Broadcasting Bill to go back to the drawing board

Concerns over bringing social media creators under regulatory ambit

JATIN GROVER
New Delhi, August 12

THE MINISTRY OF information and broadcasting (I&B) on Monday withdrew the latest draft of the Broadcasting Services (Regulation) Bill, 2024, which had attracted a fair degree of criticism for reportedly proposing to bring online content creators under the purview of licensing or registration, if their reach crossed a particular threshold.

The latest draft Bill was so far not put in public domain, but was shared with stakeholders seeking their comments. The draft was in a watermarked format to prevent any leakage of the copy. Sources said that stakeholders were supposed to send their responses by August 28.

However, now they have been informed to return the draft and not send in their suggestions. Though the draft Bill sought to re-look at the entire broadcasting space afresh, the aspect which was seen as government overreach was the provisions relating to online content creators, influencers, etc, on social media platforms like YouTube, Instagram, etc, if their viewership crossed a certain threshold. In such caseS, these creators and influencers would have to pre-certify their content through a content evaluation committee. This was seen as a kind of censorship by analysts and media observers.

According to sources, the I&B ministry is now likely to consult internally and informally with the industry over certain clauses and then may come up with a revised version of the Bill.

CONTENT CONTROL

- The Bill proposes to designate news influencers as digital news broadcaster, and other creators as OTT Broadcasting Service
- There have also been concerns over the way consultation was being conducted on the draft Bill
- Sparked concerns over freedom of speech given the govt will get to regulate the independent creators
- The govt had not shared the draft publicly but with some stakeholders in a watermarked format

Funds linked to Buchs part of structure under Sebi probe

JAY MAZOOMDAR & SANDEEP SINGH
New Delhi/Mumbai, August 12

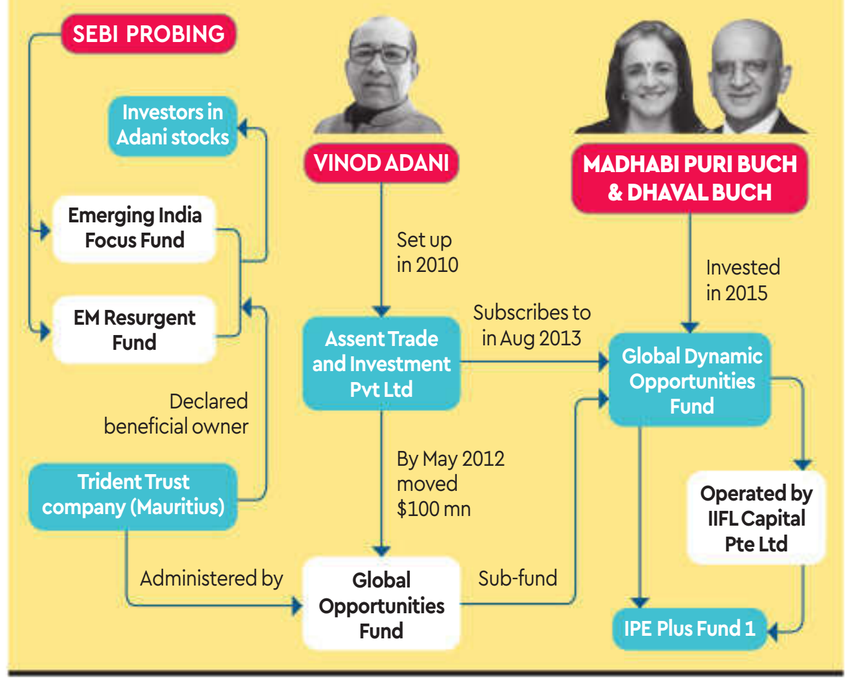

MAURITIUS-BASED IPE PLUS Fund 1, which is at the centre of the controversy surrounding Madhabi Puri Buch and her husband Dhaval Buch not only had investments by Vinod Adani, but was also part of the investment structure used by two of the 13 overseas funds being probed by the Sebi for opaque fund flows into Adani Group companies since 2016-17.

Information from multiple sources, including corporate records, the consortium of Organized Crime and Corruption Reporting Project (OCCRP) and additional information made available by Hindenburg Research, show that the investments by Madhabi Puri Buch and her husband in 2015 are clearly linked to the fund which had significant investments by Vinod Adani.

A scrutiny of the web of funds and investments also reveals that the parent fund (Global Opportunities Fund) of the sub-fund (Global Dynamic Opportunities Fund) where Buch invested, was administered by Trident Trust Company (Mauritius).

Retail inflation cools, IIP falls

RETAIL INFLATION FELL to a 59-month low of 3.54% in July, due to high base, even as it sequentially inched up. Core inflation rose to a five-month high of 3.4%. Analysts see headline print staying comparatively lower in Q2, in tune with the RBI's projection of 4.4%. The RBI is widely expected to hold rates in the next two policy reviews too. Factory output growth, as measured by the IIP, moderated to a five-month low of 4.2% in June from 6.2% in May.

BRANDS QUEUE UP FOR 21-YEAR-OLD AMAN SEHRAWAT

This 'underdog' is having his day

ALOKANANDA CHAKRABORTY
New Delhi, August 12

AMAN SEHRAWAT, THE only one among India's six-member wrestling team in Paris to clinch a medal, is grappling with a new challenge back home — choosing the best fit from the queue of brands at his doorstep.

From categories as diverse as pain relief, insurance, dairy, apparel & footwear, energy drinks and PVC pipes, a dozen brands have already reached out to IOS Sports & Entertainment (IOSSE), the talent management outfit that signed up Sehrawat just three months before his Olympic campaign.

IOSSE refused to comment on the deals in the works but said what the 21-year-old brings to the table is "strength, youth and a tremendous backstory". "Sehrawat offers the perfect blend of inspiration and relatability for brands," says Ramya Chatterjee, CEO & director of Prointek Global Innovations.

Interestingly, Sehrawat didn't have a single brand endorsement deal before August 9. Now he stands to rake in ₹50-60 lakh per endorsement deal, as per the industry estimates. "Fans are more engaged with athletes who are on the rise, especially younger audiences who follow the athlete and root for him/her," says Anjali Chopra associate professor, Marketing and International Business, KJ Somaiya Institute of Management.

By focusing on building a genuine and long-term partnership with Sehrawat, brands can position themselves as supportive allies in his athletic journey, says Chaaya Baradhwaaj, founder & MD, BC Web Wise. "This approach not only capitalises on the current wave of enthusiasm but also demonstrates a commitment to the athlete beyond the spotlight."

Associating with a potential endorser early on is a punt, well worth it. As medals multiply the athlete endorses many brands thereby limiting the impact, says Hemant Misra, founder, Magic Circle, and former CEO, Publicis Capital.

MONSOON PROGRESS CRUCIAL GOING AHEAD

Retail inflation at 59-month low of 3.54% on a high base

Sequentially, the consumer price index rose 1.4% in July, sharpest pace in a year

PRIYANSH VERMA
New Delhi, August 12

INDIA'S RETAIL INFLATION, based on the Consumer Price Index (CPI), plunged to a 59-month low of 3.54% in July, due to the statistical effect of a high base, data released by the National Statistical Office (NSO) showed on Monday. In July 2023, the CPI inflation was 7.44%, a 15-month high.

High base also pulled down food inflation, with Consumer Food Price Index (CFPI) falling to a 13-month low of 5.42% in July. In the year ago period, it stood at 11.51%.

On a sequential basis, however, the overall index rose by 1.4% in July, the highest pace in 12 months, driven by a 2.8% rise in the CFPI. During July, the indices of five of six groups increased on a month-on-month basis, but the annual inflation prints of four declined, owing to the base effect. The base will continue to have a pronounced bearing on August inflation also (which is seen to be around 3.5%), but thereafter it might ebb.

The miscellaneous index rose 0.8% on month, indicating rising underlying price pressures. Core inflation came in at a five-month high of 3.4% in July.

"Core inflation edged up to 3.4% due to higher gold prices and telecom tariff revisions. The bottom for core inflation is probably behind us and we see a move above 4% over the coming months," said Sakshi Gupta, principal economist, HDFC Bank.

"For headline inflation, the monsoon progress in the coming weeks will be crucial to determine whether food inflation shocks subside," said Gupta. So far, monsoon has been 6.4% above the benchmark long period average (LPA).

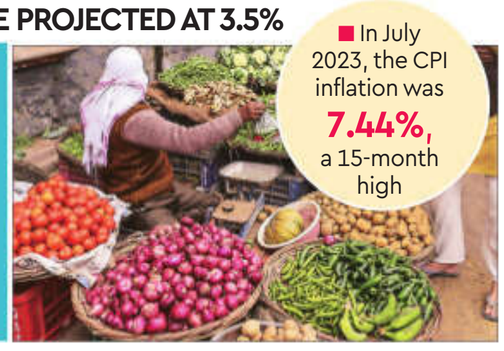

Under food, the major pain points remain cereals and pulses. The inflation has remained above 6% for both the groups for more than a year. In July, the inflation of 'cereals and products' and 'pulses and products' stood at 8.14% and 14.77%, respectively.

"While inflation numbers in the coming months may come down due to this (base) effect, the new crop will enter only post September which will determine the future course of price movements," said Madan Sabnavis, chief economist, Bank of Baroda.

In Q2FY24, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) projected CPI inflation to average 4.4%, which is 60 basis points (bps) higher than its previous estimate. But with the current print, economists say retail inflation may in fact average closer to its previous forecast of 3.8%.

IIP growth eases to 5-month low of 4.2% in June

PRIYANSH VERMA
New Delhi, August 12

INDIA'S FACTORY OUTPUT growth, as measured by the Index of Industrial Production (IIP), moderated to a five-month low of 4.2% in June from 6.2% in May, primarily due to slower growth in manufacturing activity, official data released on Monday showed.

Manufacturing growth (accounting for 78% of IIP) slowed to a seven-month low of 2.6% in June from 5% in May, and electricity growth eased a three -month low of 8.6% from 13.7%. Mining growth, on the other hand, rose to an eight-month high of 10.3% in June from 6.6% in May.

"The decline in manufacturing growth is possibly due to excessive summer heat conditions in many parts of the country in June apart from inventory rationalisation in some sectors such as auto," said Suman Chowdhury, chief economist, Acuité Ratings & Research.

Also, given the lower industrial output in the first quarter along with lower than expected profitability, weaker GVA growth in the manufacturing sector may pull down GDP growth in Q1FY25 to below 7%, noted Chowdhury. The RBI has projected GDP to grow 7.1% in the April-June quarter, and 7.2% for FY25.

In the use-based category, consumer durables output growth ebbed to a six-month low of 8.6% in June, while that of consumer non-durables growth declined to (-) 1.4% from 2.5% in May. The contraction in output signifies that the demand from the rural sector is not yet robust, say economists.

"Broad-based consumption improvement and the revival of private investment remain crucial for the industrial activity," said Rajani Sinha, chief economist, CareEdge. "From the consumption perspective, the trajectory of food inflation and progress of monsoon remain the key monitorables," she said.

India Ratings and Research (Ind-Ra) said that the impact of general elections was visible in IIP data. The capital goods grew at a meagre 2.4% (lowest since February 2024) in June 2024, signalling muted investment activity in the economy. The growth in infrastructure goods' output also declined to a seven-month low of 4.4% during the month due to a drop in government capex.

Going forward, Ind-Ra expects IIP growth to average around 4.5% in the near term, as the next four month prints will bear the brunt of the unfavourable base. The average growth during July-October 2023 was 8.8%.

Pan-India drive against fake GST registration from Aug 16

CENTRAL AND STATE GST officers will launch a pan-India special two-month drive against fake registration beginning August 16, the CBIC said on Monday.

This is the second such drive to identify fake registrations under Goods and Services Tax (GST). Fake GST registrations are usually taken to fraudulently avail and pass on input tax credit and evade GST.

"The second Special All-India Drive may be launched by all Central and State Tax administrations from 16th August 2024 to 15th October 2024 to detect suspicious/fake GSTINs and to conduct requisite verification and further remedial action to weed out these fake billers from the GST eco-system and to safeguard government revenue," the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (CBIC) said in an instruction to field formations.

In the first drive between May 16, 2023 to July 15, 2023, against fake registration, a total of 21,791 entities (11,392 entities pertaining to state tax jurisdiction and 10,399 entities pertaining to CBIC jurisdiction) having GST registration were discovered to be non-existent.

An amount of ₹24,010 crore of suspected tax evasion was detected during the special drive.

Moore Singhi executive director Rajat Mohan said this extended drive highlights the critical role of data analytics and inter-agency collaboration in combating tax evasion and underscores the government's commitment to maintaining a clean and fair tax environment.

Kharif sowing 90% complete; area under key crops up 1.3%

SANDIP DAS
New Delhi, August 12

THANKS TO THE surplus monsoon rains in most parts of the country, sowing of kharif crops is progressing at a satisfactory pace and is marginally higher than last year.

At 97.98 million hectare (MH) or 90% of the normal sown area, the combined sown area of key crops – paddy, pulses, oilseeds and sugarcane — was up 1.3% on year on Monday, according to latest data by the agriculture ministry.

Officials said that sowing activities will continue till the middle of September. Due to adequate rainfall in the eastern regions in the last fortnight, paddy sowing in Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh and Bihar have picked up pace.

The overall rainfall this season till Monday has been 6.3% above the benchmark long period average or above normal range. India Meteorological Department has stated that out of 725 districts in the country, 71% have received rainfall in the range of 'large excess' to 'normal' so far. However, Bihar, Punjab, Haryana, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Nagaland, Manipur and Mizoram remain rain deficient.

While the met department has predicted 'above normal' rainfall during August-September 2024, which augurs well for the kharif crops, consulting firm Icra has stated that it "remains watchful of the episodes of heavy rainfall and flooding across some states that could harm the standing crops and impact perishable prices during this period."

Till Monday, the area under paddy at 33.17 MH was up 4.2% on year. The normal sown area of paddy in kharif period is 40.15 MH.

Sowing of pulses (6.67%) and oilseeds (0.8%) too saw an increase because of normal to above-normal monsoon rains in key growing states of Karnataka, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh and Gujarat.

"Monsoon and sowing have been progressing well and the expectation is that the arrival of fresh supplies in the market should, over the next few months, curb the food price rise," Dharmakirti Joshi, chief economist, Crisil said.

Area under pulses such as tur, urad and moong rose by 6.67% to 11.74 MH on year, which is expected to boost pulses production in the 2024-25 season.

The country's import of pulses in the current fiscal is likely to decline to 4 to 4.5 million tonne (MT) from a record 4.73 MT in the FY24, Bimal Kothari, chairman, India Pulses and Grains Association (IPGA) has said.

According to the data, sown area in oilseeds — groundnut, soybean and sunflower – is 0.99% higher at 18.36 MH. Oilseeds sowing is expected to be completed in the next fortnight.

Officials said that higher oilseeds output in the current kharif season is expected to reduce the country's dependence on edible oil imports. Currently, around 60% of the country's annual consumption of edible oil of around 28 million tonne (MT) is met through imports of palm, soyabean and sunflower oils.

ONGC, OIL to price gas from new wells at 20% premium

OUTPUT BOOSTER

- Currently, the gas price is fixed at 10% of the Indian crude basket price, and revised on a monthly basis

- The move is expected to make new gas development projects of state-owned upstream companies viable

- ONGC said that the move will enhance its investment capacity

- The implementation of the policy comes amidst govt's target of increasing the share of natural gas to 15% in the energy mix from the current 6% by 2030

ARUNIMA BHARADWAJ
New Delhi, August 12

THE MINISTRY OF petroleum and natural gas on Monday allowed allocation of gas produced from new wells or well interventions from nominated fields of ONGC and Oil India at a 20% premium over the administered price mechanism (APM price) or the domestic natural gas price. The move is expected to make new gas development projects of state-owned upstream companies viable and help increase domestic production.

