WILL CUT DOWN TIME BY HALF

Sebi's combo offers for quick & easy fundraise

Template to 'demystify' IPO paper, a product merging rights issues & preferential allotments

AKSHATA GORDE
Mumbai, August 2

THE SECURITIES AND Exchange Board of India (Sebi) is considering a product that combines rights issues and preferential allotments to expedite fundraising, as it believes this would cut the required time by half. The capital markets regulator's objective is to simplify the fundraising process by eliminating the need for a merchant banker and Sebi's approval. The regulator is also working on a model document that would help speed up approvals for initial public offerings (IPO).

Sebi chairperson Madhabi Puri Buch said on Friday that a combo product of rights issues and preferential allotments would bring out the best of both. "The entire end-to-end processing time will be cut down to half from the current 42 days," she said.

For an already-listed company going the 'rights' way to preferential allotment, there is no need for Sebi to come in the way, Buch said, adding a consultation paper is in the works. "Companies will only be required to submit details of the purpose of the fundraise and how the funds will be utilised, she said.

She observed that the proposed template of an offer document is an attempt at "demystifying" the process of filing papers for an IPO which currently calls for a complex draft red herring prospectus (DRHP). Such a document, Buch said, will require companies to simply "fill in the blanks" for an approval and will have a separate section to explain any complexities. "The document will be precise and meaningful, without unnecessary details. There will be a separate column to articulate any variations or complexities," she said at a capital market conference organised by industry body Ficci.

CHAIRPERSON, SEBI

THE COMBO PRODUCT WILL BRING OUT THE BEST OF BOTH... END-TO-END PROCESSING TIME WILL BE CUT DOWN TO HALF FROM THE CURRENT 42 DAYS

Separately, Sebi is also developing an AI-based tool for processing IPO documents and it is expected to be in place by December, she said. This tool will make the fast-track issue mechanism redundant as the normal approval process itself would become very fast. Erroneous IPO applications are "cluttering the path" for good ones in getting approval. The markets regulator is using artificial intelligence for faster processing of public documents and 80% of the work done is through that technology, the Sebi chairperson said.

Commenting on delays in clearing IPOs, the Sebi chairperson said that many filings were incomplete, lacking the necessary approvals and consistency. Sebi has taken the approach of returning such faulty applications to make way for well-prepared IPO applications. "We return the documents to de-clutter the path so that the genuine applications are not delayed," Buch said, pointing out that there are eight IPO applications which have crossed the three-month threshold due to lack of due diligence. Sebi is also working on a performance validation agency, streamlining disclosures in the form of key performance indicators (KPIs) for loss-making companies in listing. She said the industry standard forum is working on possible solutions to problems faced with these KPIs.

NCLAT halts Byju's insolvency process

Approves edtech firm's settlement with BCCI

FE BUREAU
Bengaluru, August 2

IN A MAJOR relief to edtech firm Byju's, the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) on Friday set aside insolvency proceedings against it over a cricket sponsorship deal and approved a ₹158-crore settlement with the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI).

The NCLAT, however, passed the order with a caveat that any failure to make payments on the dates mentioned in the undertaking would automatically lead to a revival of the insolvency proceedings against Byju's.

The appellate tribunal also dismissed the allegation of round-tripping levelled by Byju's US-based lenders, saying they failed to provide any evidence.

According to legal observers, if the company fulfils its undertaking and any dissenting party is not able to get a stay order from a higher court, then founder-CEO Byju Raveendran will effectively be back in control of the firm.

Welcoming the NCLAT order, Byju's said in a statement that it is a "major victory" for the edtech firm and its founders.

The tribunal said the money was paid by founder Byju Raveendran's brother, Riju Raveendran, through sales of his shares. According to the undertaking, Riju Raveendran made a payment of ₹50 crore on July 31 against the outstanding dues owed by Byju's to the cricket board.

Finance Bill boosts hopes of GST relief for e-gaming

PRIYANSH VERMA
New Delhi, August 2

THE CENTRE HAS proposed to remove the "retrospective" nature of the higher Goods and Services Tax (GST) levy on the online gaming industry, by inserting an enabling provision in the Finance Bill, 2024. The provision seeks to empower the Centre, via an amendment to Section 11A of the Central GST Act, to declare any retrospective levy of GST null and void.

The move signals the Centre's intent to give relief to the thriving sector, which has been facing a viability crisis, due to a flurry of hefty tax demands. Though the GST laws were amended to jack up the levies only in October, 2023, tax notices with the same interpretations had been issued to e-gaming firms in previous months. According to official data, as many as 71 show-cause notices had been issued to online gaming companies, flagging GST evasion of ₹1.12 trillion in FY23 and FY24 (till October 2023).

So, the removal of the retrospective validity of the tax would amount to a huge breather for the firms even as the matter is sub-judice.

The relevant Finance Bill section says that the government can regularise "non-levy", or "short-levy", of GST due to any "general practice prevalent in trade." Simply put, the government could choose to not collect any tax for any particular period, where in the industry as a whole was interpreting the law in a manner different from what the government intended.

SOFT DRINKS STEAL A MARCH OVER JUICES, NECTARS IN Q1

Thirst for fizzy drinks growing

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, August 2

AN EXTENDED HEATWAVE in most parts of India generated a soaring demand for carbonated drinks and, in the process, hurt the sales of juices and nectars in the April-June period.

With more and more people thirsting for fizzy drinks, companies such Dabur and ITC that focus on juices and non-fizzy drinks saw their sales slump, their Q1 results showed. And, bottled soft drinks emerged the biggest gainers during the summer months, breaching the annual penetration of 50%, research agency Kantar said about the shift in consumption.

"In temperatures of 40-50°C outside, consumers want more hydration rather than nourishment. Fizz is more thirst quenching as compared to a juice or a nectar," Dabur's CEO Mohit Malhotra said on Thursday, pointing to how fizzy drinks appear exciting to consumers despite being unhealthy.

Kolkata-based ITC, which has the B Natural brand of fruit juices, also admitted that discretionary and out-of-home consumption categories (such as beverages) were hurt by the intense heatwave in Q1. "Extreme heatwave conditions adversely impacted segments of the portfolio that have high out-of-home salience," the company said.

Kantar says that consumption of bottled soft drinks has grown in the last two years on the back of growing distribution and affordable packs pushed by new and existing players. The average household consumption of carbonated drinks, for instance, has expanded by 250 ml over the last two years, with the trend expected to grow, Kantar says, as fizzy drink makers keep prices in check to drive consumption aggressively.

For instance, a 200-ml pack of Campa Cola from Reliance Consumer Products is available for ₹10, a 50% reduction in price to Pepsi and Coca-Cola packs of the same size, forcing the latter two players to respond to the pricing action, experts said. Reliance Consumer Products also aggressively pushed ethnic fizzy drinks such as Lahori Zeera during the summer months for ₹20 for a 200-ml pack to drive consumption in the marketplace.

TOTAL LENGTH OF PROJECTS STANDS AT 936 KM

Govt clears 8 high-speed road corridors worth ₹50,655 crore

To generate 44 million person days of employment

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 2

THE CABINET ON Friday approved eight National High-Speed Road Corridor Projects of 936 km length at a total cost of ₹50,655 crore.

The projects are expected to improve logistics efficiency, reduce congestion, and enhance connectivity across the country.

Implementing these projects will generate an estimated 44.2 million person days of direct and indirect employment, the government said in a statement.

The corridor approach has led to the identification of a network of 50,000 km of High-Speed Highway Corridors through a scientific transport study based on GSTN and toll data to support India's transformation into a $30 trillion economy by 2047, it said.

The 88-km six-lane Agra-Gwalior National High-Speed Corridor will be developed on Build-Operate-Transfer (BOT) mode as a fully access-controlled corridor at an estimated cost of ₹4,613 crore. It will reduce the distance between Agra and Gwalior by 7% and the travel time by 50%, thereby bringing in a substantial reduction in logistics cost.

PROJECTS APPROVED

- Six-lane Agra-Gwalior National High-Speed Corridor
- Four-lane Kharagpur-Moregram National High-Speed Corridor
- Six-lane Tharad-Deesa-Mehsana-Ahmedabad National High-Speed Corridor
- Four-lane Ayodhya Ring Road
- Four-lane Section between Pathalgaon and Gumla of Raipur-Ranchi National High-speed Corridor

- Four-lane Northern Guwahati bypass and Widening/Improvement of Existing Guwahati bypass
- Eight-lane elevated Nashik Phata-Khed Corridor near Pune

The four-lane 231 km Kharagpur-Moregram National High-Speed Corridor will be developed in Hybrid Annuity Mode (HAM) at a cost of ₹10,247 crore. The new corridor will provide efficient connectivity for traffic between states such as West Bengal, Odisha, Andhra Pradesh, etc, on one end and northeastern part of the country on the other.

The 214 km six-lane Tharad - Deesa - Mehsana - Ahmedabad National High-Speed Corridor will be developed in BOT mode at a cost of ₹10,534 crore. The corridor will provide connectivity between two key National Corridors in the state of Gujarat, viz Amritsar - Jamnagar Corridor and Delhi - Mumbai Expressway, thereby providing seamless connectivity for the freight vehicles originating from industrial regions of Punjab, Haryana and Rajasthan to the major ports in Maharashtra.

The 68 km four-lane Ayodhya Ring Road will be developed in Hybrid Annuity Mode (HAM) at an estimated cost of ₹3,935 crore. The Ring Road will reduce congestion on National Highways passing through the city, thereby enabling fast movement of pilgrims visiting the Ram Mandir.

The 137-km four-lane section between Pathalgaon and Gumla of Raipur-Ranchi National High-speed Corridor will be developed in HAM with an investment of ₹4,473 crore to enhance connectivity between mining areas in Gumla, Lohardaga, Raigarh, Korba and Dhanbad and industrial and manufacturing zones located in Raipur, Durg, Korba, Bilaspur, Bokaro, and Dhanbad.

The 47 km six-lane Kanpur Ring Road will be developed in Engineering, Procurement and Construction Mode (EPC) at a total capital cost of ₹3,298 crore.

The Ring Road will enable segregation of long-distance traffic on the key National Highways, improving logistics efficiency for freight travelling between Uttar Pradesh, Delhi, Bihar, Jharkhand and West Bengal.

The 121 km four-lane Northern Guwahati Bypass and widening/improvement of existing Guwahati Bypass will be developed in BOT mode with an investment of ₹5,729 crore in three sections.

The 30km eight-lane Elevated Nashik Phata - Khed Corridor near Pune be constructed on BOT at an estimated cost of ₹7,827 crore.

More than 72% of taxpayers opt for new tax regime

I-T returns for FY24 at record 72.8 million

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 2

THE TOTAL NUMBER of Income Tax Returns (ITRs) filed for the assessment year 2024-25 (FY24) till July 31, stood at a record 72.8 million, which is 7.5% more than the corresponding of last year, indicating an improvement in compliance by taxpayers, the finance ministry said in a release.

Of the total ITRs, the ministry said about 72% of the taxpayers, or 52.7 million, opted for the new tax regime, in AY25, while 28% continued to be in the old regime.

The NTR, introduced through the Finance Act 2020, provides for an alternative tax regime, which offers lower tax rates for individuals, but also takes away various exemptions and deductions, which form part of the old tax regime.

Meanwhile, the Income Tax Department received 5.86 million ITRs till 31.07.2024 from first time filers, which is "a fair indication of widening of tax base", said the release.

The filing of ITRs peaked on July 31 (due date for salaried taxpayers and other non-tax audit cases) with over 6.99 million ITRs being filed on a single day. The e-filing portal also observed its highest per hour rate of 507,000 of ITR filing between 07:00 pm to 08:00 pm on July 31, said the release.

Moreover, the release said that over 62.1 million ITRs have been e-verified, of which more than 58.1 million were through Aadhaar based OTP. Of the e-verified ITRs, more than 26.9 million, or about 43%, for the AY25 have been processed till July 31.

The process of e-verification is important to commence the processing of ITRs and to issue refunds, if any.

The ministry said that a lot of emphasis was provided to educate taxpayers about old and new tax regimes. FAQs and educational videos on the same were designed and uploaded on the e-filing portal.

Focused outreach campaigns were carried out on social media to encourage the taxpayers to file their ITRs early. "Such concerted efforts led to fruitful results with increased number of filings," said the release.

The Budget for 2024-25 introduced a slew of changes to the extant income tax slabs under the new tax regime (NTR), besides increasing standard deduction for salaried employees and pensioners, to leave more disposable income in the hands of individuals, and make the new tax regime more acceptable.

As per the changes, the government has hiked the standard deduction for salaried employees to ₹75,000 from ₹50,000 at present; and for pensioners to ₹25,000 from ₹15,000 at present, which is likely to provide relief to about 40 million salaried individuals and pensioners.

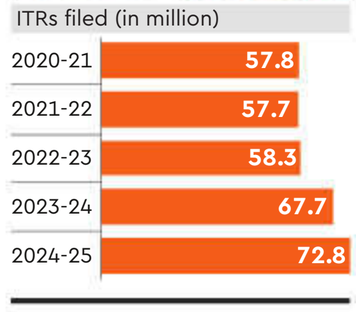

The extant slabs have been revamped, with the 5% tax rate now applicable on annual income between ₹3-7 lakh, as against ₹3-6 lakh applicable currently.

Consequently, the 10% rate shall be applicable on ₹7-10 lakh, as compared to ₹6-9 lakh currently; and 15% will apply on annual income between ₹10-12 lakh, as against ₹9-12 lakh at present.

Kharif sowing at satisfactory pace

SANDIP DAS
New Delhi, August 2

THANKS TO NORMAL monsoon rains in most parts of the country, sowing of kharif crops is progressing at satisfactory pace and is marginally higher than last year.

At 90.46 million hectare (MH) or 80% of the normal sown area, the combined sown area of key crops — paddy, pulses, oilseeds and sugarcane — was up 2.3% on year on Friday, according to latest data by the agriculture ministry.

However, the lead over last year's level came down from 10% recorded three weeks ago. The initial weeks last month this year reported sharper year-on-year growth in sowing partly because of the low base.

Officials said that sowing activities will continue till the middle of September. Due to adequate rainfall in the eastern regions in the last one week, paddy sowing in Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh and Bihar, have picked up pace.

Monsoon is currently in active phase while the overall rainfall this season till Friday has been 4.4% above the benchmark long period average or normal range.

India Meteorological Department has stated that 65% of the 729 odd districts in the country have received rainfall in the range of surplus to normal range.

"While in western region, the monsoon has been favorable, benefiting crops like soyabeans and cotton and in the northern and eastern regions, despite recent rainfall impact on the paddy crops remains a concern," AP Sinha, director, Farlense Group, said.

Till Friday, 2024, the area under paddy at 27.69 MH was up 5% on year. The normal sown area of paddy in kharif period is 40.15 MH.

Sowing of pulses (10.9%) and oilseeds (2.9%) too saw increase because of normal to above-normal monsoon rains in key growing states of Karnataka, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh and Gujarat.

In the southern peninsula, monsoon rainfall has been 26.7% more than the benchmark so far. Going by a five-year average, about 69% of paddy sowing has been completed so far.

Area under pulses such as tur, urad and moong rose sharply at 10.9% to 11.06 MH on year, which is expected to boost pulses production in the 2024-25 season.

NTPC-NPCI JV to start work on ₹50k-cr Raj nuclear plant this year

ARUNIMA BHARADWAJ
New Delhi, August 2

IN A MOVE to expedite the nuclear power capacity addition, NTPC and Nuclear Power Corp of India (NPCI) through its joint venture Anushakti Vidhyut Nigam is likely to invite bids and start construction of its Mahi Banswara nuclear power plant before the end of current fiscal 2024-25.

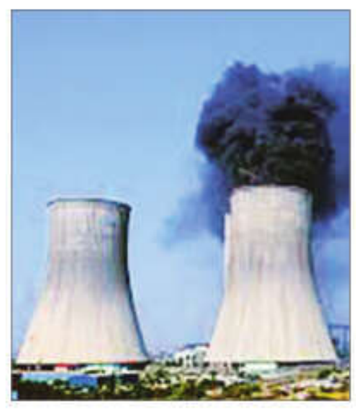

"We plan to lay the foundation stone of the project in the next two to four months and start work by this financial year," said a senior executive of the company who did not wish to be identified. The project cost of the plant with said capacity of 2.8 gigawatt (GW) is expected to be ₹50,000 crore.

Earlier, NTPC had signed a supplementary joint venture agreement with Nuclear Power Corp of India for the development of Mahi Banswara project and another nuclear plant in Chutka in Madhya Pradesh with a capacity of 1.4 GW. However, the Chutka project will now be undertaken by NPCIL independently, the source said.

The company also aims to foray into setting up of Bharat Small Reactors as announced in the Budget. The move comes amidst the company's plan to add 60 GW of green energy capacity by 2032. As per the National Electricity Plan, the country aims to add 19.7 GW of nuclear capacity by 2032.

In nuclear energy, apart from its announced project in Rajasthan in collaboration with the Nuclear Power Corporation of India, the company is now looking to develop nuclear power plants in Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh, and Gujarat among other states and is in the process of identifying potential sites and getting requisite approvals.

NTPC has over the years diversified into renewable energy sources including wind, solar, hydro, nuclear energy, and chemicals like ethanol and methanol. The company is now also planning to set up a pumped storage plant of 1,000 megawatt (MW) capacity in Tamil Nadu.

