the impact of targeted government policies, community-driven initiatives and partnerships aimed at improving access to nutritious food for the most vulnerable children. But India cannot be complacent; a lot remains to be done.

The global food system, criticised for promoting cheap, high-calorie and nutrient-poor foods, exacerbates the crisis. To combat this, governments and international partners must prioritise the reduction of child food poverty, ensuring that nutritious and diverse foods are accessible and affordable. Health systems should deliver essential nutrition services and social protection systems must be responsive to the dietary needs of vulnerable families. Investments in sustainable solutions are vital to ensure that every child, regardless of his or her socio-economic background, has the opportunity to thrive.

The cause celebre

THE most sensational Indian case that has ever come up before an English court has ended exactly as all previous cases of the same general category ended. The Englishman who was a party to the suit has won all along the line and the Indian has gone to the wall. Sir Sankaran Nair, as defendant, has had exactly the experience that Mr Tilak had in an equally famous case as plaintiff. There is really nothing new or surprising in this. Englishmen who try cases as judges or jurors are, after all, ordinary human beings with a full measure of the frailties of their race. In any matter that excites racial or political passion in an unusual degree, it is as difficult for a judge or a juror to keep his mind free from bias as for other men of the same intellectual and moral calibre. In such cases, the judicial training of the judge too often only enables him to find plausible reasons for conclusions arrived at on independent grounds; and the only difference between the judge and the jury is that, not being under any obligation to state their reasons in detail, the latter can afford to do without that self-deception which the former has so frequently to resort to. It was his consciousness of this fact that prevented Mr Parnell from bringing those who accused him of the horrible crime of complicity in the Phoenix Park murders before a court of law. ‘The case,’ as a high authority in daily and hourly touch with Parnell has told us, ‘would naturally have been tried in London,’ and ‘not only the plaintiff’s own character, but the whole movement that he represented would have been submitted to a Middlesex jury, with all the national and political prejudices inevitable in such a body.’

Keep your friends close, enemies closer

Chanakya and Machiavelli will be needed in large doses as the PM negotiates the coming months

JYOTI MALHOTRA
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi has staked claim to becoming Prime Minister again, his third consecutive term, equalling Jawaharlal Nehru’s record; allies Chandrababu Naidu, Nitish Kumar, Eknath Shinde and Chirag Paswan have welcomed him warmly on behalf of a renewed NDA coalition; and in Punjab as well as Jammu & Kashmir, Sarabjeet Singh Khalsa, Amritpal Singh and Engineer Rashid ‘Lan-gate’ have won their seats — the last two are still imprisoned under the NSA and UAPA, respectively.

All three very different messages from this election pot-pourri can only be underlined by a fourth, a post-poll rumour — Sonia Gandhi, it seems, has spoken to both Naidu and Nitish about potential support; speculation is rife in New Delhi that INDIA may be willing to offer the top job to either in case they are willing to switch coalitions.

That is unlikely to happen because INDIA simply doesn’t have the numbers. Modi is surely on his way to becoming PM again. But if the press knows that Sonia is reaching out to the same men who are gifting Modi expensive silk Kanjeevaram shawls within hours of them speaking to her, the intelligence agencies — and therefore, Modi and Amit Shah — know too. The knowledge will keep them alert. Keep your friends close, for sure, but keep your enemies closer — both Chanakya and Machiavelli will be needed in large doses as the thrice-anointed PM negotiates the coming months in power.

Naidu, especially, will hope to moderate Modi’s penchant for polarising rhetoric — the question is whether he and his Stanford-educated son, Nara Lokesh (whose statement “there’s no place for arrogance in the government” has been like a pleasing monsoon shower for many across the land) will be able to withstand the enormous power wielded by Modi and Shah. The Naidus & Others may soon find that the exercise of power cuts both ways: They have already been told that they cannot have one of the four top jobs — in defence, external affairs, finance and home ministries — or even the post of Speaker in Parliament. They may find themselves with no choice but to acquiesce if they want the Centre to release a generous financial package for their beloved Andhra Pradesh, or Bihar, as the case may be for Nitish.

If Naidu believes his priority is to groom his son to take over AP, he may not have much time for twinges of conscience on national issues.

Nor are the Prime Minister and his men — there are unlikely to be many women in the Cabinet, what with both Nirmala Sitharaman and Smriti Irani gone — likely to relinquish their control over the media, notwithstanding Sudhir Chaudhary’s latest finding on Aaj Tak that a large section of India’s Hindus didn’t particularly care for Hindutva, which is why the BJP lost so many seats in this election.

The question is: Will Modi and Naidu quietly agree to carve out their respective spheres of influence — Andhra Pradesh for Naidu and the rest of the (non-BJP-ruled) country for Modi — or will Naidu allow his views on sensitive matters, like religious equality before the Constitution as manifested in the Places of Worship Act of 1991, to inform his pact with the PM? We saw how in recent months, the UP administration swiftly allowed the installation of idols in the Gyanvapi mosque and how the high court quickly fell in line. Will Naidu shut his eyes and turn his gaze away when this matter comes up again and the tension, thick and palpable, returns to the PM’s constituency?

Guess we will know soon enough. If Naidu believes his priority is to groom his son to take over the state, he may not have much time for twinges of conscience on national issues — in fact, the PM may be happy if the TDP leader is consumed with his self-styled Republic of Andhra Pradesh and doesn’t retain much of an attention span for leftover matters the BJP promised to bring to fruition in its manifesto, such as the implementation of the Uniform Civil Code across the country.

It is this potential see-saw for influence at the heart of the NDA coalition that could characterise the coming months and years. Naturally, an emboldened Opposition will attempt to accentuate this tension — equally, the government may be fully prepared for Parliament sessions to be washed out to allow the Opposition to exhaust itself in the sound and fury of debate, discussion and sound bites, while it exercises power outside.

If the PM, intentionally or otherwise, misreads the mandate — it seems likely from his speech at the parliamentary party meeting in Parliament on Friday, when he made fun of the Opposition — he may spend quality time moving the BJP juggernaut along, rather than reaching out across the aisle in the Vajpayee spirit of reconciliation.

A continuing hardline is evident in the fact that the Prime Minister of Pakistan is the only South Asian leader not invited to Modi’s swearing-in party — some might even call it discourtesy. To make such a strong gesture right at the beginning of your new term in power is the equivalent of not just shutting the door to all manner of conversation with your enemy, but closing off your own options — certainly, a short-sighted take for a would-be regional power. Closer home, on the matter of both Amritpal and Engineer Rashid, the quality of mercy is also expected to be severely strained.

Keep your enemy closer, did someone say?

Life lessons from 1966
Mont Blanc crash

RK SABOO

EVERY year, I recall a tragic incident that happened in 1966 when Air India Flight 101 crashed into Mont Blanc in France on January 24. All 117 people on board were killed, including Homi Bhabha, an eminent nuclear physicist from India.

The young son of our friends, Gen Kulwant Singh and Teji, was among those who died in that mishap. A few days before the incident, Gen Kulwant passed away due to a severe heart attack. Their only son, who was studying in London, came to India for the funeral. He was returning to the UK when tragedy struck.

I am fortunate to be alive because I was supposed to be on that flight. I was scheduled to attend a meeting at the Groz-Beckert headquarters in Germany. Mahendra Jhavar, a friend of mine, and I decided to spend two days in Beirut before boarding the Air India flight from there. The day before the flight, on a whim, I called Mahendra and we decided to visit Beirut later. Every member of my family was aware that on the fateful day, I would be travelling on an Air India plane.

Those days, only landline phones and telex facilities were available. Early in the morning on January 24, I received a call from the Groz-Beckert managing director, who told me about the mishap.

My parents and brother in Calcutta heard of the crash on the radio. They were distraught, having no information that I had changed my itinerary. My wife Usha quickly informed them that I was safe. Among my family, friends and business associates, there was an overwhelming sense of relief, joy and thankfulness to God. There were celebrations and prayers. Prasad and donations were handed out to the needy.

Boeing 707 was scheduled to land in Geneva, Switzerland, but it crashed moments before that. According to the investigation, the pilot, believing that he had crossed the ridge leading to the summit and that the plane was at a height that provided adequate clearance over Mont Blanc, continued his descent. There was suspicion of sabotage as Bhabha was aboard the flight, but it was dispelled.

I often ponder whether my life was saved by my good fortune, my parents’ blessings, my friends’ best wishes, my wife’s prayers or just my instinct that made me miss that flight. My two sons, who were three and eight years old at the time, were unaware of what was going on. However, the thought of what might have happened to them in my absence made me tremble.