Following the notification, the gas produced from new wells in the nomination fields of ONGC and Oil India will attract a premium of 12% of Indian crude basket price, as under the current policy, gas pricing is linked to crude price. Currently, the APM gas price is fixed at 10% of the Indian crude basket price, and revised by Petroleum Planning and Analysis (PPAC) on a monthly basis.

"The enhanced price for new gas will make the new gas development projects viable and help ONGC to augment the production of natural gas from nominated fields in challenging areas that require higher amounts of capital and technology," ONGC said.

The company said that the move will enhance its investment capacity to take up development projects which are otherwise capital intensive and involve higher degree of risks requiring commensurate prices.

The ONGC board has recently approved the Daman Upside Development project in its nominated field of Mumbai High at a cost of ₹7,800 crore approximately for increasing the domestic gas production. The job has already been awarded for execution and the peak production envisaged from this project is around 5 million metric standard cubic meters per day (MMSCMD), said the company.

The board has also approved another project - Integrated Development of 4 contract areas under DSF-II at a project cost of ₹6,000 crore.

Somanathan moves from being a deft manager of Centre's finances to the key Cabinet aide

PRASANTA SAHU
New Delhi, August 12

FINANCE SECRETARY TV Somanathan, who has been elevated to the post of Cabinet secretary, has played a pivotal role in the adept management of government finances during the testing period of the pandemic, and bringing about enhanced fiscal transparency despite heavy odds.

His rich experience in handling public monies and ensuring that it is put to the most efficient use, as well in building consensus among different layers of government, including the states, is expected to stand him in good stead in the new assignment.

A chartered accountant who holds a doctorate in economics, the amiable 1987-batch IAS officer from Tamil Nadu cadre, has also managed to take the state governments on board in making further headway in fiscal discipline.

Under finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman, the Centre's fiscal transparency turned a new leaf as it virtually ended off-Budget borrowings, plugging leakages and just-in-time release of funds for schemes to states and central agencies in the second term of the Modi government. The process was led by Somanathan who joined as expenditure secretary in December 2019. Later, he also was designated as finance secretary from April 28, 2021.

The Budget estimates (BEs) of revenue and expenditure, which are made at the start of a fiscal year, have become more realistic during his tenure. The BEs in most cases have turned out to be close to the final numbers (actuals), with revenue estimates often beaten. The fiscal deficit targets were largely over-achieved in the past two years. The target for the current fiscal is set at 4.9% of GDP, much lower than 9.2% in the pandemic year FY21.

At the same time, no excessive reductions have been carried out on the expenditure side. What has been achieved is prudent and credible Budget-making and efficient management of expenses and revenues. Often his advice to the government departments was to take the next installment only after exhausting the previous tranches released, allowing no idling of funds. This helped the Centre annually save a tidy sum of ₹10,000 crore.

Somanathan's deft handling of the government finances after Covid-19 broke out in 2020 was most notable. He used the tolerance of higher fiscal deficit worldwide as an opportunity to do a one-time fiscal readjustment by bringing nearly ₹5 trillion off-Budget liabilities into the balance sheet in FY21-22. This led the fiscal deficit to a record 9.2% in FY21, but a glide path was rolled out next year to bring it to below 4.5% by FY26 and it is well on track.

This was followed up by Centre tightening the norms to discourage fiscal indiscipline by states, many of which resort to debt through parastatal bodies to fund government schemes. The Centre had cut around ₹41,000 crore from the state's net borrowing ceiling for FY23 for resorting to off-balance sheet loans in FY22.

Similarly, the Centre also resorted to a capex-led growth strategy that saw its annual capex budget multiply from around ₹3 trillion in FY19-20 to ₹9.5 trillion in FY24 and budgeted to be ₹11.1 trillion in FY25.

To broad-base capex-led growth strategy, he made sure that states were also part of the game by offering them 50-year interest-free capex loans, partly linked to reforms in key areas such as land and buildings. Under the scheme, ₹2.17 trillion has been released and is estimated to give another ₹1.5 trillion in FY25, taking the total to ₹3.7 trillion during FY21-25. These soft loans are likely to be treated as grants, Sitharaman indicated recently.

Somanathan was also strongly against the non-contributory old pension system (OPS) making a comeback. To ensure that pensionary benefits remained an attractive proposition for the government staff who joined the service from 2004 onwards, a panel headed by him is understood to have recommended addressing the core concerns of employees. Accordingly, the government might offer a guaranteed pension option with some inflation adjustment annually and a minimum pension for those who don't have a full-service period.

Rationalisation of schemes, setting sunset clauses for them and closing schemes that no longer made sense have saved trillions of rupees for the government.

Food weight in CPI basket set to drop

Over 5 percentage points cut likely

PRIYANSH VERMA
New Delhi, August 12

THE GOVERNMENT MAY reduce the weight of the 'food and beverages' group in the new Consumer Price Index (CPI) series by "a little over 5 percentage points (pps)," an official source told FE. The new series, with 2024 as the base year, is likely to be launched by January 2026, the person said.

The statistics ministry is likely to take a decision of the base year changes of several macroeconomic indicators, such as GDP, IIP, WPI and CPI, in the "next six-to-seven months", another official said.

The government is deliberating on whether to choose FY23 or FY24 as the base year for GDP, IIP and WPI. At present, the CPI has the base year of 2012, and other three indicators, of FY12.

The government needs to gather macroeconomic data at shorter time period, and in higher frequencies, chief economic advisor (CEA) V Anantha Nageswaran said on Monday, while adding that the states held the key for many of the reforms required to aid growth. He also suggested creating synergy between GST data and statistical system.

FE had reported earlier that the results of the Household Consumption Expenditure Survey (HCES) 2022-23 will be used to constitute the new CPI basket, citing official sources.

The statistics ministry will check the results of the Household Consumption Expenditure Survey (HCES) 2023-24, to assess the "robustness" of the 2022-23 survey methodology. But it is unlikely to use the 2023-24 survey results to constitute the new series.

In the present CPI series, with base year 2012, food carries a weight of 39%, and 'food and beverages' about 46.%. The weight of both the groups are expected to be revised downward in the new series (having a base year 2024).

The statistics ministry has formed a 22-member committee to deliberate on updating the base year of the new CPI series, in accordance with the results of the HCES 2022-23.

The survey results show a considerable drop in the share of food items in the monthly per capita consumption expenditure of households. As per HCES 2022-23, the share of food and beverages in the new CPI series may fall down to 41%, say economists.

Food inflation falls to 13-month low to 5.42%

SANDIP DAS
New Delhi, August 12

RETAIL FOOD INFLATION dropped sharply to a thirteen-month low of 5.42% in July, down from 9.36% in June, largely due to the base effect.

However, prices of pulses and cereals remained at elevated levels.

The Consumer Food Price Index (CFPI) rose by 2.81% sequentially in July 2024. In the same month last year, food inflation was high at 11.51%, up sharply from 4.49% in the previous month.

Aditi Nayar, chief economist at Icra, stated that the primary driver of this downtrend was the decline in vegetable inflation, which fell to 6.8% in July from 29.3% in June, largely due to a favourable base. However, Nayar noted that on a month-on-month basis, vegetable prices surged by 14.1% in July 2024, following a similar increase in June.

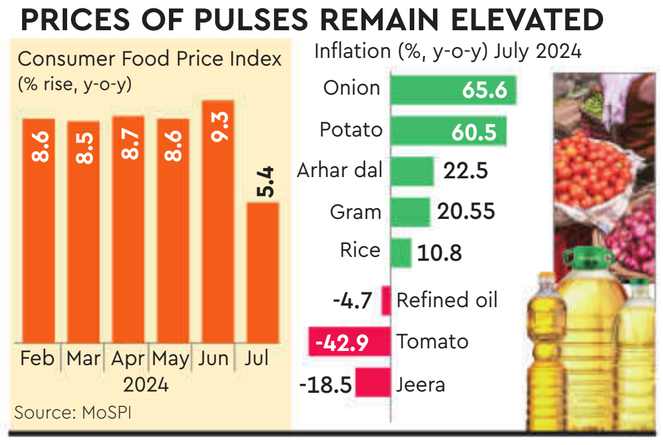

Inflation in onions and potatoes surged by 60.54% and 65.64%, respectively, in July, driven by lower production. The agriculture ministry projects potato and onion output for the 2023-24 crop year (July-June) at 56.76 MT and 21.23 MT, a decrease of 6% and 20%, respectively.

Tomato prices, on the other hand, declined by 42.91% last month, reflecting the high prices seen a year ago. In July 2023, tomato inflation was a staggering 202% year-on-year, with retail prices exceeding ₹100/kg across key cities due to supply disruptions caused by rains in hilly states. Deflation in edible oils continued in July.

Inflation in pulses rose slightly to 14.77% in July, compared to 16.07% in June. The arhar variety saw the highest price increase at 22.52%, while gram split and moong prices rose by 20.55% and 7.56%, respectively.

Officials indicated that pulse prices are likely to decline due to robust sowing of kharif crops such as tur, urad, and moong, which currently cover 11.74 million hectares, up 6.67% year-on-year. Strong imports are also expected to help keep prices in check.

TO BECOME LARGEST SHAREHOLDER IN UK FIRM

Bharti to acquire 24.5% stake in BT Group worth $4 billion

No connection with Airtel, says chairman Sunil Bharti Mittal

JATIN GROVER
New Delhi, August 12

BHARTI GLOBAL, THE international investment arm of Bharti Enterprises, will acquire a 24.5% stake in BT Group, Britain's largest broadband and mobile company, from Altice UK.

Though Bharti didn't disclose the transaction size, the deal at the current market price is likely to be valued around $4 billion (₹31,850 crore), making it one of the biggest outbound deals by an Indian company.

Speaking to FE, Bharti Enterprises chairman Sunil Bharti Mittal said though growth in fully-developed economies like the UK is very small at around 1-2% a year, revenues are pretty large – $25 billion in current revenue and $10 billion in Ebitda.

"I think it's a very attractive buy. In the UK, we have many companies that are trading at low multiples. So, given the cash flows from BT, we believe it's going to be a good and a long-term investment," Mittal said.

"As far as BT's businesses are concerned, out of a revenue of $25 billion, around $9-10 billion is through enterprise, but it is the top mobile provider in the UK under the EE brand," Mittal said.

He said that BT covers around 30 million homes on fibre broadband. "They have home broadband, they have wholesale fibre open reach, they have mobile and they have enterprise. So, this is exactly like Airtel. And if you look at Airtel, the revenue and Ebitda are mirror images. We provide all the similar services that we do in India and they do in the UK," Mittal said, explaining the rationale behind the stake purchase.

He made it clear that Bharti Airtel has nothing to do with the deal. "Airtel has not made this move. This is an investment from Bharti Enterprises. However, best practice sharing can always take place given the common shareholder on both sides. But Airtel at the moment is not engaged in this particular process of seeking any technology or any help from BT," Mittal said.

The way the deal is structured is that shares will be purchased through Bharti Televentures UK, a company established and wholly-owned by Bharti Global. Bharti Televentures UK has entered into a binding agreement with Altice UK to acquire a 9.99% stake of BT Group and issued capital imminently with the balance 14.51% to be acquired following the receipt of applicable regulatory clearances.

On the funding of the deal, Mittal said Barclays is the financial adviser and is providing some immediate cash, so it will be a mix of equity and some financial support. Bharti has no immediate plan of buying out the rest of BT, and has not asked for a board seat. "At this stage, we are not asking for a board seat. We got into the company through a public block and the seller also didn't have any board seat. For me, I think I can add a tremendous amount of value within and outside the board. It will be probably in the future sometime if this particular issue needs to be addressed," Mittal said.

On whether Bharti Airtel is also looking at any overseas acquisition, he said that Airtel has been busy building India and it will probably be focused on the country for the next 2-3 years on missions that are still to be completed in terms of more 5G, gaps of 4G, more fibre being rolled out, FWA, enterprise business and data centres.

"Airtel has its hands full. In 2-3 years' time, Airtel's cash profile looks pretty strong to us and at that point of time, based on what the board decides with large cash flows and India's capex becoming smaller, there could be an opportunity for Airtel to go global," Mittal said.

Bharti and BT have a relationship going back more than two decades. In 1997, BT acquired a 21% stake in Bharti Airtel, which it sold in 2001.

Timotheus Höttges, CEO of Deutsche Telecom, which owns 12% of BT Group, described the deal as a positive step. "We have a long and good working relationship with Bharti. So, we are looking forward to working together and the board of directors for the sake of BT shareholders and customers," Höttges said.

Commerce minister Piyush Goyal said the deal is a "testimony to the growing strength of India".

- Buy remaining 14.51% after UK approvals

Voda Idea trims loss to ₹6,432 cr; Arpu flat at ₹146

JATIN GROVER
New Delhi, August 12

VODAFONE IDEA'S NET loss for the June quarter narrowed to ₹6,432 crore from ₹7,674 crore in the preceding quarter, owing to a fall in expenses, especially the finance costs.

Bloomberg had estimated the net loss at ₹7,639 crore.

Total expenses fell 6.1% sequentially to ₹17,191 crore. On a year-on-year basis, expenses fell 7.1%, owing to which losses came down from ₹7,840 crore a year ago. Finance costs fell 12.1% q-o-q to ₹5,519 crore.

Vodafone Idea said it has reversed the interest charge of ₹263 crore accrued earlier. This was after the Supreme Court recently waived interest on the tax demand on annual revenue share licence fee.

Revenues from operations fell nearly 1% q-o-q to ₹10,508 crore, missing the Bloomberg estimate of ₹10,655 crore. On a y-o-y basis, revenue fell 1.4%. Consolidated Ebitda missed the estimates at ₹4,205 crore and fell 3% sequentially. Ebitda margin fell to 40% from 40.9% in the preceding quarter.

The average revenue per user (Arpu) was flat sequentially at ₹146, attributable to the absence of tariff hikes and loss of subscribers. The impact of the recent tariff hike will be seen from the September quarter.

VIL lost 2.5 million mobile subscribers, taking its user base to 210.1 million at the end of June. The blended churn of subscribers rose to 4% from 3.9% in the March period.

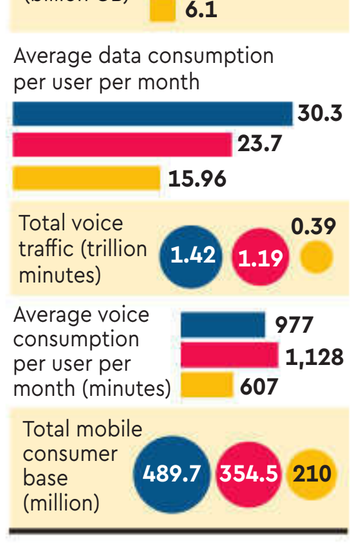

4G subscriber base rose by 400,000 in Q1 to 126.7 million from 126.3 million. "Post the recent equity raise, we are in the process of expanding our 4G coverage and capacity as well as launch of 5G services. Some capex has already been ordered and under execution, basis which we expect 15% increase in our data capacity and an increase in 4G population coverage by 16 million by end September," CEO Akshaya Moondra said. "Our current capex needs are being met out of equity funds. We are engaged with our lenders for tying up debt funding towards the execution of our network expansion with a planned capex of ₹50,000-55,000 crore over the next three years," he added.

According to Moondra, the recent tariff intervention is a step in the right direction for the industry. However, further tariff rationalisation is needed for the industry to fully cover its cost of capital, he added.

At the end of the April-June quarter, Vodafone Idea's gross debt (excluding lease liabilities and including interest accrued but not due) was at ₹2.09 trillion.

The gross debt comprises deferred spectrum payment obligations of ₹1.39 trillion, AGR liabilities of ₹70,320 crore that are due to the government, debt from banks and financial institutions of ₹4,650 crore and optionally convertible debentures amounting to ₹160 crore.

Royal Enfield unveils all-new Classic 350; launch on Sept 1

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY
New Delhi, August 12

ROYAL ENFIELD ON Monday unveiled the all-new Classic 350 motorcycle. Powered by a 349-cc air-oil cooled engine (20.2 bhp power and 27 Nm torque), the price of the Classic 350 will be announced on September 1 — the day its bookings and customer test rides will start. It will be available in seven colours.