The company also intends to come out with the IPO of its green arm NTPC Green Energy in November this year aiming to offer 10% ownership through new shares in the firm.

At the time of IPO, NGEL is expected to have 4 GW of operating capacity, with 8 GW under-construction, and another 8 GW under various stages of development, as per the official.

"Our balance sheet is very robust and healthy, and we can raise money easily. However, as a stated objective, we will go for 10% to start with, followed by 15% through OFS (Offer for Sale) and raise about a billion dollars," the company's chairman and managing director Gurdeep Singh had earlier told FE.

The CMD had said that the company plans to raise close to ₹8,000 crore from its initial public offering of NTPC Green Energy. NTPC has also awarded a tender for purchase of 1 million tonne of coal from a commercial mining company for the first time in an attempt to reduce its imports.

RAJESH KUMAR SINGH, SECRETARY, DEPARTMENT FOR PROMOTION OF INDUSTRY AND INTERNAL TRADE

'Faster approval for FDI from China can be considered if it boosts manufacturing'

While speeding up of approvals for Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) from China that is in the interest of domestic manufacturing can be considered, currently there is no proposal to amend the Press Note 3 (PN3), Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT) Secretary, Rajesh Kumar Singh said in an interaction with Ravi Dutta Mishra.

To curb opportunistic takeovers of Indian companies due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the government had amended the FDI policy under PN3 in 2020, which meant that the neighbouring countries, particularly China, could invest in India only after the government's approval. Singh also said that tweaks in some sectoral production-linked incentive (PLI) schemes are being considered. Excerpts:

The Economic Survey suggests that India should attract FDI from China and it is time to change our approach. Your thoughts?

Given the issues with China, we are not going to be able to do a full-scale opening up, but where the proposals are going to add value to our manufacturing ecosystem, it can be considered even under the present regime, which is basically just a government route. It is not automatic. It just goes through the government. So there's nothing which prevents us from, for example, getting an Apple vendor or sub-vendor to come to India if we feel that it is going to help improve our localization ability in that particular area. There's no blanket ban even today.

So does this mean that there will be a relook at PN3?

PN3 as such is not being re-evaluated right now. But within the PN3 provisions, whether that process of approval through the government scrutiny route, if that can be speeded up, can always be seen.

What would be the way forward on the requirement of Chinese technicians?

For the PLI sectors, that has been sorted out, both for beneficiaries as well as for non-beneficiaries. In those sectors, there is now a system where we will provide faster processing for genuine technicians who are required to set up machinery, install and do test runs.

Job creation in high-tech sectors like mobile phone manufacturing is lower than various others. How can PLI schemes for labour-intensive sectors be optimised for job creation?

There is a lot of labour involvement in mobile assembly, particularly female labour. So that's not exactly true, but yes, in general, the labour intensity in mobile phones will probably not be as high as in traditional industries like leather, toys, textiles, etc.

> "SINCE THEY ARE TENDERED OUT BASED ON CONTRACT CONDITIONS, IT IS DIFFICULT TO KEEP CHANGING THAT (CRITERIA FOR INVESTMENTS)

The traditional sectors will have to grow based on India's traditional strengths in those areas. We have reasonably cost-effective labour and we have to combine that with improving their productivity through skilling and upskilling and give them any tariff and non-tariff support that they require to improve their strength.

PLI is not the only way to support your industry. There are other mechanisms such as rationalisation of duties, upskilling, and even the employment-linked incentive scheme, the credit guarantee scheme, general ease of doing business issues and logistics improvement. All of those can also improve your traditional sector.

So PLI per se might not need a tweak?

Tweaks in some sectors are being considered but it is a matter for the cabinet. I can't discuss it.

DPIIT had sought a third-party assessment of various PLIs, including white goods, by the Arun Jaitley National Institute of Financial Management..

That order has already been given to them, but it's a little early to do it. It is more about confirming from the beneficiary that things are on track.

PLI disbursements in FY24 were not as per the expectations. Is that a concern?

A lot of projects are in the gestation period, particularly in steel and even automobiles. The allocations [of funds] are also very large.

But per se, I'm not too concerned, because the design of the scheme is such that people have to perform first and then they will get the incentives.

So in that sense, investment, sales, exports and employment are relatively on track. The intention is not to burn cash. It is to get investments and get things going, and if they meet their criteria, then we provide them with the incentive.

SC rejects pleas for SIT probe into electoral bonds scheme

ANANTHAKRISHNAN G
New Delhi, August 2

OVER FIVE MONTHS after it struck down the electoral bonds scheme, the Supreme Court on Friday dismissed pleas for setting up a Special Investigation Team (SIT) to probe the alleged quid pro quo in the purchase of poll bonds, saying the complaints are based on assumptions that would require it to "embark on a roving inquiry".

A three-judge Bench presided by Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud also said the petitioners had not taken recourse to other available remedies under the law before knocking on its door, and the court's intervention at this stage would be both "premature and inappropriate".

"At the present stage, absent a recourse to the remedies which are available under the law to pursue such grievances, it would both be premature and inappropriate for this court; premature because the intervention of this court under Article 32 of the Constitution must be preceded by the invocation of normal remedies under the law and contingent upon the failure of those remedies; and inappropriate because the intervention of this court at the present stage would postulate that the normal remedies which are available under the law would not be efficacious," said the Bench, which included Justices J B Pardiwala and Manoj Misra.

"Individual grievances of this nature in regard to the presence or absence of quid pro quo would have to be pursued on the basis of the remedies available under the law.

"Likewise, where there is a refusal to investigate or a closure report has been filed, recourse can be taken to appropriate remedies under the law governing criminal procedure or as the case may be under Article 226 of the Constitution," it said.

WHAT THE COURT SAID

- The petitioners had not taken recourse to other available remedies under the law before knocking on its door, and the court's intervention at this stage would be both "premature and inappropriate
- Individual grievances of this nature in regard to the presence or absence of quid pro quo would have to be pursued on the basis of the remedies available under the law
- Likewise, where there is a refusal to investigate or a closure report has been filed, recourse can be taken to appropriate remedies under the law governing criminal procedure

The Bench said the petitions "are founded on two assumptions -- that there would be prima facie an element of quid pro quo where the date of purchase of the electoral bonds and the donation to a political party is in proximity to the award of a contract or change in policy; and that there is an involvement of certain officials of the investigative agencies, as a consequence of which an investigation by the normal process of the law would not be fair or independent".

"We have highlighted the underlying premise of the submissions to indicate that these are assumptions at the present stage and require the court to embark upon a roving inquiry into the purchase of the electoral bonds, the donations which are made to political parties, and the arrangements in the nature of quid pro quo," it said.

The SC said it had entertained petitions "challenging the constitutional validity of the statutory provisions embodied in the electoral scheme (and) the consequent amendments which were made to diverse statutes, since the only remedy for challenging such action lies in the invocation of the power of judicial review".

"Allegations involving criminal wrongdoing, on the other hand, are of a distinct nature where recourse to the jurisdiction of this court under Article 32 should not be taken as a matter of course, particularly in view of the remedies available in law," it said.

The SC also declined the petitioners' pleas to direct the authorities to recover the donations received by political parties through electoral bonds "on the basis that they are proceeds of crime", and to reopen their Income Tax assessments. These "impinge upon the statutory functioning of authorities constituted under the law to make enquiries in that regard," it said.

Mamata for removal of GST on insurance premiums

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 2

WEST BENGAL CHIEF minister Mamata Banerjee has written to finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman requesting withdrawal of GST on life and health insurance premiums, and tweaking the new tax regime so that taxpayers can claim deductions on such premiums.

Banerjee's letter comes days after a similar request was made by the road, transport & highways minister Nitin Gadkari.

At present, premium on life insurance products ranges between 1.8-18%, and on health insurance products, it is 18%.

Banerjee said that the primary objective of life and health insurance is to provide financial security and support during unexpected times.

"However, the imposition of GST on insurance premiums increases the financial burden on common people," she said.

We all know that "health is wealth", and thus, I believe you (FM) will take this request with utter seriousness and take necessary steps to provide relief to encourage more common people to avail these critical services, said Banerjee.

The GST Council is the body, which is mandated by law to recommend changes to the current tax rate on goods and services. The next council meeting is likely to take place this month, during which this issue may be taken up for discussion.

NCLT clears record 269 resolution plans in FY24

THE NATIONAL COMPANY Law Tribunal (NCLT) approved a record 269 resolution plans under the insolvency law in 2023-24, which is 42% higher than the year-ago period, a report by Crisil Ratings said.

Of the 269 cases, 88% are from the backlog of earlier years' admissions.

This has been driven by greater investor interest in turnaround of stressed assets as seen in the resolution plan submissions.

Appointment of new NCLT members has also aided in higher number of resolution cases. However, the moderation in recovery rates and stretched timelines played spoilsport. —PTI

Akasa Air looks to fly into profit zone in another 2 years

SWARAJ BAGGONKAR
Mumbai, August 2

LOW-COST AIRLINE Akasa Air on Friday hinted at becoming profitable in the next two years, with plans for aggressive capacity addition and expansion to new destinations.

The Mumbai-based carrier, which will complete two years of continuous operation next week, has set IndiGo's feat of attaining profitability after four years of flying, as target.

Speaking about the company's plans, chief financial officer Ankur Goel said: "As the RASK (revenue per available seat kilometre) continues to improve and CASK (cost of available seat kilometre) continues to go down, it (turning profitable) will happen very soon and faster than our expectations. IndiGo took four years to become profitable, we won't be very off from that number."

While Akasa has inducted 24 aircraft in two years, IndiGo, which was launched in 2006, had a fleet strength of 25 aircraft in its fourth year.

With 382 planes, IndiGo controls 61% of India's domestic passenger aviation market as of June 2024 end.

A major difference between the two airlines is that Akasa started to fly internationally even before it completed two years in operation, but IndiGo had to wait for completion of five years before flying overseas, a common rule being having a fleet strength of 20 aircraft.

Akasa's parent SNV Aviation had posted a net loss of ₹744 crore in FY23. The FY24 financial data of the company will be available in a few weeks.

"Our FY25 performance will be better than FY24 and our FY26 performance will be better than FY25," Goel said. The airline has plans to induct 202 more aircraft by 2032, giving it an average of one new plane every two weeks.

Akasa Air placed an additional order of 150 Boeing 737 MAX planes in January this year whose deliveries will start in 2027. Its initial order comprised 76 aircraft of the same type. Though Boeing is mired in controversy over its manufacturing processes, which has affected its deliveries, Akasa is confident of getting its ordered aircraft on time.

"We will grow our capacity by 50% this year and by 50% next year as well. Our per unit productivity will improve. We are doing better than the financial road map we had aimed for," the CFO said.

While capacity growth is linked directly with the induction of new aircraft, sweating of assets more than their existing levels will also add to sprucing up capacity levels, the company said.

As per data from the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA), Akasa was the sixth-largest airline by market share at 4.6% in the six months ended June. It has beat SpiceJet, which has a share of 4.8%, for the fifth spot several times in the recent past.

Goel also said that the airline is able to infuse working capital from the funds generated by itself and does not need to raise funds from external sources. "No further equity infusion has taken place in the company. We continue to have whatever we had in the beginning," he said.

Q1 PERFORMANCE REPORT

Britannia profit up 11%, misses Street estimates

Modest revenue growth driven by rural areas

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, August 2

BRITANNIA INDUSTRIES ON Friday reported lower-than-expected June quarter profit amid commodity inflation concerns and a challenging business environment, notably in urban areas.

The packaged foods maker saw its Q1 profit rise 10.5% year-on-year to ₹506 crore, against a Bloomberg consensus estimate of ₹528 crore.

The topline for the quarter rose 6% y-o-y to ₹4,250 crore, nearly in line with the Bloomberg consensus estimates of ₹4,178 crore.

The company's earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (Ebitda) rose 9.4% versus last year to ₹754 crore, while Ebitda margins increased 50 basis points to 17.7% in Q1 versus 17.2% last year.

Britannia managing director Varun Berry said the modest revenue growth in Q1 was driven by high single-digit volume growth, led by rural areas.

Market researchers such as Kantar and NielsenIQ have said that rural markets are tracking ahead of urban areas for the second quarter in a row in the April-June period, after first marching ahead of urban areas in the March quarter.

"We come out of a challenging financial year (FY24) that witnessed a consumption slowdown. Our performance in the June quarter (of FY25) reflects the agile approach to a dynamic market environment and diligent market practices," Berry said, adding that the rural market share grew at a faster clip than urban market share in Q1.

On the cost and profitability front, the company said it remained vigilant of commodity price fluctuations and the evolving geopolitical landscape. "Our cost efficiency programme continues to yield operational savings, ensuring improved operating margins," he said.

Berry said the company was leveraging modern trade and e-commerce channels in urban areas to drive sales growth.

He added that the company had introduced new variants in biscuits such as a Pure Magic Stars and Golmaal variant during the June quarter, which contributed to heightened consumer excitement and strengthened its brand franchise in biscuits.

Hindustan Zinc profit rises 19% to ₹2,345 cr

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, August 2

HINDUSTAN ZINC (HZL), a Vedanta group company, on Friday reported a 19.3% rise in consolidated net profit to ₹2,345 crore for June quarter FY25 due to higher Ebitda. The company had posted a net profit of ₹1,964 crore for the year-ago period.

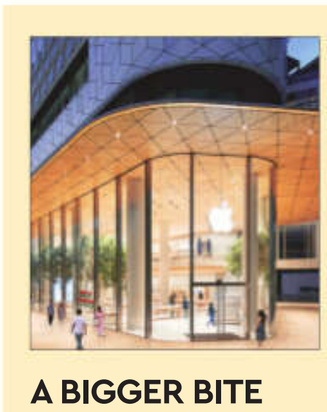

Income rose to ₹8,398 crore from ₹7,564 crore in the year-ago period, HZL said in a filing to BSE.

Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortisation (Ebitda) rose 17% to ₹3,946 crore from ₹3,359 crore in the year-ago period. Revenue from operations was ₹8,130 crore, up 12% y-o-y on account of better metal volume and metal and silver prices, further supported by a strong dollar and partly offset by lower silver volume, the company said.

The mined metal production in the quarter was 263,000 tonne, up 2% y-o-y on account of improved mined metal grades. The refined metal production recorded the highest ever first quarter production at 262,000 tonne, up 1%.

Apple sees record India revenue; Mac sales strong

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 2

A BIGGER BITE

- Robust revenue growth attributed to iPhone sales, driven largely by online channels, and also sales of Macbooks
- Apple recorded strong double-digit growth in India for 8th consecutive quarter in Jan-Mar
- Best-performing iPhone models in June quarter were iPhone 15 series, iPhone 14 series, & iPhone, according to CMR data

APPLE CEO TIM COOK on Friday said the April-June quarter revenue in India was a new record for the tech giant. The revenue growth can be attributed to iPhone sales, driven largely by online channels during the quarter, and also strong sales of Macbooks this time, according to analysts.

The company did not share any specific numbers. Till last quarter, Apple recorded a strong double-digit growth in the country for the eighth consecutive quarter.

"We also set quarterly revenue records in more than two dozen countries and regions, including Canada, Mexico, France, Germany, the UK, India, Indonesia, the Philippines, and Thailand," Cook said at the post-earnings call with analysts.

Based on the premiumisation trend and the company's increasing presence in tier-2 and tier-3 cities, Counterpoint expects Apple's revenue to increase 20% to $9.5 billion in 2024, largely led by iPhones.

The research firm expects the company's non-smartphone revenue to grow 14% y-o-y to $1.3 billion in 2024. In 2023, iPhone shipments to retail outlets or carriers in India crossed 10 million units. A boost in sales was also aided by the opening of two flagship stores in Delhi and Mumbai last year.

On Macbooks, Apple saw strong performance in emerging markets, with June quarter records for Mac in Latin America, India, and South Asia, said Luca Maestri, CFO of Apple.

Globally, Apple recorded a revenue growth of 5% y-o-y to $85.8 billion during the quarter. The growth was led by iPad sales, services business uptake, Macbooks, and the iPhone 15 series.

According to CyberMedia Research (CMR), Apple's iPhone shipments to distributors fell 14% year-on-year in the April-June quarter. It can be attributed to an increase in competition in the premium segment, seasonality factors, and heatwaves that affected the footfalls at offline stores.

Sales from the online channels, however, were strong, analysts said. Sequentially, the shipments fell 19% during the quarter.

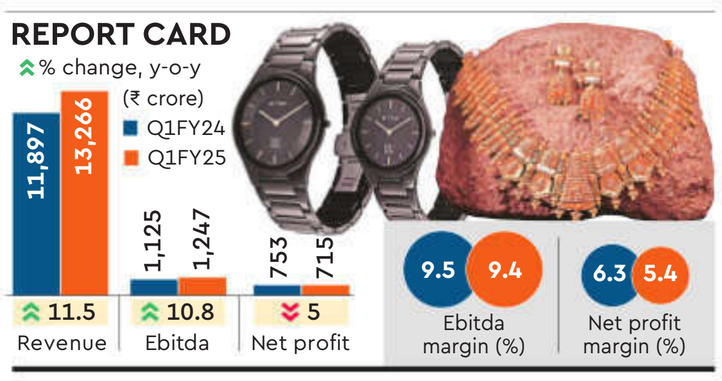

iPhones are manufactured in India through its contract manufacturers — Foxconn, Pegatron and Tata-owned Wistron. These firms are beneficiaries of the production-linked incentive scheme for smartphones.