I realised the fleeting nature of life. I learned a very important lesson from that crash — every day is a gift. Make the most of the ‘here and now’ because that’s all you have.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Quenching Delhi’s thirst

Refer to the editorial ‘Delhi’s water crisis’; the fact that the Supreme Court had to step in and direct the Himachal Pradesh Government to release 137 cusecs of water to help New Delhi tide over the water crisis is a sad commentary on the state of affairs. The failure of leaders to resolve the issue amicably reflects the lack of cooperation, coordination and collaboration among the states. The Upper Yamuna River Board should have played a proactive role in ensuring effective water management and distribution. Besides, the failure of the authorities concerned in the Capital to address water wastage — which is reportedly 50 per cent — caused by leakage and theft points to criminal negligence on their part.

SUBHASH VAID, NEW DELHI

The rise & fall of Nifty, Sensex

Apropos of ‘Rahul for JPC probe into market crash, questions role of PM, HM’; the sharp fluctuations in India’s stock market after the exit poll results necessitate a thorough investigation. Opposition leader Rahul Gandhi’s call for a Joint Parliamentary Committee probe into the matter is welcome. Comments by PM Narendra Modi and other ministers potentially influenced market behaviour. The surge in the NSE Nifty 50 and S&P BSE Sensex ahead of the results, followed by a sharp decline, raises questions about market manipulation and insider trading. Transparency and accountability are imperative for maintaining investor confidence. SEBI must conduct a comprehensive investigation to ensure the integrity of the financial markets.

SAHIBPREET SINGH, MOHALI

INDIA put Modi in his place

With reference to ‘Oppn parties must keep INDIA intact’; the writer has rightly observed that the outcome of the Lok Sabha elections has hit PM Narendra Modi’s sense of invincibility. It is Modi’s reputation as a ‘once-in-a-lifetime’ leader that is at stake. The INDIA bloc has successfully stopped the Modi-Shah juggernaut in its tracks. While the BJP, which is set for a third straight term at the Centre, has not been defeated, there is no denying that the saffron party did suffer a massive setback in this election. The onus of holding the ruling regime accountable remains on the Opposition leaders.

RAMESH GUPTA, NARWANA

Assault on Kangana

With reference to the front-page news report ‘CISF staffer “slaps” Kangana at Chandigarh airport, detained’; the assault on the newly elected MP should be condemned in the strongest terms. The incident should be taken seriously. Security at sensitive places like an airport is not a trivial matter. In this case, a constable entrusted with the role of ensuring security took the law into her own hands because she allegedly had an issue with a remark previously made by the actor on the farmers’ stir. While every citizen living in a democratic country is entitled to dissent, resorting to violence is not acceptable. This was not expected from an official on duty. The CISF constable must receive stringent punishment.

JAGDISH CHANDER, JALANDHAR

Suspension not enough

Apropos of ‘CISF staffer “slaps” Kangana at Chandigarh airport, detained’; it is shocking that Kulwinder Kaur, a CISF constable, allegedly abused and slapped Kangana Ranaut, a high-profile Bollywood actor and the newly elected MP from Mandi, at the Chandigarh airport. If a political leader who is generally accompanied by an entourage of guards can be assaulted by a security official at a public place, one can’t help but shudder to think about the safety of a commoner who expresses a controversial opinion. The mere suspension of the erring constable is not enough. Stringent action should be taken against her.

VIJAYA SHARMA, BY MAIL

Hooliganism in uniform

Refer to ‘CISF staffer “slaps” Kangana at Chandigarh airport, detained’; it is unfortunate that CISF constable Kulwinder Kaur allegedly abused and assaulted Mandi’s MP-elect and actor Kangana Ranaut. The security personnel had no right to attack the actor over her stance on the farmers’ protests. Officials on duty must not let their personal opinions or beliefs dictate their actions. Any person in uniform is duty-bound to follow the requisite protocol while dealing with public representatives and be courteous to the public at large. The authorities can set a strong precedent by ensuring action against the official.

UPENDRA SHARMA, BY MAIL

Govt must be proactive in tackling security challenges

LT GEN KAMAL DAVAR (RETD)
FORMER CHIEF, DEFENCE
INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

A new government is set to take charge under the leadership of PM Narendra Modi, who is beginning his third term as the Prime Minister. Thus, continuity and consistency in major governmental policies can be expected. However, with a coalition at the helm, some transformational decisions may take a back seat. Much serious work awaits the government. Apart from the criticalities that need to be speedily addressed, the emerging security challenges across various domains will also have to be confronted.

That India faces two adversarial nuclear-armed neighbours, China and Pakistan, working both independently and collusively, has to be factored in. India's strategic challenges extend in the west from the Strait of Hormuz, running southwards along the eastern coast of Africa to the Malacca Strait in the east, also spanning the Arabian Sea and the Indian Ocean.

The Indo-Pacific region, increasingly becoming an area of strategic contestation between the US and China, also impacts India as it is one of the major players in this realm.

India has land borders exceeding 15,000 sq km, which it shares with seven nations. India also has a 7,683-km coastline and an exclusive economic zone of over 2 million sq km. Internal security challenges do emerge once in a while in J&K and some of our restive northeastern states, while a fading Naxal/Maoist insurgency still persists. China's continuing belligerence towards India and its unending 'salami-slicing' tactics in the border regions are of major security concern for us. Thus, overall, India has to ensure its territorial and economic sovereignty.

Since Independence, India has witnessed major conflicts in 1947-48, 1962, 1965, 1971 and the Kargil War in 1999, apart from battling many internal security upheavals, including insurgency in the North-East and, countering terrorism emanating from Pakistan. Despite all these kinetic conflagrations, India has not yet promulgated a National Security Doctrine (NSD). Since the past many years, national security has moved far beyond military activities, prosecution of war or managing internal security problems. Today, national security embraces non-military dimensions, including terrorism, economic security, energy security, food security, environmental security and cybersecurity. National security responsibilities span more than the charter of the Ministry of Defence, calling for a "whole-of-government approach". Most powerful nations of the world have enunciated their NSD, which lays down their priorities in a variety of fields. Though the major strategic mission objectives will be military-oriented, the NSD will comprehensively lay down prioritisation in various fields of governance and protection of national interests, apart from synergising the nation's geopolitical, military, diplomatic, financial and technological strengths. Accordingly, the new government must lay emphasis on the formulation of the NSD with alacrity.

Another important defence reform which the newly elected government should bring to fruition is the long-awaited integrated theatre commands (ITCs) edifice for synergising the operational capabilities of the three Services. Notwithstanding the differences over its implementation by the Services, a way has to be found to get "more bang for the buck". The government should institute a committee of serving officers, renowned veterans and civilian experts to suggest the composition, charter and geographical responsibilities of the ITCs.

As is universally known, India holds the dubious record of being the world's largest importer of arms, ammunition and military platforms. Though the Modi government has laid emphasis on indigenisation of military hardware, much still requires to be done to achieve atmanirbharta (self-reliance in production of military equipment). The government must give a major fillip to manufacturing as per our defence requirements, synergising the work of the Defence Research and Development Organisation, public sector ordnance factories and the technologically adept private sector. Foreign manufacturers of repute should also be encouraged to shift some of their production units to India — genuine public-private sector cooperation will be of great assistance to meet Indian defence's burgeoning needs.

The Navy's requirements to ensure the security and independence of our sea lanes need to be met by adequate capital budget funds. Work must commence on the demand for a third aircraft carrier and additional submarine capability.

Simultaneously, the strategic Andaman and Nicobar Command must be strengthened to safeguard India's interests in the Indian Ocean and keep China's misplaced maritime ambitions in check. One area where the government will have to arrange funds is for the Indian Air Force's long-pending requirement of 114 fighters as its present holdings are precariously down to unacceptable levels.

Importantly, the government must oversee the three Services collectively, analysing the lessons from the ongoing Russian-Ukraine war and the Israeli-Hamas conflict. These conflicts have put to rest many traditional concepts which were being practised by many armed forces across the world. Besides the nuances of artificial intelligence and information warfare, the employment of drones, air defence systems, missiles, tanks and infantry combat vehicles need to be looked at afresh.

The government should remember that it takes time to improve defence capabilities, and procrastination in defence matters will only be at the nation's peril. The need to strengthen all the constituents of Comprehensive National Power should be the guiding principles in our march forward to deservedly take a seat at the global high table.

Election results show the political class has let Punjab down

ASHUTOSH KUMAR
PROFESSOR, POLITICAL SCIENCE,
PANJAB UNIVERSITY

THE 2024 parliamentary elections in Punjab were exceptional in many respects. The Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) and the BJP went solo in all 13 seats in the state, necessitated by their break-up in 2020. It was an election to test whether the state would finally respond to the 'national constituency' phenomenon sought to be created by the saffron party across the states in the past decade. It was based on issues like cultural nationalism, national security, the exalted place of the country in the world order, India being the fifth-largest economy, welfare guarantees and Modi's leadership.