Siddhartha Lal, MD & CEO, Eicher Motors — the parent company of Royal Enfield — told FE that the Classic 350 is a motorcycle that has defined what 'classic' means in the world of motorcycling (traditional and yet modern), and has been instrumental in reviving the brand.

"Around 2005-06, when Royal Enfield was struggling as a company, and yearly sales were less than 50,000, it was the Classic 350 that infused new energy into the brand. We started working on it in 2005-06, and when it was eventually launched in 2009, it turned Royal Enfield into a global company," he said. "Around 2009, we were selling just about 50,000 motorcycles per year, but thanks to the Classic – and the multiple models launched after that – we have reached 850,000 units per year now."

Since 2009-10, Royal Enfield has sold almost 7.5 million motorcycles, and of these, almost 4 million are the Classic.

B Govindarajan, CEO, Royal Enfield, added that the Classic is Royal Enfield's most-loved motorcycle. "It has practically created the middleweight motorcycle category in India (350-500 cc). As we evolve the Classic with this new 2024 edition, we've stayed true to its originality and essence."

The all-new Classic350 gets upgrades such as LED headlamps, LED pilot lamp, gear position indicator on the cluster, and type-C USB charging point. It has five variants – Heritage, Heritage Premium, Signals, Dark, and Emerald. The Heritage Series will be available in two colours – Madras Red and Jodhpur Blue. "These new colours reflect the brand's cultural inspirations and are detailed with metallic flakes and gold pinstripes," Govindarajan said.

"As part of the Year of the Classic that we are celebrating this year, Royal Enfield will be introducing programmes and services that offer customers new flavours and expressions of the Classic. The most definitive embodiment of this vision will be expressed in the form of the Royal Enfield Factory Custom programme – a bespoke motorcycle personalisation and design studio service that will help customers bring their very own unique design vision to life."

The price of the all-new Classic 350 will be announced on Sept 1, the day bookings and customer test rides are scheduled to start

Not worried about Birla entry, says Berger MD

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, August 12

BERGER PAINTS, THE country's second-largest paints company, is not worried about the entry of Birla Opus in the market and hopes to double turnover to ₹20,000 crore by FY29 from ₹10,000 crore in standalone revenue in FY24, Abhijit Roy, MD & CEO, Berger Paints India, said on Monday. It also expects to boost its value growth to 5% in the September quarter, while maintaining volume growth at 10%, he said.

Roy was speaking after the company's 100th annual general meeting in Kolkata. The firm told shareholders it would add 25-30% capacity in the next two years with two new plants—one at Panagarh, West Bengal, and the other in Odisha, with a combined investment of ₹2,000 crore.

"Competition is part of the paints industry in India...Birla is a serious player. But there is nothing to worry. We remain confident of gaining 0.5-0.6% market share annually as we have over the last four years," he said. The company also plans to close its Howrah plant and convert it into a large R&D centre by 2025-end, once the greenfield Panagarh facility becomes operational.

"We achieved a volume growth of 11.8% in the June quarter, but value growth was just 2.5% due to factors like price cuts, reduced raw material costs, and a slowdown in the luxury paints segment in West Bengal and Kerala," he said.

Roy also said increased urbanisation and the government focus on infrastructure development would help spur sales of paints and ancillary segments in the mid-to-long term. "Consumption of paints will increase as urbanisation improves to levels of about 50-55%," he said.

Retailers, cinema chains eye I-Day weekend sales boost

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, August 12

RETAILERS ACROSS ELECTRONICS, fashion and apparel, and food and beverage segments as well as cinema chains are pinning hopes on the extended Independence Day-Rakshabandhan weekend to drive sales, after a difficult April-June quarter this year, which saw a retail slowdown.

Executives at firms such as Croma, Vijay Sales and Reliance Digital to apparel chains such as Pantaloons, Lifestyle and V-Mart say that the weekend of Thursday (Independence Day) to Monday (Rakshabandhan) may see a sales uptick of around 15-20% versus last year on positive consumer sentiment, good deals led by cashbacks, easy financing options, exchange programmes as well as discounts of at least 50-60% on various products.

The Independence Day-Rakshabandhan weekend will also kick off the festive season, which will commence with regional festivals such as Onam and Ganesh Chathurthi in the first week of September.

"There is pent-up demand and consumers are coming back to the marketplace as the festive season will begin," said Nilesh Gupta, director at electronics retail chain Vijay Sales, which has stores in north and west India. "We expect strong footfalls and sales growth of at least 15-20% as we get into this long weekend, led by categories such as mobile phones, TVs and large appliances," he added.

"Retailers and brands are also using the occasion to offload existing inventory to make way for new products ahead of the upcoming festive season in September-October," Anand Agarwal, chief financial officer, V-Mart Retail, said.

Cinemas expect footfalls on the back of six films that will release on Thursday, including three movies in Hindi (Stree 2, Khel Khel Mein and Veda) and three south films (Vikram's Thangalaan in Tamil, Ravi Teja's Mr Bachchan and Ram Pothineni's Double Ismart in Telugu). Of this, Stree 2, a sequel to 2018's Stree, both starring Shraddha Kapoor and Rajkummar Rao, is expected to open well (₹30 crore opening day collections likely), based on advanced bookings, trade experts said.

"This is the first long weekend after a difficult first half of calendar year 2024. Not only is it important from a business perspective, but this weekend will also set the tone for the upcoming festive season," Kunal Sawhney, chief operating officer, CineLine India, which runs the MovieMax chain of cinemas in the country, said.

Sawhney said that Stree 2 may do the heavy lifting in terms of box office performance, contributing around ₹150-170 crore in terms of earnings in its first weekend. The rest may chip in with ₹50-70 crore in collections, though the south films are likely to perform well in their respective regional markets, he added.

Mukesh Kumar, a retail expert and the former MD & CEO of Quest Properties India, said a combination of big movie releases as well as a national holiday should help spur retail sales this year.

IN FESTIVE MOOD

- Vijay Sales expects strong footfalls, sales growth of 15-20% led by mobile phones, TVs and large appliances
- Positive consumer sentiment, cashbacks, exchange programmes as well as 50-60% discounts expected to boost sales
- Multiplexes expect high footfalls on the back of six films releasing on Thursday

- Independence Day-Rakshabandhan long weekend to also kick off the festive season

TARGETS 50% GROWTH IN FY25

AI eyes more revenue from ancillary biz

ROHIT VAID
New Delhi, August 12

TATA GROUP'S FLAGSHIP carrier Air India plans to grow its ancillary revenue stream by around 50% in the current fiscal. The airline recently optimised the pricing of its ancillary products such as excess baggage and seat selection as well as introduced new value-added products.

According to sources, Air India is working to further strengthen its portfolio of ancillary offerings by introducing more passenger-friendly product solutions to "meet most travel needs integrated into its direct booking channels".

"Since Air India's privatisation, the airline has followed a two-pronged approach to grow its ancillary business," a source told FE, adding: "Firstly, they have improved on the ancillary products they had on offer and rationalised the pricing of those to correct what they were charging for seat selection, excess baggage, and others."

As per sources, the success of services such as Upgrade Plus, travel insurance, a fare lock option, and the repricing of other products to industry standards led Air India to grow its ancillary revenue by over 40% on a year-on-year basis to ₹1,700 crore in FY24.

During the last two years, under Tata's leadership, the airline has managed to grow its ancillary revenue stream by a whopping 142%.

In FY22, the airline earned ₹700 crore, which increased to ₹1,300 crore in FY23.

The airline now targets a revenue collection of around ₹2,500 crore from the ancillary stream in FY25. It also plans to grow its ancillary revenue by threefold from the target of FY25 in FY27—the fiscal that the airline aims to become profitable.

Queries sent to Air India did not elicit a response till the time of going to the press.

As per sources, the new management has launched fresh products such as Upgrade Plus to invite eligible bookings for confirmed upgrades, gift cards, travel insurance, and Fare Lock, among others.

The sources said Air India has launched a visa concierge service in partnership with VFS Global subsidiary OneVasco to offer its customers the option to apply for visas to over 100 countries as well as e-visas to India for foreign nationalities.

The airline has already rolled out value-added services like Book-A-Cab for passengers travelling to and from domestic airports, and is in talks with major companies for the B2B sales of its gift cards.

In addition, sources said, the airline is set to collaborate with different brands to optimise passenger convenience and be a one-stop shop for most travel requirements.

INVESTMENT FIRM ANTLER India, which has invested in around 63 startups so far, plans to invest in 100-120 more by the end of this calendar year. The investments will be made from its ₹600-crore ($75 million) maiden India-focused fund, which the firm closed early this year.

Antler primarily invests in pre-seed startups and works independently from its Singapore-based global entity. The company recently led a $11-million pre-Series A funding round in Bengaluru-based ride-hailing startup Namma Yatri, along with Blume and participation from Google.

Antler said Namma Yatri fits well in its key investment strategy, which revolves around backing startups building digital public infrastructure.

"In the last 12 years or so, there has been only one business model in the urban mobility space. Very little innovation has happened. Namma Yatri's business model is disruptive and we are happy it is coming out of India," Nitin Sharma, co-founder and partner, Antler India, said. Sharma co-leads the India market for Antler along with Rajiv Srivatsa, who is also co-founder, Urban Ladder.

"The (Namma Yatri's) business model is a new take that considers the driver community. The team follows a samaj sarkar bazaar model, where it brings community, government and business together," he added.

Namma Yatri follows a subscription model, wherein it charges a per-day subscription fee from cab drivers, unlike its rivals Ola, Uber and Swiggy-backed Rapido, who reportedly charge a commission of about 25-30% for each ride from their drivers in most markets.

Antler India is sector-agnostic, with a specific focus on SaaS, fintech and generative AI (GenAI) and startups building on large networks such as Open Network for Digital Commerce (ONDC). GenAI in edtech, senior care, pet care, and lithium-ion alternatives are also some of the segments the firm is keenly analysing. Its key portfolio companies, besides Namma Yatri, include Houseeazy, IndiaP2P, Inspecity, Apnibus and LogX.

Launched in India in 2020, the company is focused on day-zero investing. "We call it day-zero because we invest in entrepreneurs who are just getting started, sometimes before there is traction, team and even before the idea is finalised," Sharma said.

DOCTOR'S RAPE AND MURDER IN KOLKATA

Mamata to CBI: Arrest accused by Sunday or CBI will take over

ATRI MITRA
Kolkata, August 12

WEST BENGAL CHIEF Minister Mamata Banerjee Monday said that if the state police are unable to solve the case of the Kolkata medical college doctor's rape and murder by Sunday, the case would be handed over to the CBI.

Banerjee also met the family of the doctor, who was raped and murdered last week at RG Kar Medical College and Hospital in Kolkata, sending shockwaves through the state and prompting a protest by doctors at several hospitals.

After the nearly hour-long meeting, the CM told reporters: "We are trying our best to solve the case. I don't know how this type of incident can happen at a hospital. Police are giving utmost importance to the investigation. If there are more accused, and all are not arrested by Sunday, we will hand over the case to the CBI – even though their success rate is low."

Meanwhile, the principal of the medical college, Sandip Ghosh, resigned from his post on Monday. His resignation was one of the demands of protesting resident doctors from across West Bengal, who on Sunday night also called for a fast-track judicial inquiry into the case, proper compensation to the victim's family, and an apology from the Kolkata police.

Doctors of KGMU Lucknow take part in a candlelight march in protest against the rape and murder of a trainee doctor in Kolkata, in Lucknow, on Monday PTI

Scaling up the protest, the doctors also announced they would suspend emergency services from Monday onwards – a move that could paralyse state-run hospitals.

After his resignation, Ghosh said, "I am being defamed on social media. Some people are spreading false accusations against me. Students are being provoked to seek my removal. The deceased doctor was like my child, and I want the guilty to be punished. As a parent, I am resigning."

The 31-year-old junior doctor was found dead at a seminar hall in the hospital on Friday morning. Police arrested a civic volunteer, Sanjay Roy, in connection with the case.

Following her meeting with the doctor's family, Banerjee said that she would seek the death penalty for the accused.

"We ordered the police to identify the culprits, whoever they are. They will be tried in a fast-track court, and we will demand the death penalty for them. Police will be in constant touch with the family," she said. She also mentioned the action already taken by the government, which on Sunday removed hospital superintendent Sanjay Vashisth. Kolkata Police has also removed the ACP-rank officer who was in charge of the area concerned.

During her meeting with the family, the CM was accompanied by Kolkata Police Commissioner Vineet Goyal.

After the meeting, Goyal said, "All those who were near the PO (place of occurrence of the crime) and have a connection or involvement are being summoned. We have already started a helpline number. Doctors can anonymously call to tell us if they suspect someone and why. They can come and talk to us physically too."

Sisodia blames L-G for Delhi's woes

Says he (L-G) indirectly threatens officers

JATIN ANAND
New Delhi, August 12

THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR'S "dictatorship" is to blame for issues plaguing the national capital, from water scarcity in summer to waterlogging in monsoon, former deputy chief minister Manish Sisodia said on Monday. In an interview, the senior AAP leader also said the BJP feels "threatened" by the Constitution.

Asked about Delhi's crumbling condition infrastructure and a host of civic issues that residents have flagged, Sisodia said, "For the last one-and-a-half to two years, funds meant for the Delhi Jal Board have been stalled and the L-G has not allowed payments to go through. He indirectly threatens officers; this is the reason behind this situation. The reason for this state of affairs is dictatorship; it is the L-G's dictatorship."

"For two successive years, the Delhi government passes the Budget with the approval of the Centre, gives the DJB a budget, provides a budget for desilting (of drains), but payments are not made, payments meant for sewers are not being made, for the DJB are not being made... If these... were under the ambit of ministers, they would have been done within two minutes. But the Centre says, no, the L-G will get them done; and the L-G is not letting that happen," he said.

This is the reason behind this situation. The reason for this state of affairs is dictatorship; it is the L-G's dictatorship.

MANISH SISODIA, EX-DEPUTY CM OF DELHI

Accusing the BJP of "assassinating democracy", the former education minister said the Government of National Capital Territory of Delhi (Amendment) Act, 2023 was a means of "amputating" Constitutional provisions.

"The Supreme Court (in the matter regarding services) interpreted the Constitution – that the people of Delhi will elect the government, the government will take decisions and it is the elected government which will control the officers, make them work, decide where to post them. This was the interpretation of the Constitution by the Supreme Court; and they (the BJP) felt threatened by the Constitution itself," he said.

Army lifts deadline on use of old combat uniform

AMRITA NAYAK DUTTA
New Delhi, August 12

OVER TWO YEARS after the Army introduced a new combat uniform for its personnel, it has recently issued guidelines on their use and management after it was found that much of the existing stock of the old uniform had remained unutilised and could lead to wastage.

The Army had unveiled its digital print combat uniform in January 2022 — a shift from its earlier disruptive print combat uniform — and it was to be issued to all personnel in a phased manner over the next few years considering the existing stocking and provisioning mechanisms in place.

To prevent misuse, the new uniform is only issued to the troops through ordnance chain as against the previous combat uniform which is available in the open market.

According to sources in the Army, the existing stock of the old disruptive pattern combat uniform was supposed to be exhausted by June 2025. However, the latest assessment conducted by the Army suggests it would not be possible to exhaust the entire stock by June 2025 as the life of a combat uniform is 15 months.

Delhi coaching centre deaths: Hold gate makers accountable, court tells CBI

NIRBHAY THAKUR
New Delhi, August 12

"WHY AREN'T YOU holding accountable the persons who made such a weak gate?" — a Delhi court asked the CBI on Monday as it heard the bail plea of four accused in the coaching centre deaths case. Three civil services aspirants died on July 28 after the basement of Rau's IAS Study Circle in Old Rajinder Nagar was flooded.