For iPhones, the best-performing models in the April-June quarter were iPhone 15 series with a 58% market share, iPhone 14 series with 36% share and iPhone 13 series with a 6% market share, according to CMR. iPad shipments rose 47% y-o-y and 91% sequentially in April-June, CMR said.

In FY24, the company produced smartphones worth $14 billion, double of that in FY23. One in seven iPhones in the world are now assembled in India.

Tepid jewellery demand: Titan profit falls 5%

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, August 2

TATA GROUP-OWNED Titan on Friday posted a 5% drop in its consolidated net profit for the June quarter, missing analysts' estimates.

The jewellery and watch maker's consolidated net profit fell to ₹715 crore in Q1, from ₹753 crore clocked during the same period last year. Analysts tracked by Bloomberg had set a consensus estimate of ₹797 crore.

Consolidated revenue rose 11.5% to ₹13,266 crore in Q1 against ₹11,897 crore in the year-ago period. Bloomberg analysts had forecast a revenue of ₹12,642.7 crore. Earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (Ebitda) was up 11% to ₹1,247 crore versus ₹1,125 crore last year. This was in line with the Bloomberg consensus estimate of ₹1,242 crore. The margin at 9.4% in Q1 was below estimates. Q1 margins contracted by 10 basis points versus last year.

Titan's jewellery segment, which gives it over 80% of its topline, saw a 9% y-o-y rise in revenue to ₹9,879 crore, with India business growing by 8%. Jewellery demand remained tepid in Q1 due to high gold prices, though the company did see a 20% retail growth during Akshaya Tritiya in May. Ebit was approximately ₹1,103 crore with a margin of 11.2%.

Internationally, Tanishq added a new store in Muscat, Oman, bringing the total to 17 stores. Domestically, Tanishq opened 11 new stores, Mia added 19, and Zoya opened three new stores, the company said.

The watches and wearables segment saw ₹1,021 crore in revenue, up 15% y-o-y, with the domestic business growing by 14%. The eyecare segment reported ₹209 crore in revenue, a 3% y-o-y rise.

Titan Eye+'s affordable fashion products drove 10% volume growth. The division launched new products like 'Memory Flex', 'Titan Initia Progressive', 'MyoSlo', and 'High On Fashion' sunglasses. Additionally, three new Titan Eye+ stores were opened, including a new 'Runway' store for premium sunglasses in Bengaluru.

● ASHU SHINGHAL, MANAGING DIRECTOR, MAHANAGAR GAS

'Lower APM gas allocation could raise procurement cost'

Mahanagar Gas (MGL) expects its earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortisation (Ebitda) per standard cubic metre (scm) to decline marginally to ₹10-12 in the current fiscal from ₹13.5 in FY24 due to higher cost of gas, managing director Ashu Shinghal told Arunima Bharadwaj in an interview. However, the company's PNG and CNG volumes are estimated to grow at robust rates of 6% and 7%, respectively, on year. MGL is also looking for opportunities to diversify its business in the electric vehicle segment and retail LNG, he said. Excerpts:

What kind of profitability do you expect in FY25?
Last year, we had a ₹13.5 Ebidta per scm. This year, we expect it to be in the range of ₹10-₹12.

How do you see the growth in your volumes in the CNG and PNG segments?
In the main segment of PNG, we are adding around 3,3000 connections every year. So, that is a steady segment, and may be 5-6% growth will be achieved. In the CNG segment, we are adding around 60 stations in Mahanagar gas and around 30 stations in our subsidiary Unison Enviro. So, more OEM (original equipment manufacturers) models and infrastructure are being built. We have also launched certain schemes, so CNG volumes can be slightly better than PNG, with around 7% or 7.5% growth.

Kindly elaborate on the company's diversification strategy...
We have signed an MoU with Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation for a compressed biogas plant and it will take another one-and-a-half years to get commissioned. We are in the process of finalising the land acquisition through the lease process. We have taken some equity in electric vehicles (EVs) manufacturer 3EV, and want to see how the sector behaves. We have opened a joint venture company with Baidyanath LNG for setting up retail LNG outlets for filling of energy heavy truck vehicles. We expect that it will put up around five stations this year, and going forward, we will take a call (on further investments) on the basis of potential in terms of customer base and profitability.

What are the other JV initiatives?
We have a joint venture with majority 74% equity for a compressed biogas unit (Unison Enviro). We want to get more comfortable with the execution of the project. We will first see that the projects which we have in hand are executed, and then we may also explore other projects.

What is the company's capex target for FY25? How do you plan to fund it?
We are targeting ₹800-crore investments for MGL and some ₹200 crore in Unison Enviro. Mostly, the investments are in the PNG and CNG segments as well as pipeline and operation and maintenance. Last year, we had incurred a capex of around ₹870 crore (₹760 crore for MGL and ₹100 crore for UEPL).

"WE ARE TARGETING ₹800-CR INVESTMENTS FOR MGL AND ₹200 CR IN UNISON ENVIRO. THE INVESTMENTS ARE MOSTLY IN THE PNG AND CNG SEGMENTS AS WELL AS PIPELINE & OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE

The capex pace will continue for a few years. And funding of the capex will be through internal generation only. We have counted our balance sheet to fund through internal generation as of now.

MGL recently hiked gas prices citing higher cost of imported gas. How do you see this impacting the bottomline?
The APM allocation has come down, therefore we were constrained to increase our prices. The LNG prices have also gone up. And we have raised our CNG prices by ₹1.5, which is still the cheapest in the country. So, despite selling the cheapest CNG, our margins are in a comfortable range. That gives us some legroom to see how the market behaves, the volumes grow, and evaluate the pace of vehicles getting converted.

If APM goes further down, our procurement cost will increase. But it also has to be seen how the HPHT (high pressure high temperature) gas is priced or how the LNG is getting priced. We will make an overall portfolio of procurement of gas, and then see how much of the price rise we can absorb, or pass on. If LNG prices go down, there can be a reduction of CNG prices too. That said, this is the first price rise in the last one-and-a-half year or so. We will wait and watch how LNG prices unfold and take a call.

What is your current mix of gas procurement?
We have a mix of Henry Hub, LNG, HPHT gasses in our portfolio to see that the vagaries of the market do not impact our portfolio to a great extent. And we have consciously taken a call to keep a minimum dependence on spot gas, because spot gas keeps on fluctuating a great deal whereas Henry Hub is better in terms of stability. If we talk about the PNG and CNG segments, around 65% of gas is coming from APM, other is being met through HPHT and other places. So, APM, followed by 15-20% HPHT and 15-20%, is met through LNG imports.

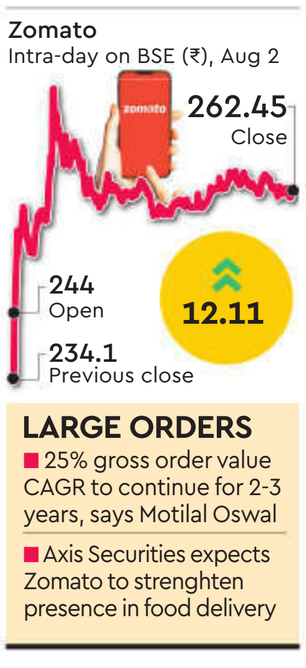

Zomato food delivery biz stable: Analysts

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 2

WITH ZOMATO REPORTING another quarter of strong earnings during the April-June period, analysts believe that its food delivery business is now on a firm footing.

According Motilal Oswal, the gross order value (GOV) CAGR of 25% year-on-year (y-o-y) would continue for next 2-3 years, largely driven by increasing ordering frequency from its more mature cohort, as well as a steady conversion of its monthly "active" users to monthly transacting users.

Zomato's shares on Friday closed up 12.11% at ₹262.45 on the BSE on the back of the strong earnings, with all segments registering healthy growth. The company reported a multi-fold rise in its net profit at ₹253 crore, up 12,550% on an y-o-y basis. Its revenue from operations surged 75% y-o-y to ₹4,206 crore. Q1 EARNINGS REPORT

NIIT's profit down 30% to ₹7.8 crore

PADMINI DHRUVARAJ
Bengaluru, August 2

SKILLS AND TALENT development firm NIIT on Friday reported a net profit of ₹7.8 crore in the April-June quarter, a fall of 30% compared with the preceding quarter. Revenues during the period was up 11% on q-o-q basis to ₹82.5 crore.

"This progress stems from growth in the BFSI sector and Indian enterprises and our increased penetration across GCCs and Tier II GSIs," said Vijay K Thadani, vice-chairman & managing director.

The firm's revenue from technology-based jobs increased 13% in Q1. Further, the management said it is seeing hiring demand coming back from the technology companies. "The company has been making investments to expand its capability and reach. With green shoots visible in IT hiring, we expect these investments to further accelerate growth for the company," Thadani said.

With the widespread hiring freezes in the IT sector during FY24 hitting talent consulting firms such as NIIT, the return of hiring from major domestic IT firms like Tata Consultancy Services, Infosys, and Wipro is a positive sign. These companies have indicated plans to hire freshers in FY25, which is expected to benefit NIIT.

The company also discussed the positive trends in technology programmes, noting the return of hiring in large global systems integrator and increased spending by global capability centres.

Trai to monitor telcos' service quality monthly

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 2

AMID INCREASE IN 5G services across the country and expansion of networks, the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (Trai) on Friday said the monitoring of service quality of telecom operators will now be done monthly rather than on quarterly basis.

The same has been done to enable timely redressal of network issues by the service providers, Trai said, in the revised quality of service (QoS) standards for access and broadband service. For smooth transition to monthly reporting, service providers have been given 6 months' time from the effective date of regulation (October 1).

Revised QoS norms by Trai assume significance given the change in technology landscape of telecom networks to move towards converged networks, over the years. Besides, telcos have onboarded close to 200 million users on their 5G networks. However, there were no benchmarks to measure the performance of 5G and its network quality till now. Lately, 5G users were facing a host of issues such as poor call quality, call muting, voice muffling, not being able to connect to 5G despite active phone settings, and no difference in speeds.

Trai said the QoS standards set will achieve the delivery of high-quality service to consumers. As part of the new norms, Trai has mandated service providers to display technology (2G/3G/4G/5G) wise mobile coverage maps on their website, to enable consumers to make informed decisions.

Besides, to bring transparency in QoS performance reporting, the service providers have been mandated to publish QoS performance, against prescribed parameters, on their website.

TO REDUCE SYSTEMIC RISKS AROUND F&O TRADING

Intent is to curb expiry day frenzy, says Sebi's Narayan

There's a demand and supply mismatch in securities, says official

VIVEK KUMAR M
Mumbai, August 2

THE TRADING FRENZY in index options near expiry days resembles a slot machine in a casino with traders hoping to make big bucks from the naturally lower premiums on contracts, said Ananth Narayan, whole-time member, Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi).

His comments come at a time when the regulator has been consistently warning about the risks of retail investors increasingly trading in futures and options (F&O) market. Earlier this week, Sebi even issued a consultation paper aimed at increasing minimum contract value and margins in F&O.

"Trading in index options — specifically close to expiry — starts to resemble a slot machine in a casino, with individuals putting coins into the machine, hoping to hit the jackpot," Narayan said, addressing a session at FICCI Annual Capital Markets Conference.

ANANTH NARAYAN, WHOLE-TIME MEMBER, SEBI

TRADING IN INDEX OPTIONS RESEMBLES A SLOT MACHINE IN A CASINO, WITH INDIVIDUALS HOPING TO HIT THE JACKPOT

THE FRENZIED HYPERACTIVITY IN INDEX OPTIONS ON EXPIRY DAY HAS LITTLE DISCERNABLE BENEFITS

Narayan clarified that Sebi intends to specifically curb this expiry day frenzy in options trading and to reduce the systemic risks around it.

Over the last few years, the turnover in F&O has jumped sharply with young individual investors increasing their participation. Narayan highlighted that compared to 2 times increase in the cash market annual turnover between FY20 and FY24, index options annual turnover on a premium basis has risen by over 12 times.

More importantly, Narayan said the expert working group (EWG) for F&O and the securities market advisory committee (SMAC) will debate other structural issues relating to the derivatives markets, apart from the norms that would be formed after the ongoing consultation.

These longer-term discussions will be on "ensuring that we are measuring and monitoring risks accurately, and there is some balance and connect between underlying cash and derivative markets", he said.

Narayan highlighted that the proliferation of weekly expiries for index option contracts, to a stage where every day of the week has an index option expiry, has clearly had a role to play in abetting the derivatives trading frenzy.

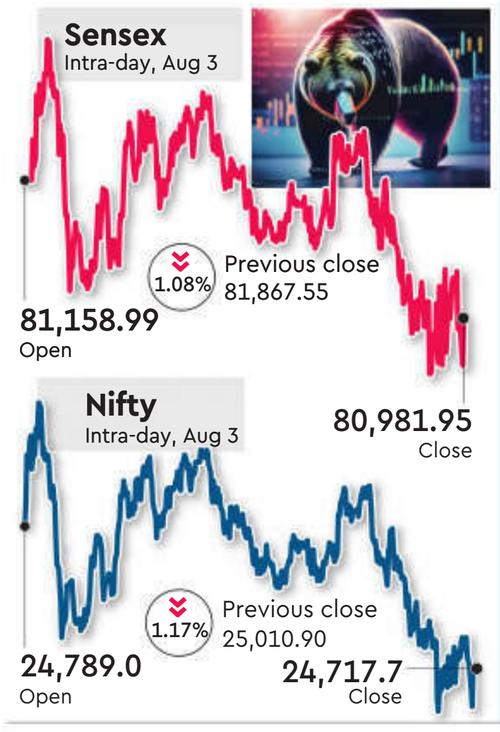

Speaking in a separate session at the conference, NSE chief executive officer Ashish Chauhan also urged small investors to stop trading in F&O.

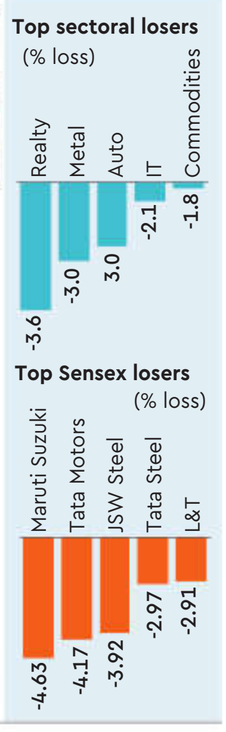

Demand-supply mismatch

The Sebi whole-time member also pointed out the prolonged mismatch in demand and supply of securities in the market, and its potential consequences.

"Prolonged mismatch of this nature can leave us with more of asset price inflation, rather than capital formation. Anecdotally, the price of over 30% of midcap and small stocks have more than tripled over the last 3 years," Narayan said.

MARKETS END 5-DAY WINNING RUN

Equities take a big tumble

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, August 2

INDIAN EQUITIES TOOK a big tumble on Friday as investors chose to take risk off the table following a big sell-off in the US markets following weak economic data. Both benchmark indices — Nifty and Sensex — ended their winning 5-day run.

The Sensex fell 1.08% to end at 80,981.95, logging losses for the first time in six sessions. During the day, it plummeted 998.64 points or 1.21% to hit an intra-day low of 80,868.91.

The broader Nifty gave up 1.17% to close the day at 24,717.7 points. Both gauges ended an eight-week winning run, their longest in 14 years. The rupee ended Friday's session at a record low of 83.75 against the dollar. Following the global sell-off on Thursday, markets in Asia also were weaker on Friday with the MSCI Asia ex-Japan index losing 2.5%.

Job growth in the US slowed more than expected in July, while the unemployment rate rose to 4.3%. This could mean the labour market is deteriorating and potentially making the economy vulnerable to a slowdown.

Although the US Federal Reserve has hinted it might cut policy rates as soon as September, the sentiment in the markets globally took a bit of a hit as investors are apprehensive the economic outlook for the US could be worsening.

Back home, local liquidity has been driving up stocks with retail investors continuing to park their savings in equity-oriented mutual fund schemes. While earnings season has been lacklustre with many companies missing estimates, liquidity has kept stocks afloat. MF fund managers are sitting on a fair amount of cash.

On Friday, the markets were dragged down by IT stocks. Automobile stocks also fell with the auto index losing nearly 3% after analysts expressed concerns on the subdued performance of passenger vehicles and the medium-heavy commercial vehicle segments.

ALL IN A DAY

- Benchmark indices — Sensex and Nifty — broke 5-day winning streak
- On a weekly basis also, the equities broke the 8-week-long winning run
- Investors' wealth eroded by ₹4.46 trillion to ₹457.2 trillion

Sebi may ease norms for registered investment advisors next week

AKSHATA GORDE
Mumbai, August 2

THE SECURITIES AND Exchange Board of India (Sebi) will issue a consultation paper on Monday or Tuesday to relax and rationalise norms for registered investment advisors (RIAs) and research analysts (RAs), whole-time member Kamlesh Varshney said on Friday.