This was yet another opportunity for the SAD — the oldest regional party in India and one that has always claimed to represent the Sikh community's political interests — to check the steep slide in its electoral fortunes. And if the slide were to continue, what would be the implications for the Sikh-majority state?

At a time when there has been a large-scale ideological shift to right-wing conservatism, visible in the surge of cultural nationalism in north, central and western India, would Punjab remain immune to it, despite having a sizeable Hindu population? Was there an unmistakable sign of the revival of radicalism in the Sikh community, already indicated by the unexpected win of Simranjit Singh Mann in the 2022 Sangrur bypoll and the Amritpal Singh episode? The election was also seen as a mid-term assessment of the performance of the AAP government, which has a brute majority of 92 in the 117-member House.

The poll was yet another test of the farmers' power in state politics. The question was whether the agrarian distress was going to be an issue that would have a significant electoral impact, especially for the BJP and the Akali Dal.

Going by the verdict, it is obvious that Punjab's 'exceptionalism' continues in many ways. For one, local issues and candidates continued to determine the electoral choices in the state, even though it was a General Election. The Modi factor did not work in Punjab. BJP candidates and state leaders — many among them turncoats — continued to face protests by farmers — a repeat of the 2022 Assembly elections.

Though the party polled an impressive 18.56 per cent of the vote share, it could not win even a single seat. This time, the BJP was the runner-up in Gurdaspur, Ludhiana and Jalandhar, which all have a significant Hindu presence.

As far as the AAP government's dismal performance is concerned, it was evident that the party banked upon its populist schemes to mobilise voters and not on the basis of its record of the fulfilment of its promises of eradicating drugs, corruption and all kinds of mafias, from sand to liquor.

The SAD's decline is bad news for the state, as it creates a vacuum, allowing for the rise of hitherto dormant radical, secessionist forces.

It did not help that the party has been making these promises since it made its debut in the 2014 elections, when it won four seats in Punjab. It also hardly helped the party that some of its top leaders have been in jail or are facing trials/criminal charges. The fact that AAP contested 22 seats in India but could only win three (all in Punjab) is little solace for the party.

The Congress managed to win seven seats with a 26.3 per cent vote share, slightly higher than AAP's 26.02 per cent. It obviously benefited from the plurality voting system. The party's decision to not have an alliance with AAP despite being part of the INDIA coalition did help it, as it got the anti-incumbency votes cast against the AAP government. Rahul Gandhi's frequent visits to the Golden Temple and his nationwide appeal against majoritarianism helped endear the Congress to the Sikh masses.

The steady decline of the Akali Dal, the Panthic party that shaped the politics of the state, continued as it managed to get only 13.42 per cent vote share, down from 27.76 per cent in the 2019 election. The lone win from the Badal family seat of Bathinda is not going to erase the question mark about Sukhbir Badal's leadership. Once a cadre-based ideologically oriented party, the SAD's decline is bad news for the state, as it creates a vacuum, allowing for the rise of hitherto dormant radical, secessionist forces.

The victories of Amritpal Singh and Sarabjeet Singh Khalsa, the independent candidates from the Khadoor Sahib and Faridkot constituencies, respectively, with impressive margins, are a worrying development. Both have been identified with separatism. Their wins are a grim reminder of a segment of the Sikh electorate still harbouring the wounded psyche, a result of decades-old unfulfilled demands and the unfortunate events that occurred in the dark days of militancy. Also, their wins can be attributed to the growing alienation of people — especially the youth, who have been rendered unemployable because of the dismal state of the education sector — from traditional parties.

The exodus of industries and the agrarian crisis mean very few job opportunities for the youth, and hence the large-scale migration of human capital is happening, emptying the villages. There is also growing demographic anxiety as the exodus of the youth coincides with an influx of the Hindu migrant working class.

People in the state are consumed by the fear of ruination of its agriculture-based economy, as the Green Revolution had run its course long ago. The landed peasantry, once dubbed 'rich farmers', are now at the receiving end, as successive governments at the Centre — under the spell of the corporate sector — have focused on the service and manufacturing sectors. Here again, industries have been migrating to neighbouring states. The political class has let Punjab down.

EXCISE & TAXATION DEPARTMENT

NOTICE FOR INVITING APPLICATIONS FOR THE ALLOTMENT OF WHOLESALE LICENSE OF IMFL (L-1) AND COUNTRY LIQUOR (L-13) FOR THE YEAR 2024-25 IN ALL DISTRICTS OF THE STATE.

The applications are hereby invited for grant of wholesale license of IMFL in the form of L-1 and Wholesale license of Country Liqueur in form of L-13 for all districts in the State. The Wholesale license of IMFL (L-1) and Country Liqueur (L-13) shall be granted to the applicant amongst the retail outlet allottees/licensees of Indian Made Foreign Liqueur (L-2) and Country Liqueur (L-14A) respectively. The L-1 and L-13 licenses shall be granted on the basis of quota contribution of Indian Made Foreign Liqueur (L-2) and Country Liqueur (L-14A) (of the policy year 2024-25), amongst the applicant allottees/licensees of retail zones within an Excise District. The quota contribution for the purpose of grant of L-1 & L-13 licenses shall be calculated on the basis of retail liquor zones allotted as on 10.06.2024 for receiving such applications for grant of L-1/L-13. The L-1/L-13 license(s) shall be granted only to those eligible applicants who apply for the License(s) within the date fixed/extended by the Excise and Taxation Commissioner, Haryana. The Excise Policy provides that the Excise and Taxation Commissioner may invite applications for such number of L-1/L-13 licenses as he may deem fit. The Excise and Taxation Commissioner may also conduct the process of allotment in multiple rounds of inviting applications. Next round of allotment of L-1 and L-13 Licenses will be initiated after the completion of first round.

The number of wholesale licenses of IMFL (L-1) and Country Liqueur (L-13) in the district for which the applications are being invited in first round shall be as under:-

C'garh encounter

NARAYANPUR, JUNE 7
Five Naxalites were killed and three jawans injured in an encounter in Chhattisgarh's Narayanpur district on Friday, police said.
The gunfight took place in a forest near Gobel village in the Orchha area, where a joint team of security personnel was out on an anti-Naxalite operation, a senior police official said.
After guns fell silent, bodies of five Naxalites in uniform and some weapons were recovered from the spot, he said. — PTI

Naidu, Nitish praise Modi, want regional

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, JUNE 7
The National Democratic Alliance (NDA) leaders on Friday assembled in a strong show of unity at the historic Central Hall of Parliament, unanimously endorsing Narendra Modi as their leader, paving the way for his anointment as Prime Minister for the third time, and signalling longevity of their grouping.

Hectic back-channel talks around government formation notwithstanding, key NDA leaders—TDP's N Chandrababu Naidu and JD(U)'s Nitish Kumar—joined the BJP and NDA parliamentarians in giving a standing ovation to Modi as he entered the Central Hall to frenzied chants of "swagat hai bhai swagat hai, Modi ji ka swagat hai", "phir ek baar, Modi sarkar", "phir ek baar, NDA sarkar" and "Vande Mataram". The occasion was the meeting of the NDA parliamentary party to elect Modi the leader.

The bloc's two kingmakers clapped till Modi took his seat on the dais flanked by Naidu on one side and BJP chief JP Nadda on the other. Nine NDA leaders—Naidu, Nitish Kumar, JD(S)' HD Kumaraswamy, Jana Sena's Pawan Kalyan, NCP's Ajit Pawar, Shiv Sena's Eknath Shinde, LJP's Chirag Paswan, HAM's Jitan Manjhi and Apna Dal's Anupriya Patel sat alongside Modi and top BJP brass, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh and Home Minister Amit Shah included.

RLD's Jayant Choudhary sat among MPs though in the front row. After Rajnath Singh proposed the resolution electing Modi to three positions—leader of NDA parliamentary party, leader of BJP parliamentary party and leader of the Lok Sabha—Naidu was the first to endorse it on the NDA's behalf.

Reminding the PM of the need to “balance regional aspirations with national interests when ensuring holistic development across all strata of society”, Naidu showered generous praises on Modi. “He is the right leader at the right time,” said the Telugu Desam Party president who will take oath as Andhra Pradesh CM on June 12 after the TDP-led NDA swept the state poll on June 4.