"We have heard of flyovers falling...if the contractor uses substandard material, then it is a natural consequence," Principal District and Sessions Judge Anju Bajaj Chandna said while hearing the bail plea of four co-owners of the building where the incident happened. The judge was referring to the breaching of the gate of the coaching centre after water from the street outside Rau's knocked it off on the day of the incident. Eventually, the basement was flooded, leading to the tragedy. The water from the street allegedly breached the gate after a local, Manoj Kathuria, drove his SUV in the lane, police had earlier said. After the Delhi High Court pulled up the police for arresting him, a Delhi court granted him bail.

On Monday, advocate Amit Chadha appearing for the co-owners told the court, "The entire property is commercial and is being used for coaching. The accused are only landowners. They never told Rau's to use the basement as a library. He also added that the accused voluntarily went to the police and didn't escape the arrest. The advocate also added that a case of negligence can be made against the owners, at best, and not a case of culpable homicide not amounting to murder. "Knowledge is when a person knows he's doing some act which is illegal and likely to cause death. There has to be direct proximity," he added. The co-owners of the basement didn't have the knowledge that the aspirants would drown, he said. The CBI, however, rebutted the arguments of Chadha vehemently. "You were getting ₹4 lakh a month, and the lives of three innocent children were taken away," the central agency said.

TESLA STILL LOBBIES FOR US BENEFITS

Musk embraces Trump and scorns subsidies

CHRIS KIRKHAM
August 12

WHEN ELON MUSK endorsed Donald Trump for president last month, the Tesla founder and chief executive backed a candidate who vows to "drill, baby, drill," "end the electric vehicle mandate" and reduce subsidies of the sort that helped Tesla become the US's dominant EV manufacturer.

So instrumental have government loans, tax breaks and other EV policies been to Tesla's fast growth that despite Musk's gradual embrace of the former president and his Republican Party rhetoric in recent years, the company continues to lobby the US and state governments for benefits championed by the Democratic Party.

In February, for instance, Tesla in a filing with the US Environmental Protection Agency, or EPA, urged the Biden administration to allow California to pursue stricter vehicle emissions rules than the rest of the country — an idea Trump opposes.

Months earlier, in a previous filing with the agency, Tesla lobbied the government for regulations that would ban the production of most new gasoline cars by 2035 — the so-called "EV mandate" that Trump and others on the American right have criticised.

The disparity is hardly the first time that the billionaire entrepreneur — himself increasingly dismissive of subsidies — has sent mixed signals on business and politics.

Months earlier, Tesla lobbied the government for regulations that would ban the production of most new gasoline cars by 2035 AP

"Elon tends to say he's hostile to subsidies while Tesla is gobbling them up like a hungry Godzilla," said Mike Murphy, a Republican strategist who runs the EV Politics Project, a Los Angeles-based advocacy group that seeks bipartisan support for electric vehicles.

People familiar with Musk's management at the carmaker told Reuters his approach to subsidies is pragmatic, a willingness to accept public money if it's there for the taking. Musk's willingness to overlook outright Republican opposition to an industry he helped pioneer, meanwhile, signals a broader focus on goals that may not dovetail with the immediate interests of his businesses.

"Tesla is not the endgame for him," said Andrew Ward, a management professor at Lehigh University, noting Musk's holdings in sectors ranging from artificial intelligence to space exploration to neuroscience. Musk could "sacrifice some of the short-term interest in Tesla," Ward added, "if it'll satisfy the long-term interests of his ambitions."

Musk and Tesla didn't respond to requests from Reuters for comment. A spokesman for Trump didn't respond, either. A White House spokesman declined to comment.

X hit with Austrian data use complaint over AI training

REUTERS
Vienna, August 12

AUSTRIAN ADVOCACY GROUP NOYB on Monday filed a complaint against social media platform X accusing the Elon Musk-owned company of training its artificial intelligence (AI) with users' personal data without their consent in violation of EU privacy law.

The group led by privacy activist Max Schrems announced that it had filed General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) complaints with authorities in nine European Union authorities to ramp up pressure on the Irish data protection authority DPC.

Ireland's Data Protection Commission, the lead EU regulator for most of the top US internet firms due to the location of their EU operations in the country, has sought an order to suspend or restrict X from processing the data of users for the purposes of developing, training or refining its AI systems.

X has agreed not to train its AI systems for now using personal data collected from EU users before they had the option to withdraw their consent, an Irish court heard last week.

However, NOYB said the DPC complaint is mainly concerned with mitigation measures and a lack of cooperation by X, and does not question the legality of the data processing itself.

Foreign investors pull out record $15 bn from China

BLOOMBERG
August 12

FOREIGN INVESTORS PULLED a record amount of money from China last quarter, likely reflecting deep pessimism about the world's second-largest economy.

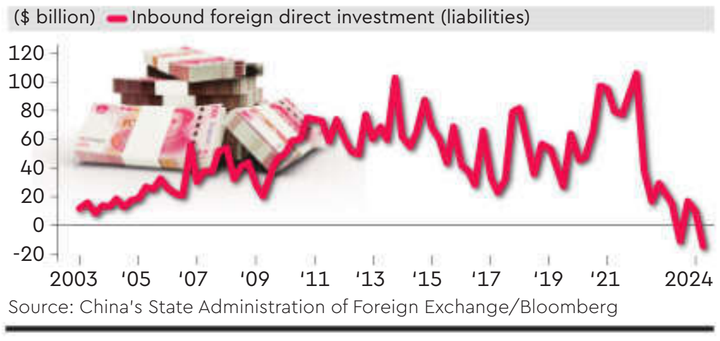

China's direct investment liabilities in its balance of payments dropped almost $15 billion in the April-June period, marking only the second time this figure has turned negative, according to data from the State Administration of Foreign Exchange released on Friday. It was down about $5 billion for the first six months. Should the decline continue for the rest of the year, it would be the first annual net outflow since at least 1990, when comparable data begins.

Foreign investment into China has slumped in recent years after hitting a record $344 billion in 2021. The slowdown in the economy and rising geopolitical tensions has led some companies to reduce their exposure, and the rapid shift to electric vehicles in China also caught foreign car firms off guard, prompting some to withdraw or scale back their investments.

The fall comes despite Beijing's growing efforts to attract and retain foreign investment, following the smallest increase on record last year. The government wants to show it remains open and attractive to foreign businesses, in the hope that companies will bring advanced technologies and resist pressure from the US and elsewhere to decouple from China.

Harris gains ground in key states

LALIT K JHA
Washington, August 12

DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE Kamala Harris has voiced confidence in winning the November 5 general elections against her Republican rival Donald Trump, as she gained ground nationally and in several key battleground states.

US Vice President Harris, who is of both Indian and African origin, continues to be on a fundraising spree, taking her campaign coffers to an unprecedented level.

The 59-year-old Democratic leader has also been attracting a record crowd in her rallies.

"We will win this election," Harris told a fundraiser in San Francisco on Sunday in which she amassed $12 million more for her presidential bid.

The fundraiser was attended by around 700 donors, including several prominent Indian-Americans.

Bulls and bears slug it out in Adani counters

The group's market capitalisation dropped by $15.4 billion, but later recovered 80%

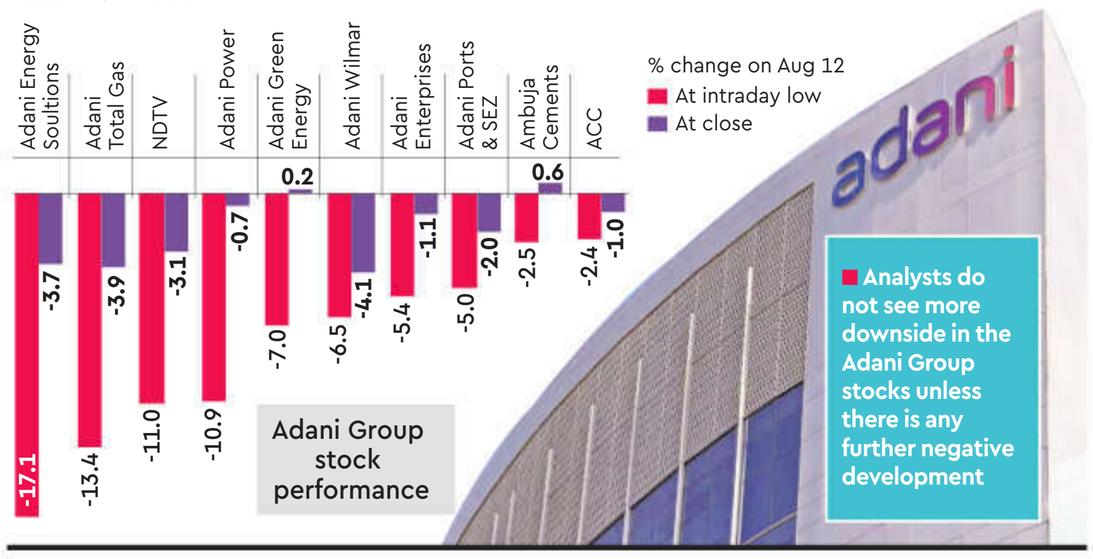

VIVEK KUMAR M
Mumbai, August 12

SHARES OF ADANI Group companies fell as much as 17% in intraday trading on Monday as the latest report by Hindenburg Research alleged links between the group and Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) chairperson Madhabi Puri Buch.

What was more interesting was the severe tug-of-war between the bulls and bears in most of its counters. Sample this: The turnover of Adani Enterprises stock was higher by six times higher at ₹3,308 crore than the one-month average of ₹528 crore.

At the same time, Adani Wilmar, NDTV, Adani Total Gas, Adani Ports and Adani Power saw 85-260% increase in turnover on Monday compared to their one-month average daily turnover.

However, the shares recovered most of the losses and ended 0.6%-4.1% down. The market capitalisation of the group companies fell by ₹22,106 crore, or $2.6 billion, to ₹17.02 trillion. Intraday, the group's market cap had fallen by a whopping $15.4 billion.

The group's flagship companies, Adani Enterprises and Adani Ports and Special Economic Zone, fell around 5% each intraday, but ended 1.1% and 2% lower, respectively.

The turnover in the shares saw a significant surge on Monday, likely propelling a recovery through the day. For instance, the turnover in Adani Enterprises was over six times higher compared to the one-month average daily turnover, data from the NSE and BSE showed.

"It was a kneejerk reaction in the morning, and post that we have seen recovery," said Sunny Agrawal, head of fundamental equity research at SBICAPS Securities.

Hindenburg alleged that Buch and her husband had stakes in obscure offshore funds used in the purported Adani money siphoning scandal. Analysts do not see more downside in the Adani Group stocks unless there is any further negative development.

Deepak Jasani, head of retail research at HDFC Securities, said investors have seen that such sell-offs in the past were opportunities to buy, and that may be the reason for the recovery from intraday lows.

Shares of Adani Group companies had seen a sharp fall when the US based short-seller released a scathing report, alleging accounting fraud and stock manipulation from the group. While the stocks plummeted initially, they managed to recover their losses over the year.

"We are positive on the group's cement and ports businesses with regards to the growth potential backed by robust balance sheet and cash flows. For the rest, we do not find valuation comfort as of now," Agrawal said.

Buch's Agora Advisory earned ₹2.4 cr in 3 years

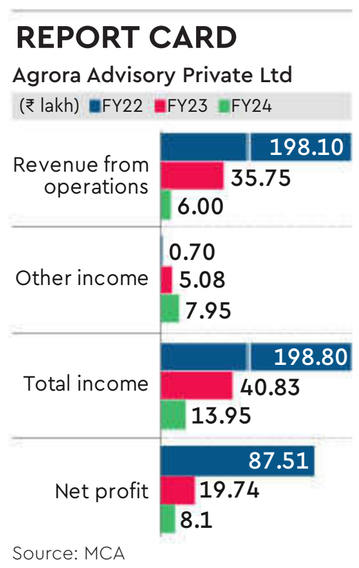

AKSHATA GORDE
Mumbai, August 12

MUMBAI-BASED CONSULTING AGORA Advisory, in which Securities and Exchange Board of India chairperson Madhabi Puri Buch held a stake of 99% till March-end, reported revenues from operations at ₹2.4 crore in the past three years. The firm and its Singapore affiliate have been caught in the crossfire between US short seller Hindenburg Research and the Adani Group.

However, revenues of Agora Advisory have been on the decline. According to filings with the Ministry of Corporate Affairs accessed by FE, revenues stood at ₹1.98 crore in FY22, ₹41 lakh in FY23 and ₹14 lakh in FY24 — a total of ₹2.53 crore. These include other incomes as well.

Buch and her husband Dhaval Buch, in a statement on Sunday, said both the consultancy firms had become immediately dormant after her appointment with Sebi. Buch became a whole time member in April 2017 and took over as the chairperson in March 2022.

According to filings, Madhabi Buch had a stake of 99%, or 9,900 shares of ₹10 each, in the firm, and 1% stake, or 100 shares, was with Kavita Shah. Shah and Dhaval Buch are directors in the company.

Shah and Dhaval Buch are also directors in two other companies — Aarnaira Impact Solutions and Aarnaira Development Foundation — according to MCA filings.

Agora Advisory received ₹6 lakh as revenue from operations accrued as consultancy charges as on March 31, 2024. The company also accrued other income of ₹7.95 lakh as interest on fixed deposits. The company's net profit for FY 2023-24 stood at ₹8.10 lakh.

The cash and bank balance under notes to financial statements showed a total of ₹1.27 crore as on March 31, 2024, which includes a fixed deposit of ₹1.15 crore.

In FY2022-23, the Ghatkopar-based company earned ₹35.75 lakh as revenue and ₹5.08 lakh as other income. The net profit after taxes was recorded as ₹19.75 lakh. In FY 2021-22, the company reported revenues of ₹1.98 crore and a net profit of ₹87.51 lakh.

Financial details of Singapore-based Agora Partners Pte were not available.

Agora Advisory, which was incorporated in May 2013, offers advisory and consultancy services to governments, business, commerce, industry, non-profit organisations and other entities, according to MCA filings.

On Saturday, Hindenburg Research had alleged that Sebi was unwilling to act on its report on the Adani Group because Buch and her husband had a stake in offshore funds having links with the conglomerate.

Shares trim losses as banks offset impact of Hindenburg

BHARATH RAJESWARAN & HRITAM MUKHERJEE
Bengaluru, August 12

SHARES RECOVERED MOST early losses to close marginally lower on Monday, as gains in bank stocks largely offset the impact of Hindenburg Research's latest report.

The NSE Nifty 50 index closed down 0.08% at 24,347, and the S&P BSE Sensex inched 0.07% lower to 79,658.92. The indexes had lost about 0.6% in early trading.

The broader, more domestically focussed small- and mid-caps rose about 0.25% each, outperforming the benchmarks.

The financial services index rose 0.2% and private bank index added 0.44%

Seven of the 13 major sectors logged gains, with the financial services index rising 0.2% and private bank index adding 0.44%.

HDFC Bank rose 0.6%. Other private lenders like Axis Bank added about 2%, and was among the top three gainers in the Nifty.

The buying interest in banking stocks indicates that investors are focusing on safety, especially after the drop early last week, as the sector offers comfortable valuations, two analysts said.

Among individual stocks, Natco Pharma rose about 4% to a record high after June quarter profit jump. Sun TV tumbled 11%. —REUTERS

BJP: Fictitious report, bid to discredit, destabilise mkts

LIZ MATHEW
New Delhi, August 12

SEEKING TO COUNTER allegations by US-based Hindenburg Research regarding the Sebi chairperson and Adani Group, the BJP will continue to project the same as part of "repeated attacks on independent institutions in the country", deliberately hurting the government's credibility and India's investment prospects.

On Monday, at a press conference, the BJP slammed the Congress demand for a Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) probe into Hindenburg's allegations against Madhabi Puri Buch, accusing it of "seeking foreign help to discredit (and) destabilise our financial markets and to create chaos in the country... by spreading anarchy on a fictitious report".