The move comes at a time when Sebi has been trying to contain the activities of unregulated financial influencers, better known as finfluencers. The Sebi board recently approved a slew of measures, including the restriction on association of regulated entities with finfluencers, and introduction of a separate payment platform for RIAs and RAs.

"The rationalisation measures to be included in the consultation paper have been deliberated internally. The consultation paper is almost ready. Only we need to dot the Is and cross the Ts," Varshney said at a FICCI conference on capital markets.

He said that they have taken into consideration all the suggestions made by the industry regarding qualification, net worth, experience, and certification requirements, among others. Whatever hurdles investment advisors face can be removed or rationalised, Varshney said.

While he did not spell out details of these relaxations, sources told FE that Sebi will likely eliminate the triennial certification mandate, increase the 150-client cap and do away with experience pre-requisites for hiring assistants.

RIAs currently need to renew their NISM certification every three years by passing an exam, a requirement that might soon be removed. Another barrier is the requirement for persons associated with investment advice (PAIA) to have at least two years of experience, which is expected to be eliminated.

A major challenge is the costly transition to a partnership firm or company after reaching 150 clients, particularly burdensome for new RIAs with low-paying clients. This limit might increase to 300 clients or even higher. RIAs have also requested Sebi to lower the high ₹50 lakh net-worth requirement for partnerships and companies.

Senior Sebi officials in the recent past have said such challenges have led to the insatiable rise in finfluencers as it is considered an easier route than becoming an RIA. There are over 1,300 RIAs but only 300 are members of the association of RIAs (ARIA), according to estimates.

Varshney also said that Sebi has been working with social media platforms over the past few months to catch these unregulated advisors and also called for measures to increase investor awareness.

COMING UP

- To issue a consultation paper on Monday or Tuesday to ease norms for registered investment advisors and research analysts
- Sebi has been trying to contain the activities of unregulated finfluencers
- It recently restricted the association of regulated entities with finfluencers
- Sebi recently introduced a separate payment platform for RIAs and RAs too

RCap: Lenders warn of action, IIHL says deposited ₹2,750 cr

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, August 2

LENDERS OF DEBT-RIDDEN Reliance Capital (RCap) have warned IIHL of remedial action for delay in payment of front money, even as the Hinduja Group arm denied charges, saying it has already deposited ₹2,750 crore in compliance with the NCLT order. IndusInd International Holdings (IIHL) has deposited the requisite capital infusion amount in its bank accounts towards its equity contribution, the Hinduja Group firm said in a statement.

"An affidavit to this effect along with bank certificates has been filed with NCLT on July 31. A copy of which has been served to the committee of creditors (CoC) and the administrator. The affidavit also clarifies that IIHL has obtained binding commitment letters and executed term sheets for ₹7,300 crore," it said.

It is pertinent to note that the original order approving the resolution plan dated February 27 categorically required the CoC and the administrator to complete certain actions and conditions for which a meeting was held with them on July 29, it said, adding, these actions and compliances as required are yet to be fulfilled. IIHL, the successful bidder, has been given an extension till August 10 subject to certain conditions by the NCLT, Mumbai.

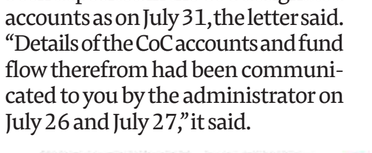

As per the NCLT's July 23 order, the successful bidder had to comply with certain conditions by July 31. These conditions included depositing ₹250 crore as initial equity amount in a domestic escrow account and ₹2,500 crore in an offshore escrow account of the CoC by July 31.

IIHL failed to meet the deadline of July 31. On August 1, Vistra ITCL, the trusteeship acting on behalf of the CoC, wrote a letter to IIHL that it had defaulted on the NCLT order, now lenders reserve their rights and remedies as per the resolution plan submitted by it. The monies have not been deposited in the CoC designated accounts as on July 31, the letter said. "Details of the CoC accounts and fund flow therefrom had been communicated to you by the administrator on July 26 and July 27," it said.

As per the order, IIHL also had to submit to the monitoring committee copies of the binding executed term sheets for the loan amount of ₹7,300 crore. The executed term sheets have also not been provided to the monitoring committee, the letter noted.

"In view of the default of the NCLT order by you, the rights and remedies of the CoC, in law and equity as well as under the request for resolution plan and documents in relation thereto, are expressly reserved. No delay, indulgence, act or inaction on the part of CoC shall be construed as a waiver of the aforementioned rights and remedies unless expressly communicated in writing by the CoC," it said.

- IIHL had to comply with certain conditions by July 31
- IIHL did not deposit the requisite capital infusion amount

Rupee at record low of 83.75

JASPREET KALRA
Mumbai, August 2

THE RUPEE SLIPPED to a record low on Friday as local stocks declined, tracking a global equity sell-off caused by concerns of a slowdown in the US and rising geopolitical tensions in West Asia.

The rupee closed down 0.04% at 83.75 against the dollar on Friday, its weakest closing level, after hitting an all-time low of 83.7525 earlier in the session. The currency was nearly flat week-on-week.

The Reserve Bank of India likely sold dollars via state-run banks to prevent a sharper decline, traders said, as the rupee was pressured by likely outflows from local equities.

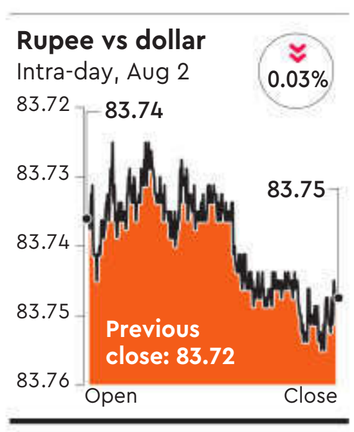

The rupee is expected to continue depreciating gradually and trade in a 83.57-83.77 range with RBI interventions limiting volatility, said Dilip Parmar, a foreign exchange research analyst at HDFC Securities.

The dollex was down over 0.2% at 104.1 while most Asian currencies gained between 0.1% to 1.6%.

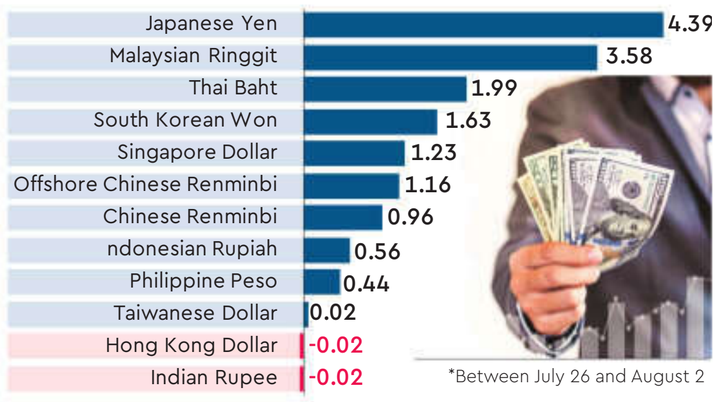

The rupee has weakened about 0.7% since the surprise election outcome on June 4, even though equity and debt markets have drawn more than $10 billion in inflows on expectations of economic growth and lower fiscal deficit. It has slipped to record lows in seven of the last 10 sessions, including Friday.

The RBI has chosen to buy dollars from the market to prevent an appreciation in the rupee, which traders believe is to correct an overvaluation of the currency's real effective exchange rate.

FORECASTS Q3 REVENUE BELOW MARKET ESTIMATES

Intel to cut 17k jobs, defer dividend; shares plummet

ARSHEEYA BAJWA
August 2

INTEL SAID ON Thursday it would cut more than 15% of its workforce, some 17,500 people, and suspend its dividend starting in the fourth quarter as the chipmaker pursues a turnaround focused on its money-losing manufacturing business.

It also forecast third-quarter revenue below market estimates, grappling with a pullback in spending on traditional data center semiconductors and a focus on AI chips, where it lags rivals.

Shares of Santa Clara, California-based Intel slumped 20% in extended trade, setting the chipmaker up to lose more than $24 billion in market value. The stock had closed down 7% on Thursday, in tandem with a plunge in US chip stocks after a conservative forecast from Arm Holdings on Wednesday.

The results did not rock the broader chip industry. AI powerhouse Nvidia and smaller rival AMD ticked up after hours, underscoring how well-positioned they were to take advantage of the AI boom, and Intel's relative disadvantage."I need less people at headquarters, more people in the field, supporting customers," CEO Pat Gelsinger told Reuters in an interview, talking about the job cuts. On the dividend suspension, he said: "Our objective is to ... pay a competitive dividend over time, but right now, focusing on the balance sheet, deleveraging."

Intel, which employed 116,500 people as of June 29, excluding some subsidiaries, said the majority of the job cuts would be completed by the end of 2024. In April, it declared a quarterly dividend of 12.5 cents per share.

Intel is in the middle of a turnaround plan, focused on developing advanced AI processors and building-out its for-hire manufacturing capabilities, as it aims to recoup the technological edge it lost to Taiwan's TSMC.

The push to energise that contracting foundry business under Gelsinger has increased Intel's costs and pressured profit margins. More recently, the chipmaker has said it will cut costs.

On Thursday, Intel announced it would cut operating expenses and reduce capital expenditure by more than $10 billion in 2025, more than it initially planned. The company had cash and cash equivalents of $11.29 billion, and total current liabilities of about $32 billion, as of June 29. REUTERS

Amazon online sales growth slows in Q2

GREG BENSINGER & DEBORAH MARY SOPHIA
August 2

AMAZON.COM REPORTED slowing online sales growth in the second quarter and said cautious consumers were seeking out cheaper options for purchases, sending shares down nearly 8%.

The after-hours stock drop came despite second-quarter profit and cloud computing sales that beat analyst estimates. Amazon shares had gained over 20% this year through the session close on Thursday, and investors were disappointed that the company forecast current-quarter sales below Wall Street estimates.

Amazon's CFO, Brian Olsavsky, told reporters on a call that consumers "are continuing to be cautious with their spending trading down."

He added, "They are looking for deals," and noted that lower priced products were selling briskly.

CEO Andy Jassy agreed, adding on a call with analysts that customers were trading down on price when they could. Amazon's online retail business has faced heightened competition from budget retailers like Temu and Shein, which sell a wide variety of goods at bargain-basement prices direct from China.

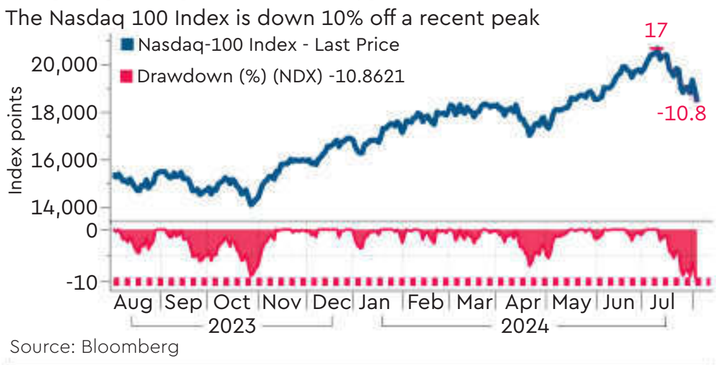

The comments echoed similar ones from Oreo-maker Mondelez , PepsiCo and Kraft, which in recent days highlighted challenges facing American consumers.

Amazon's online stores sales rose 5% in the second quarter to $55.4 billion, compared with growth of 7% in the first quarter.

One analyst said slowing retail sales growth was driving the post-market shares sell-off. REUTERS

US economy fears send investors to safe havens

TECH SELLOFF DEEPENS

New York/London, August 2

WEAK US DATA reaffirmed investor worries on Friday, fueling a sell-off in global equities and pressuring US Treasury yields to multi-month lows.

Richly valued technology firms took much of the pain, and an index of European bank stocks headed for its largest weekly decline in 17 months on soft earnings.

The VIX stock market volatility measure, dubbed Wall Street's fear gauge, surged.

Investors turned to safe havens, including government debt and gold, as Friday's US jobs report flagged unexpected economic weakness.

Markets were already rattled by downbeat earnings updates from Amazon and Intel and Thursday's softer-than-expected US factory activity survey and the monthly US non-farm payrolls report, which showed job growth slumped to 114,000 new hires in July from 179,000 in June.

The weak data raised expectations of multiple rate cuts by the Federal Reserve this year, which just this week opted to keep rates unchanged.

"The jobs data are signaling substantial further progress that the Federal Reserve made a policy error by not reducing the Fed Funds rate this week," said Jamie Cox, managing partner for Harris Financial Group in Richmond, Virginia.

"It's very possible the Fed alters its inter-meeting communications on the balance of risks to remove all doubt all a September rate cut."

With thin summer trading likely exaggerating moves, a slump that began in Asia with a 5.8% drop for Japan's Nikkei, its biggest daily fall since March 2020 during the Covid-19 crisis, rippled through Europe and headed for Wall Street.

MSCI's gauge of stocks across the globe fell 2.26% to 785.26.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average fell 569.93 points, or 1.41%, to 39,778.04, the S&P 500 lost 119.44 points, or 2.19%, to 5,327.24 and the Nasdaq Composite lost 560.79 points, or 3.26%, to 16,633.36.

The STOXX 600 index fell 2.42%, while Europe's broad FTSEurofirst 300 index fell 49.58 points, or 2.44%. Emerging market stocks fell 23.92 points, or 2.20%, to 1,063.88. MSCI's broadest index of Asia-Pacific shares outside Japan closed 2.27% lower 2.27%, at 554.93.

Japan's Nikkei fell 2,216.63 points, or 5.81%, to 35,909.70. REUTERS

Unemployment rate in US hits 4.3% as job growth slows

LUCIA MUTIKANI
Washington, August 2

THE US UNEMPLOYMENT rate jumped to near a three-year high of 4.3% in July amid a significant slowdown in hiring, heightening fears the labour market was deteriorating and potentially making the economy vulnerable to a recession.

The increase in the unemployment rate from 4.1% in June marked the fourth straight monthly increase, the US Labor Department reported on Friday. It has risen from a five-decade low of 3.4% in April 2023. The labour market is slowing, driven by weak hiring, rather than layoffs, as the Federal Reserve's interest rate hikes in 2022 and 2023 weigh on demand.

The employment report also showed the increase in annual wages last month was the smallest in more than three years, effectively sealing the case for the US central bank to cut interest rates in September.

"The latest snapshot of the labour market is consistent with a slowdown, not necessarily a recession," said Jeffrey Roach, chief economist at LPL Financial.

"However, early warning signs suggest further weakness. If the labour market weakens further, markets will likely price in three cuts this year."

Nonfarm payrolls increased by 114,000 jobs last month after rising by a downwardly revised 179,000 in June, the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said. Economists polled by Reuters had forecast payrolls would advance by 175,000 jobs after a previously reported gain of 206,000 in June.

Estimates ranged from 70,000 to 225,000. REUTERS

SoftBank drop wipes $2.6 bn off Masayoshi Son's wealth

TOM MALONEY
August 2

A TWO-DAY wipeout in shares of SoftBank Group has cut $2.6 billion off the fortune of its founder Masayoshi Son, as the tech investor is buffeted by the Bank of Japan's earlier-than-expected interest-rate hike.

Shares were down 8% on Friday in Tokyo. Over two days, the technology conglomerate is down roughly 14%. Even after the recent plunge, Son is up about $2.7 billion from the $11.3 billion he began the year with, according to the Bloomberg Billionaires Index.

The billionaire has emerged as one of the hardest hit tycoons in the swift reversal of Japanese stocks.

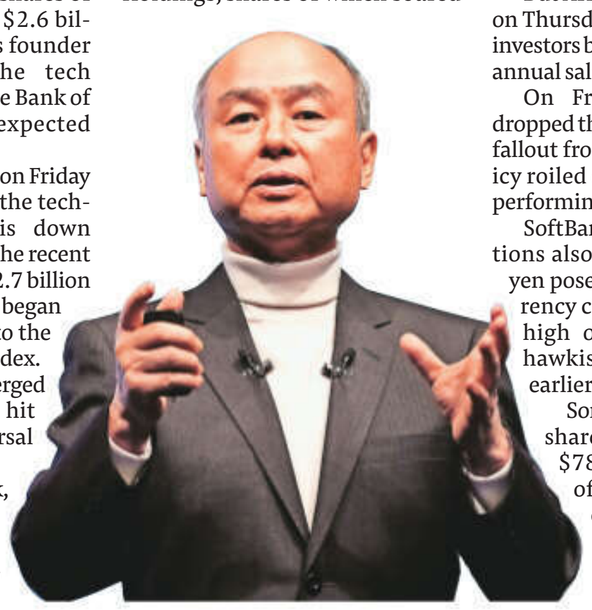

Tokyo-based SoftBank, among the world's biggest tech investors, had been up 46% through the end of July. It owns most of chipmaker Arm Holdings, shares of which soared this year on expectations it can profit from enthusiasm for artificial intelligence.

But Arm's shares plunged 16% on Thursday when it disappointed investors by reaffirming an existing annual sales forecast.

On Friday, Japanese shares dropped the most since 2016 as the fallout from tighter monetary policy roiled one of the world's best-performing markets.

SoftBank's international operations also mean a strengthening yen poses some risk. Japan's currency climbed to a four-month high on Thursday following hawkish signals from the BOJ earlier in the week.