Terming the “historic NDA win under Modi as a very good opportunity”, Naidu said, “I proudly propose the name of Modi ji as our leader on the NDA's behalf. This is a very good opportunity. If we miss, we will miss it forever. I have faith that Modi ji will fulfil my party founder NT Rama Rao's vision of humanism.” The TDP supremo also mentioned three months of back-breaking electioneering by Modi saying it helped the NDA win 95 per cent of the seats in Andhra.
Coming after Naidu, Nitish

Kumar, the leader known for serial desertions, made it clear that he would stay with the NDA “all the way”. Praising Modi, he said, “Modi ji has served the nation for 10 years. Whatever gaps are left, he (Modi) will cover in the next term, and by then few people who won here and there (opposition) will also lose.”
Nitish, in a show of loyalty to Modi (he was even seen bending to touch the PM's feet on one occasion), declared: “We will stay with you, work with you, heed you...” In his inimitable style, though, the Bihar Chief Minister and JD(U) chief made it a point to add: “‘Aur Bihar kaa sab kaam toh ho hi jayega’ (and all of Bihar's pending works will anyway be done).”
Other allies rallied behind Modi too with Shinde describing the BJP-Shiv Sena pact as “Fevicol kaa mazboot jod” and Paswan addressing Modi as “my PM”. Anupriya Patel said Modi resided in the hearts of 140 crore Indians and Pawan Kalyan, instrumental in bringing Naidu and the BJP back together on the Lok Sabha poll eve, recalled Naidu's 2014 prediction that “Modi will remain PM for 15 years.” “That's now happening,” Kalyan said, crediting the NDA's Andhra sweep to Modi.

JD(U): Nitish
will take call on ministries

NEW DELHI, JUNE 7
The JD(U) parliamentary board meeting held at Bihar CM Nitish Kumar's residence on Friday entrusted the responsibility of choosing the party's leadership in the Parliament upon him.
“It was decided in the meeting that Nitish Kumar would choose the leader of the party. It was unanimously decided that the JD(U) will wholeheartedly support the NDA. No discussion on ministries took place in the meeting,” JD(U) MP Alok Kumar Suman said.
Sources in the party said uncertainty looms over the cabinet berths being offered to the JD(U) and special status for Bihar. The party was eyeing Railways and Jal Shakti ministerial berths.
The special status will ensure that the state gets most of the Central funds in the form of grants and industrial incentives.
“Railways and Jal Shakti are important for us. Nitish has been the Railways Minister during the NDA government. There are several regions in Bihar where rail connectivity is poor and we want to elevate the rail infrastructure. Jal Shakti is important as Bihar faces perennial problems of floods and parts of the state face water shortage,” a senior JD(U) leader said.

Oppn parties seek probe into ‘irregularities’ in NEET

NEW DELHI, JUNE 7
A day after the National Testing Agency (NTA) rejected the charges of malpractices and unfair means in the National Eligibility-cum-Entrance Test-Undergraduate (NEET-UG) examination, opposition parties have demanded a probe into the complaints by medical aspirants.

Congress leader Priyanka Gandhi on Friday slammed the Modi government over the alleged irregularities. “First, the NEET exam paper was leaked and now the students allege there has been a scam in its results as well. Serious questions are being raised over six students of the same centre getting 720 out of 720 marks and several kinds of irregularities are coming to the fore,” Priyanka said in a post on X.

Tamil Nadu's ruling DMK and the Opposition AIADMK demanded that the NEET-UG exam should be scrapped.
Denying the charges, the National Testing Agency said, “The number of candidates who appeared in 2023 was 20,38,596, while the number of candidates in 2024 increased to 23,33,297. The increase in candidates naturally led to an increase in high scorers due to a larger pool of candidates. “The concerns raised by the candidates through the writ petitions and representations about the loss of examination time was ascertained, and 1,563 candidates were compensated for the loss of time, and the revised marks of such candidates vary from -20 to 720 marks,” the testing agency said.

Bengaluru court grants bail to Rahul
in defamation case

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, JUNE 7
A special court in Bengaluru on Friday granted bail to Congress leader Rahul Gandhi in connection with a case filed by the BJP's Karnataka unit for publishing advertisements labelling BJP as corrupt in mainstream newspapers ahead of the 2023 Karnataka Assembly poll.
Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and state Congress chief DK Shivakumar were among other accused in the case, who were granted bail on June 1.

On May 8 last year, Karnataka BJP general secretary S Keshava Prasad filed a private complaint before the court alleging that Congress leaders Siddaramaiah, Shivakumar and Rahul Gandhi called the BJP government's administration from 2019 to 2023 in the state as corrupt.
Prasad alleged the Congress, through advertisements, defamed the BJP by claiming that the BJP leaders, including former CM Basavaraj Bommai, had taken commission to the tune of 75 per cent in Covid kit tender deals, 40 per cent for PWD tenders and 30 per cent for grants to religious organisations.

Meanwhile, Rahul also held a review meeting with the winning Congress MPs and the party's Lok Sabha candidates. He sought a report on the performance of the party in the state. Shivakumar said, “He (Gandhi) has tasked three leaders—Siddaramaiah, AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala and me—to submit the report.”
“He has asked the MPs to be with people and go to Delhi only when the Parliament is in the session. We expected five to six more seats,” Shivakumar added.
The bypoll will be held for Channarayana, Sandur and Shiggaon constituencies as sitting MLAs from the segments—HD Kumaraswamy (JD(S), ETukaram (Congress) and Basavaraj Bommai (Shiggaon)—were elected as MPs.

LS Speaker's post key to stability of coalition govt

VIBHA SHARMA
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, JUNE 7
The support for a numerically challenged BJP appears to be coming at a price, with its allies demanding key Cabinet/ministerial berths and special status for their respective states. Earlier, there was speculation that they were also demanding the post of the Lok Sabha Speaker. While the demand for ministerial berths is understandable, the big question is why the clamour for the Speaker's post.
Notably, the TDP with 16 seats and the JD (U) with 12 seats hold the key to the Narendra Modi government's third term. Normally in a coalition, the party having the most seats (in this case the BJP) keeps the post because of multiple reasons, the most critical being to ensure stability and security of the government.
Generally, the first agenda of the House is to elect the Speaker of the Lok Sabha. Prior to that the President swears in a Protem Speaker who is normally the senior-most member of the House who then administers the oath to the newly elected members. Then the elected representatives become the members of Parliament and elect a Speaker from amongst themselves. As per the convention, the post of Deputy Speaker is given to a member of the opposition.

For a party with a comfortable majority (like the BJP in the past two tenures), the Speaker's post has been mostly ceremonial. In fact, the post of the Deputy Speaker was kept vacant.
But as the head of the Lok Sabha, the Speaker is the custodian of the House, maintains order in the House, can adjourn/suspend proceedings in case of absence of decorum etc. Importantly, the Speaker is also the final authority regarding rules and procedures and for a party which may not be having a majority on its own, he or she also holds the key to its stability with final say in issues/disputes related to disqualification and situations like a no-confidence vote against the government.

Experts say the Speaker's role becomes important when it comes to proving majority on the floor of the House or in case the anti-defection law comes into play.
Take for example the classic case of the fall of BJP's Atal Behari Vajpayee's 13-month government in 1999 by just one vote. Giridhar Gamang, who had just become the Congress Chief Minister in Odisha, was allowed to vote in the confidence motion against the government by the Speaker who left the decision to the “conscience” of the voter.
Interestingly, it was to achieve the majority that the BJP-led NDA had offered the post to the TDP following which GMC Balayogi, MP from Amalapuram, was appointed the Speaker.

As she cruises into her mid-70s, Sudha Mahalingam shows the same drive for road trips that she has nurtured for over 35 years. Back after another memorable outing, she says the joy of carving up your own itinerary & travelling at whim is unmatched

WHERE THERE'S A WHEEL, THERE'S A WAY

In their most recent trip, the couple had a stopover at Coonoor, a charming hill town near Ooty defined by misty greenery and magic. (Below) A photograph from Namibia, which was part of their month-long African road trip.

The writer poses with her husband in Silent Valley, five hours away from Coonoor.

IF Charles Lamb were to live in modern times, he would amend his famous quote to say, “The automobile has entered my soul.” It clogs up our cities, sprays carbon into our lungs, turns our environs into a dreadful cacophony of blaring horns, screeching tyres and roaring engines. Yet, few modern inventions have shrunk the planet as the motor car has. Its seductive allure is difficult to resist, especially with Google Maps showing the way.

But when was the last time you dropped off Google Maps to explore some uncharted territory? In the past decade, Google has become so omnipresent, its tentacles strangle the entire planet in their monstrous embrace. Yet, a few days ago, I managed to dodge Google Maps to escape to a hidden treasure tucked away in a remote corner of the Western Ghats — Silent Valley, some 400 km from hometown Bengaluru.

For those of us impulsive and spontaneous travellers, road trips hold an irresistible allure. And monsoons are when you can find accommodation easily without having to book ahead. So, when the unusually harsh and long summer in Bengaluru showed signs of relenting with its first drizzle, husband and I hopped into our car and drove off to Coonoor, a charming hill town near Ooty.