Ravi Shankar Prasad

Senior party leader and former Union minister Ravi Shankar Prasad said: "Any Tom, Dick and Harry sitting in a foreign country will seek to destabilise India and they (the Congress) will say 'JPC'. They will belittle India's investors. They will belittle India's stock market. That is their game. The JPC demand is a sham."

On the question of Buch personally, BJP leaders, however, did not disagree that she should step down in the wake of "such serious allegations". At least three senior BJP leaders and two leaders among allies TDP and JD(U) said it would be better if Buch steps down immediately. However, one of them admitted that there was no signal from the BJP top leadership of her resignation being sought.

A BJP office-bearer said this would remain the party's stand. "Buch has to defend herself and the Srbi has to do the damage control. The BJP does not need to react to her alleged links with any business groups." The party will keep up its counter-attack, questioning "the intentions" of such allegations by "external forces" and the Congress role in it.

Oppn sticks to JPC probe demand

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi, August 12

AMID THE ROW over the latest Hindenburg report, Opposition parties on Monday reiterated their demand for a Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) probe into the allegations, with the Congress alleging that "the Adani MegaScam extends beyond the 24 matters under SEBI's investigation".

Congress general secretary K C Venugopal said the party would hold a nationwide protest if the Opposition's demand for a JPC probe is not accepted.

While the TMC demanded that Sebi chief Madhabi Puri Buch must step aside till the probe is completed, the Samajwadi Party said the matter must be investigated properly and the entire truth should come out.

In a statement, Congress general secretary and in charge, communications, Jairam Ramesh said: "...the Adani MegaScam extends beyond the 24 matters under SEBI's investigation. It encompasses the source of the ₹20,000-crore benami funds invested in the Adani Group, the over-invoicing of thousands of crores in coal and power equipment and laundering of those proceeds."

"Additionally, it involves the granting of monopolies to the Adani Group in critical infrastructure sectors, and the manipulation of Indian foreign policy to secure Adani assets in neighbouring countries like Sri Lanka and Bangladesh, which are proving to be highly controversial," he alleged.

Ramesh said the "path forward is to immediately convene a JPC" to investigate the allegations. "The fact is that the SEBI's seeming inability to close two of its 24 investigations delayed the publication of its findings for over a year..."

'Response from Buch raises new questions, admits key points'

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, August 12

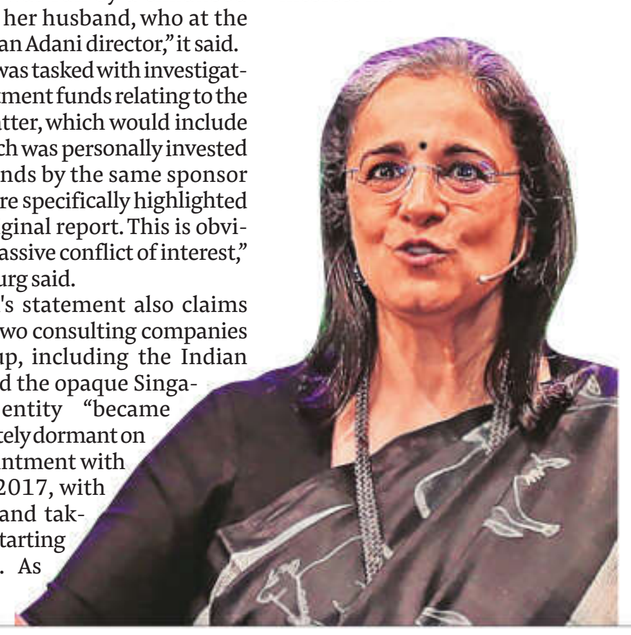

SEBI CHAIRPERSON MADHABI Puri Buch has now publicly confirmed her investment in an obscure Bermuda/Mauritius fund structure, US short-seller Hindenburg Research said, asking her to come clean on all the consulting clients her offshore Singaporean as well as Indian consulting firms dealt with.

Hours after Buch and her husband issued a statement calling Hindenburg's latest tirade as an attack on the credibility of Sebi and attempted "character assassination", Hindenburg in a series of posts on X said their response includes several important admissions and raised numerous new critical questions. "Buch's response now publicly confirms her investment in an obscure Bermuda/Mauritius fund structure, alongside money allegedly siphoned by Vinod Adani. She also confirmed the fund was run by a childhood friend of her husband, who at the time was an Adani director," it said.

"Sebi was tasked with investigating investment funds relating to the Adani matter, which would include funds Buch was personally invested in and funds by the same sponsor which were specifically highlighted in our original report. This is obviously a massive conflict of interest," Hindenburg said.

"Buch's statement also claims that the two consulting companies she set up, including the Indian entity and the opaque Singaporean entity "became immediately dormant on her appointment with Sebi" in 2017, with her husband taking over starting in 2019. As per its the shareholding list of March 31, 2024, Agora Advisory Limited (India) is still 99% owned by Madhabi Buch, and not her husband. This entity is currently active and generating consulting revenue," Hindenburg said. Also, she remained a 100% shareholder of Agora Partners Singapore until March 16, 2022, per Singaporean records, owning it during her entire time as a Sebi whole time member. "She only transferred her shares into her husband's name two weeks after her appointment as Sebi chairperson," it alleged.

On Buch's statement, issued on Sunday to rebut the allegations made by Hindenburg, the whistleblower asked if she would "publicly release the full list of consulting clients and details of the engagements, both through the offshore Singaporean consulting firm, the Indian consulting firm, and any other entity she or her husband may have an interest in?"

Nothing to add to what Sebi and Buch said: Ajay Seth

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 12

A DAY AFTER the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) and its chairperson Madhabi Puri Buch defended themselves in separate statements amid allegations levelled against them by US short-seller Hindenburg, a senior government official said it had "nothing to add on the matter."

"Both of them, the concerned person as well as the regulator, have made the statements and there is nothing further to be added by the government," economic affairs secretary Ajay Seth said.

Seth made the statement when asked whether Sebi chief would need to step aside from the regulatory investigation into Adani group in the wake of Hindenburg's allegations. He was the only government functionary to give a reaction on the matter till late Monday.

The assertion by the senior finance ministry official, who is also on the board of the market regulator as a part-time member in his official capacity, indicates the government, too, perceives that the Hindenburg charges are motivated.

Hindenburg said on Saturday that Buch and her husband held investments in offshore entities, where a substantial amount of money was invested also by the associates of Vinod Adani, brother of Gautam Adani, the Adani group founder. Hindenburg alleged that the Sebi had not taken any action against the Adani Group, a charge refused by the regulator.

Buch and her husband said on Sunday the investment in the offshore entities referred to by Hindenburg was made in 2015, almost two years before the former joined Sebi as a whole-time member.

India to close in on China as emerging-market stock anchor

ABHISHEK VISHNOI & CHIRANJIVI CHAKRABORTY
August 12

INDIA IS POISED to narrow the gap with China in MSCI Inc.'s gauge for developing nations.

Analysts from firms, including Smartkarma and IIFL Securities, expect India's weight in the MSCI Emerging Markets Index to rise by at least one percentage point following the index provider's review this week. This would bring the country almost on par with China, which currently accounts for 22.33% of the benchmark. India is at 19.99%.

A higher weighting for India will position it to become the new anchor for emerging market equities, likely driving increased flows into the country. Fund managers say that India's rising heft may make the EM gauge more appealing to global investors who have been wary due to China's sway over the index.

"It can make the EM index more balanced, where secular growth stories like India receive higher allocation" compared with more cyclical markets like China and Korea, said Vivek Dhawan, portfolio manager at Candriam Belgian NV.

This shift has a side effect: Index followers may be forced to allocate funds to India's already-expensive stocks at a time when crowded trades are taking a hit due to the turmoil in global markets.

India — long touted as the "next China" — has emerged as a favourite among investors, driven by its robust economic growth, a growing middle class and burgeoning manufacturing sector. Meanwhile, China is dealing with long-term economic challenges and increasingly strained relations with the West.

"Many global investors who didn't look at India as a standalone allocation in the past would now look at it more favuorably," said Hiren Dasani, co-head of emerging markets equity and lead portfolio manager of India Equity strategies at Goldman Sachs Asset Management.

China's standing in emerging markets has shrunk in the past few years, while India's has steadily expanded. At its peak in 2020, China accounted for 40% of the MSCI EM Index, but that weighting has dropped amid Beijing's regulatory crackdowns and efforts to deleverage its indebted property sector.

As of end of July, India's weight was just 2.34 percentage points away from China's in the MSCI Asia Pacific Index, a regional benchmark, a recurring pattern across most gauges from major index providers. MSCI didn't respond to an email seeking comment outside of regular business hours.

"With a rising equity market, increase in free float for companies and new large listings in India, the gap in the weightings should continue to narrow heading into year-end," said Brian Freitas, an analyst at Smartkarma.

Meanwhile, Taiwan is competing fiercely with India in the race to replace China's top spot in emerging market equity portfolios. As of the end of July, Taiwan accounted for 18.39% of MSCI's EM index.

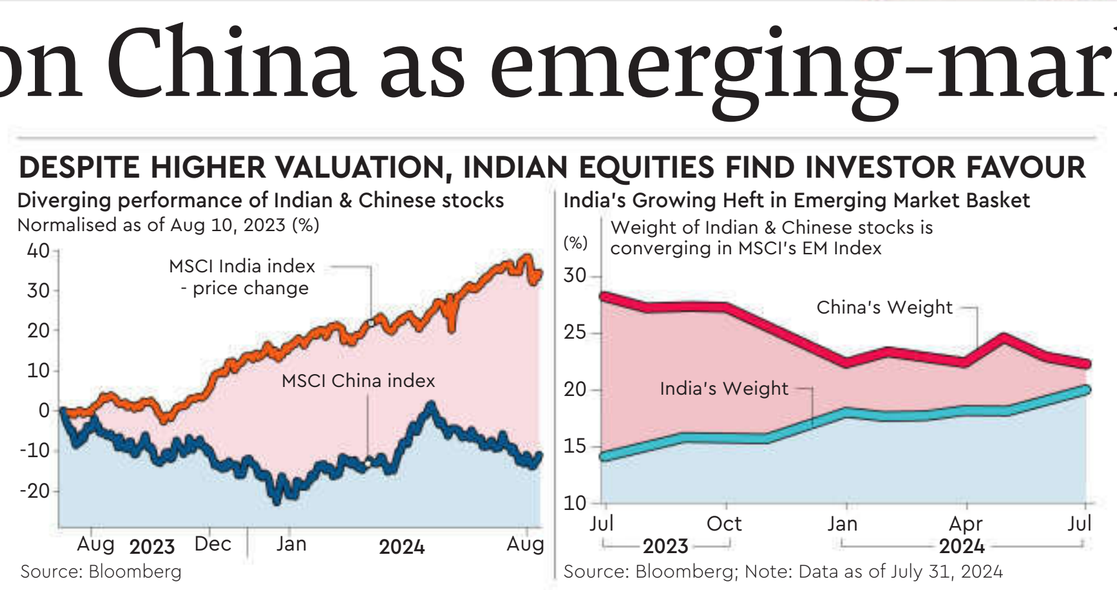

While India has benefited from the infrastructure boom, Taiwan's rise has been supported by global interest in artificial intelligence chipmakers. It's home to the world's largest contract chipmaker Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Co.

In its review, MSCI is likely to add six stocks to its key India index, including Samsung Electronics supplier Dixon Technologies and property developer Oberoi Realty, according to Abhilash Pagaria, head of alternative and quantitative analysis at Nuvama Wealth Management. HDFC Bank may also see a gradual increase in its weighting, he wrote.

While Chinese stocks have struggled, India's Nifty-50 has risen 12% this year. The benchmark gauge is set for a ninth straight year of annual gains.

The contrasting trajectories highlight investors' preference for India even as China's equities remain very cheap. It also underscores Beijing's inability to stem the downtrend in its markets.

"We do look at India as a bit of a diversifier against some of China's weakness," said Seema Shah, chief global strategist at Principal Asset Management. "A lot of the potential that people have been speaking about for years and years is now looking to be fulfilled." —BLOOMBERG

HISTORIC MOVEMENTS

Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav

"World history is a witness that in different countries, violent mass revolutions, military coups, anti-government movements have taken place against the government for various reasons, right or wrong, depending on the test of the time

Seeking non-farm jobs

There is warrant for policies for making employment in the countryside more remunerative

MODERN ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT has been associated with a shift of population from the countryside to industry and services in the towns and cities. To be sure, this shift occurred during the six decades since Independence, but it has been uneven with long periods of stasis followed by a quickening pace and now a movement back from factories to the farms in rural India. The government's periodic labour force surveys show a substantial increase in employment in agriculture from 44% of total employment in 2017-18 to 45.8% in 2022-23. This amounts to a massive increase of 68 million going back to agriculture. India thus remains one of the few examples left in the world of an enormous population still largely dependent on agriculture as less than half of the workforce still lives off the land.

This reversal has serious implications for living standards in the countryside and merits policy intervention that perhaps goes against the grain of modern economic development as has been hinted at in the latest Economic Survey. The survey findings of Global Development Incubator's report, "State of Rural Youth Employment 2024", offer interesting insights in this regard. Around 70-85% of surveyed individuals wish to be employed in small manufacturing, retail, or business sectors. Despite the disenchantment with agriculture, a "significant 60% of rural male youth" also do not want to migrate outside their villages for work. This is an important finding that assumes significance against the backdrop of large numbers of people returning to the countryside due to the inadequate employment opportunities in industry and services in the organised or formal sector. In this milieu, getting gainfully absorbed in the unorganised or informal sector, which includes self-employment and casual odd jobbing, is relatively constrained as this sector has still not fully recovered from the shocks like demonetisation in November 2016, the introduction of a goods and services tax, and lockdown to battle Covid-19 that triggered reverse migration.

The policy imperative clearly is for generating more rural non-farm employment. The chief economic advisor, V Anantha Nageswaran, who spoke at the launch of the report, said that "pessimism" on India's employment was not warranted. The Survey in fact was more forthcoming that "India may have to abandon the old development playbook of moving on from agriculture to industry and services as economic development matures". Far from fading away in relative importance, agriculture is still important not just as an engine of growth but also employment. In this milieu, an alternative policy imagination could consider the possibility of making small-scale agriculture more productive and remunerative.

As farming at the margin is getting more unviable, targeted interventions can enable small farmers to diversify from cultivating cereals to growing more fruits and vegetables, fisheries, poultry, dairy, and buffalo meat to improve their incomes manifold. Stepping up transfers to small and marginal farmers under the flagship Pradhan Mantri Kisan Samman Nidhi can also bolster their incomes to cope with the uncertainties of cultivation due to climate change. As differentials between country and town narrow, there will be no compulsion to shift from agriculture. The Survey points to an intermediate farm-to-factory transition by encouraging more agro-processing activities, which can gainfully employ the rural youth who prefer to remain in their villages. Realising the employment potential of the countryside thus makes more sense instead of viewing development only as a movement away from agriculture.

Your favourite regions for wine will feel the heat

WHAT'S THE FIRST industry to fall victim to climate change? There's a decent argument that it already happened — more than 600 years ago.

When the Norman Conquest in 1066 installed a French feudal aristocracy in the British Isles, the invaders brought with them a love of winemaking. Those skills flourished in the conditions of the Medieval Warm Period, a patch of unusually high temperatures from about 950 to 1250 that allowed vineyards to spread across the well-drained chalk soils of southern England. The mild conditions gave way to a frigid period known as the Little Ice Age, however, which held sway until the 19th century. As the climate cooled, English viticulture collapsed.

That should be a worrying example if you're a winemaker. Grape vines are notoriously sensitive to the smallest changes in landscape and climate. It doesn't take much imagination to see how a warming climate could play havoc with this. Own a semiconductor factory, and your climate exposures will occur on the macro scale. A vintner, on the other hand, has to think about micro issues.