Son, 66, is SoftBank's largest shareholder in the roughly $78 billion giant, but much of his stake is pledged as collateral against loans with various financial institutions. BLOOMBERG

2 'gaganyatris' picked for Indo-US mission to Int'l Space Station

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Bengaluru, August 2

GROUP CAPTAIN SHUBHANSHU Shukla and Group Captain Prasanth Balakrishnan Nair have been selected for an upcoming Indo-US mission to the International Space Station (ISS), the Indian Space Research Organisation (Isro) announced on Friday. This has been done on the recommendation of the NASA-identified service provider Axiom Space, sources in the Isro told PTI.

In an official release, the ISRO said its Human Space Flight Centre has entered into a space flight agreement with US' Axiom Space, for its fourth mission to the ISS and a National Mission Assignment Board has "recommended two 'gaganyatris' (space travellers) — Group Captain Shukla (prime) and Group Captain Nair (backup)".

"The assigned crewmembers will be finally approved to fly to the International Space Station by the Multilateral Crew Operations Panel (MCOP). The recommended gaganyatris will commence their training for the mission from the first week of August 2024," Isro said.

During the mission, the 'gaganyatris' will undertake selected scientific research and technology demonstration experiments on board the ISS and engage in space outreach activities, it said. "The experiences gained during this mission will be beneficial for the Indian Human Space Programme and it will also strengthen human space flight cooperation between ISRO and NASA," Isro said.

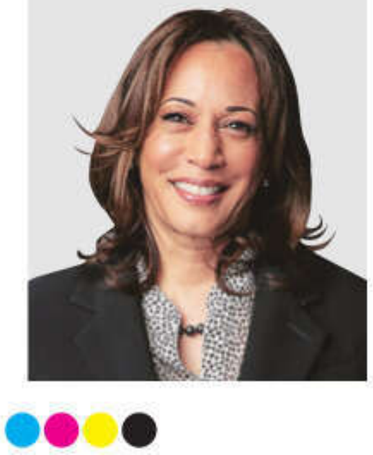

The recommended gaganyatris will commence their training for the mission this week, says Isro

Biggest prisoner exchange between US and Russia since the Cold War

REUTERS
Moscow/Ankara/Washington, August 2

US JOURNALIST EVAN Gershkovich and ex-US Marine Paul Whelan returned to the United States on Thursday, hours after being freed from Russian detention in the biggest prisoner exchange between the two countries since the Cold War.

The White House said it negotiated the trade with Russia, Germany and three other countries. The deal, worked on in secrecy for more than a year, involved 24 prisoners — 16 moving from Russia to the West and eight sent back to Russia from the West. They included Vadim Krasikov, convicted of murdering an exiled dissident in Berlin, the German government said.

US President Joe Biden hailed the deal as "a feat of diplomacy and friendship" and praised Washington's allies for their "bold and brave decisions". Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris, buoyed by the occasion, greeted freed Americans Gershkovich, Whelan and journalist Alsu Kurmasheva as they arrived at Joint Base Andrews in Maryland shortly before midnight (0400 GMT).

The president took off his lapel pin and gave it to Whelan as he got off the Bombardier Global 7500 aircraft.

The deal gives the Biden-Harris administration a marquee diplomatic success with the presidential campaign, pitting Harris against Republican former President Donald Trump, barely three months away.

Harris, poised to be the Democratic nominee after Biden dropped out of the race last month, praised his leadership for bringing together the complex prisoner swap, telling reporters on the tarmac it was a testament to American leadership.

Russian President Vladimir Putin met the prisoners returning to Russia on their arrival in Moscow, saying they would be given state awards.

The exchange also represents a victory for Putin, who had indicated he wanted Krasikov back.

Critics fear 'dangerous message'

The multi-country deal appeared to be a one-time exchange that does not reset the antagonistic US-Russia ties, which has deteriorated sharply since Russia's 2022 invasion of Ukraine. US deputy national security adviser Jon Finer said Washington-Moscow ties remain "in a very difficult place" despite the swap.

Protectionist India Inc?

Commerce minister's strong words point to important stakeholder resistance to FTAs

UNION COMMERCE AND industry minister Piyush Goyal used unusually strong language against India Inc for what he called ignoring the national interest for small gains. In the context of free trade agreements (FTAs), he said earlier this week that while industry wants access to international markets it seeks protection in the form of duty concessions. There is no doubt that India Inc has been far from enthusiastic about the FTAs the government has inked or plans to pursue. Its ambivalence stems from the limited benefits of such deals due to the persisting domestic handicap of inverted duty structures: Tariffs on raw materials are often higher than on finished goods that encourage more imports of the latter. The worry is also over the lack of a level playing field amidst concerns that major trading partners like China can inundate the domestic market through third countries with cheaper steel, chemicals, and electrical goods thanks to surplus capacities and subsidies. Opposition from the automobile and electronics industry prevented an early harvest trade agreement with Thailand from graduating into a full-fledged FTA.

Obviously, India Inc is unlikely to directly counter Goyal's comments. The late economist IG Patel presciently wrote about this tendency of many in private business "who think even now that rather than incur the displeasure and unpleasantness of opposing government policies and all that, it is much simpler, much cheaper, much more comfortable to be on its right side". Despite their misgivings about FTAs not yielding the desired results and absence of adequate consultations, apex industry chambers like the Confederation of Indian Industry and Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry have signalled a willingness to embrace broader, new-age FTAs that entail regulatory policy reform, intellectual property rights protection (IPRs), and labour rights, etc. The former has said that it is keen to see the early conclusion of FTAs with the UK and the European Union (EU) and is working with the government to ensure that while negotiating issues like sustainability and IPRs, "the genuine interests of Indian industry are preserved". These interests of course include the need for FTAs to be fair and balanced and safeguards are in place, wherever required, to have a level playing field.

While Goyal frets over how the FTAs with the UK and the EU can be inked, the barriers to concluding deep and ambitious FTAs are also from the government's side. Not so long ago, the commerce ministry mulled a proposal to set up an inter-ministerial panel to ensure better coordination as differences on crucial and sensitive issues within ministries that oversee different sectors also tend to delay FTA negotiations. Stakeholders with conflicting interests across sectors make the job difficult for negotiators. For instance, the domestic dairy industry's apprehensions of stiff competition in milk and milk products from Australia and New Zealand were responsible in large part for India walking out of the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership although some other sectors were less hesitant to join the grouping.

Such new-generation deals clearly call for greater coordination within government, cutting across various ministries and departments, as they entail much more than preferential tariff-line liberalisation. India does not have enough experience dealing with these issues. There is also a need to induct domain experts into the commerce ministry to assist with the FTA negotiations. India Inc's protectionism is not the only barrier in concluding ambitious and comprehensive FTAs to boost India's export drive.

The predicted Olympic doom never came to Paris

FOR THE BETTER part of a year, a lot of Parisians have been planning for the Olympics — not to attend them, but to escape them. Fear of an unlivable city packed with tourists and deprived of basic goods has been matched with greed at the prospect of charging those same tourists insane sums for accommodation on AirBnB. Overtourism, price-gouging, and harsh policing would surely make Paris hell.

Luckily for those of us still here, nothing has turned out as expected, rather like the bedbugs meme that went viral but bore little relation to reality.

Paris has rarely seemed less hellish: Security barriers blocking the Seine have been largely dismantled, the rain has stopped, and Paris' landmarks look incredible, from the Grand Palais' fencing events to the Pont Alexandre III's triathlon finish. Friendly cops from different countries are walking the streets, smiling volunteers are everywhere, and the metro has plenty of room to spare. Gold medals galore are spreading joy in a land of pessimists.

This isn't just the power of sport, or the benefits of good organisation. Despite expectations of 15 million extra visitors for the Olympics, the combination of fleeing Parisians, hesitant tourists, and dramatic unforeseen events like infrastructure sabotage seem to have made one of the world's most densely populated cities less packed and more livable.

LIONEL LAURENT
Bloomberg

Vehicle traffic has fallen 22% in one week, and the average speed on the peripherique ring road is up 31%, according to data firm Coyote. This isn't your average summer wind-down, nor is it urban desolation on the scale of Covid-19. The geography of the Games is diverting tourists from traditional shopping avenues, which may be frustrating for the best-known haunts but good for lesser-travelled neighbourhoods that are hosting events in the name of urban renewal.

For the uber-speculators, it's been a deservedly rude awakening. Out of the whopping 87,000 accommodation options available online in the Paris region for the Olympics, only about one in 10 will be booked during the entirety of the event, according to AirDNA data cited by newspaper Le Parisien. Greed is a factor: It's worth remembering that earlier this year some high-end, 100-square-metre homes were being put on the market for around €20,000 ($21,576) to €30,000 per week. Hotels have also cut prices to half their peak rate, having hiked prices some 300% in anticipation. Some trends, like deflation or tourism fatigue, are too strong even for the greatest show on Earth.

And for the arch-pessimists, this is far from "Le Flop". Enthusiasm can be heard at the events themselves or seen at new landmarks like the silver balloon holding the Olympic flame in the Tuileries gardens. Even the now-infamous opening ceremony appears to have won over the French, despite plenty of online gnashing of teeth — one poll suggests some 85% of people judged it a "success". Obviously, tastes are subjective, especially where naked Greco-Roman gods are concerned. But Paris has historical form when it comes to complaining: The Eiffel Tower, built for the 1889 Expo, also generated a lot of outrage at the time among the great and the good who considered it an eyesore. Would anyone say that today?

Sceptics will say none of these good vibes is worth the cost or carbon impact of hosting the Games. Maybe so, especially where the costly clean-up of the Seine is concerned. But Paris surely deserves credit for using pre-existing or temporary constructions for 95% of its Olympic venues and tapping companies like Bernard Arnault's LVMH for 96% of the budget. Good vibes (and tax receipts) can also help the economy: Bloomberg Economics reckons French economic growth will pick up in the third quarter.

Given the political battles that await Emmanuel Macron and the French once the athletes go home and Parisians return, with no government in place after recent elections, hell in my view isn't the Olympic Games — it's other people.

STRATEGIC DIALOGUES

DESPITE STRONG TRADE LINKS, UNDERCURRENTS OF FRICTION ARE COMING OUT INTO THE OPEN

India's Quad equation

ANITA INDER SINGH
Founding professor, Centre for Peace and Conflict Resolution

OFFICIAL STATEMENTS OFTEN conceal more than they reveal, so the apparent unity of the foreign ministers of the Quadrilateral Security Dialogue on July 29 in Tokyo masked some disagreements between India and its Quad partners — America, Japan, and Australia — on Russia's invasion of Ukraine, but highlighted agreement on a free, open, and secure Indo-Pacific.

India has strong trade and investment with its Quad partners: it even has a free trade agreement with Australia. But undercurrents of friction between them are coming out into the open, especially over India's neutrality on Russia's war in Ukraine.

This became obvious when Eric Garcetti, America's ambassador in New Delhi, said on July 10, just two days after Prime Minister Narendra Modi's trip to Russia that there was no strategic autonomy in conflict. The differences existed even before that. More than two years ago, External affairs minister Subrahmanyam Jaishankar said, with reference to Russia's illegal assault on Ukraine on June 3, 2022, that Europe should grow out of the mindset that its problems were the world's problems.

Only a week later, Japan and India were poles apart when Japanese Prime Minister Fumio Kishida said Ukraine today could be Asia tomorrow. Generally, Asia-Pacific countries are afraid that China will see how the West handles the Ukraine crisis to assess its chances of taking over Taiwan and indulging in expansionist activities in their region.

Japan joined the West in imposing sanctions on Russia and will also sell Patriot missiles to Ukraine. The Quad foreign ministers backed the territorial integrity of Ukraine, unlike Modi and President Vladimir Putin during their summit in Moscow from July 8-9. Ukraine's territorial integrity was not mentioned in Russian and Indian joint statements, which mentioned the conflict "around Ukraine" rather than in Ukraine. All told, however, India's strong backing for the principle of "territorial integrity" is essential, if only because it applies to its state frontiers with Pakistan and China — and China's boundaries with other Asian neighbours — as much as it applies to Europe. New Delhi does not believe that solutions will emerge on the battlefield. That message should be directed more strongly towards the aggressor, which is Russia.

India's Quad partners and several Southeast Asian countries wish to intensify measures to counterbalance Beijing. The South China Sea may be far away from India, but remains crucial for India's strategic interests

Differences with Japan, an important Asian friend, and since long, far more economically advanced than China, which threatens the territory of both countries, have also been apparent in other ways. In June, friendly Japan sanctioned an Indian tech company, Si2 Microsystems, based in Bengaluru, for its alleged role in helping Russia evade Western sanctions imposed because of its invasion of Ukraine. (Companies in China, Kazakhstan, the UAE, and Uzbekistan were also sanctioned).

As for China, the Quad foreign ministers did not name it in their communiqué, but fear of Chinese imperialism in the South China Sea and against Taiwan has led the US, Japan, the Philippines, and South Korea to upgrade their defence ties. On July 28, the US revamped its military command in Japan, giving Japan a "direct leadership role" over American forces in operational planning in both peacetime and in potential crises. The US has also pledged $500 million in military support to the Philippines amid South China Sea disputes.

On the security front, the Quad foreign ministers also stressed the importance of adherence to international law, particularly as reflected in the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea, to address challenges to the global maritime rules-based order, including in the South and East China Seas. They reiterated their strong opposition to "any unilateral actions that seek to change the status quo by force or coercion". China remained the elephant in the room.

Beijing's official Global Times sarcastically commented that hyping up the "China-threat" rhetoric is "a typical US way of inciting security anxiety", so as to make some regional countries rely more on the US-led bloc. The Quad, it pointed out, is a partnership, but not yet an alliance. (It did not say because of India, probably because it was blaming America). Beijing sees the Quad becoming "a major source of creating antagonism and confrontation in the Asia-Pacific region".

India's Quad partners and several Southeast Asian countries wish to intensify measures to counterbalance Beijing. The South China Sea may be far away from India, but remains crucial for India's strategic interests, including energy security.

And if the US strengthens military bonds with allies, India benefits from the general build-up in Asia against China, without contributing much to security outside its immediate Indian Ocean neighbourhood. All the more so as India is not getting closer to resolving its border dispute with China. Nor is it getting closer to dealing with its trade deficit surpassing $38.11 billion in the initial five months of the current year.

US support for the centrality of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (Asean) in the Indo-Pacific leads other Quad members to follow suit. India declared that political, economic, and security cooperation with Asean is its top priority. But India has tended to view itself as the centre of the Indo-Pacific because Delhi thinks the word 'Indo' implies India. This interpretation has never been accepted by Asean or any Quad partner. Even if India is the only non-ally in the Quad, "Acting East" should lead to strengthening economic and ties with Southeast Asian countries, against China, which is the main threat to their security and India's. And the UN Charter and the territorial integrity of states must always be respected. Those were the main messages of the Quad foreign ministers' meeting.

The Supreme Court ruling on mineral taxation by states ignores a shift in governance standards towards cooperative federalism

LAST WEEK, A nine-judge bench of the Supreme Court, in a 8:1 majority, reversed a decades-old legal position to uphold the substantive powers of states to levy mineral taxes. The court was of the opinion that the "effort of the constitutional court should be to ensure that state legislatures are not subordinated to the Union in the areas exclusively reserved for them" and the pivotal facet of "fiscal federalism is that both the Union government and the state governments ought to have adequate fiscal resources to discharge their constitutional responsibilities". This undoubtedly gives a significant fillip to the states' exchequer as such levies are in addition to the royalty charged by mineral-rich states under the respective mining leases. Additionally, states have been empowered to levy land tax on mining leaseholders. Conversely, the minority opinion has canvassed the need to prioritise national growth aspirations, which may be impeded as a result of indiscriminate taxation by a few mineral-rich states. Ostensibly, these opinions conflict inter se. However, both opinions can be reconciled; the majority opinion picturises the constitutional position as it exists, whereas the minority opinion adopts a normative outlook to seek an equilibrium where holistic national growth is not held hostage by narrow regional considerations.

The majority decision is a quintessential constitutional exposition — a legal essay if one may — on Centre-state relations; there can be no qualms about the legal reasoning and the interpretative standards invoked by the apex court. However, as the saying goes, a dissenting opinion is a call (for the future) for course correction. The minority decision does just that, seeking to add a third variable in the governance paradigm — the common citizen. Recognising that the impact of the majority decision will create regional imbalances (given that mineral-rich states are but few) and inhibit the growth aspirations of large sections of the nation's populace who will suffer the burden of these states' revenue collection drives. The minority opinion advocates subjecting the states' mineral taxation rights to constitutional limitations.

The vindication of this separate right of states to tax minerals may hopefully turn out to be a stepping stone to reforming the indirect tax regime

The rationale of the majority decision appears to be founded on its premise that "any dilution in the taxing powers of the state legislatures will necessarily impact their ability to raise revenues, which in turn will impede their ability to deliver welfare schemes and services to the people". There is no doubt that states too need fiscal flexibility. However, this Nelson's eye approach, even if it is recognised as the foundational philosophy of the constitutional landscape, fails to appreciate the seven decades-long shift in governance standards which advocate a transformation in constitutional paradigm — cooperative federalism.