As we drove from Mysore and entered Bandipur Tiger Reserve, a picturesque stretch of the forest ripe with exotic game, including the striped and spotted variety, a gorgeous downpour started. You are not allowed to stop your car in the reserve, but we did, to enjoy the sheets of rain cascading down the windshield.

On several earlier drives through this stretch, we were always rewarded with sightings of elephants, wild bison, wild boars, an occasional bear with a cub on its back, but this time, we didn't see any game. Yet, it was the most magical drive through the forest.

From Bandipur, the road leads seamlessly into Mudumalai, the Tamil Nadu side of the tiger reserve. After Mudumalai, you have 36 hairpin bends to ascend before you reach Ooty and drive further into Coonoor, where we stayed for a few days. Slush, mist and magic defined our layover in Coonoor, where we were serenaded by cicadas and frogs all night and day. From Coonoor, we drove to Silent Valley, five hours away. Primal, serene and silent because of the absence of cicadas, Silent Valley is a dream destination all year round, but during monsoons, it transforms into a paradise, no less. It is truly wild, with some trees donning tulip-like cobwebs, attesting to their antiquity. The ground sprouts multi-coloured mushrooms and toadstools and hides scores of leeches.

The drive from Coonoor to the Silent Valley National Park takes you through the picturesque countryside, watched over by verdant hills. The last 40 kilometres test your skills with their twists and turns through a dark and dense jungle, dark with secrets and promise.

In August 2022, husband and I had undertaken another epic month-long road trip through three countries in Africa — Namibia, Botswana and Zimbabwe. Landing in Windhoek, the capital of Namibia, we hopped into a 4x4 Nissan Navara equipped with a tent on its roof, a freezer, stove, tables, chairs, etc. From Windhoek, I drove to Etosha National Park, home to a variety of African game, including lions, leopards, giraffes, ostriches, wildebeest, etc. We had camped in the camping grounds, slept under the tent which opened up when you pulled down the ladder, popped champagne from the fridge, cooked our own meals and watched the glorious African sunset on camping chairs spread out in the desert.

From Etosha, we had driven through the Namib, the planet's oldest desert. The highlight of this stretch was Sossusvlei, with its seductive sand dunes. From there, we drove along Namibia's uranium mines to reach the Atlantic coast and its stunning town Swakopmund, where the houses seemed spanking new and the streets were squeaky clean.

We crossed the land border from Namibia into Botswana, where we stayed in a lodge in Chobe National Park and went on safaris several times a day, both on the Chobe river bank and in boats on the river itself, chasing game. After a few days in Chobe, we crossed into Zimbabwe to feast our eyes on the splendid Victoria Falls where the Zambezi dons a rainbow necklace every single day.

Almost every year these past two decades, husband and I have not been able to resist the temptation to take spontaneous driving trips. As I cruise into my mid-seventies, I am advised by my family and friends to take along a driver and to take it easy. But the joy of carving up your own itinerary and the freedom to travel at whim is unmatched. Of course, one has to take certain precautions — like getting your car serviced or checked by a qualified mechanic before setting out, ensuring your FASTag is charged, your car is equipped with a spare tyre, tools, cushions and plenty of water and eats. I try to complete my driving during the day and choose country roads rather than highways.

Where next, I wonder. In our vast country, with varied landscapes, is there a dearth of places to drive to?

Love & longing for Corbett

Preserved with much care, Gurney House in Nainital is a treasure trove of memories

APARNA BANERJI

A SHORT walk up the Mallital end of Naini Lake in Nainital, on way to Sherwood, is Ayarpatta Hill. On a steep incline, nestled amidst the towering oaks and deodars is the home of the fearless hero of Kumaon. Hunter, conservator, author, naturalist, philanthropist, protector of the Kumaon forests, chaser of man-eaters, gentle, yet feisty, Lieutenant Colonel Edward James Corbett's legacy hasn't waned in the 68 years since his passing.

Popularly known as Jim Corbett, the cult status of 'Carpet Sahib' is no less than that of a folk legend. Even though tourists flock to the Jim Corbett National Park and his Kala Dunghi home-turned-museum in Choti Haldwani, very few know that there exists a time capsule of Jim's memories and life in the heart of Nainital — Gurney House, his summer home.

In a stroke of luck for the countless Corbett fans, the house was left by the Corbetts to a family which, in their 77-year-old history of ownership of the property (across three generations), has treated it with as much respect as possible only the Corbetts could have.

The house has been left untouched — with the same furniture and crockery, living rooms and studies. It has a vintage piano (Jim's mother's), antique furniture passed by the Corbetts, the African drum Jim brought from Tanzania, his sister Maggie's cross-stitched chair, a library of their books, Jim's writing bureau, his fishing boat and hordes of deer antlers, an elephant tusk, tiger skulls, and two empty canon shells (World War II vintage). Old photographs of Nainital, then a small colonial settlement where Indians weren't allowed at the Upper Mall, dot the walls.

from Cambridge at the time, bought the property in November 1947 for ₹55,000 (a fortune then) when the Corbetts planned to leave India with a heavy heart. Born on July 25, 1875, Jim Corbett lived almost entirely in Kaladunghi and Nainital, except for his job years in Bihar. A house bookcase even throws up a photograph (recorded

DIRECTIONS

About 7 hours from Delhi by road, Nainital can be reached through the nearest railway stations at Kathgodam and Haldwani. The nearest airport is Pantnagar. Not open to tourists, Gurney House can be visited on special request. It is on Ayarpatta Hill, a nearly 2 km walk up from Mallital.

by Dalmia's grandmother) to be possibly that of the mysterious Helen in Corbett's life, whom he had proposed to but had to withdraw as his mother objected.

Dalmia says, "Having shifted to Ayarpatta Hill after the 1881 landslide, the Corbetts took a call after the communal riots in 1946 that they would leave Nainital. It was very sad for Jim. He loved India and was loved by everybody here, but the Anglo-Indians and the British community were unsure of their plight after the riots. Lots of people left either for the UK or Australia. Jim and Maggie moved to Kenya for the love of wildlife and as they had friends and relatives there."

Dalmia says the house's provenance has had a thread of matriarchs running it — Jim's mother Mary Jane bequeathed the house to his sister Margaret Winnifred and from the Corbetts, to Sharda Verma's wife Kalavati Verma, on to Nilanjana Dalmia, who was also born in this house on July 24 (a day before Jim's birthday) and bought it from her own family, in 2006.

Popular as a wildlifer, tales abound of Jim Corbett's kinder traits for which he is still revered. As a fuel inspector in railways, felling trees for timber, his little tent-dwelling became home to a number of animal orphans displaced by the fallen forest — two broods of partridges, four peafowl chicks, two leverets, two baby four-horned antelopes (one named Tiddley-de-winks who followed him around) and Rex the python, who went out daily for a little time in the sun and returned!

At Mokameh Ghat, Corbett pooled in a greater part of his savings to help rescue the flailing trade of a cholera-stricken stranger. In Kumaon, he stood guard night after night to protect the villagers, terrorised by man-eating tigers. Even when he left India, he continued to pay taxes for the tenants of his Kala Dunghi house. He could mimic countless animals and bird calls, was deft at catapults, bows and was an ace marksman who was also proficient in skinning and dressing his own hunted game.

Dalmia says, "There was a time 70 years ago when everybody knew Gurney House and Corbett. If you ask somebody for directions today, they wouldn't know. Even these boarding schools should be commemorating July 25th (Jim's birthday), but they don't. I find it very sad. Except for Corbett lovers, that old connection isn't here. At the same time, the government wanted to change the name of the Corbett National Park. They cannot be successful, because the people of Kumaon will not let that happen."

She is trying to get many of Jim's belongings, strewn around homes and acquaintances in hills, back to the house. "I am 70, I don't know how long I'm going to live, but I can say the house is intact as long as I'm here."