For winemakers in Europe, a fresh climate headache is looming in the geographic indications they've used to defend their art. For the best part of a century, European agricultural producers have built a complex system of intellectual property around the idea that particular types of food and drink are regionally distinctive, and have names that must be protected under copyright law. There's even a line on geographical indications in the Treaty of Versailles, the document that formally ended World War I.

DAVID FICKLING
Bloomberg

Recognition of geographic indications is a basic hurdle for any nation wanting to strike a trade deal with the European Union and gain access to the world's second-biggest market. It's why makers of sparkling wine in most of the world can't call their product Champagne, and why Australian and Canadian producers of fortified white wine label their bottles as "Apera", because only those from the Jerez region of Spain can call themselves Sherry. Fully 1,646 of the 1,658 geographic indications for wine listed on the European Union's eAmbrosia register are for EU nations. Of the rest, five are in the UK, four in China, two are in the US (Napa Valley and Willamette Valley) and one in Brazil.

Many geographic indications assign a specific grape variety for a specific region. Barolo, arguably Italy's most revered wine style, must be grown only with Nebbiolo grapes in a handful of communities among the misty mountains of Piedmont. As the climate of northern Italy becomes more like regions further south where Nebbiolo can't flourish, Barolo's rigid geographic indication risks driving it into extinction.

Researchers in Europe recently analysed 1,085 wine geographic indications across the continent to work out which were most at risk from a warming climate. "Strong yield decreases were projected for northern Italy, central Spain, Greece, and Bulgaria," they wrote, "and decreased suitability for Spain, parts of France, central and northern Italy, and large parts of eastern Europe." In Burgundy, regions known for the Pinot Noir grape may become unable to grow the variety. The geographic indication system needs to be rethought to allow winegrowers to switch their practices, they argued.

That shouldn't be impossible. Champagne, grown at the northern limit of wine cultivation and seen as the product of a difficult environment, is conventionally made from just three grape varieties: Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, and Meunier. But four other less celebrated varieties can be added to the blend, and may provide a way of preserving the wine's characteristics even as the climate of Champagne starts to more closely resemble that of southern France. A further variety, known as Voltis, has been selectively bred as part of a deliberate effort to prepare for the effects of a warmer climate.

For many wine regions, that's going to be a wrenching shift. What makes European wine unique is the marriage of a particular grape and viticultural practice with a particular region's soil, climate, and intangibles. That sort of thinking is going to have to change as the planet warms. If Europe's winemakers don't want to experience the fate of medieval English vineyards, they'll need to adapt before they're wiped out.

TECHPROOF EXPRESS

JUDGE'S REMEDIES IN ANTI-TRUST RULING WILL SIGNAL HOW GOVTS SHOULD DEAL WITH BIG TECH

Searching questions for Google

IN A LANDMARK ruling last week, Judge Amit P Mehta of the US Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia ruled that Google had abused a monopoly over the internet search business. I have written in the past about how Google has been cementing its dominance, partially by paying billions of dollars a year to other companies like Apple and Samsung, to have Google automatically handle search queries on their smartphones and web browsers.

You might be opening your Safari browser on your iPhone or a native browser on your Android device, thinking it's not Google Chrome, and therefore, you are using another firm's search service. Not so. In many, if not most instances, Google is the search engine being used; Safari or another browser is just presenting it. Most people are unaware of this multi-billion-dollar arrangement between Google and their phone manufacturers. If you doubt me, go to your settings and check which search engine is the default on your browser.

"Google is a monopolist, and it has acted as one to maintain its monopoly," Judge Mehta said in the ruling (shorturl.at/d5dKG). This is a harsh critique — possibly the harshest anti-trust (anti-monopoly) critique laid down on Big Tech in over 20 years in the US. Judge Mehta must now decide what to instruct Google to do pursuant to the ruling. These instructions on remedies will impact Google significantly. The company will no doubt appeal, but that said, Mehta's remedies will be an instructive example of how governments the world over should deal with Big Tech.

The last significant ruling was against Microsoft in the 1990s, when that company bundled its browser as the default in its Windows-based devices, thereby crowding out Netscape, the original pioneer in browser technology. Netscape, a minnow compared to Microsoft, was crowded out of the market by this move of its vastly larger competitor. US authorities took notice, and the justice department issued a landmark decision against Microsoft (rb.gy/nnovhl).

What happened after that has become folklore, and indeed, anti-trust experts are now comparing Judge Mehta's ruling to that landmark decision. In that case, Microsoft avoided the spectre of a break-up — which had hit giants AT&T and IBM in the past. Whether Google can now avoid one is hotly debated by anti-trust ruling experts in the US and beyond.

The last significant ruling was against Microsoft in the 1990s, when that company bundled its browser as the default in its Windows-based devices

In the judgment, Judge Mehta found that Google is able to provide users with a better experience because it receives many billion more queries than other search engines, such as DuckDuckGo, Microsoft's Bing, or Ecosia.

Forcing Google to share its data hoard, which it has garnered from these sources, may be a way that Judge Mehta chooses. Sharing data will hurt Google. One of the most immediate impacts of this ruling will be on Google's financials. The company's advertising revenue, which constitutes the lion's share of its income, could face a downturn. With competitors gaining access to similar data, advertisers might diversify their spending across multiple platforms, leading to a potential decline in Google's advertising market share. Furthermore, the costs associated with complying with this ruling — such as establishing secure data-sharing protocols and ensuring privacy standards — could also impact Google's bottom line.

Further, Google's data includes vast amounts of personal information about its users. Ensuring this data is shared responsibly, with stringent privacy protections, will be paramount. Google must work closely with regulators, privacy advocates, and other stakeholders to develop frameworks that protect user privacy while complying with the ruling. On the positive side, this could lead to new industry standards for data-sharing and privacy.

However, Judge Mehta could also order a divestiture by forcing Google to sell parts of the firm. This would be a "structural remedy" and break off parts of Google, akin to the IBM and AT&T (Bell) orders of the 1990s. The problem with breaking off Google's search engine capabilities is that it would just transfer its dominance to another company, so creating safeguards around monopoly practices (such as forced data-sharing) that don't include a divesture may be a safer bet.

What is almost certain is that Judge Mehta will ban the practice of Google paying billions to the likes of Apple, Samsung, and Mozilla to make its search engine the default on those companies' search engines. In this case, Judge Mehta has the European Union to look to for a lead. It has, for many years, forced Google to offer a menu of search options on Android devices sold in that part of the world, and has gone even further — by now requiring that Google's Chrome browser also allow the same choice (i.e. a different search engine such as Bing or DuckDuckGo could provide Chrome its search service instead of Google).

But in many ways, this would be shutting the stable door after the horse has already bolted. Google's search dominance is so vast that users may still decide to go with Google as their search engine, and the fact that Google constantly provides pop-up reminders to switch your defaults (if, as I do, you use a different search engine) may make many users switch.

That said, this is a space to watch. It will prove instructive in terms of how governments could seek to rein in the monopolies that BigTech has created for itself. The tricky part here, unlike past monopolies where the main sufferer was the consumer, is that BigTech monopolies have largely not impacted the convenience of end customers. What has been stymied is choice — and meaningful competition.

Beware of the Fed's contrived consensus

MOHAMED A EL-ERIAN
President, Queens' College, University of Cambridge and professor, Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania

A fabricated consensus — often pursued for political reasons, or to save face (supposedly) — tends to obfuscate and marginalise views that deserve broader consideration

CONSIDER LAST WEEK'S tale of two central banks. Each is long-established, with influence that extends well beyond its country's borders, and both are pressed to make delicate judgement calls aimed at continuing to reduce inflation while avoiding undue damage to growth and jobs. In the event, they end up taking very different approaches within 24 hours of each other.

The first protagonist is the Bank of England, which cuts its policy rate by 25 basis points, following a 5-4 vote that reflects the complexity of the underlying economic issues. The other is the US Federal Reserve, which takes pride in forging a consensus and delivering a unanimous vote, only to get battered by analysts and the media in the days following its decision. Which central bank do you trust more with your economic well-being and that of your family and friends?

This is an important question, because trust underpins a central bank's ability to fulfill its mandate. Much of today's financial architecture rests on the assumption that central banks are committed to maintaining public confidence in their policymaking. After all, an inflation target must be credible to anchor inflation expectations; and the same goes for forward guidance that is meant to smooth out the bumpiness of policy adjustments over time.

Trust and credibility are supported by offering greater transparency, a process that has evolved over the years into holding regular press conferences and publishing meeting minutes and transcripts. In some cases, the central bank makes quarterly quantitative projections for major policies and economic metrics.

The credibility of both the BOE and the Fed has been bolstered by good outcomes. But they differ on an important input metric: how to communicate their policy decision-making. The situation reminds me of an old quip about lawyers and economists: Unlike lawyers, who can argue with 100% conviction even when the foundation of their case is very weak, economists need a very strong foundation to argue with much conviction at all.

Having incorporated independent, external members into its Monetary Policy Committee (MPC), the BOE does not hesitate in signalling divisions among its top decision-makers. The recent 5-4 vote in favour of a cut followed a June vote of 7-2 in favour of keeping rates unchanged. And in February, the MPC voted 2-6-1, with two members calling for a hike, six favouring no change, and one supporting a cut. In each case, all the arguments behind these votes were explained in the days and weeks following the MPC's meeting.

While the US central bank prides itself on welcoming a diversity of views during its deliberations behind closed doors, it is also steeped in the tradition of consensus decision-making

Revealing such a range of individual positions is essentially unheard of at the Fed. While the US central bank prides itself on welcoming a diversity of views during its deliberations behind closed doors, it is also steeped in the tradition of consensus decision-making. Thus, in practice, it maintains very high barriers to publicising dissenting views. Even the Fed Board minutes that are released three weeks after each meeting tend to gloss over the full array of views that were aired. To find out what was really said, one must wait for the full transcripts, which are typically released five years later.

Don't get me wrong. There is value in a consensus-based approach that helps reconcile different opinions and analyses. But a fabricated consensus — often pursued for political reasons, or to save face (supposedly) — tends to obfuscate and marginalise views that deserve broader consideration. Coupled with a structural lack of cognitive diversity and a high probability of falling into groupthink, the consensus obsession ultimately undermines the very credibility that the Fed has been trying to restore since its big policy error in 2021.

By refusing to offer the type of decision-making transparency adopted by the BOE, the Fed inadvertently mirrored the complacency of a market that had failed to consider the possibility of a faster- and broader-than-anticipated economic slowdown. As a result, the market reacted violently when a slowdown became apparent, following the release of weaker-than-expected purchasing managers' index data and the latest monthly employment report, which came in the immediate aftermath of the Fed's policy meeting.

The market had absorbed Chair Jerome Powell's repeated assurances (including at the European Central Bank conference in Sintra, Portugal, on July 2) that a "fundamentally healthy" economy and a solid labour market gave the Fed ample time to decide on rate cuts. When new data suggested otherwise, chaos ensued as markets scrambled to raise the probability of an unusually large 50-basis-point cut in September from virtually zero to around 80%, as of August 2. (They have also priced in a faster and higher-magnitude overall rate-cutting cycle.)

This violent reaction brought a dramatic collapse in yields on government bonds and large stock-market losses that, having started in the United States, spread globally and exposed vulnerabilities elsewhere, most notably in Japan. Worries about the heightened risk of financial and economic breakage even led some (though not me) to call for an emergency inter-meeting rate cut.

No, I am not advocating that the Fed adopt the type of radical transparency for which the hedge fund Bridgewater is famous. There are certain areas, such as the quarterly "dot plot" of forecasts, in which the Fed has arguably already gone too far. Still, the Fed could — and should — be more open about the policy decisions that affect us all.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Monopolies and watchdogs

Apropos of "Are monopolies and duopolies bad?" (FE, August 12), while chasing profit, it becomes necessary to reduce the number of competitors and ultimately emerge as a monopoly. This scenario of capital sans borders is prevalent all over the world. The character of a monopolist and those duopolies remains same with minimal demarcation. If monopoly is allowed, there must be stringent monitoring by the government, failing which the monopolist dictates terms to the government. The best form of allowing private capital would be to subject the players to perfect competition and stick to state control without any deviation. The example of GIC's four subsidiaries' functioning was under this system of perfect competition, in which factors such as price, service, and product remain the same but the four would be competing among themselves. Therefore, for a successful course of monopoly or duopoly, the government's close monitoring is an inevitable component. But exerting such power over private capital requires a good amount of political will and moral courage.

Hindenburg 2.0

Fortuitously for us, the Hindenburg report 2.0 has been released at the fag end of the monsoon session. The opposition is much stronger than before and what would have happened is predictable. The only reaction from the Indians when accused of any wrongdoing is either "it wasn't my fault" or "I didn't do it". It was not enough for Madhabi Puri Buch to deny any allegations. Her point-by-point rebuttal of the questions raised by Hindenburg helps her cause, but suspicions will always be raised until the matter is settled. In the political dogfight that is sure to follow, it is the poor investors who will be subject to the terror of market swings which can potentially leave a big hole in their pockets.

EXPERT VIEW

Trent's industry-leading revenue growth, driven by SSSG, high productivity, footprint expansion, and Zudio's scale-up, positions the company for substantial growth in the next three to five years

—Motilal Oswal

RATING: BUY

Trent: Standout retail performer

We estimate a CAGR of 41%/52% in revenue and PAT over FY24-26

TRENT CONTINUES TO report strong performance despite weak consumption trends reported by other retailers. Standalone revenue grew 57% y-o-y in Q1FY25 reflecting a 5-year CAGR of 40%, driven by store expansion of Zudio (+44%y-o-y) and double-digit same-store sales growth (SSSG) in fashion concepts. This, along with gross margin (GM) and operating leverage, resulted in a 67% y-o-y increase in Ebitda and a 2.3x y-o-y growth in PAT, beating estimates by 16% and 12%, respectively. Additionally, the Star format reported strong SSSG (+22%) with the addition of six new stores.

Based on strong revenue productivity, aggressive store additions, margin tailwinds from moderating raw material costs, and operating leverage, we estimate a CAGR of 41% in revenue and 52% in PAT over FY24-26. The continued momentum in Star and improving store metrics offer further upside potential. We reiterate our Buy rating with a revised TP of ₹7,040.

Strong LFL & GM margin improves pre-Ind-AS EBIT margin

Standalone revenue saw robust growth of 57% y-o-y, reaching ₹4,000 crore (a 9% beat), driven by a 30% increase in store additions and double-digit like-for-like (LFL) growth in fashion concepts. Gross profit grew 63% y-o-y to ₹1,850 crore, with margins expanding by 170 bps to 46.2%, likely due to the cooling of raw material costs. Employee and other expenses increased by 64% and 61% y-o-y to ₹300 crore and ₹930 crore, respectively. Ebitda rose by 67% y-o-y to ₹610 crore (a 16% beat), supported by gross margin improvement and operating leverage from SSSG. Reported Ebitda margins increased by 90 bps to 15.3% y-o-y, while the company's standalone pre-Ind AS Ebit margin stood at 10.6%. Pre-Ind AS Ebitda (Calc.) increased 78% to ₹550 crore with margins expansion of 160bp to 13.8%. PAT grew 2.3x y-o-y to ₹340 crore (12% beat) led by strong SSSG, aggressive footprint growth, GM improvement and operating leverage.

Valuation and view

Trent's strong performance, characterised by double-digit like-for-like (LFL) growth and significant footprint expansion, stands out within our retail coverage universe, which is currently facing a challenging demand environment. Unlike its peers, who passed on last fiscal's sharp RM price increases to consumers, Trent chose to absorb the impact, resulting in strong customer reception. As RM prices have now eased, the company is reaping the benefits. Moreover, despite its aggressive store expansion, Trent has managed to maintain a healthy balance sheet with no noticeable operational weaknesses.

Trent's industry-leading revenue growth, fuelled by SSSG, high productivity, significant footprint expansion, and the successful scale-up of Zudio, positions the company for substantial growth over the next three to five years. The company's grocery segment, Star, with merely 72 stores and FY24 revenue of ₹2,750 crore, is seeing strong LFL growth. This presents a huge opportunity for growth. Its own brand strategy and curated range are witnessing strong customer reception.