In today's scenario, giving effect to a textual reading of the 50s constitutional provisions dilutes the decades of governance experiences which unequivocally establish that criss-cross fiscal policies pursued by the Centre and states bode well for neither, besides being a bottleneck for national growth and an impediment to business enterprises. Indeed, the majority opinion has only interpreted the constitutional provisions. The verdict, however, disconcerts and disorients the quest for a harmonised national market which led to the landmark 2016 constitutional amendment to usher in the goods and services tax (GST). It will not be out of context to envision that emboldened by the decision some states may assert taxing rights on natural resources, which, if conceded to, will fuel inflation and have a cascading effect. In the process, it could disturb the financial equilibrium arising from the successful implementation of the GST. A similar situation had arisen in 2016 when another nine-judge bench of the Supreme Court had upheld the states' power to levy entry tax. Thankfully, by then, the GST design was in place and state levies and entry taxes were subsumed in the GST. However, the present situation is different, in the sense that on mineral taxes it would require significant cajoling (of the mineral-rich states) by the Centre and other states combined in the GST Council.

The vindication of this separate right of states to tax minerals may hopefully turn out to be a stepping stone to reforming the indirect tax regime. A review of the constitutional remit of the GST Council reveals that it is within its prerogative to subsume additional taxes within the scope of the GST, although a "consensus" approach will not be easy. Thus, buoyed by some degree of political and financial bargain, the members of the GST Council may display statesmanship to support subsuming of such levies within the GST. Such convergence of interests will be conducive not just for Centre-state relations but also protect consumers from the cascading effect (on account of an additional levy) and businesses from the consequences of such levies.

The fact that this levy affects national priorities finds an acute resonance in the minority opinion; it clearly reveals that the ramifications of the states' assertion of an independent taxing right are not a figment of imagination and, instead, perceived even by trained judicial minds who are otherwise impervious to the economic consequences of their decisions. One would hope that the overriding priorities of national growth and citizens' aspirations are weighed in by the stakeholders to maintain economic tranquillity, notwithstanding the judicial elocution on the mineral taxation rights of states.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Inclusive quota

With a Supreme Court bench allowing sub-categorisation within the Scheduled Caste (SC) and Scheduled Tribe (ST) categories, a new political agenda is on the boil. Sub-categories, executed transparently, will help make the SC/ST quota more inclusive by embracing those lacking in social capital. Punjab, with 32% SC population, created sub-quotas in 1975 and reserved 50% SC quota for Valmikis and Mazhabi Sikhs. An apex court order in 2004 cancelled such a sub-quota, a decision overturned by the same court now. Sub-quotas alone cannot address discrimination or job scarcity. Addressing disparity in schools and workplaces as a policy remains tough. Public sector jobs are few and private sector jobs are subtle. There are about 1,200 SC and 715 ST categories. Each of these must be scrutinised for socio-economic data.

Escalating Gaza war

It is clear from the assassinations of Hamas' top leaders Ismail Haniyeh and Mohammed Deif and Hezbollah commander Fuad Shukr against the backdrop of its genocidal war on Gaza that Israel is a law unto itself and crosses red lines at will and with impunity. The series of extraterritorial assassinations have dashed our hopes of a long overdue ceasefire deal in Gaza and fuelled fears of a wider war. Israel must end its illegal occupation of Palestinian territories, as told by the International Court of Justice, for the "axis of resistance" to lose its relevance. The international community must apply the necessary pressure on Israel to stop the war on Gaza and its attacks elsewhere in the Middle East, and a just peace deal should be brokered.

BATTLE ROYALE: INDIA'S BEST ROADSTER

Ready for Guerrilla warfare?

How does the new Guerrilla 450 fare against Speed 400, X 440, and Mavrick 440

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY

WITH ROYAL ENFIELD launching the Guerrilla 450, the midsize roadster segment (350-500 cc) has turned out to be a hotly-contested space. The Guerrilla 450 has entered a tough arena — dominated by Triumph Speed 400, Harley-Davidson X 440, and Hero Mavrick 440. We rode all four to figure out which is the toughest.

They are purpose-built for daily commuting, but also have enough power to take you on intercity travels. They have a low seating height, aren't intimidating for first-time riders, and because they are priced in the ₹2-3 lakh band, they are the stepping stones to the superbike segment. But unlike superbikes, they are high on fuel efficiency, and therefore have a longer riding range (almost 400 km, non-stop).

Royal Enfield Guerrilla 450

Engine: 452 cc
Power: 40.02 PS @ 8,000 rpm
Torque: 40 Nm @ 5,500 rpm
Fuel tank: 11 litres
Fuel efficiency: 35 km/litre*
Weight: 185 kg
Seat height: 780 mm
Top speed: 150 km/h*
Price: ₹2.39-2.54 lakh

Verdict: It has the biggest engine and is a performance-oriented city bike, with advanced tech. The Speed 400 gives the Guerrilla 450 solid competition, and is nimbler and has higher top speed.

Triumph Speed 400

Engine: 398.15 cc
Power: 40 PS @ 8,000 rpm
Torque: 37.5 Nm @ 6,500 rpm
Fuel tank: 13 litres
Fuel efficiency: 35 km/litre*
Kerb weight: 176 kg
Seat height: 790 mm
Top speed: 160 km/h*
Price: ₹2.24 lakh

Verdict: It's a complete roadster, and the nimblest of the four here. But the Speed 400 doesn't have the road presence of the Guerrilla 450 or the X 440, nor does it get a Tripper-like technology.

Harley-Davidson X 440

Engine: 440 cc
Power: 27 PS @ 6,000 rpm
Torque: 38 Nm @ 4,000 rpm
Fuel tank: 13.5 litres
Fuel efficiency: 35 km/litre
Kerb weight: 194.5 kg
Seat height: 805 mm
Top speed: 140 km/h*
Price: ₹2.39-2.79 lakh

Verdict: It doesn't have the road presence of a Harley-Davidson, but feels light and agile. It also doesn't have the grunt of the Guerrilla 450 or Speed 400, but is high on fuel efficiency & comfort.

* ESTIMATED

Hero Mavrick 440

Engine: 440 cc
Power: 27 PS @ 6,000 rpm
Torque: 36 Nm @ 4,000 rpm
Fuel tank: 13.5 litres
Fuel efficiency: 35 km/litre
Kerb weight: 187 kg
Seat height: 803 mm
Top speed: 140 km/h*
Price: ₹1.99-2.24 lakh

Verdict: It has a neat design. The headlight and fuel tank look nice, but instrument cluster is basic. It doesn't have 'big' road presence, but is the most affordable bike in the segment. It's high on comfort.

INTERVIEW: MARTIN UHLARIK, VP & Head of Global Design, Tata Motors

'Coupé shape doesn't compromise on space'

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY

ON AUGUST 7, Tata Motors will launch the Curvv, which is unlike any SUV design you have seen in the mass market. An SUV coupé, the Curvv has a sloping roof at the rear, and a sedan-like boot.

Martin Uhlarik — who with his team designed the Curvv — told FE that on paper a coupé design appears to compromise on headroom for rear-seat passengers, but in reality, this design offers the best of aesthetics and cabin space.

"This design blends the toughness and practicality of an SUV with the elegance and sporty silhouette of a coupé," he said. "In contrast to conventional boxy midsize SUVs, the Curvv is really aerodynamic."

He added that instead of eating into the headroom, the Curvv's sloping roofline allows it to slice through wind, and its large wheels, high approach & departure angles, and high ground clearance give it a planted and balanced stance.

THIS DESIGN BLENDS TOUGHNESS OF AN SUV WITH THE ELEGANCE OF A COUPÉ/SEDAN

The Curvv.ev will be launched first, followed by the Curvv ICE (petrol and diesel).

The idea behind the Curvv

Uhlarik and his team started working on the Curvv in 2021, and when they showcased the Concept to senior management at Tata, the reaction was both 'wow' and 'why'.

"They were impressed with the initial design, but as a responsible carmaker there was a question why do we need a coupé-like SUV," he said. "Tata has repeatedly disrupted the car market through unique designs, and the idea behind the Curvv was another disruption."

Key design highlights

Uhlarik said the Curvv has been designed for the Indian family that loves going on long drives. "It has a spacious cabin and does not sacrifice storage as imagined in a coupé. Its panoramic glass roof allows natural light to flood into the cabin," he said. "The boot can accommodate the luggage of a big family."

Tata Motors' design language

Today, most Tata cars look similar — it's difficult to differentiate between the Harrier and the Safari from a distance, and the silhouette of Nexon/Punch is similar. "We've launched six models in 2-3 years, so a design overlap is natural, but our future products will be vastly different from each other," Uhlarik said. "The aim is to have a 'Tata design language', so that even if you hide the Tata logo, you can recognise from a distance that it's a Tata."

The next big design development is happening in the Avinya — the born-electric car to be launched next year. "Design is the first thing that attracts customers to a car, and my team is making sure we create the finest automotive art pieces, not just metal on wheels," he said.

LAMBORGHINI H1-2024 SALES

India a tough but promising market

Lamborghini's global head shares with FE the roadblocks to wider adoption of top-end cars

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY

ITALIAN SUPERSPORTS carmaker Lamborghini is on track to achieve one of its highest-ever half-yearly sales in India — likely crossing 50 units, or two cars sold every week — but this number is less than 1% of its global sales, despite India being the world's third-largest car market.

Globally, Lamborghini sold 5,558 cars in H1-2024.

Stephan Winkelmann, chairman & CEO of Automobili Lamborghini (photo), told FE that there are many roadblocks to wider adoption of supersports cars in India. "India levies high taxes on imported cars and that is limiting the number of cars sold there," he said. "I think the Indian mindset of saving & investing money instead of spending on high-end cars is another reason limiting growth. But we will keep launching new cars in the subcontinent — beginning with the Urus SE on August 9, and the Revuelto hybrid by the end of Q3-2024."

It will launch the Urus SE on August 9, and the Revuelto hybrid by the end of Q3-2024

He added that, in the past, poor road infrastructure limited the growth of supersports cars, but with new highways and expressways coming up, that's less of a concern, although high taxation is.

India imposes 100% duty on fully imported cars with CIF (cost, insurance and freight) value more than $40,000, and 60% on those costing less than that. Local registration charges are added onto that.

China, on the other hand, levies 15% import duty, down from 25% it used to levy until June 30, 2018.

That makes Lamborghini cars in India doubly as expensive as compared to most global markets. The Urus SUV, for example, costs upwards of ₹4 crore in India, but in the US, it's priced around $250,000 (a little over ₹2 crore).

Global sales

While Lamborghini India's sales numbers for H1-2024 will be announced on August 9, globally the carmaker has recorded highest deliveries — with the EMEA, the Americas and the APAC registering 2,498, 1,849 and 1,211 vehicles delivered, respectively."

As far as sales by country are concerned, the US leads by far (1,621 cars sold in H1-2024), followed by Germany (595 cars), the UK (514), Japan (354), the Chinese Mainland, Hong Kong and Macao (337), and Italy (268).

On August 16, Lamborghini will unveil the successor to the Huracán at the Monterey Car Week in California. "This new supersports car will mark the completion of the hybridisation process of the Lamborghini range, featuring an all-new twin-turbo V8 engine paired with a hybrid system," he said.

LOOK AT EQUITY FUNDS TO MEET HIGHER EDUCATION COSTS

NPS Vatsalya can be beneficial for specially-abled children

Parents will find such a government-monitored scheme more credible

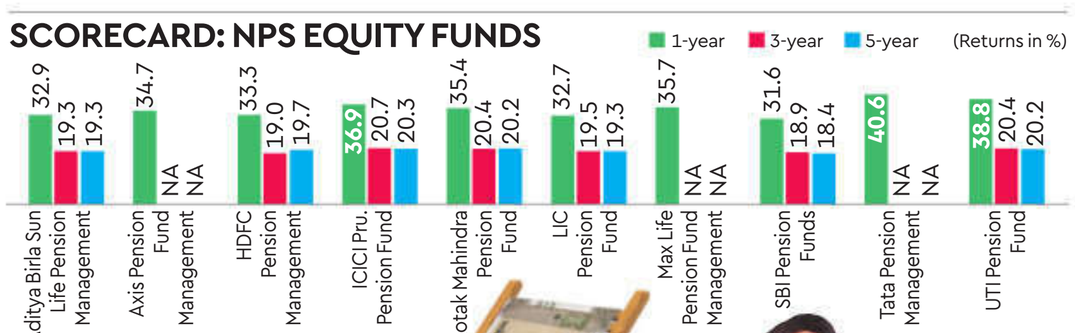

SAIKAT NEOGI

THE BUDGET PROPOSAL to introduce NPS (National Pension Scheme) — Vatsalya will help parents to plan the very long financial needs of children with special needs. Experts say a low-cost, tax-efficient product like NPS will enable parents to accumulate funds for such children and get periodic annuity payouts.

Typically, such children are left at the mercy of relatives or an institution after the parents are gone, with the probability of misuse of funds accumulated by their parents. A government-monitored pension scheme could thus ensure better utilisation of funds for their welfare in the later part of their lives.

In the new scheme, parents and guardians can contribute for minors and on attaining the age of majority, the plan can be converted into a normal NPS account. While the details of the scheme are awaited, experts say the product should be structured in such a way that grandparents and other relatives can contribute to the account as gifts on various occasions. This way the corpus will grow and the child will get the benefits of compounding returns.

■ As the NPS Vatsalya account will be opened when the child is a minor, it will give time to build a huge corpus to be used on retirement

■ Given the ever increasing cost of higher education, parents need to invest in instruments that give higher returns

Sushil Jain, CEO, PersonalCFO.in, a wealth management firm, says as the proposed NPS Vatsalya account will be opened for a minor, it will enable to accumulate a huge corpus on retirement. "The corpus and the periodic annuity payout will help a child, especially with special needs, to stay financially independent."

Accumulate a corpus

The contributions made in NPS are invested in market-linked instruments such as equities, corporate bonds and government securities offering higher returns than bank-deposits. At the time of retirement, the subscriber can withdraw 60% of the corpus in the NPS account.

Anil Rego, founder, Right Horizons, says NPS-Vatsalya for children will allow the money to grow over a longer period of time. "This extended time period utilises compound interest and increases the final corpus," he says. Opening an investment account at an early stage can instill financial discipline in children.

Experts say while the proposed plan will help parents to initiate pension planning for their children, they should channel savings to investment avenues giving higher returns to fund the ever-increasing costs of higher education. Here are some alternative schemes that parents should look consider.

Long-term equity funds

Equity mutual funds can offer higher returns compared to other investment options like fixed deposits or public provident fund, especially in the long term. An early investment allows for increased efficiency, which significantly increases the value of the investment over time. "Investors can choose from a variety of equity funds, including large-cap, mid-cap, small-cap and multi-cap, based on their risk tolerance and investment objectives," says Rego. Systematic Investment Plans (SIP) allow for regular investments that make it easy to build a large corpus over time. Long-term equity funds can be an excellent investment option for children as they offer the potential for high returns and diversification, along with better liquidity. Jain says individuals should look at goal based-investment and go for mutual fund SIPs as per time horizon and asset allocation.

Sukanya Samriddhi Yojana

A natural or legal guardian can open a Sukanya Samriddhi account in the name of a girl child up to the age of 10 years. An account can be opened with a minimum of ₹250 and up to ₹1.5 lakh per account per financial year. Benefit under Section 80C of the Income Tax Act, 1961 is available to the depositor.

Sukanya Samriddhi account matures after 21 years from the opening of the account or on the marriage of the account holder, whichever is earlier. However, when the girl turns 18, she can withdraw up to 50% of the previous financial year's balance to cover educational expenses. The interest of Sukanya Samriddhi for the quarter of July-September 2024 is 8.2% per annum; the interest is credited at the end of the financial year and is compounded annually.

AIS now reflecting new income? File revised return

NEERAJ AGARWALA

There are various reasons why you may not have received your refund. Here are the steps to follow:

Check ITR Status: Log in to the income tax e-filing portal and check the status of your ITR. Ensure that it has been processed and that a refund has been determined.

Verify bank details: Ensure that the bank account details provided in your ITR are correct and the account is pre-validated on the e-filing portal. If the income tax refund has not been successfully processed, you should have received a notification from the income tax department, and this should be visible on your income tax portal.

Check for Intimations Under Section 245: In some cases, an outstanding demand from earlier years is adjusted against the current year's refund. Section 245 empowers authorities to adjust any previous year's demand with the refund amount due to the taxpayer. If this is the case, you should have received an intimation under Section 245. In case of an outstanding demand, you can apply for rectification under section 154 to correct the demand, and the balance refund will be processed to your account.

Raise a Grievance: If your ITR status shows it has been processed and no intimation has been raised, raise a grievance on the portal.

● I filed my returns in the first week of June. Some incomes from stock dividends are now showing in AIS. Should I file a rectified ITR?

—Ramesh Yadav

Yes, it is advisable to file a revised income tax return (ITR) to include this income and pay any additional tax due. Filing a revised return helps you stay compliant with tax laws and avoid any notice for underreporting income. Here's what you should do:

Verify the income: Dividend income is prefilled in the income tax return and it is important to ensure that the stock dividends reflected in the AIS are accurate and that you have not already included them.

Pay additional tax: Calculate the additional tax liability and pay it. Include any applicable interest, if any, under Sections 234B and 234C.

Submit the revised ITR: As per Section 139(5), revised return for FY 23-24 can be filed up to December 31, 2024.