Evil has a face, watch to never forget

NETFLIX Hitler and the Nazis: Evil on Trial
DIRECTOR Joe Berlinger
CAST Karoly Kozma, Imre Csok, Balazs Kato, Soma Zambori
RATING ★★★★★

PARBINA RASHID

A trip to the Buchenwald Memorial in Weimar, Germany, made me aware of two things — the horror of the Holocaust and the lingering national shame. A mention of my plan to visit the concentration camp made my German hosts uncomfortable. I didn't quite understand the reason. Joe Berlinger's 'Hitler and the Nazis: Evil on Trial' explains it now. As the six-part docu-series recounts the horrors unleashed by the Third Reich on Jews and their supporters, it makes a powerful point — a handful of evil men carrying out an evil design is bad, but an entire nation playing into their hands and helping them execute the sinister plans is worse. My hosts understood it. Berlinger, who chronicles the rise and fall of Hitler within the context of the Nuremberg Trials, highlights how Hitler encashed on the feelings of alienation and desperation stirred after Germany's loss of power in World War I with the promise to 'make Germany great again'. "I began to comprehend it did not matter so much what he (Hitler) said, but how he said it. In such an atmosphere, every lie pronounced is accepted as high truth itself," says American journalist William Shirer (Balazs Kato), who was in Germany from 1934 to 1940, documenting the rise of the Nazi party and once again in Nuremberg as one of the 400 journalists who reported the proceedings. The series begins with Adolf Hitler (Karoly Kozma), one of the most malevolent figures in history, and his long-time partner and photographer Eva Braun (Anna Szivasi) killing themselves inside an underground bunker in Berlin as Germany is about to surrender to the Allied Forces. It was April 30, 1945. Eva bites a cyanide capsule, choosing a 'ladylike death', while Hitler shoots himself. The scene soon shifts to the trials of top Nazi officials like Heinrich Himmler, Joseph Goebbels, Hermann Goering, Rudolph Hess, Joachim von Ribbentrop and Albert Speer that started in November 1945. After US Chief of Counsel Robert H Jackson delivers his famous opening statement, it takes the International Military Tribunal about two years to bring the perpetrators to justice. At least, some of them! As the show goes back and forth, we are transported to the days when a defeated Germany attempts to start a new republic called Weimar Republic amid social and economic unrest. We see Hitler from the days when he was called Adolf Schickelgruber, a name later changed by his father. Thank God for that, as one of the talking heads takes a dig, "Imagine how difficult it would have been to say 'Hail Schickelgruber'." The puny lad from Austria has a dream — to become a world-famous artist. But his dream is nipped in the bud as an art school in Vienna refuses to take him in. He survives by imitating artworks and later migrates to Germany as he considers the Germans superior to the Austrians. A brief stint with the Bavarian army and he gets drawn to the anti-semitism sentiment that spreads across 20th century Europe. "Without WW-I, there would be no Hitler," says one of the experts. What follows is the formation of the Nazi party and a failed attempt at toppling the government in the 1920s. The attempt, known as the Beer Hall Putsch, is a major milestone in his life. He is persecuted and made to serve a light prison sentence, thanks to his oratory skills and the generosity of a right-wing judge. The jail term proves to be a boon in his case — he writes his autobiography 'Mein Kampf' and gains overwhelming popularity. Shirer, who died in 1993, serves as the unofficial narrator of the series, with AI recreating his voice to read out passages from his many books on the subject. We hear his real voice, too, from his radio broadcasts. There are insights from historians and journalists, archival footage, audio recordings from Nuremberg Trials and recreated scenes that capture Hitler's rise to power and horrors committed by the Third Reich. All the source materials blend seamlessly in Berlinger's expert hands. The same goes for the casting too. When Kozma comes on screen imitating Hitler's aggressive body language, it's difficult to tell him apart from the real Hitler. Similarly, it is difficult to say whether it is Hermann Goering or actor Gabor Sotonyi playing Goering. That makes for an excellent viewing experience as the flow is never disrupted. There are plenty of heavy scenes as Berlinger takes us through Nazi Germany's wars with the neighbouring countries, including the Soviet Union, and takes us inside the concentration camps in Austria, Germany and Poland. Gloomy yes, but there is never a dull moment throughout the six-hour runtime. Even in the dramatic recreations, the actors don't speak their lines. Their visuals are clubbed with voices reading out from actual writings and audio recordings. It ensures authenticity. Talking of authenticity, the musical score for the series is derived from the compositions of Holocaust victims. Music that once gave vent to the pain and hopes of thousands of Jews now amplifies William Shirer's words, "We can't let it happen again." A powerful message conveyed through a power-packed presentation.

When Karoly Kozma imitates Hitler, it's difficult to tell him apart from the real Hitler.

The crime story of a unique robber is told without excessive exaggeration.

Bank robber who stole the show

NONIKA SINGH

He is charming and handsome, looks and lives like a Tarzan, of course on an extravagant tree house. While his identity in the real-life crime documentary is revealed early on, nothing about him or his lifestyle is a telltale. Who can tell he is the most-wanted prolific bank robber of Seattle? As 'How To Rob A Bank' recreates the story of a notorious bank robber known by the moniker 'Hollywood Bandit', you are tempted to applaud the sharp mind and the chutzpah with which he pulled off one heist after another. Indeed, heists are the most tantalising subject of many Hollywood films. Back in time, in the early 1990s, Scott Scurlock was inspired by these films, especially 'Point Break', starring Patrick Swayze and Keanu Reeves. The hour-and-a-half documentary stitches together Scott's daring and audacious robberies in which, surprisingly, he did not once pull the trigger. The only time he does fire a bullet... well, we won't let the cat out of the bag. But we sure can tell you what others recall in the film. His presence in disguise evoked so much power and menace that officials in the bank even when he was out there in the vault all by himself had little option but to toe the line. Though somewhere in the film we are told that his only co-star was a 9-mm handgun, he sure had accomplices, keeping guard from outside. One of them was Mark Biggins, with whom he pulled off the first near-amateurish robbery. In the film, his other partner-in-crime, Steve Meyers, too, puts the pieces together and lets us decode their robbery mode involving meticulous planning. Thanks to the inventive disguises, replete with prosthetics, the artist-turned-thief Steve creates, they do not get caught for the longest time. Getting the real robbers Steve and Mark on board is easily one of the major triumphs of the documentary. Straight from the horses' mouth, it gives you an insight into not just the modus operandi, but also the motives. Apart from money, it's clear that Scott began to enjoy the adrenaline rush. His attitude is writ on his cap: 'DARE'. Who Scott really was is further illuminated by his diary in which he writes, 'My mind is like an undisciplined child that has gone wild.' Apart from some videocam footage of Scott, the diary is almost a character here. The period of 1990s is in sync with why he, son of a religious preacher, wanted to beat the system. An anti-establishment sentiment was in the air, anti-corporate grunge songs were seething with angst. The city of Seattle itself was in throes of a transition with pools of money coming in, Starbucks growing like gangbusters'. And dialogues from movies like 'Point Break' — 'why be a servant to the law when you can master it' — summed up the mood of many. The 'Hollywood Bandits' started small, but as they moved towards vaults and the megabucks, they were no longer under the police radar. How the cops got to them is part of the thrill ride. Indeed, the documentary is no 'Oceans 11' or even close to the Spanish series 'Money Heist'. But with animation board recreating the drama, archival footage, interviews of key players on both sides of the law, including FBI agent Shawn Johnson, 'How To Rob A Bank' does create an interesting arc. And though details are mostly factual, it races to the finishing line like a work of fiction and is pregnant with both tension and anticipation of the inevitable. With the bandits 'crossing the Rubicon' and going in for the last hurrah, we know it has to be curtains for their (mis)adventures. Yet, we are invested in this crime story of a unique robber, told with a dash of humour, sans excessive exaggeration or unwarranted hero worship. Watch it to know that while real imitates reel, the consequences are not the same. Thus, 'How To Rob A Bank' gets inverted into a tale with a cautionary note.

This is the fourth movie in the series and there's no let-up here. The ageing buddy-cop duo get into the act and it's a joyride all the way. They still talk motor-mouthed meaningless stuff, the f-words and nether region jokes keep coming, and the action is unique. The writing may be fluff stuff, yet it manages to maintain a balance with the convoluted drama, the incessant bickering and the spaced-out gags. The plot isn't particularly enticing and the narrative gets quite choppy leading up to the big reveal. But once that happens, the wheels begin to spin fast and furious. This film is typical of a big, fat Michael Bay production. Full of energy, some side-splitting laughter and interesting action, 'Bad Boys' has a fair run of excitement! Martin Lawrence as Marcus Burnett has much more to do than in the previous edition — he is quite good in the shootout scene in the food store. Of course, Martin has a lot more to do with food even after he suffers a heart attack and comes back from almost-dead. Will Smith as Mike Lowrey gets married, gets to reunite with his estranged, incarcerated son and even gets to escort him to a remote spot as instructed by the drug lords. In this film, Mike is plagued by panic attacks and the nature of the job takes its toll on Marcus. These small character elements add a little more interest to the telling. The screenplay by Chris Bremner and Will Beall has the Miami PD detectives investigating a possible mole in the police department responsible for framing their murdered captain, Conrad Howard (Joe Pantoliano). We get to see a little more of their work team, consisting of Rita (Paola Nunez), Kelly (Vanessa Hudgens) and Dorn (Alexander Ludwig). Burnett's family and Mike's new wife Christine (Melanie Liburd) get some runtime. The two lead characters play off each other well enough to keep us entertained. Their chemistry is quite charged up. The funny moments are gained from their delivery of lines, and not really from the writing itself. We may not have been treated to the entire song, but bits and pieces of the 'Bad Boys' song lend nostalgic value and the addition of 'Tonight' adds impact. Action is quite badass, with some great choreography, fancy cinematography and editing making it all seem in-your-face and fantastic. Dizzying camerawork from cinematographer Robrecht Heyvaert makes sure the silly tone stays silly and irreverent. Burnett's out-of-body death experience obviously was meant to fill up the gaps, but it feels rather out of place in happening, stream-of-plot points that connected with all the past 'Bad Boys' films. The final showdown has great action with unique POV moments to heighten the audience involvement. Alexander Ludwig, Rhea Seehorn, Eric Dane and Ioan Gruffudd lend interesting moments to the franchise experience. The highlight though is a Michael Bay cameo in a typically extravagant production that is epic in scale, funny and loaded with thrilling action!