We increase our PAT estimates for FY25/FY26 by 10%/16%. We estimate a CAGR of 41%/ 44%/ 52% in standalone revenue/ Ebitda/PAT over FY24-26, led by strong 25% y-o-y store addition and healthy SSSG. We assign 60x EV/ Ebitda to the standalone business (Westside and Zudio; premium over our Retail Universe, given its superlative growth), 2x EV/sales to Star Bazaar, and 15x EV/Ebitda to Zara on FY26E, and arrive at our TP of ₹7,040.

LIC to expand agency network

Company is leveraging pricing strategies to maximise volume

LIC IS PROGRESSING well towards increasing its value of new business (VNB) with a 4.7% growth in FY24 and 23.7% in Q1FY25. This improvement is driven by a strategic shift in its product mix towards non-participating products, which constituted 24% of individual APE in Q1FY25, up from 18% in FY24 and 9% in FY23. The company is also leveraging appropriate pricing strategies to maximise volume, achieving 1% growth in FY24 and 21% growth in Q1FY25, while maintaining a strong focus on distribution.

There has been an expansion in non-agency distribution channels, accounting for 4.2% of individual NBP in Q1FY25, compared to 3.9% in FY23 and 4% in FY24. Simultaneously, LIC is strengthening its agency network through the launch of a new transformation project called 'Jeevan Samarth' We have consistently believed that the potential rise in VNB margins driven by an improved product mix is both achievable and underappreciated by the market. This, combined with strong capital markets, suggests that the current deeply discounted valuations are unwarranted. Additionally, the entry into the health insurance sector through a composite licence offers further upside potential.

Our valuations are based on 0.85x FY26E EV of ₹8.8trn. We believe this multiple adequately reflects the risk of EV sensitivity to market movement (7.2% impact on EV for 10% decrease in equity value) and a lower core RoEV profile on a high base. We estimate 15% change in APE (21.3% in Q1FY25) for each year, VNB margin of 20%/22% (16.8%/13.9% in FY24/Q1FY25) and unwinding of ~9% (FY24: 9%) each year for FY25/26E.

Further recovery in VNB margin and continued tailwinds in investment returns could lead to a positive surprise ahead. Possibility of covid-like events, which impact distribution partners, investment portfolio and increase in death claims pose downside risks. Interest rate fluctuations and equity movements may affect LIC's profitability. Basis FY24 sensitivity, LIC's embedded value can decline by 7.2% (vs 7.0% in FY23) with 10% drop in equity levels and 0.4% (vs 0.2% as on Mar'23) with 100bps increase in reference rates.

The management is optimistic about mitigating the impact of hike in surrender value through a host of options. While commission clawback is one of the available options, it is not a given. For first year lapsation, it is required to pay surrender value only when the term is five years or more. For the policies less than five-year term, there is no requirement to pay first year premium. Plus, there could be policies that are paid only for a month, quarter, half year and may still not be eligible. So, to that extent, the impact of first year lapsation gets mitigated and looking at 13th month persistency will not give right picture of the possible impact. However, focus is to service and manage to increase persistency. There are many alternatives including the review on the mode of payment, structure, designs, which can also include review of cost, including distribution cost.

Jubilant: Focusing more on delivery channel

Removing delivery charges has driven double-digit growth

JUBILANT FOODWORKS REPORTED positive like-for-like (LFL) growth in Q1FY25, largely driven by its delivery channel, while dine-in sales continued to decline. The company is showing sequential improvement with Domino's introducing new value meals and product innovations to combat brand fatigue. The group entity saw a 45% increase in revenue, primarily due to the consolidation of DPEurasia, which contributed positively to profits with stronger margins compared to the standalone entity. We are incorporating DPEurasia into our projections, leading to an increase in FY25E/26E revenue estimates by 30.8%/35.4% and PAT estimates by 0.3%/19.2%.

Jubilant achieved a 9.9% y-o-y revenue growth for the quarter, up from 6.3% in Q4FY24. LFL growth for non-split stores was 3% y-o-y. There was a notable divergence in growth between dine-in and delivery channels, with dine-in declining by 5.7% y-o-y and delivery increasing by 15.7% y-o-y. Delivery LFL growth was robust at 12.1% y-o-y, while dine-in y-o-y saw a marginal increase of 1.7% q-o-q due to strong order growth. The company has intensified its focus on delivery by eliminating delivery charges and lowering the minimum order amount, contributing to double-digit growth in this segment. Gross margin remained stable at 76.1%, up 10 basis points y-o-y, despite a higher proportion of delivery orders.

Jubilant added about 34 Domino's stores during the quarter, taking the total to 2,029, and maintained the guidance of 180 store additions in FY25. It added six cities this quarter, expanding its presence to 433. On Popeyes, Jubilant added eight stores this quarter, and aims to reach top 30–40 cities in the next 12–18 months and reach a store count of 100. Target for Popeyes remains to be the fastest QSR brand to reach ₹1,000 crore. Traction in app downloads continued; MAU growth was positive, registering 17.5% y-o-y growth.

DP Eurasia recorded revenue of ₹460 crore and LFL growth of 10.3% in Domino's and 8.7% in the Coffy format. Operating Ebitda margin came in at 25% and PAT at 9.2%, which is more than the standalone PAT in terms of margins. The company added about four stores of Domino's and eight stores of Coffy.

NUCLEAR POWER

The need for small modular reactors

The Union Budget has listed nuclear power among nine priority sectors. The focus is now on small modular reactor projects which can be executed faster, explains Vikram V

8,180 MW

INDIA'S CURRENT NUCLEAR POWER GENERATION CAPACITY & SET TO TOUCH 19,680 MW BY FY32

ALLOWING PRIVATE SECTOR PARTICIPATION IN THE SMR SEGMENT CAN HELP AUGMENT CAPACITY

~₹17cr/MW

CAPITAL COST OF LARGE NUCLEAR POWER PROJECTS WHICH ALSO HAVE A LONG GESTATION PERIOD

Current status of nuclear power generation

INDIA'S NUCLEAR POWER generation capacity currently is 8180 MW against 6780 MW as on March 31, 2023. There was a capacity addition of 1400 MW in FY24. The generation from the nuclear power stations stood at 48 billion units, which constituted 2.8% of the all-India electricity generation. India's nuclear power capacity is entirely under Nuclear Power Corporation of India Ltd (NPCIL) owned by the government. These projects are spread across Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra, Gujarat, Rajasthan, Karnataka and Uttar Pradesh. The under-construction nuclear power capacity stands at 6,800 MW. This apart, there is 7000 MW capacity under various stages of development, including a mix of brownfield expansion and greenfield projects. The CEA under the National Electricity Plan (NEP) envisages the nuclear power capacity to be increased to 19,680 MW by FY32.

Reasons for the slow pace

THE GESTATION PERIOD for a nuclear power project remains long, with projects taking 7-10 years, or even longer in some cases, to get completed. This is due to the complexity involved in these projects and the safety measures required to be built-in. Thus, the progress in capacity addition has been slow. Nonetheless, India is expected to witness a sizable increase in nuclear power capacity over the next seven years.

Capital cost projections

THE CAPITAL COST for upcoming nuclear power projects remains relatively high, with per MW cost in the range of ₹15-20 crore. In fact, there are a few projects with a per MW cost of ₹35 crore. This necessitates significant capital investment and also leads to the relatively high cost of power generation from these projects. Nonetheless, given the long life of the assets with some of existing projects running for more than 40 years, the tariff competitiveness of these new projects is expected to improve over the operating period.

The CEA projects the nuclear power capacity to reach 19,680 MW by FY32 and nuclear power to contribute to over 4% of all-India electricity generation by FY32 against the current 3% contribution.

The context of the renewed emphasis

THE UNION BUDGET 2024 highlights the importance of nuclear energy for the country over the long term and outlines measures to support R&D in development of small modular reactors (SMR) and other newer technologies. The SMRs can play an important role in contributing to clean energy generation and in managing the intermittency associated with renewables, by acting as a back-up source. Moreover, these projects are expected to be executed faster unlike the long gestation period seen for large nuclear power projects.

Given that generation from nuclear fuel is clean without any adverse emissions during the electricity generation process, this would contribute towards meeting India's climate change goals.

Policy steps needed to make this viable

THE ATOMIC ENERGY Act, 1962, was amended in 2016 to allow joint ventures (JVs) by NPCIL with other central public sector units to accelerate the development of new projects. However, there has been limited progress in these JVs so far. The government should encourage the JVs to speed up the project work as well as consider allowing private sector participation, especially in the SMR nuclear segment. Also, policy measures are required to enable technology transfer from developed economies for SMR projects, use of green financing for nuclear projects and addressing the concerns on nuclear liability.

Concerns about raw material availability

THE FUEL USED in the Indian nuclear power plants is either natural uranium or enriched uranium. The fuel sourcing for nuclear power projects of NPCIL is arranged by the Department of Atomic Energy (DAE) through domestic sources as well as agreements signed with the Nuclear Suppliers Group comprising 48 countries that follow a set of guidelines which seeks to contribute to the non-proliferation of nuclear weapons.

Perceived risk profile

THE SAFETY MEASURES adopted by nuclear power plants have been enhanced following the Fukushima Daiichi disaster in Japan 2011. These additional safety standards have resulted in cost as well as time overrun for the ongoing nuclear power projects in India.

The safety measures of the nuclear reactors are reviewed by the World Association of Nuclear Operators (WANO).

RBI tightens rules for deposit-taking HFCs

SACHIN KUMAR
Mumbai, August 12

THE RESERVE BANK of India (RBI) on Monday released revised rules for deposit-taking housing finance companies (HFCs), requiring them to maintain 15% liquid assets against public deposits held by them in a phased manner, up from 13% at present.

The new rules, which will be applicable from January 1, are aimed at bringing deposit-taking HFCs on par with non-banking financial companies (NBFCs), the central bank said.

"Currently, HFCs accepting public deposits are subject to more relaxed prudential parameters on deposit acceptance as compared to NBFCs," said the RBI in a notification. "Since the regulatory concerns associated with deposit acceptance are same across all categories of NBFCs, it has been decided to move HFCs towards the regulatory regime on deposit acceptance as applicable to deposit-taking NBFCs," it said.

New regulations also said HFCs shall ensure that the full asset cover is available for public deposits accepted by them at all times. They will have to inform the National Housing Bank in case the above asset cover falls short of the liability on account of public deposits.

The RBI has announced that public deposits accepted or renewed by HFCs must be repayable within a period of 12-60 months. Existing deposits with maturities longer than 60 months can be repaid according to their current repayment schedule. At present, HFCs are permitted to accept or renew public deposits that are repayable after 12 months, but not exceeding 120 months from the date of acceptance or renewal.

The RBI said regulations for NBFCs with regard to branches and appointment of agents to collect deposits will also apply to deposit-taking HFCs. Similar to NBFCs, HFCs will be permitted to hedge the risks associated with their operations and issue co-branded credit cards.

REVISED RULES

- The new rules are aimed at bringing deposit-taking HFCs on par with NBFCs
- New regulations say HFCs shall ensure that the full asset cover is available for public deposits accepted by them at all times
- The RBI said regulations for NBFCs with regard to branches and appointment of agents to collect deposits will also apply to deposit-taking HFCs

Committee formed to benchmark statistics

THE RBI ON Monday announced setting up a committee under deputy governor Michael Debabrata Patra on benchmarking the statistics regularly disseminated by it against global standards.

The 10-member 'Expert Committee on Benchmarking of its Statistics' has been asked to submit a report by the end of November 2024.

The panel, chaired by Patra, will also study the quality of other regular data, where such benchmarks do not exist (like sectors of national priority) and provide guidance on the scope for any further data refinement.

The other members include R B Barman (former chairman, NSC), Sonalde Desai (NCAER), New Delhi and University of Maryland, USA), Partha Ray (Director, National Institute of Bank Management, Pune), and Bimal Roy (former chairman, National Statistical Commission; and former director, Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata). —PTI

July life insurance premiums rise 14%

NARAYANAN V
Chennai, August 12

THE LIFE INSURANCE industry recorded a 14.2% year-on-year increase in premiums at ₹31,823 crore in July, compared with ₹27,867 crore in the same month last year. The growth was primarily driven by a strong growth in premiums of Life Insurance Corporation (LIC).

LIC's premiums surged 20% year-on-year, totalling ₹18,431 crore, compared with ₹15,387 crore in July 2023. According to data from the Life Insurance Council, LIC's new business premium collection for the first four months of FY25 rose 26% to ₹75,872 crore, against ₹60,224 crore during the year-ago period.

Funds linked to Buchs part of structure under Sebi probe

TRIDENT TRUST COMPANY (Mauritius) is the declared beneficial owner of Emerging India Focus Fund and EM Resurgent Fund that were part of the 13 overseas entities under the Sebi lens.

The period under investigation (at least since 2016-17) of the two funds in question — Emerging India Focus Fund and EM Resurgent Fund — overlaps with the period (2015-2018) of investment in IPE Plus Fund 1 by Buch and her husband. Sebi started the investigation in October 2020 when Buch was a whole-time member.

In March 2017, days before Madhabi Puri Buch became a Sebi member, Dhaval Buch became the sole person authorised to operate their fund account IPE Plus Fund 1. In February 2018, she instructed the fund manager to redeem their entire investment.

With approximately $522.2 million in assets, Global Dynamic Opportunities Fund (Bermuda) is a hedge fund operated by IIFL Capital (360 One) which also manages IPE Plus Fund.

In a statement issued on Sunday, she said, "When, in 2018, Mr Ahuja, left his position as CIO of the fund, we redeemed the investment in that fund." Ahuja was the CIO of IIFL and her husband Dhaval's childhood friend.

"All disclosures and recusals have been diligently followed, including disclosures of all securities held or subsequently transferred," a statement issued by 360 One said.

It also claimed that throughout the fund's tenure, IPE-Plus Fund 1 made zero investments in any shares of the Adani Group either directly or indirectly through any fund.

This 'underdog' is having his day

THAT APART, SEHRAWAT has a phenomenal back story and if a brand can link its essence to that it's going to be a winner, says Misra.

Marketers love an underdog story – they are pre-programmed to have all the elements to grab attention. "A victory and a medal should not be the reason for taking an athlete. It is their passion to succeed is where the story lies," adds Misra.

Moreover, associating with Sehrawat right now can be advantageous for his low endorsement fees vis-a-vis more established sports players. Leave aside cricket stars, Tokyo gold medalist Neeraj Chopra takes home anything between ₹1.5 crore and 2 crore per endorsement.

While the allure of immediate association is strong, it's essential to view a partnership with Sehrawat as a marathon, not a sprint, says Baradhwaaj. At the end of the day, he must keep up his performance to keep the brand scoreboard ticking.

Central bank allows premature withdrawal of NBFC deposits

THE RBI ON Monday said non-banking financial firms (NBFCs) will pay 100% of the deposit amount within the first three months of accepting the fund if the depositor seeks a withdrawal citing an emergency.

In its review of regulations governing NBFCs, the central bank said no interest will be paid for such premature withdrawals and added that these changes will be in force from January 1, 2025. The definition of "critical illness" set by insurance regulator Irdai will guide on whether a request qualifies under the category, said RBI.

"...in cases of critical illness, hundred per cent of the amount of the principal sum of deposit may be prematurely paid to individual depositors at the request of the depositors, before the expiry of three months from the date of acceptance of such deposits, without interest," the central bank said. It specified expenses of an emergent nature, including a medical emergency/expenses due to natural calamities/disaster as notified by government. —PTI

THE DRAFT BILL also contained criminal liability provisions for social media companies if they did not provide information pertaining to OTT broadcasters and digital news broadcasters on its platforms for compliance.

The Bill mandated registration for broadcasters and other stakeholders looking to provide services. It also made it mandatory for companies to maintain accurate and updated records of subscriber data of their broadcasting services or networks, including the number of subscribers and other such particulars as may be prescribed by the government.