● I had filed my ITR in December last year but have not got the refund yet. What should I do?

President Droupadi Murmu, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Union Home Minister Amit Shah during the commencement of two-day Conference of Governors, in New Delhi. PTI

PRIME MINISTER NARENDRA Modi on Friday urged Governors to play the role of "an effective bridge" between the Centre and the state. He asked them to interact with people and social organisations in a manner that co-opts the underprivileged.

The Prime Minister made these remarks at the two-day Conference of Governors that began Friday morning at the Rashtrapati Bhavan.

In her opening remarks, President Droupadi Murmu too said that for the smooth functioning of democracy, it was crucial that the Central agencies work with better coordination across all the states. She advised Governors to think about how they, as constitutional heads of the respective states, can promote this coordination.

She asked the Governors to prioritise the poor and the deprived, and also visit border areas in their respective states.

According to a statement from Rashtrapati Bhavan, Vice President Jagdeep Dhankhar, referring to the oath of the Governors, urged them to discharge their constitutional responsibility of "making people aware of social welfare schemes and incredible development that have taken place during the last decade". Union Home Minister Amit Shah urged the Governors to visit Vibrant Villages and Aspirational Districts in their states to instil confidence among people and give a fillip to the developmental work.

In his address, Modi, while describing the conference as a forum to discuss how Governors can serve the society, said the post of the Governor is an important institution which can play a crucial role in the welfare of people of the state within the framework of the Constitution, particularly with reference to the tribal areas.

In a post on X later, Modi said, "Attended the Conference of Governors this morning. This is an important forum in which we discussed how Governors can foster development and serve society." The two-day conclave will focus on issues that shape the Centre-state relations and promote welfare schemes.

President Murmu said the agenda for the conference included carefully chosen issues crucial in achieving national goals. Officials said the agenda includes implementation of three criminal laws; reforms in higher education and accreditation of universities.

In her address, the President said that with the implementation of the three new laws related to criminal justice, a new era of the justice system had begun in the country.

Air India suspends flights to Tel Aviv

MAHENDER SINGH MANRAL
New Delhi, August 2

THE BACK-TO-BACK assassinations of a Hamas leader and a senior Hezbollah commander has prompted security agencies in India to relook at the safety of Israeli establishments in the country.

Hamas leader Ismail Haniyeh was killed in Tehran, where he had gone to attend the inauguration of the newly elected Iranian President Masoud Pezeshkian, on July 31. A day earlier, Hezbollah's Fuad Shukr was killed in an airstrike in Lebanon's capital, Beirut.

Central security agencies in India have since alerted Director Generals of Police of all states and union territories to provide adequate security arrangements to "Israeli/Jewish facilities, events, premises, workplaces as well as Chabad houses and large gatherings", The Indian Express has learnt.

In their report, central agencies also mentioned that the US Embassy in Tel Aviv, Israel, was targeted on July 19 by a drone attack, killing one civilian and leaving 10 injured.

"In view of the foregoing developments, it is assessed that there is a strong possibility that the threat to Israeli/Jews' establishments will increase in different parts of world and all the DGPs of states and UTs, (and) other agencies are requested to increase security arrangements...," an officer said, citing the threat assessment report.

Before this alert, two routine alerts were also issued on March 18 and April 3.

Indian central security agencies have alerted Director Generals of Police in all states and union territories to enhance security at Israeli/Jewish facilities, and large gatherings

Since 2021, two low-intensity explosions have taken place near the Israeli Embassy in New Delhi. On January 29, 2021, a crude bomb went off just around 100 meters near the Embassy of Israel on Dr APJ Abdul Kalam Road, New Delhi, on a day when India and Israel marked the 29th anniversary of their diplomatic relations.

The second incident took place on December 26, 2023, when a low-intensity explosion was reported near the Israeli Embassy. No one was injured in either incident, but both cases are still unsolved.

Meanwhile, Air India has suspended flights to Tel Aviv till August 8. The Tata Group-owned airline operates four weekly flights to the Israeli city from the national capital. "In view of the ongoing situation in parts of the Middle East, we have suspended the scheduled operation of our flights to and from Tel Aviv with immediate effect up to and including August 8, 2024. We are continuously monitoring the situation...," the carrier said on X.

The airline also said it was extending support to passengers with confirmed bookings for travel to and from Tel Aviv during this period, with a one-time waiver on rescheduling and cancellation charges. Tensions continue to remain high in the Middle East amid conflict betaween Israel and various groups, including Hamas. Earlier this year too, Air India had briefly suspended flights to Tel Aviv. After nearly five months, the carrier had recommenced the services to the Israeli city on March 3.

Rahul: ED insiders warn of raid, I'm ready

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, August 2

LEADER OF OPPOSITION in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi on Friday claimed that an Enforcement Directorate raid is being planned against him after his 'chakravyuh' speech in Parliament. Gandhi said he was "waiting with open arms".

"Apparently, 2 in 1 didn't like my Chakravyuh speech. ED insiders' tell me a raid is being planned," Gandhi said in a post on X early Friday.

"Waiting with open arms @dir_ed..Chai and biscuits on me," the former Congress chief said. In another development, Congress MP Manickam Tagore on Friday submitted a notice to move an adjournment motion on 'the BJP government's misuse of agencies like the ED, CBI, and Income Tax for political harassment'.

Using the 'chakravyuh' metaphor as a leitmotif, Gandhi on Monday claimed that an atmosphere of fear prevails all around with a group of six trapping the entire country in a 'chakravyuh' he promised would be broken by the INDIA bloc. Participating in the debate in the Lok Sabha on Budget 2024-25, Gandhi had said the Indian National Developmental Inclusive Alliance (INDIA) will ensure that a legal guarantee for MSP as well as a caste census is passed by the House.

Thousands of years ago in Haryana's Kurukshetra, six people killed a youth, Abhimanyu, in a 'chakravyuh', he had said, adding that a 'chakravyuh' has violence and fear. Gandhi's reference was to the Mahabharat legend according to which Abhimanyu was killed in a 'chakravyuh'. 'Chakravyuh' refers to a multi-layered military formation aimed at trapping a warrior by opponents placed strategically in an alignment resembling a lotus-shaped labyrinth.

He had said the 'chakravyuh' is also called a 'padmavyuh' for its resemblance to a lotus (BJP's election symbol) formation.

Finance Bill boosts hopes of GST relief for e-gaming

While non-levy means no tax is levied, a short-levy is when it isn't applied as per applicable rates, or intended base.

However, to enforce the amendment, a recommendation from the GST Council would be required, experts in tax laws said. The GST Council is still divided on the issue.

FE had reported earlier that the government was considering granting relief to the online gaming industry by exempting them from paying GST at the rate of 28% on the full face value of bets for the pre-October 1, 2023 period.

The October 2023 notification had "clarified" that a 28% GST is applicable for the online gaming, on the full face value of bets. It also removed the distinction between "games of skill" and "games of chance" (betting/gambling).

The government maintains that such tax liability for the industry had existed even before. The industry, however, argues that the GST laws until the October 2023 amendment provided for 18% tax on gross gaming revenue or GGR (platform fee) on for "games of skill" and 28% on "games of chance" (gambling/betting). GGR constitutes a much lower base than "full face value of bets."

Industry cites the entire statutory framework for levying GST at 28% on online gaming as a taxable event was introduced for the first time via the October 2023 notification. Even the term 'online money gaming' was first used only with this rule, they reckon.

At present, the Supreme Court is hearing the petitions of about 30 online gaming firms, including Dream11, Delta Corp and Grameskraft, for relief from the retrospective tax levy.

Earlier, revenue secretary Sanjay Malhotra had told FE: "The matter is in the court. The courts and, if need be, the GST Council will decide this matter. The judiciary and the council always take a prudent, balanced view of issues."

Tanushree Roy, director-indirect tax, Nangia Andersen India, said that the proposed change to Section 11A of the CGST Act aims to reduce litigation in cases where industry at large was adopting a different viewpoint than what the legislation intended, by granting one-time regularisation for earlier short levy or non-levy of GST. This would allow the Centre to recognise the 18% GST payment on platform fee, as an industry practice by issuance of a notification and dispense with the payment of additional GST being demanded by the authorities, said Onkar Sharma, partner, Khaitan & Co.

Mahesh Jaising, partner, Deloitte India, said, "This is an industry-friendly move and will promote ease of doing business."

NCLAT halts Byju's insolvency process

Another ₹25 crore will be submitted on Friday and the remaining ₹83 crore on August 9 through RTGS.

"In view of the undertaking given and affidavit, the settlement between the parties (is) approved and as a result appeal succeeds and impugned order (passed by the NCLT) is set aside," a two-member Chennai bench of the NCLAT said in the open court.

The NCLAT was hearing a petition filed by Byju's, challenging the initiation of insolvency proceedings against its parent company, Think & Learn.

Reacting to the verdict, Byju Raveendran said, "The NCLAT order is not just a legal victory, but a testament to the heroic efforts made by our Byju's family in the last two years. Our founding team members have poured their hearts and souls, not to mention their entire savings, into this dream, often at great personal cost. Every Byju-ite has demonstrated extraordinary resilience, working tirelessly through unprecedented challenges. Their collective sacrifice humbles me, and I am deeply grateful to each one of them."

On July 16, the Bengaluru bench of the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) had directed the initiation of corporate insolvency resolution proceedings (CIRP) against Byju's, admitting the plea filed by the BCCI.

The BCCI had approached the NCLT under the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) over a default of ₹158.9 crore by Think & Learn, which was once India's most valuable startup worth $22 billion.

The NCLT has suspended the board of Think & Learn as per the provisions of the IBC and appointed an interim resolution professional to take care of the debt-ridden firm.

Consumers cheer for fizzy drinks

Juices and nectars bore the brunt of all this action in Q1, sector experts said.

Dabur's beverage portfolio, led by its Real brand of fruit juices, grew 2.8% only in the June quarter, impacted by hot summers, Malhotra said. While ITC did not provide details of its beverage category growth in Q1, analysts estimate the fruit juices business to have grown around 2-3% during the April-June period.

In contrast, soft drink bottling companies such as Varun Beverages, which is PepsiCo's bottler outside of the US, said that it remained bullish about growth prospects in India. In the June quarter, the firm's India business volumes grew nearly 23%, contributing to a 28% growth in topline seen during the period. Ravi Jaipuria, chairman, Varun Beverages, said that the company was on track to deliver healthy double-digit growth in the 2024 calendar year on the back of a strong performance in the June quarter.

"India remains a high-demand market with massive growth potential, driven by a growing consuming class and a young population," he said.

NAUKRI JOBSPEAK INDEX

AI, machine learning jobs grew by 47% in July: Report

MANU KAUSHIK
New Delhi, August 2

WHITE-COLLAR HIRING ACTIVITY has peaked over the past 12 months. The Naukri JobSpeak Index surged to 2,877 points in July 2024, the highest level in the past year, and 12% higher than in July 2023. The index indicates that nearly all sectors experienced double-digit growth over the last month, with artificial intelligence (AI) and machine learning (ML) leading with a 47% year-on-year increase. Other sectors that saw impressive growth include insurance (42%), banking and finance (27%), and FMCG (26%).

"The pharma and biotech sector recorded a substantial 26% year-on-year increase with Baroda (61%) and Hyderabad (39%) driving the surge. Key roles within pharma such as sales and business development, procurement and supply chain saw a 42% rise in hiring," the report said.

However, the report shows that the hiring activity in the emerging services vertical – Global Capability Centers (GCCs) – was lower (at 12%) than in some old-age sectors. "It is worth noting that some of the goodness could be due to an impacted base of July 2023, which saw an atypical dip in Index value on account of the IT sector's woes," said the report.

Meanwhile, Gujarat continued to lead, with Rajkot, Jamnagar, and Baroda recording growth rates of 39%, 38%, and 25% in hiring activity, respectively. In contrast, Hyderabad has emerged as a key hub for job creation across several major industries, including hospitality (76%), insurance (71%), BPO (52%), and oil & gas (44%).

"The robust 12% growth in hiring activity is a much-awaited, encouraging sign for this financial year. This is the first month this year that we have seen positive growth, and the fact that it's secular, cutting across sectors and geographies, makes it truly promising. This broad-based, positive shift could potentially be the onset of an upcycle in the Indian white-collar job market," said Pawan Goyal, chief business officer at Naukri.

The report shows that hiring activity grew the most among individuals with over 16 years of work experience. In contrast, job opportunities for professionals with 0-3 and 4-7 years of experience were the lowest, each at 7%, in July.

The Naukri index is based on the aggregated hiring activity of over 100,000 clients with over 7 million new job mandates yearly.

NEET-UG paper leak: SC questions use of e-rickshaws

ANANTHAKRISHNAN G & ABHISHEK ANGAD
New Delhi, Ranchi, August 2

HAVING HELD THAT there was no systemic leak of NEET-UG papers which would warrant its cancellation, the Supreme Court Friday flagged a number of concerns in the conduct of the exam this year by the National Testing Agency (NTA) — specifically pointing to the use of e-rickshaws for transporting question sheets.

On July 23, a three-judge bench led by Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud had in an interim order rejected demands for a retest and had said that it will give a reasoned judgement later.

In the detailed verdict pronounced Friday, the bench, also comprising Justices J B Pardiwala and Manoj Misra, said: "The information before us at this stage does not show that the question paper was disseminated widely using social media or the internet... The CBI investigation reveals the number of students who are the beneficiaries of the malpractice at Hazaribagh and Patna at this stage. This leads us to conclude that it is possible to separate the beneficiaries of malpractice or fraud from honest students. This being the case, the Court cannot direct a re-exam."

The court also said that using e-rickshaws and private courier companies for transporting National Eligibility cum Entrance Test (Undergraduate) papers "raises concerns about the security and reliability of paper-handling procedures".

The e-rickshaws were allegedly used to ferry question papers from the courier company's office on the outskirts of Hazaribagh to the strongroom of a local bank, from where it was then taken to exam centres.

The court listed more issues in the manner the NTA conducted the exam, telling it to implement stringent security measures. "In one of the centres (where the alleged leak occurred), the rear door of the strongroom was opened and unauthorised persons were permitted to access the question papers.

On staying grounded

Viswanathan Anand (VA): I think a lot has to do with upbringing. My family and schoolmates treated me a certain way and it would have felt strange if anything had changed. To be honest, most of the time, I felt that being yourself is easiest on you.

On aggression in sports

VA: There are chess players who thrive under aggression. Famously, someone like Viktor Korchnoi would have an argument before every game but he would play better. Whenever I had a minor disagreement with someone, it would bug me a little. So, you know, we are just cut from different cloth.

On the popularity of chess in India

VA: When I became a grandmaster, when I started competing for the world title, when I started to appear in the sports pages, these had an effect. There's a generation who was following it intensely and a certain percentage of them were even motivated to try playing. In school tournaments, even open tournaments, the numbers shot up. Then the number of grandmasters started increasing. So the ecosystem has taken a long time building. But then, recently, there was a boom set off by two things. People were stuck at home during the pandemic and they had phones on which you could play chess. And on Netflix, which you could watch on your phone, there was the series, The Queen's Gambit. It had an audience of 70, 80 million globally. But if the pandemic had happened 10 years ago, our bandwidth wouldn't have been good enough. This was a very good timing for chess, in a sense.

On why the Soviet domination gave way

VA: The Soviets dominated in a much earlier era, roughly the 1910s till the 1990s. They used to field the Soviet Union versus the Rest of the World teams, and were actually able to compete against the rest of the world. But a couple of things happened. First of all, Russia is not the Soviet Union, so it's a fraction. And then... computers came along and made all the training advantages that the Soviets had built up kind of irrelevant very fast.

In 1990, when the country broke down, a lot of Soviet, Russian and Ukrainian chess players went to other countries and started coaching there. Right now, no country can dominate a sport like the Soviets once did.

On how he keeps his passion for chess alive

VA: It comes and goes. You can lose your motivation fast. Certainly, it's hard for me as well but I try to stay updated with all the modern trends in chess and keep working because I basically like to play chess and I know that you can't half do it. You either do it all-in or you don't.

On chess being a lonely sport

VA: Chess can definitely take you in, so to speak. You can get so absorbed in chess and it's quite insular. There are some people who have other interests and there are some who have to learn that more slowly... In my case, I was very happy to finish school, then do my BCom. I mean, it's not that I am an ace in accounting but you've got to hang out with your college mates and so on. You learn to speak to people who don't understand what you do.

On a changing mindset

Aruna Anand (AA): I think people are more accepting of women taking on a role now. I remember in 2010-2011, I would be the only woman in a room full of 50 men. Anand used to always make fun of me and say, 'Have you seen these big Hollywood types? They'll have huge bodyguards and then they'll have this little-looking man. You have to be scared of the little man because that man bites. That's why I married you because you are that little man'. So I think coming from there, where you were constantly questioned because you were a woman, a wife, to where it's just regular business, nobody really questions your gender anymore.

On being a team

AA: It's based on trust. Anand travels quite a lot, so I do a lot of the heavy handholding at home, especially since our son is just entering his teenage years. When he comes back home, he has to step up because, more than me, I think our son misses him a lot. Being aware of these things is very important, but I think largely it just works on trust. It doesn't work on gender-specified roles or that, you know, I do this and you do that. We take a decision, we understand it is a common decision and it works for both.