Black it out

SHEETAL

There's a reason certain films don't make it to theatres and end up premiering on OTT. 'Blackout' falls in the same category. Perhaps director Devang Bhavsar overestimated himself while developing his story into screenplay. The Dalal brothers, Hussain and Abbas, have tried to keep the dialogues interesting and these go beyond the script and also give some real punches, like calling lead actor Vikrant Massey a 'one-take actor'. Speaking of the talented actor, whom we have all hailed ever since the release of '12th Fail', and Anant Vijay Joshi (also seen in '12th Fail'), both of whom are seen in 'Blackout', too, it would

This murder mystery draws inspiration from the popular Turkish drama 'Zee'. Directed by Anil Senior, it is a story of betrayal, love, friendship and murder. manage to evoke some magic laughter moments. Actors Jishu Sengupta and Mouni Roy seem totally wasted. Another subplot that draws attention involves crime reporter Lenny D'Souza (Massey), specialising in sting operations, and one of his media trial victims, ex-MLA Anita Naik, played by Chhaya Kadam. Chhaya, who recently made headlines for being part of the Cannes-winning All We Imagine As Light, leaves an impact in her limited role in the film. Music by Vishal Mishra complements the plot, especially in the first 15 minutes where we get to hear two songs. The film is not worth your time and energy and, of late, some OTT platforms have become the dumping ground of films that would otherwise tank at the box office.

RBI keeps repo rate unchanged, aims to bring down food inflation

SANDEEP DIKSHIT
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE
NEW DELHI, JUNE 7 In its first monetary policy review that will guide interest setting for the new government at the Centre, the Reserve Bank of India today decided to keep the key interest rate (repo) unchanged at 6.5 per cent as it wanted to bring down inflation, especially in the food sector. The repo rate was last hiked in February 2023 and there has been persistent demand from the industry as well as EMI payers for lowering of interest rates. However, with the RBI raising the growth projection for fiscal 2025 to 7.2 per cent from 7 per cent, there is a need to keep the inflation rate down to 4.5 per cent in order to achieve that outcome. In a move aimed at making travel by road and metro hassle-free, the RBI has allowed processing of recurring transactions through e-mandate, which means users can recharge Fastag and National Common Mobility Card (NCMC) through an automatic replenishment facility. "The current e-mandate framework requires a pre-debit notification at least 24 hours before the actual debit from the customer's account. It is proposed to exempt this requirement for payments made from customer's account for automatic replenishment of balances in Fastag, NCMC, etc. under the e-mandate framework," the RBI said in a statement. Speaking at a press conference after the Monetary Policy Committee approved an unchanged lending rate till August 8 when it will meet again, RBI chief Shaktikanta Das said a normal south-west monsoon was expected to boost Kharif production and enhance water storage in reservoirs. On inflation, he said: "We are on the right track and squarely focussed on inflation management" though food inflation remains a concern. Giving an overview of the macroeconomic fundamentals, the RBI chief said the current account deficit for FY25 is expected to remain well within the sustainable level and foreign exchange reserves have touched a fresh high of $ 651.5 billion as on May 31, 2024. In a separate decision, the RBI hiked the threshold for bulk fixed deposits to Rs 3 crore from existing Rs 2 crore with a view to improve asset liability management of banks. Bulk fixed deposits earn slightly higher interest rates than retail term deposits as banks offer different rates as part of their liquidity management exercise. "It is a routine review," said RBI Deputy Governor Swaminathan J. Das also said export and import regulations under the Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA) would be rationalised and the RBI will set up a Digital Payments Intelligence Platform to harness advanced technologies to mitigate payment fraud risks. He also announced that auto replenishment of balance Fastag, NCMC, and UPI-Lite wallets have been brought under the e-mandate framework.

India should promote culture of commercial arbitration, says CJI

Highlighting that India has set up the India International Arbitration Centre and the Mumbai and Delhi International Arbitration Centre, the CJI said mere creation of institutions was not enough.

Markets zoom over RBI's GDP projection

MUMBAI, JUNE 7 Benchmark equity indices Sensex and Nifty climbed over 2 per cent to settle at record high levels on Friday after the RBI revised upwards the GDP growth projection to 7.2 per cent for 2024-25 from 7 per cent earlier. The 30-share BSE Sensex jumped 1,720.8 points, or 2.29 per cent, to hit a new record peak of 76,796.31 in day trade. The benchmark ended at a record high of 76,693.36, or 1,618.85 points, or 2.16 per cent. The NSE Nifty climbed 498.8 points, or 2.18 per cent, to 23,320.20 during the day. The index settled with a jump of 468.75 points, or 2.05 per cent, at 23,290.15. — PTI

Real estate industry seeks repo rate cut

VIJAY C ROY
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE
CHANDIGARH, JUNE 7 Welcoming the RBI move to keep the repo rate unchanged at 6.5 per cent, real estate developers have sought its reduction in near future to bring down the interest rates on home loans and further boost demand for residential properties. "The RBI decision is on

CEO and MD of PropEquity. Motia Group director LC Mittal said the RBI's strategy to wait and watch before initiating further rate cuts was well-appreciated, especially in the light of the eagerly awaited Union Budget that is expected to shed light on fiscal policy. Analysts said the RBI move would keep the liquidity and the cost of borrowings at static level, keeping the cost under control, and benefiting the real estate sector. "Lower interest rates could further boost the real estate sector, which is already experiencing strong market demand from end-users. We expect the robust demand trend to stay healthy over the next few years," said Pradeep Aggarwal, chairman of Signature Global (India) Ltd.

Pandya braces for India-Pakistan match, says India will 'hunt'

NEWYORK, JUNE 7
Hardik Pandya does not want to treat the upcoming T20 World Cup match against Pakistan as a "fight" but the India all-rounder is quite excited to face a rival against whom he has had considerable success.

Rohit Sharma-led India will take on Pakistan on Sunday and Pandya will be eager to repeat his past success against their neighbours.

"Standing in big games is very exciting for me. I find it extra special and Pakistan has been one team where I have been very fortunate against, I have been able to do well in a lot of games," Pandya told a TV channel.

Pandya has played six T20Is against Pakistan so far. While his outings with the bat largely remained moderate, having scored just 84 runs with a highest of 40, the Baroda man has fared better with the ball in hand. The pace-bowling all-rounder has taken 11 wickets from six matches at a very good economy of 7.5 with 3/8 being his best analysis.

"It all comes down to the vibe. Hold your breath, this is a request. This is not a fight, this is going to be history," said Pandya.

India began the ICC marquee event with a facile eight-wicket win over Ireland, but Pakistan were stunned by the USA via Super Over here on Thursday.

While underlining the riches in India's bowling unit, Pandya said they needed to remain disciplined against Pakistan.

England, Australia resume rivalry

BRIDGETOWN: Defending champions England will look to get the better of Australia through an improved bowling effort in a Group B match of the T20 World Cup here tomorrow.

England's opening game against Scotland was rained off after the latter made 90 for no loss in 10 overs, forcing the teams to take home a point each.

But even those 60 balls showed that England to improve upon in the bowling department. Scottish openers George Munsey and Michael Jones scored freely against all England bowlers, and Australia carry far more lethal guns in their line-up.

David Warner and Marcus Stoinis showed the extent of damage they can do while outclassing Oman in their tournament opener. Once again, there will be a lot of focus on Jofra Archer, who gave away 12 runs in two overs against Scotland, as the pacer continues his comeback trail into top-flight cricket. Nathan Ellis played ahead of Pat Cummins against Oman, but Australia might bring back the premier pacer against a much more formidable opponent. PTI

Torn in the USA: Co-hosts score historic win over Pak

DALLAS, JUNE 6
Newcomers USA shocked former champions Pakistan via the Super Over to record their biggest win in a T20 World Cup match late on Thursday.

The result was reminiscent of Pakistan's three-wicket loss to Ireland in the 2007 ODI World Cup in the West Indies, which knocked them out of that tournament.