For the first time, the government was looking to regulate the content services of over-the-top (OTT) entertainment apps such as Netflix, Disney+ Hotstar, among others. OTT broadcasting players were also needed to intimate the government within a period of one month from the notification of the Act, about their operations and number of subscribers they have and other requirements as per the Act. The government, however, had also proposed to relax guidelines for OTT players who did not meet the required number of subscribers to fall under the regulatory ambit.

The govt was looking to regulate the content services of OTT entertainment apps like Netflix, Disney+ Hotstar, among others

With regard to the penalty structure on failure to comply with the provisions of the Bill, the government had linked the same with the financial capacity of the companies. The maximum penalty prescribed was up to ₹50 crore for violation of any terms and conditions of registration, damage to public broadcasting infrastructure, content guidelines, etc. Besides monetary penalties, the Bill also had provisions relating to advisory, warning and censure. Every broadcaster or broadcasting network operator was required to appoint self-regulatory bodies known as Content Evaluation Committee (CEC), which would include members from social groups, child welfare, etc, for certification of programmes.

The companies would also have to display certificates issued by the CEC as approval for the content and programmes. The government, however, could notify which programmes would not be required to be certified from CEC. Further, the companies would also have to appoint grievance redressal officers for the purpose of receiving and hearing consumer complaints in violation of any Programme Code or Advertisement Code.

A self-regulatory organisation also had the powers to impose a penalty of up to ₹5 lakh, up from earlier ₹1 lakh, on the broadcasters covered under the Bill. The government also had the right to constitute a Broadcast Advisory Council to inspect broadcasting networks and services, and prescribe required penalties.

The Bill also allowed for a differentiated approach to Programme and Advertisement Codes across various services and required self-classification by broadcasters and robust access control measures for restricted content. Further, the broadcasters would have to follow comprehensive accessibility guidelines for the needs of persons with disabilities.

1. Technology related risks: We provide a comprehensive suite of products. If we fail to develop and innovate our technology-based expertise in a timely and effective manner, our brand, competitive edge and market share may lose or may face resistance from our existing or potential clients. We may experience disruptions, outages, and other performance problems with our technology infrastructure due to a variety of factors, including introductions of new functionality, human or software errors, capacity constraints and denial-of-service attacks, which may reduce the quality of our products or interfere with our clients' use of our products, leading to reduction in demand, decrease in revenues, and increase in our costs.
2. Risk associated with maintaining existing clients or attracting new clients: Our business is subscription based, and clients are not obligated to renew and may not renew their subscriptions. If we fail to attract new clients and maintain and expand new and existing client relationships, our revenue from subscriptions may grow slower than expected, may not grow at all, or may decline. Further, a portion of our business is attributable to certain large clients. The contribution by our top 10 clients to our revenue from contract with customers has decreased from Fiscal 2023 to Fiscal 2024.

Contribution by our top 10 clients to our revenue from contract with customers (amount in ₹ million)	283.56	289.04	189.44
Contribution by our top 10 clients to our revenue from contract with customers (in %)	27.38%	32.10%	32.09%

3. Ecommerce industry related risk: Our revenues are based on transaction volumes on e-commerce platforms and are typically a function of the growth of online sales of our clients. Our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and prospects will suffer to the extent the ecommerce industry in India, in particular our ecommerce enterprises and clients, do not use of the internet as a medium of commerce in India do not continue to grow.

Our inability to anticipate or effectively react to competitive challenges, could materially and adversely affect our business, financial performance, cash flows and prospects.
5. Absence of listed industry peers in India or abroad: There are no direct listed companies in India or internationally with whom our business model can be compared that matches the size and scale of our business operations. Our competitive position and any valuation exercise undertaken for the purposes of the Offer may not be based on a benchmark with our industry peers in India or abroad.
6. Dependency on dropship volumes of our clients: A portion of our e-commerce business is dependent on the dropship volumes of our clients. If our clients are able to develop their own system to manage their dropship operations, increase utilisation of their in-house services, or reduce their allocation of dropship volumes to us, our business, financial performance, cash flows and growth prospects would be materially and adversely affected.

Thermal power share to fall to 67% by FY26

ARUNIMA BHARADWAJ
New Delhi, August 12

GIVEN THE GOVERNMENT'S push to add renewable energy capacities, the share of thermal power in the country's overall power generation is expected to decline in the years ahead.

According to Crisil Ratings, the share of coal-based power in electricity generation is expected to fall to 67% by the fiscal year FY26 after witnessing a successive rise for the past five years. Consequently, the share of renewable energy in the power generation mix is set to increase to 20%.

In FY24, thermal power accounted for 73% of the country's cumulative power generation while the share of RE stood at 11%, as per data from Crisil.

"The trend is set to reverse with the share of thermal expected to fall over 500 basis points (bps) to 67% by fiscal 2026. For the first time, we would see incremental RE generation growth (at 20%) will be higher than the overall

The share of renewable is set to increase to 20% during the same period power demand growth of 5-6% over fiscal 2025 and 2026," said Manish Gupta, senior director, Crisil Ratings.

Gupta noted that a strong government push has led to a significant step-up in RE capacity addition of more than 50 gigawatt (GW) in the next two years by FY26, which, although operating at relatively lower plant load factors, will outpace thermal generation growth over the period.

The share of thermal power in overall power generation had increased to 73% in FY24 from 69% in FY20 primarily due to the growth in power demand (at 7% during FY21-24) which was largely being met by thermal generation. RE and other sources including nuclear, hydel and biomass clocked just 3% compound annual growth rate during this period.

However, even as the share of thermal power generation falls, Crisil does not see any major impact on the PLFs of the existing coal-based plants.

"The PLFs of existing thermal plants will see a marginal fall but will remain healthy at more than 65% by FY26 compared with 69% last fiscal," it said. "This is because thermal power is needed to meet almost half of the incremental annual power demand over the near to medium term."

Moreover, due to the intermittent nature of RE capacity and absence of sustainable storage solutions, thermal power is expected to remain important for meeting the base load requirements.

"Additionally, despite the marginal fall in PLF, the business risk profile of thermal players will still be comfortable," Crisil said.

GTRI: Waiver of clinical trials to compromise patient safety

MANU KAUSHIK
New Delhi, August 12

IN LESS THAN a week since the Drugs Controller General of India (DCGI) gave permission to pharma companies to launch certain types of drugs without local clinical trials, economic think tank Global Trade Research Initiative (GTRI) has opposed the decision.

GTRI has said that the decision is going to adversely impact the patients in India and could hurt the domestic pharma industry.

"By overlooking India's unique genetic diversity, the waiver could lead to unexpected safety and effectiveness issues. Also, it might increase competition from multinational corporations making it harder for local pharma companies and contract research organisations (CROs) to grow," GTRI said.

According to GTRI, the decision is going to adversely impact the patients and could hurt the domestic pharma industry

As per the think tank, the genetic make-up of Indians are different from the US and EU who have diverse population, and therefore, it's essential to do local trials to ensure that new drugs are both safe and effective for Indian patients.

The DGCI has exempted the local clinical trials across five categories of new drugs, including drugs for rare diseases, gene and cell therapies, pandemic-related treatments, and those with significant therapeutic advances. GTRI said that many of these drugs are developed quickly, and are experimental.

"Some companies get approval abroad but choose not to sell these drugs there due to concerns about patent protection and potential compensation if something goes wrong. Instead, they focus on countries with weaker regulations like India. We must exercise caution as many such drugs can lead to serious and sometimes dangerous outcomes," GTRI said.

Meanwhile, pharma association said that even though the companies are not required to do phase III trials now, they will still have to conduct post-marketing surveillance studies across thousands of patients.

Bharatmala phase-1 to be completed by FY28

THE UNION GOVERNMENT'S flagship Bharatmala Pariyojana phase-I, which has overshot the expenditure limit, is expected to be completed by 2027-28, the ministry of road transport and highways (MoRTH) said in its annual report. The ministry, in its annual report, said a revised financial proposal for the Bharatmala Pariyojana is under process for approval.

The Bharatmala Pariyojana phase-I entails a total length of 34,800 km in 31 states and UTs and more than 550 districts.

To match Paris 2024, LA faces Mission Impossible in 2028

MIHIR VASAVDA
Paris, August 12

TOM CRUISE ABSEILS from the roof, sprints towards the stage, picks up the Olympic flag from Simone Biles and zooms out of the Stade de France on a motorcycle. A Hollywood ending that few saw coming. And that marked the beginning of a mission impossible for the organisers of the 2028 Los Angeles Olympics — to go one up on Paris.

There might have been no warm bienvenue from the grumpy, anxious Parisians when the Games came to their doorstep. But when the time came to bid au revoir, they found it hard to let go of this magical fortnight.

"We saw ourselves as a people of diehard moaners. Instead, we found ourselves a nation of wild supporters," Tony Estanguet, an Olympic champion and the organising committee head, said during Sunday's closing ceremony.

Even Estanguet sounded disbelieving as he said those words to a joyous crowd of 80,000-plus people. For 17 days, they shed the boring stereotype of the French being notoriously cynical and turned into hardcore optimists.

The only thing over the top were the smiling faces. Everything else was subtle, unpretentious and brave artistically — simply put, it was Paris being Paris. There was a nod to the past. The medal bearers, who blend into the background, paid an ode to the 1924 Paris Games outfits in their Louis Vuitton retro polo shirt, roomy pants and a traditional Gavroche cap. There was a hopeful peek into the future as well. Depicted in the vibrant official poster — the "stadium city and utopian version of Paris" — by cartoonist Ugo Gattoni.

But mostly, the Parisians — coming off a long period of political instability — wanted to stay in the present.

"Nostalgia can be tedious," said Jean, manning the security at Champ-de-Mars Arena. "Earlier, we only spoke about the 1900 and 1924 Olympics, the shooting of live pigeons and the marathoners who were given wine. But we weren't there, neither were our parents or grandparents. But in these Games, we could feel it, experience it. And even if there will be no tomorrow, we will remember it."

These weren't just one of the best Olympics ever, Paris may have also rescued the brand Olympics. After the financial and infrastructural issues at Rio 2016 and the pandemic-hit Games of Tokyo 2020, the Games were fighting for relevance. Too big and too out of touch were the big challenges it faced. Paris showed the size of investment could be scaled down with a little imagination. They created temporary venues in breathtaking settings.

This allowed them to not construct new stadiums that end up being nothing but white elephants and come at a heavy cost to the exchequer — a lesson for future hosts, especially India, which is eyeing the 2036 Olympics. Japan spent $13 billion to host the Tokyo Games. The Paris Olympics are estimated to cost almost $5 billion less. It will take months to know exactly how much money was splurged.

The temporary venues were carefully designed so that the spectators in the stands as well as the television audience could take in the beauty. At the Grand Palais, the eyes were as much on the swooshing swords of the fencers as the magnificent dome they competed under.

The Eiffel Tower Stadium, which hosted beach volleyball, was easily the most snapped arena, especially in the night when the tower sparkled. The walk through the gardens of Château de Versailles to reach the stands of the equestrian arena gave a sense of being at a truly historic place.

Those Parisians who fled the city anticipating trouble — of an overcrowded public transport system and high security — were the victims of 'FOMO'. The first post-Covid Olympics saw every venue brimming with fans. Early in the morning, they grabbed their coffees and croissants to queue up outside for judo and table tennis; by night, they'd be chugging beer at swimming and athletics.

There would be emotional renditions of the La Marseillaise, the French national anthem, and ferocious chanting of the names of their new heroes.

13.4. In accordance with Regulation 6 of the SEBI Buy Back Regulations, 15% of the number of Equity Shares which the Company proposes to Buy Back or number of Equity Shares entitled as per the shareholding of Small Shareholders, whichever is higher shall be reserved for the Small Shareholders as part of this Buy Back.

13.5. On the basis of the shareholding on the Record Date, the Company will determine the entitlement of each shareholder, including Small Shareholders, to tender their Equity Shares in the Buy Back. This entitlement for each shareholder will be calculated based on the number of Equity Shares held by the respective shareholder on the Record Date and the ratio of the Buy Back applicable in the category to which such shareholder belongs. The final number of shares that the Company will purchase from each Eligible Shareholder will be based on the total number of Equity Shares tendered. Accordingly, the Company may not purchase all of the Equity Shares tendered by an Eligible Shareholder.

13.6. After accepting the Equity Shares tendered on the basis of entitlement, the Equity Shares left to be bought back, if any, in one category shall first be accepted, in proportion to the Equity Shares tendered over and above their entitlement in the Buy Back by shareholders in that category, and thereafter from shareholders who have tendered over and above their entitlement in other category.

13.7. In accordance with Regulation 9(ix) of the SEBI Buy Back Regulations, in order to ensure that the same Eligible Shareholder with multiple demat accounts/folios do not receive higher entitlement under Small Shareholder category, the Equity Shares held by such Eligible Shareholder with a common Permanent Account Number ("PAN") shall be clubbed together for determining the category (Small Shareholder or General) and entitlement under the Buy Back. In case of joint shareholding, the Equity Shares held in cases where the sequence of PANs of the joint shareholders is identical shall be clubbed together. In case of Eligible Shareholders holding Physical Shares where sequence of PAN is identical and where the PANs of all joint shareholders are not available, the Registrar to the Buy Back will check the sequence of the names of the joint shareholders and club together the Equity Shares held in such cases where the sequence of the PANs and the name of the joint shareholders are identical. The shareholding of institutional investors like mutual funds, insurance companies, foreign institutional investors/ foreign portfolio investors etc. with common PAN shall not be clubbed together for determining their entitlement and will be considered separately, where these Equity Shares are held for different schemes/ sub-accounts and have different demat account nomenclature based on information prepared by Registrar to the Buy Back as per the shareholder records received from the depositories. Further, the Equity Shares held under the category of 'clearing members' or 'corporate body margin account' or 'corporate body-broker' as per the beneficial position data as on the Record Date with common PAN are not proposed to be clubbed together for determining their entitlement and will be considered separately, where these Equity Shares are assumed to be held on behalf of clients.

13.8. The participation of the Eligible Shareholders in the Buy Back is voluntary. Eligible Shareholders may opt to participate, in part or in full, and receive cash in lieu of the Equity Shares accepted under the Buy Back, or they may opt not to participate and enjoy a resultant increase in their percentage shareholding, after the completion of the Buy Back, without any additional investment. Eligible Shareholders may tender a part of their entitlement. Eligible Shareholders also have the option of tendering additional shares (over and above their entitlement) and participate in the shortfall created due to non-participation of some other Eligible Shareholders, if any. If the Buy Back entitlement for any shareholder is not a round number, then the fractional entitlement shall be ignored for computation of entitlement to tender Equity Shares in the Buy Back.

13.9. The maximum tender under the Buy Back by any Eligible Shareholder cannot exceed the number of Equity Shares held by the Eligible Shareholders as on the Record Date. In case the Eligible Shareholder holds Equity Shares through multiple demat accounts, the tender Equity Shares through that demat account cannot exceed the number of Equity Shares held in that respective demat account.

13.10. The Equity Shares tendered as per the entitlement by the Eligible Shareholders as well as additional Equity Shares tendered, if any, will be accepted as per the procedure laid down in the SEBI Buy Back Regulations. Eligible Shareholders will receive a letter of offer along with a tender offer form indicating the entitlement of the equity shareholder for participating in the Buy Back. Eligible Shareholders who have registered their email ids with the depositories/the Company, shall be dispatched the Letter of Offer through electronic means. If Eligible Shareholders wish to obtain a physical copy of the Letter of Offer, they may send a request to the Company or Registrar at the address or email id mentioned in this Public Announcement.

13.11. Detailed instructions for participation in the Buy Back (tender of Equity Shares in the Buy Back) as well as the relevant schedule of activities will also be included in the Letter of Offer to be sent in due course to the Eligible Shareholders as on the Record Date.

14. PROCESS & METHODOLOGY FOR BUYBACK