On being part of the global chess league

Erigaisi: That was the first time, I think, we got a chance to interact with Magnus (Carlsen). And we were taking every moment of it to understand him and see what he thinks about chess.

The Indian EXPRESS ADDA
SATURDAY, AUGUST 3, 2024

I WORK WITH GOVERNMENT SCHOOL STUDENTS AND VILLAGE CHILDREN. I WANT SOME PLAN SO THAT WE CAN TRAIN STUDENTS IN CHESS.

VA: I think it's about maximising. It's already against big odds that somebody chooses to play chess, likes it, then comes back for more. So, it's mostly about access and availability. Chess should be easy to find, easy to play and then easy to come back to. You need to have a room with chess sets. You need people in the school who say, 'Come inside. Why don't you start a game, I'll show you how'. Once that initial resistance goes, it takes over. Many state governments teach people to be coaches. The Tamil Nadu government has a programme. They're teaching in rural areas.

Former Governor of Telangana & former Lieutenant Governor of Puducherry

INDIA HAS DONE WELL IN TEAM SPORTS BUT YOU WERE POSSIBLY THE FIRST INDIVIDUAL WORLD CHAMPION. YOU WERE AT THE PEAK FIVE TIMES. WHEN YOU LOOK BACK AT THAT PERIOD, HOW DO YOU FEEL?

VA: I am partially relieved but also partially very happy and I cherish those moments. I don't take them for granted. So it's both. But if you ask me now to play a 14-game match in a few months and so on, it will take a lot to overcome my resistance. I have this feeling that it well. That's what I wanted to do all my life. I can look back without any regret.

N RAVI
Director, Kasturi & Sons Ltd

WHO WAS YOUR INSPIRATION WHEN YOU STARTED PLAYING CHESS?

VA: Michael Tal and Bobby Fischer. I met Michael Tal quite early. Even as a World Junior Champion, I got invited to do commentary in a big tournament in Brussels, and he was my co-commentator, so I got to interact with him, play Blitz with him. That was very nice. Much later, I managed to spend an evening with Bobby Fischer. We had dinner with him. Every historical chess player I've met, you have this feeling that, my God, you grew up with their games and they're real people. I think that's what I enjoy the most. So, you know, Spassky, even Botvinnik to some degree. When you look back, you think, 'wow, I actually walked in the same room with him'.

QUICK QUESTIONS

VISWANATHAN ANAND

● Why do you think so many of your contemporaries have retired?
They wanted to try other things.

● One achievement outside chess you are most proud of?
Marrying up.

● One thing that you fear in your career?
Playing badly.

● Your greatest rival?
I played the most games with (Vladimir) Kramnik. So in some sense, you could call him my greatest rival. But I think Magnus (Carlsen) is pretty close in terms of number of games as well.

● And what's the one thing you've learnt from Kramnik?
I thought I had learned how to be chill from him but you continuously learn new things about people.

● He is not chill anymore?
He is doing some interesting stuff. He has suddenly discovered Twitter and that's not something I saw coming.

● One piece of advice for Djokovic.
Not to have a knee operation right before a tournament.

● What advice do you have for Alcaraz?
He's doing great. He seems to be genuinely chirpy and happy.

● And for Rohit.
Enjoy the times it goes well.

● Will you support the idea of legalising sports gambling in India?
I would permit but with limits.
Erigaisi: I would copy on Anand's say on that one.
Aruna: I think you should have limits because it could become dangerous.

● What if chess became a gambling sport?
Again with a lot of limitations but thankfully it is not an issue we have to deal with. In chess one of the challenges we face is cheating. I am not sure what gambling will do to that but if you can really separate it, and if the fans want to do it, then that's fine.

ARUNA ANAND

● The one person who has contributed to improving brand India globally, almost as much as Vishy Anand has.
Mahatma Gandhi.

● The one game that Vishy lost but you were most proud of him for playing?
There is no game like that. If he loses, it's misery.

● The one contract or endorsement that you were happiest closing?
Anand does a lot of work for WWF and it's very interesting to see what research they are doing. Personally, we are very happy to be part of the WWF family.

● The one thing that the current generation can learn from Vishy's.
If you need marriage tips, you know where to ask!

● What advice would you give a parent for keeping their child focused like Vishy?
I think like Anand said, let the child decide what she would like to do. It's interesting what children come up with these days. Like our son loves art and I'm very happy he found his own calling.

● And one advice you have for wives who work with their husbands?
It's okay to shout at them once in a while. They understand.

ARJUN ERIGAISI

● One piece of advice you have for the 13-year-old chess enthusiast, who looks at you and says he wants to be a grandmaster like you.
If you enjoy chess, just continue doing it and, maybe, just play a lot of games.

● Of all your contemporaries, whose journey are you most inspired by?
I'm most inspired by Vishy sir and Magnus Carlsen.

● And from your generation?
I think Gukesh is very inspiring because winning the candidates at 17 is a huge feat.

● One thing you've learned from Vishy which you cherish the most?
Back in 2021, I got a chance to play against him, casual games. Those are moments I really cherish because I learnt a lot from them.

● What needs to happen for India to dominate chess globally, like the Soviets once did?
I think we are doing good, but dominating at their level is almost impossible in this era.

● The one thing that needs to happen to make chess a more lucrative career choice?
Bring in more sponsors and corporate companies.

● The one rival you're most excited to face this year?
I have not faced Alireza that much, so I would really love to play him.

● Destiny or freewill.
Not any if you win.

The audience at the Adda with Viswanathan Anand

We also got to play some games with him and that was very useful as well.

On being competitive with his contemporaries

Erigaisi: There is some rivalry between us but it's healthy. It only motivates the other person to work harder and do better but it's not like we are feeling jealous (of each other). So, what's there right now is very good and I think it's best for everyone if it remains the same because it helps everyone.

On the finances that go into the making of a grandmaster

Erigaisi: What people don't realise is it's a very expensive sport. Almost 50 per cent of my sponsorship goes into my training. Then you have to constantly travel. So I think sponsorship is very important.

On the challenges he faced starting out

VA: There are things which I found unfair but there are also things that just made us strong. We went through it once and we learnt our lessons from it and we said, okay, next time we have to do things differently... And you're right, in a sense, we were pioneers and we had to figure this out on our own. There was no institutional transfer of knowledge, right?
We learnt how to deal with these challenges. That's just the way it was. If things have improved for the next generation, then wonderful.

On the golden generation of Indian chess

VA: I think they're so close to the top, they're sniffing most things. Obviously, playing with the highest stakes is an experience that you may have to encounter in a very raw fashion to figure it out. It's funny, they could be each other's rivals easily in some universe and they'll be in the same boat in a sense, so we'll see.

IN THE AGE OF AI AND TECHNOLOGY, HOW MUCH IS SCIENCE AND HOW MUCH IS CREATIVE SPORT? DOES THE SKILL SET OF CHESS HELP YOU IN PERSONAL LIFE?

VA: It's a sport because finally when you play, you're playing the same game that (José Raúl) Capablanca played and (François-André) Philidor played. There's no fundamental difference. But the training methods have evolved. The game continues to be a sport. It will never be a science unless computers invade that field but the study of it will be science. The only conclusion I've been able to draw is that I'm very good at chess and, therefore, a lot of my impulsiveness, even a lot of errors in my decision-making, are forgiven because I'm a good player to start with, but they're not forgiven in other areas.

PANKAJ SURANA
Managing Director, Surana Gem and Jewellery Industries Pvt Ltd

FOR STUDENTS, ONE OF THE CELEBRATED PEDAGOGIES IS TO CREATE CASE STUDIES, SIMULATION EXERCISES. INSPIRED FROM A CHESS BOARD, WHAT CAN WE WORK ON TO HELP THEM NAVIGATE THROUGH SITUATIONS LIKE STALEMATE, CHECKMATE?

VA: In chess also, it's very important to simulate what might happen on a chessboard because the first thing is to understand that when decisions and moves count, everything has a cost and you can't take back. It's different from when you're training... In sport, the difference is very clear, but in other walks of life there's a moment when a decision counts, has consequences, and the more realistic you can imagine it, the more you'll remember the lesson when it finally happens.

SUDHAKAR RAO
Director — Branding, ICFAI Group

WHEN YOU WERE THE WORLD CHAMPION, WHY DID YOU MOVE OUT OF INDIA? SECOND, IF NOT FOR CHESS, WHAT WOULD YOU HAVE BECOME?

VA: It was a very good idea to move out of India because it put me closer to people I could work with. It put me closer to tournaments, shortened travel time, everything. Somebody will think of inviting you with two days notice if you are nearby but if you live a continent away, they'll just say, it's impossible. So I was living in Spain. We moved back 15 years ago. And India has caught up so much in these areas that it's no longer that relevant. Our connectivity is higher. On the second question, one possibility is that I would have defaulted into engineering like my father and elder brother. But I simply don't know. Very early, I felt that I was going to become a chess player.

FIRMS TO DEPLOY GENERATIVE AI IN '24: SILICON VALLEY

Big Tech fails to convince Wall St that AI is paying off

Meta raises forecast for capex, citing AI investments

JULIA LOVE
August 2

AMAZON, MICROSOFT AND Alphabet had one job heading into this earnings season: show that the billions of dollars they've each sunk into the infrastructure propelling the artificial intelligence (AI) boom is translating into real sales.

In the eyes of Wall Street, they disappointed. Shares in Google owner Alphabet have fallen 6.1% since it reported last week. Microsoft has declined in the two days since its own results. Amazon, the latest to drop its earnings on Thursday, slid in premarket trading.

Silicon Valley hailed 2024 as the year that companies would begin to deploy generative AI, the type of technology that can create text, images and videos from simple prompts. This mass adoption is meant to finally bring about meaningful profits from the likes of Google's Gemini and Microsoft's Copilot. The fact that those returns have yet to meaningfully materialise is stoking broader concerns about how worthwhile AI will really prove to be.

The technology represents an enormous opportunity — and that opportunity continues to grow, said Daniel Morgan, a senior portfolio manager at Synovus Trust. "But unfortunately, so does the upfront investment." Investors are left to wonder, he said, "Can these hyper-scalers capture enough incremental increase in profit growth from their investments?"

A winning product would also do the trick, he added. It wasn't all bad. The three tech titans reported a healthy pace of growth in their cloud-computing divisions, the most obvious business to benefit from generative AI as the technology requires copious amounts of computational resources to perform. Those gains weren't enough though to appease investors who are growing increasingly impatient to see returns from quarter after quarter of heavy spending on data centers and other AI infrastructure.

The mass adoption is meant to finally bring about meaningful profits from the likes of Google's Gemini and Microsoft's Copilot

Amazon projected third-quarter operating income that fell shy of analysts' estimates on Thursday. CEO Andy Jassy has been waging a cost-cutting campaign to free up resources to invest in AI.

"It's really a positive indicator when we step up capital expenditures," Amazon CFO Brian Olsavsky said while working to assure investors and analysts on a call Thursday.

The company's capital expenditures totalled $30.5 billion, mostly in its AWS cloud unit, in the first half of the year. Jassy said the company has developed sophisticated algorithms to guide its investment decisions so that it builds enough capacity to meet demand without denting profits. He's vowed the investments will be worth it to support what he and his team have called a multibillion-dollar revenue run rate business.

Alphabet's outlook for the AI growth that investors should expect was short on specifics. Chief Investment Officer Ruth Porat said on a call with analysts that the company had "seen the benefit of our strength in AI, AI infrastructure, as well as generative AI solutions for cloud customers," without detailing how much of the cloud unit's growth could be attributed to investment in the technology.

Wall Street's concerns about capital expenditures, which totaled $13.2 billion in the quarter, overshadowed better-than-expected sales. Shares fell 5% the day after the results.

Microsoft also disappointed. Sales growth for Azure, the company's cloud computing service, slowed from the previous period. Microsoft said AI drove 8 percentage points of Azure's growth in the quarter, compared with 7 percentage points in the previous period.

Analysts pressed Microsoft executives during a call to explain whether the sales growth would justify such heavy spending. CEO Satya Nadella stressed the investments were driven by customer demand.

One company that has bucked trend is Facebook parent Meta Platforms. The company unexpectedly raised its forecast for capital expenditures, citing AI investments, but it's second-quarter revenue also beat expectations. CEO Mark Zuckerberg credited spending on AI with driving improvements in ad targetting and content recommendations.

On Thursday, Apple similarly said new AI features will spur iPhone upgrades in the coming months, helping the company reemerge from a sales slowdown that has hit its China business especially hard.

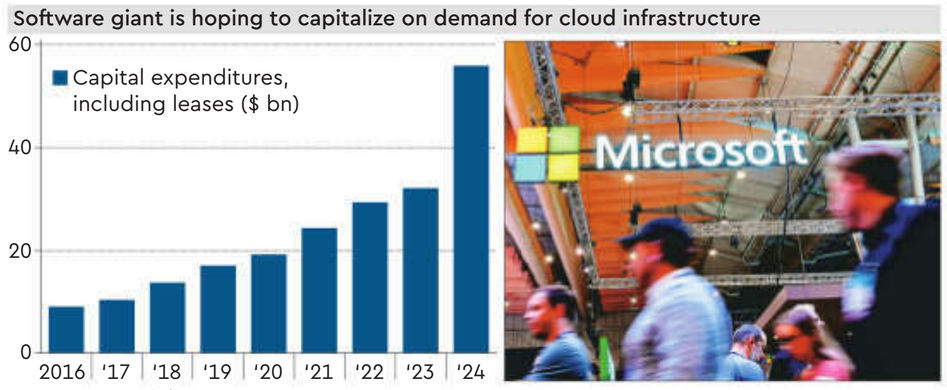

Zuckerberg has framed Meta's sky-high spending on AI as a short-term sacrifice for long-term gain.

To justify what could amount to a total of $1 trillion of investment in AI infrastructure over the next several years, companies need to show the technology is capable of solving increasingly complicated tasks.

Manu makes historic third final, aims medal in 25m pistol today

MIHIR VASAVDA
Chateauroux, August 2

THE WALK FROM the shooting range to Athletes Village lasts exactly 15 minutes. Jaspal Rana, the former world champion who is Manu Bhaker's coach, calls it a therapeutic walk. During this magical week for her, that's all it has taken Manu to declutter her mind, refocus on the next task, pore over the imperfections, and strategise for the next match.

Once Rana drops her "home", there is no shooting talk. This zero-fuss approach, Rana said, is one of the factors that has contributed to Manu landing on the doorstep of a feat previously unthinkable in Indian sport: a hat-trick of Olympic medals. At one Games.

With another sublime qualifying round on Friday, Manu qualified for her third final of the Paris Olympics. She will turn up at the Chateauroux shooting range for one last time today to attempt a feat that, if achieved, would undoubtedly elevate her to the status of being one of India's most successful, if not the most successful Olympians.

In an event she considers her pet, the 25m pistol, Manu reached the final after finishing second in a qualification field of 40, scoring a total of 590. She will be the only Indian in the fray after Asian Games medallist Esha Singh, competing in her debut Olympics, finished 18th. Only the top eight shooters qualify for the medal round. Hungary's Veronika Major topped the qualification, which closed at 585, with a score of 592.

Manu Bhaker submits her pistol for inspection. She will turn up at the Chateauroux shooting range for one last time today to attempt for a third medal at the ongoing Olympics REUTERS

If the first final for Manu was about rectifying her mistakes at the Tokyo Olympics, the third would be to forever etch her name in the history books. No Indian athlete has ever won three Olympic medals in individual events.

Wrestler Sushil Kumar (bronze at Beijing Olympics, silver at London) and P V Sindhu (silver in Rio, bronze in Tokyo) are the only two athletes who have multiple Olympic medals in individual events since India's independence. Sindhu's quest for a three-peat ended with a surrender to China's He Bingjiao on Thursday, a day that saw two of India's biggest medal hopes, badminton doubles pair Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty, and boxing star Nikhat Zareen suffer a twin blow.

If not for shooters rather, if not for Manu the Games so far, from an Indian point of view, would have been abysmal. The three Indian medals all bronze have all come from shooting, with Manu involved in two of them.

Amid soaring Paris heat, sports ministry dispatches 40 ACs for Indian athletes

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, August 2

INDIAN ATHLETES BATTLING the soaring temperatures and lack of cooling in their rooms in the Paris Olympic Games Village have been provided with 40 portable air conditioners by the country's sports ministry to make their stay comfortable.

The air-conditioners were sent to the Games village after discussions with the Indian Olympic Association and the French Embassy here, according to sources in the ministry.

"Taking into consideration the issues faced by athletes at the Olympic Games village because of the temperature and humidity in Paris, the Ministry of Sports decided to provide 40 ACs in the Games Village rooms where the Indian athletes are staying," the source told PTI.

Temperatures have soared in both Paris and Chateauroux, the two main Olympic Games venues. In the men's 50m rifle 3-positions event, all the eight finalists, including India's bronze-winner Swapnil Kusale, were seen sweating profusely at the Chateauroux shooting range. There are reports that temperatures have touched an unbearable 40 degrees Celsius on some days in Paris.

Even before the Games started, several contingents had expressed their concerns about the weather in Paris after the organisers said that they would shun air conditioning to cut the carbon footprint of the event.

Instead, the Games organising committee unveiled an underfloor cooling mechanism and built-in insulation to keep the temperatures down at the Games Village.