USA thus jumped to the top of Group A with two wins from as many games ahead of the clash against India.

Opting to field, left-arm spinner Nosthush Kenjige picked three wickets for 30 runs as Pakistan found it difficult to press the accelerator and were restricted to 159/7.

While chasing, USA ended on the same score, reaching 159/with skipper Monank Patel (50 off 38), Aaron Jones (36 not out of 26) and Andries Gous (35 off 26) leading from the front.

In the Super Over bowled by Mohammad Amir, USA piled up 18 runs, eight of “It wasn't pre-decided and only after the regulation 20 overs did skipper (Monank Patel) and coach (Stuart Law) informed me about it. I am thankful to them for showing faith in me. which came from extras. Saurabh Netravalkar then kept his cool and bowled brilliantly to give away just 13 runs for a famous win.

"I thought we should have finished the game (in regular time) and we should have never gone to Super Over. I mean the way we kept our nerves...and in the Super Over particularly, scoring 18 runs gave us a big upper hand to defend the target," Patel said

Babar slams team
Pakistan have a tendency to underestimate less established teams at major tournaments, captain Babar Azam said, adding that his side played well below their standard in the defeat.

This is not the first time that Pakistan have suffered a defeat to lower-ranked opposition in major tournaments, with the 2009 champions losing to Zimbabwe in the 2022 T20 World Cup and Afghanistan at last year's 50-over World Cup.

"Whenever you come into any tournament, you always do the best preparation," Babar told reporters after the defeat. "But you can say it's a kind of mindset, when you come up against a team like this, you relax a little. You take things a little lightly. If you don't execute your plan against any team, then whatever team it is, they will beat you." — PTI

WA invalidates results of 20km race walk event

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, JUNE 7
In a decision which raises a lot of questions as to how competitions are being held in the country, the World Athletics (WA) has invalidated the results of both the men's and women's 20km race walking event of the 11th National Open Race Walking Championship.

The competition, held in Chandigarh in January this year, saw three runners – Suraj Panwar, Servin Sebastian and Arshpreet Singh – run under 1 hour, 20 minutes and 10 seconds, which is the qualifying standard for the Olympics.

As reported by The Tribune, all three lost the mark after a few athletes and coaches complained of revised timings.

The Athletics Federation of India (AFI) has stated the variations in timings were due to faulty readings.

The allegations of race manipulation then led the WA to revise the timings of a few runners, including that of Servin and Arshpreet. In the latest decision, it has now decided to invalidate all the results from the 20km competition.

WA's website shows invalid results mark (IRM) against all those who finished the race in both the men's and women's 20km race walk.

Chandigarh Athletics Association president Harjinder Singh said he was not aware of the development.

"This is the first time I am hearing about this. We were the hosts and we made sure the track and all other facilities that were required for the competition were in place," Singh said. "The officials were sent by AFI and there were few foreign referees as well. I cannot comment on something which our association was not involved in," he added.

NORWAY CHESS

STAVANGER, JUNE 7
Indian Grandmaster R Praggnanandhaa went down fighting against Fabiano Caruana of the United States while world No. 1 Magnus Carlsen inflicted an Armageddon defeat on France's Firouzja Alireza in the penultimate round of the Norway Chess here on Thursday.

With 16 points, Carlsen stretched his lead to 1.5 points over nearest rival Hikaru Nakamura, who was in for a shock as world champion Ding Liren, for once, did not blow his position away.

Praggnanandhaa, despite the loss against Caruana in Armageddon, is still third on 13 points, a point ahead of Alireza. Caruana on 10.5 comes next in the standings ahead of Liren (6), who spoiled Nakamura's party.

Praggnanandhaa did not have to sweat hard to hold Caruana in the classical game, but in the Armageddon the American was a transformed player as he took advantage of his white pieces.

The Indian has white pieces in the final game against Nakamura and will hope to make the most of it.

In the women's section, R Vaishali succumbed to another loss to Tingjie Lei of China and was relegated to the fourth spot, while Koneru Humpy went down to leader Wenjun Ju of China.

Wenjun strengthened her position at the top by moving to 16 points. Tingjie and Anna Muzychuk of Ukraine follow her on 15 points, while Vaishali is a distant fourth with 11.5 ahead of Humpy who is on nine points. Veteran Swede Pia Cramling is last with 6.5 points.

Vaishali was the only one to go down in the classical game while all the other matches saw an Armageddon battle following a draw in normal games. — PTI

Sift wins bronze in tight finish at WC

MUNICH WORLD CUP

MUNICH, JUNE 7
Indian shooter Sift Kaur Samra claimed the bronze medal in the women's 50m rifle 3 positions event after narrowly missing the silver on the final day of the ISSF World Cup (rifle/pistol) here today.

Sift shot a 452.9 and missed silver by an agonising 0.1 to China's Han Jiayu, the reigning air rifle women's world champion.

The world No. 1 Seonaid McIntosh of the Great Britain won gold with a score of 466.7.

A fault in Danish Olympian Ibsen Rekke Maeng's electronic target system resulted in a slight delay in finishing the kneeling position of the women's 3P final. While Seonaid had already taken a good lead at the end of it, Sift was down at seventh.

A brilliant second five-shot series in the last standing position brought her up to the joint bronze medal position with China's Han Jiayu, the reigning world champion in the women's 10m air rifle.

Sift was now in her elements, and after the 43rd shot of the 45-shot final, she had climbed up to second, but eventually had to settle for bronze.

PARIS, JUNE 7

Spain's Carlos Alcaraz recovered from a woeful start to beat an inconsistent Jannik Sinner 2-6 6-3 3-6 6-4 6-3 and qualify for his maiden French Open final after a see-saw encounter today.

The third seed was a shadow of his brilliant self in the opening set before making the most of his Italian opponent's premature cramps to level before the bizarre match went into a decider.

Australian Open champion Sinner, who will take over as world No. 1 next week, bowed out when he returned a massive forehand down the line wide on the third match point on court Philippe Chatrier.

"You have to find the joy in suffering, I think that's the key, even more here on clay, here at Roland Garros, long rallies, four-hour matches, five sets, you have to fight, you have to suffer," said Alcaraz.

"Probably, the toughest matches that I've played in my short career have been against Jannik, the US Open 2022, this one, it shows the great player Jannik is... and I hope to play many, many more matches like this one against Jannik, but yes it's one of the toughest matches that I've played, for sure," he added.

Sinner got off to an explosive start and his poise, pace and precision were too much to handle for an out-of-sorts Alcaraz as the Italian raced to a 4-0 lead.

The Spaniard, however,

Swiatek favourite to win title

Few things have been as certain as a Rafa Nadal triumph at the French Open over the last two decades but Iga Swiatek has emerged as a sure shot among women and is eyeing a fourth title in five years when she meets Jasmine Paolini in Saturday's final. Barring a blip in a blockbuster second-round clash against Naomi Osaka where she saved a match point to go through, Swiatek has crushed opponents with her all-court game and 12th seed Paolini will need something special to deny her. Such has been Swiatek's dominance on clay that the top seed from Poland has won her last 20 matches at Roland Garros, as she bids for a third successive trophy to add to her maiden Grand Slam triumph in Paris four years ago. REUTERS reacted and pulled a break back as Sinner's first-serve percentage took a dip.

But Alcaraz still could not find his stride and Sinner won another two games in a row to bag the opening set when his opponent netted an ill-timed drop shot.

Yet another unforced error handed Sinner the early break in the second set, but the Italian, who before the French Open had not played for almost a month because of a hip injury, suddenly lost his stride, allowing Alcaraz to use his forehand and level the match.

The Spaniard broke for 2-1 in the third set with a gravity-defying crosscourt passing shot as Sinner's freefall continued, but despite suffering from apparent hand cramps, the future world number one clawed his way back and saved break points in the fifth game to stay in the contest. Sinner then broke twice more to take the set — a scenario that seemed highly unlikely when he was barely able to hold his racquet a few minutes earlier. — Reuters

Men & women aim to end on high note

PRO LEAGUE

LONDON, JUNE 7
Keeping the Paris Olympics in mind, the Indian men's and women's hockey teams will look to iron out the chinks in their armour when it takes on Germany and Great Britain in the final two FIH Pro League matches this weekend.

India will be up against world champions Germany tomorrow, while they will lock horns with hosts Great Britain on Sunday.

After the Antwerp stage and two matches at London, India are placed fourth in the points table with 24 points from 14 matches.

Meanwhile, Germany and Great Britain are sixth and seventh, respectively, having played seven matches so far.

"We have played some good hockey, but there are still some areas where we need to improve. Our objective in these last two matches will be to start aggressively and work on our best combinations," vice-captain Hardik Singh said. — PTI
